

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837;)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOL-LARS will be required.
GEO. W. PRESOOTT, Printer.
Also,—Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1868.

NUMBER 14.

CONDITIONS.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary price, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisement is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized agents
to receive advertisements for the Patriot.

S. M. FETTERILL & Co., Boston.
S. R. NILES,
Geo. F. ROWELL & Co., New York.
JOHN HOPKIN & Co., New York.

POST OFFICE.
Mails open 8 30 A. M., and 4 30 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M., and 5 15 P. M.
Office at Vazie's Drug Store,
85 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.

GEORGE L. GILL,
AGENT FOR Fire and Life
INSURANCE!
Applications solicited.
Quincy, Nov. 16.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY,
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 1/2
P. M.—after hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing,
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

A Good Assortment
Kept Constantly on hand
YOU will constantly find at the Citizen's Market all kinds of Meat of the best quality,
at the Lowest Cash Prices.
Also, all kinds of Fresh and Smoked Fish,
Turkeys, Ducks, Geese, Beans of all kinds; Eastern and Sweet Potatoes, Cucumbers, Pearies, Sweet Apples for preserves; Peas, Pickles, Nuts, Lard, Jellies, Bottle Pickles of all kinds; Lemons, Figs, &c.
Also, the very best of White Wine Vinegar.
We shall give particular attention to BUTTER,
and shall keep the Best the market affords.
All orders promptly attended to.

DAMON & ALLEN.
Quincy, Sept. 23.

LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Oxfords and French
Patents, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Get out to Measure.
No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6.

FURNITURE
AND
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warerooms, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

TO THE PUBLIC.
THE Subscriber is prepared to carry parties to the beach, or on other excursions.
Careful attention will also be given to MOVING FURNITURE, &c., at short notice.
All orders for JOBBING will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, June 16.

NOTICE.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons, that he has fitted up a shop
in the rear of his residence—entrance on the North side—where he is prepared to make and repair Boats and Shells, at short notice, and would be pleased to see all of his old friends and customers as usual.
JOHN A. NEWCOMB.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

INSURANCE

AGAINST FIRE! FIRE!

National Insurance
COMPANY.
Capital, -- $300,000 00.

$30,000 can be taken in one risk and smaller amounts on Buildings, Stocks of Goods, Furniture &c., &c.
A. H. BEAN, President.
G. W. KEHS, Sec'y.

THE ABOVE
FIRST CLASS COMPANY
AND THE ROGER WILLIAMS
INS. CO.,

CAPITAL, $100,000.
A. A. WILLIAMS, President.
G. W. DAVENPORT, Sec'y.
$10,000 on one Risk!
Both combined enables me to insure on
ONE RISK
$40,000,

Being a larger amount than any office in Norfolk County can insure for on one risk.

Economical Mutual LIFE INSURANCE
COMPANY.

Cash Capital, $200,000.
Assets, January 1, 1868,
$384,398.79.

Total Loss up to Feb. 1, 1868,
Only $4,500.

PREMIUMS payable Quarterly, Semi-Annually, or Annually, as parties may choose.

This Company offers SUPERIOR advantages to any other, and parties desiring to insure their Lives, should by all means call at my office before insuring elsewhere.

The reduction of rates being more than equal to the prospective dividends of some Companies.

TRAVELERS'
INSURANCE COM'Y.
CAPITAL, $500,000,
WITH
A Large Surplus, of $241,337.

Those wishing to insure themselves against death by accident, or by injury
from accidents, are by this company paid
a weekly compensation during their recovery, in proportion to the sum insured,
from $3 to $50 per week.

For further particulars, call at the Insurance Office of
D. GREENE, Agent,
For the above Companies, for Norfolk Co.

65 Hancock Street.
Quincy, Feb. 29th, 1868.

IMPORTERS, GROWERS

DEALERS IN SEEDS.

Wholesale and Retail.
The subscribers would call the attention of Farmers Gardeners and Dealers, to their large and very carefully selected stock of Seeds, all of the new crop, and such as can be depended on as being true and pure to name.
Our Catalogue will be furnished to all who apply for it, and it embraces a large variety of

Garden, Grass, Field
AND FLOWER SEEDS,
to which we have the present season added a number of new varieties, but only such as have proved worth collecting; we give our personal attention to the handling and putting up of our seeds, so that no mistake may occur, and we take special care to have them well packed.
Warehouses No. 10 South Market and 10 Chatham Streets, Boston, Mass.

A. SCHLEGEL & CO.
Feb. 29.

AMATEUR Cultivator's Guide
TO THE KITCHEN & FLOWER GARDEN.
NOW READY.

A Descriptive Work of 140 pages, fully illustrated with a beautiful colored plate and 400 engravings, containing a list of over 2,500 varieties of Flower and Vegetable Seeds; also, 150 varieties of the choicest French Hybrid Gladioli. All the novelties, both of the Flower and vegetable, for 1868, will be found described in the above work.

The following testimonials are unolicited by us, and can be multiplied by hundreds:
From Mr. John Foster, Weymouth, N. Y.—
"Your Guide came safe, and pleased me much; it is the best I ever saw."
From Mr. E. F. Rogers, East Amherst, Belknap Co., N. H.—"It is with great satisfaction and pleasure I have studied your AMATEUR'S GUIDE. I have esteemed it highly. Its pages are full of valuable information, reliable, plain, and practical, and attractively composed—just what every beginner needs for his garden."
From J. Hill, Oakland Cottage, Yonkers, N. Y.
March 2, 1867.—"It is without exception the best arranged, useful and instructive work I have seen, for amateurs especially."
From Miss D. W. Miller, Winchester, Randolph
Co., N. C.—"I have received your Guide for the Flower and Kitchen Garden, for which you have my sincere thanks. It is very valuable for all who wish to cultivate Flowers and Vegetables.
But praise from me is needless; it must recommend itself to any one."

From Mr. B. F. Stanley, Greenville, S. C.
March 12, 1867.—"Thank you for your AMATEUR'S GUIDE. It is indeed pleasant, useful, and instructive."
Tastefully bound in cloth, three colored plates, price, post paid, 50 cts.; in paper covers, post paid 25 cts. Address
WASHBURN & CO.
Horticultural Hall, Boston.

CHOICE
SEEDS AND PLANTS.
FRESH AND CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS,
STRAWBERRY PLANTS,
FRUIT & ORNAMENTAL
TREES AND SHRUBS
TRUE CAPE COD
CRANBERRY, FOR FIELD OR LOWLAND FRUIT STOCKS, AND HEDGE PLANTS,
SMALL EVERGREENS.

Extra choice collection of German Flower Seeds, 25
Sorts Garden or Flower Seeds, prepaid by mail $1.00.
The most judicious assortment ever offered.
Plymouth, Feb. 22.

BRADLEY'S
SUPER-PHOSPHATE
Of Lime Triumphant.

No better proof of the superiority of my Superphosphate over all others is needed than to know that the demand is beyond precedent.

TESTIMONIALS.
From Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.
BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 27, 1868.
WM. L. BRADLEY, Boston, Dear Sir:—I used XL Super-Phosphate of your manufacture, during the spring and summer of 1867, with great success. Its benefits marked upon onions and carrots.
Melons and Cucumbers seemed to enjoy it. I applied it to my lawn, on grass with decided benefit. A acre season's trial confirmed the good opinion which I formed of it both for farm and garden crops. Please send to Mr.
Turner a half ton for early use.
HENRY WARD BEECHER.

From Hon. Geo. B. Loring.
SALEM, MASS., Feb. 3, 1868.
SIR:—The Super-Phosphate of Lime used by me, of your manufacture, proved to be all I could expect, or desire. I have used very large quantities, and found none operated more effectively and permanently than yours.
Truly Yours,
GEO. B. LORING.

From the Watchman & Reflector, Boston.
We consider Bradley's XL Super-Phosphate of Lime
as the best Fertilizer in the market.

From Elijah Wood, Esq.,
CONCORD, MASS., Feb. 5, 1868.
MR. BRADLEY—Dear Sir:—Your Super-Phosphate of 1867 has given general satisfaction in my neighborhood.
I have used in the last ten years, more than twelve hundred dollars worth of the different fertilizers, Fossils, Guano, Guano, Blood Manure, &c. in its different forms, and none of these compare with yours in its lasting benefits.
I have two pieces of moving ground where nothing else has been applied as a top dressing for many years, still the crops of grass (for I take off two every year) were good, much better than could have been expected. I raised as fine snap corn as to quality, as can be found in town, on an old plain that had had no manure for forty years, in my own knowledge, with three hundred pounds of your Phosphate to the acre, one half in the fall, the other half in the spring. I find nothing as a compared minute that compares with it.
Truly yours,
ELIJAH WOOD.

From Wm. H. Hunt, Esq.,
President of the Farmers' Club,
CONCORD, MASS., Feb. 6, 1868.
WM. L. BRADLEY, Esq.—Dear Sir:—I used your Super-Phosphate of Lime extensively the past season, with satisfactory results. In September, 1867, I received a field of six acres, with your Phosphate, and I received a phosphate, at the rate of three hundred pounds to the acre. In order to satisfy myself whether I was throwing away my money, I let several acres without any. On these strips the grass seed came up poorly. It was not one, or two, or three, or four, or five, or six, or seven, or eight, or nine, or ten, or eleven, or twelve, or thirteen, or fourteen, or fifteen, or sixteen, or seventeen, or eighteen, or nineteen, or twenty, or twenty-one, or twenty-two, or twenty-three, or twenty-four, or twenty-five, or twenty-six, or twenty-seven, or twenty-eight, or twenty-nine, or thirty, or thirty-one, or thirty-two, or thirty-three, or thirty-four, or thirty-five, or thirty-six, or thirty-seven, or thirty-eight, or thirty-nine, or forty, or forty-one, or forty-two, or forty-three, or forty-four, or forty-five, or forty-six, or forty-seven, or forty-eight, or forty-nine, or fifty, or fifty-one, or fifty-two, or fifty-three, or fifty-four, or fifty-five, or fifty-six, or fifty-seven, or fifty-eight, or fifty-nine, or sixty, or sixty-one, or sixty-two, or sixty-three, or sixty-four, or sixty-five, or sixty-six, or sixty-seven, or sixty-eight, or sixty-nine, or seventy, or seventy-one, or seventy-two, or seventy-three, or seventy-four, or seventy-five, or seventy-six, or seventy-seven, or seventy-eight, or seventy-nine, or eighty, or eighty-one, or eighty-two, or eighty-three, or eighty-four, or eighty-five, or eighty-six, or eighty-seven, or eighty-eight, or eighty-nine, or ninety, or ninety-one, or ninety-two, or ninety-three, or ninety-four, or ninety-five, or ninety-six, or ninety-seven, or ninety-eight, or ninety-nine, or one hundred, or one hundred and one, or one hundred and two, or one hundred and three, or one hundred and four, or one hundred and five, or one hundred and six, or one hundred and seven, or one hundred and eight, or one hundred and nine, or one hundred and ten, or one hundred and eleven, or one hundred and twelve, or one hundred and thirteen, or one hundred and fourteen, or one hundred and fifteen, or one hundred and sixteen, or one hundred and seventeen, or one hundred and eighteen, or one hundred and nineteen, or one hundred and twenty, or one hundred and twenty-one, or one hundred and twenty-two, or one hundred and twenty-three, or one hundred and twenty-four, or one hundred and twenty-five, or one hundred and twenty-six, or one hundred and twenty-seven, or one hundred and twenty-eight, or one hundred and twenty-nine, or one hundred and thirty, or one hundred and thirty-one, or one hundred and thirty-two, or one hundred and thirty-three, or one hundred and thirty-four, or one hundred and thirty-five, or one hundred and thirty-six, or one hundred and thirty-seven, or one hundred and thirty-eight, or one hundred and thirty-nine, or one hundred and forty, or one hundred and forty-one, or one hundred and forty-two, or one hundred and forty-three, or one hundred and forty-four, or one hundred and forty-five, or one hundred and forty-six, or one hundred and forty-seven, or one hundred and forty-eight, or one hundred and forty-nine, or one hundred and fifty, or one hundred and fifty-one, or one hundred and fifty-two, or one hundred and fifty-three, or one hundred and fifty-four, or one hundred and fifty-five, or one hundred and fifty-six, or one hundred and fifty-seven, or one hundred and fifty-eight, or one hundred and fifty-nine, or one hundred and sixty, or one hundred and sixty-one, or one hundred and sixty-two, or one hundred and sixty-three, or one hundred and sixty-four, or one hundred and sixty-five, or one hundred and sixty-six, or one hundred and sixty-seven, or one hundred and sixty-eight, or one hundred and sixty-nine, or one hundred and seventy, or one hundred and seventy-one, or one hundred and seventy-two, or one hundred and seventy-three, or one hundred and seventy-four, or one hundred and seventy-five, or one hundred and seventy-six, or one hundred and seventy-seven, or one hundred and seventy-eight, or one hundred and seventy-nine, or one hundred and eighty, or one hundred and eighty-one, or one hundred and eighty-two, or one hundred and eighty-three, or one hundred and eighty-four, or one hundred and eighty-five, or one hundred and eighty-six, or one hundred and eighty-seven, or one hundred and eighty-eight, or one hundred and eighty-nine, or one hundred and ninety, or one hundred and ninety-one, or one hundred and ninety-two, or one hundred and ninety-three, or one hundred and ninety-four, or one hundred and ninety-five, or one hundred and ninety-six, or one hundred and ninety-seven, or one hundred and ninety-eight, or one hundred and ninety-nine, or two hundred, or two hundred and one, or two hundred and two, or two hundred and three, or two hundred and four, or two hundred and five, or two hundred and six, or two hundred and seven, or two hundred and eight, or two hundred and nine, or two hundred and ten, or two hundred and eleven, or two hundred and twelve, or two hundred and thirteen, or two hundred and fourteen, or two hundred and fifteen, or two hundred and sixteen, or two hundred and seventeen, or two hundred and eighteen, or two hundred and nineteen, or two hundred and twenty, or two hundred and twenty-one, or two hundred and twenty-two, or two hundred and twenty-three, or two hundred and twenty-four, or two hundred and twenty-five, or two hundred and twenty-six, or two hundred and twenty-seven, or two hundred and twenty-eight, or two hundred and twenty-nine, or two hundred and thirty, or two hundred and thirty-one, or two hundred and thirty-two, or two hundred and thirty-three, or two hundred and thirty-four, or two hundred and thirty-five, or two hundred and thirty-six, or two hundred and thirty-seven, or two hundred and thirty-eight, or two hundred and thirty-nine, or two hundred and forty, or two hundred and forty-one, or two hundred and forty-two, or two hundred and forty-three, or two hundred and forty-four, or two hundred and forty-five, or two hundred and forty-six, or two hundred and forty-seven, or two hundred and forty-eight, or two hundred and forty-nine, or two hundred and fifty,
or two hundred and fifty-one, or two hundred and fifty-two, or two hundred and fifty-three, or two hundred and fifty-four, or two hundred and fifty-five, or two hundred and fifty-six, or two hundred and fifty-seven, or two hundred and fifty-eight, or two hundred and fifty-nine, or two hundred and sixty, or two hundred and sixty-one, or two hundred and sixty-two, or two hundred and sixty-three, or two hundred and sixty-four, or two hundred and sixty-five, or two hundred and sixty-six, or two hundred and sixty-seven, or two hundred and sixty-eight, or two hundred and sixty-nine, or two hundred and seventy, or two hundred and seventy-one, or two hundred and seventy-two, or two hundred and seventy-three, or two hundred and seventy-four, or two hundred and seventy-five, or two hundred and seventy-six, or two hundred and seventy-seven, or two hundred and seventy-eight, or two hundred and seventy-nine, or two hundred and eighty, or two hundred and eighty-one, or two hundred and eighty-two, or two hundred and eighty-three, or two hundred and eighty-four, or two hundred and eighty-five, or two hundred and eighty-six, or two hundred and eighty-seven, or two hundred and eighty-eight, or two hundred and eighty-nine, or two hundred and ninety, or two hundred and ninety-one, or two hundred and ninety-two, or two hundred and ninety-three, or two hundred and ninety-four, or two hundred and ninety-five, or two hundred and ninety-six, or two hundred and ninety-seven, or two hundred and ninety-eight, or two hundred and ninety-nine, or three hundred, or three hundred and one, or three hundred and two, or three hundred and three, or three hundred and four, or three hundred and five, or three hundred and six, or three hundred and seven, or three hundred and eight, or three hundred and nine, or three hundred and ten, or three hundred and eleven, or three hundred and twelve, or three hundred and thirteen, or three hundred and fourteen, or three hundred and fifteen, or three hundred and sixteen, or three hundred and seventeen, or three hundred and eighteen, or three hundred and nineteen, or three hundred and twenty, or three hundred and twenty-one, or three hundred and twenty-two, or three hundred and twenty-three, or three hundred and twenty-four, or three hundred and twenty-five, or three hundred and twenty-six, or three hundred and twenty-seven, or three hundred and twenty-eight, or three hundred and twenty-nine, or three hundred and thirty, or three hundred and thirty-one, or three hundred and thirty-two, or three hundred and thirty-three, or three hundred and thirty-four, or three hundred and thirty-five, or three hundred and thirty-six, or three hundred and thirty-seven, or three hundred and thirty-eight, or three hundred and thirty-nine, or three hundred and forty, or three hundred and forty-one, or three hundred and forty-two, or three hundred and forty-three, or three hundred and forty-four, or three hundred and forty-five, or three hundred and forty-six, or three hundred and forty-seven, or three hundred and forty-eight, or three hundred and forty-nine, or three hundred and fifty, or three hundred and fifty-one, or three hundred and fifty-two, or three hundred and fifty-three, or three hundred and fifty-four, or three hundred and fifty-five, or three hundred and fifty-six, or three hundred and fifty-seven, or three hundred and fifty-eight, or three hundred and fifty-nine, or three hundred and sixty, or three hundred and sixty-one, or three hundred and sixty-two, or three hundred and sixty-three, or three hundred and sixty-four, or three hundred and sixty-five, or three hundred and sixty-six, or three hundred and sixty-seven, or three hundred and sixty-eight, or three hundred and sixty-nine, or three hundred and seventy, or three hundred and seventy-one, or three hundred and seventy-two, or three hundred and seventy-three, or three hundred and seventy-four, or three hundred and seventy-five, or three hundred and seventy-six, or three hundred and seventy-seven, or three hundred and seventy-eight, or three hundred and seventy-nine, or three hundred and eighty, or three hundred and eighty-one, or three hundred and eighty-two, or three hundred and eighty-three, or three hundred and eighty-four, or three hundred and eighty-five, or three hundred and eighty-six, or three hundred and eighty-seven, or three hundred and seventy-eight, or three hundred and seventy-nine, or three hundred and eighty, or three hundred and eighty-one, or three hundred and eighty-two, or three hundred and eighty-three, or three hundred and eighty-four, or three hundred and eighty-five, or three hundred and eighty-six, or three hundred and eighty-seven, or three hundred and eighty-eight, or three hundred and eighty-nine, or three hundred and ninety, or three hundred and ninety-one, or three hundred and ninety-two, or three hundred and ninety-three, or three hundred and ninety-four, or three hundred and ninety-five, or three hundred and ninety-six, or three hundred and ninety-seven, or three hundred and ninety-eight, or three hundred and ninety-nine, or four hundred, or four hundred and one, or four hundred and two, or four hundred and three, or four hundred and four, or four hundred and five, or four hundred and six, or four hundred and seven, or four hundred and eight, or four hundred and nine, or four hundred and ten, or four hundred and eleven, or four hundred and twelve, or four hundred and thirteen, or four hundred and fourteen, or four hundred and fifteen, or four hundred and sixteen, or four hundred and seventeen, or four hundred and eighteen, or four hundred and nineteen, or four hundred and twenty, or four hundred and twenty-one, or four hundred and twenty-two, or four hundred and twenty-three, or four hundred and twenty-four, or four hundred and twenty-five, or four hundred and twenty-six, or four hundred and twenty-seven, or four hundred and twenty-eight, or four hundred and twenty-nine, or four hundred and thirty, or four hundred and thirty-one, or four hundred and thirty-two, or four hundred and thirty-three, or four hundred and thirty-four, or four hundred and thirty-five, or four hundred and thirty-six, or four hundred and thirty-seven, or four hundred and thirty-eight, or four hundred and thirty-nine, or four hundred and forty, or four hundred and forty-one, or four hundred and forty-two, or four hundred and forty-three, or four hundred and forty-four, or four hundred and forty-five, or four hundred and forty-six, or four hundred and forty-seven, or four hundred and forty-eight, or four hundred and forty-nine, or four hundred and fifty, or four hundred and fifty-one, or four hundred and fifty-two, or four hundred and fifty-three, or four hundred and fifty-four, or four hundred and fifty-five, or four hundred and fifty-six, or four hundred and fifty-seven, or four hundred and fifty-eight, or four hundred and fifty-nine, or four hundred and sixty, or four hundred and sixty-one, or four hundred and sixty-two, or four hundred and sixty-three, or four hundred and sixty-four, or four hundred and sixty-five, or four hundred and sixty-six, or four hundred and sixty-seven, or four hundred and sixty-eight, or four hundred and sixty-nine, or four hundred and seventy, or four hundred and seventy-one, or four hundred and seventy-two, or four hundred and seventy-three, or four hundred and seventy-four, or four hundred and seventy-five, or four hundred and seventy-six, or four hundred and seventy-seven, or four hundred and seventy-eight, or four hundred and seventy-nine, or four hundred and eighty, or four hundred and eighty-one, or four hundred and eighty-two, or four hundred and eighty-three, or four hundred and eighty-four, or four hundred and eighty-five, or four hundred and eighty-six, or four hundred and eighty-seven, or four hundred and seventy-eight, or four hundred and seventy-nine, or four hundred and eighty, or four hundred and eighty-one, or four hundred and eighty-two, or four hundred and eighty-three, or four hundred and eighty-four, or four hundred and eighty-five, or four hundred and eighty-six, or four hundred and eighty-seven, or four hundred and eighty-eight, or four hundred and eighty-nine, or four hundred and ninety, or four hundred and ninety-one, or four hundred and ninety-two, or four hundred and ninety-three, or four hundred and ninety-four, or four hundred and ninety-five, or four hundred and ninety-six, or four hundred and ninety-seven, or four hundred and ninety-eight, or four hundred and ninety-nine, or five hundred, or five hundred and one, or five hundred and two, or five hundred and three, or five hundred and four, or five hundred and five, or five hundred and six, or five hundred and seven, or five hundred and eight, or five hundred and nine, or five hundred and ten, or five hundred and eleven, or five hundred and twelve, or five hundred and thirteen, or five hundred and fourteen, or five hundred and fifteen, or five hundred and sixteen, or five hundred and seventeen, or five hundred and eighteen, or five hundred and nineteen, or five hundred and twenty, or five hundred and twenty-one, or five hundred and twenty-two, or five hundred and twenty-three, or five hundred and twenty-four, or five hundred and twenty-five, or five hundred and twenty-six, or five hundred and twenty-seven, or five hundred and twenty-eight, or five hundred and twenty-nine, or five hundred and thirty, or five hundred and thirty-one, or five hundred and thirty-two, or five hundred and thirty-three, or five hundred and thirty-four, or five hundred and thirty-five, or five hundred and thirty-six, or five hundred and thirty-seven, or five hundred and thirty-eight, or five hundred and thirty-nine, or five hundred and forty, or five hundred and forty-one, or five hundred and forty-two, or five hundred and forty-three, or five hundred and forty-four, or five hundred and forty-five, or five hundred and forty-six, or five hundred and forty-seven, or five hundred and forty-eight, or five hundred and forty-nine, or five hundred and fifty, or five hundred and fifty-one, or five hundred and fifty-two, or five hundred and fifty-three, or five hundred and fifty-four, or five hundred and fifty-five, or five hundred and fifty-six, or five hundred and fifty-seven, or five hundred and fifty-eight, or five hundred and fifty-nine, or five hundred and sixty, or five hundred and sixty-one, or five hundred and sixty-two, or five hundred and sixty-three, or five hundred and sixty-four, or five hundred and sixty-five, or five hundred and sixty-six, or five hundred and sixty-seven, or five hundred and sixty-eight, or five hundred and sixty-nine, or five hundred and seventy, or five hundred and seventy-one, or five hundred and seventy-two, or five hundred and seventy-three, or five hundred and seventy-four, or five hundred and seventy-five, or five hundred and seventy-six, or five hundred and seventy-seven, or five hundred and seventy-eight, or five hundred and seventy-nine, or five hundred and eighty, or five hundred and eighty-one, or five hundred and eighty-two, or five hundred and eighty-three, or five hundred and eighty-four, or five hundred and eighty-five, or five hundred and eighty-six, or five hundred and eighty-seven, or five hundred and seventy-eight, or five hundred and seventy-nine, or five hundred and eighty, or five hundred and eighty-one, or five hundred and eighty-two, or five hundred and eighty-three, or five hundred and eighty-four, or five hundred and eighty-five, or five hundred and eighty-six, or five hundred and eighty-seven, or five hundred and eighty-eight, or five hundred and eighty-nine, or five hundred and ninety, or five hundred and ninety-one, or five hundred and ninety-two, or five hundred and ninety-three, or five hundred and ninety-four, or five hundred and ninety-five, or five hundred and ninety-six, or five hundred and ninety-seven, or five hundred and ninety-eight, or five hundred and ninety-nine, or six hundred, or six hundred and one, or six hundred and two, or six hundred and three, or six hundred and four, or six hundred and five, or six hundred and six, or six hundred and seven, or six hundred and eight, or six hundred and nine, or six hundred and ten, or six hundred and eleven, or six hundred and twelve, or six hundred and thirteen, or six hundred and fourteen, or six hundred and fifteen, or six hundred and sixteen, or six hundred and seventeen, or six hundred and eighteen, or six hundred and nineteen, or six hundred and twenty, or six hundred and twenty-one, or six hundred and twenty-two, or six hundred and twenty-three, or six hundred and twenty-four, or six hundred and twenty-five, or six hundred and twenty-six, or six hundred and twenty-seven, or six hundred and twenty-eight, or six hundred and twenty-nine, or six hundred and thirty, or six hundred and thirty-one, or six hundred and thirty-two, or six hundred and thirty-three, or six hundred and thirty-four, or six hundred and thirty-five, or six hundred and thirty-six, or six hundred and thirty-seven, or six hundred and thirty-eight, or six hundred and thirty-nine, or six hundred and forty, or six hundred and forty-one, or six hundred and forty-two, or six hundred and forty-three, or six hundred and forty-four, or six hundred and forty-five, or six hundred and forty-six, or six hundred and forty-seven, or six hundred and forty-eight, or six hundred and forty-nine, or six hundred and fifty, or six hundred and fifty-one, or six hundred and fifty-two, or six hundred and fifty-three, or six hundred and fifty-four, or six hundred and fifty-five, or six hundred and fifty-six, or six hundred and fifty-seven, or six hundred and fifty-eight, or six hundred and fifty-nine, or six hundred and sixty, or six hundred and sixty-one, or six hundred and sixty-two, or six hundred and sixty-three, or six hundred and sixty-four, or six hundred and sixty-five, or six hundred and sixty-six, or six hundred and sixty-seven, or six hundred and sixty-eight, or six hundred and sixty-nine, or six hundred and seventy, or six hundred and seventy-one, or six hundred and seventy-two, or six hundred and seventy-three, or six hundred and seventy-four, or six hundred and seventy-five, or six hundred and seventy-six, or six hundred and seventy-seven, or six hundred and seventy-eight, or six hundred and seventy-nine, or six hundred and eighty, or six hundred and eighty-one, or six hundred and eighty-two, or six hundred and eighty-three, or six hundred and eighty-four, or six hundred and eighty-five, or six hundred and eighty-six, or six hundred and eighty-seven, or six hundred and seventy-eight, or six hundred and seventy-nine, or six hundred and eighty, or six hundred and eighty-one, or six hundred and eighty-two, or six hundred and eighty-three, or six hundred and eighty-four, or six hundred and eighty-five, or six hundred and eighty-six, or six hundred and eighty-seven, or six hundred and eighty-eight, or six hundred and eighty-nine, or six hundred and ninety, or six hundred and ninety-one, or six hundred and ninety-two, or six hundred and ninety-three, or six hundred and ninety-four, or six hundred and ninety-five, or six hundred and ninety-six, or six hundred and ninety-seven, or six hundred and ninety-eight, or six hundred and ninety-nine, or seven hundred, or seven hundred and one, or seven hundred and two, or seven hundred and three, or seven hundred and four, or seven hundred and five, or seven hundred and six, or seven hundred and seven, or seven hundred and eight, or seven hundred and nine, or seven hundred and ten, or seven hundred and eleven, or seven hundred and twelve, or seven hundred and thirteen, or seven hundred and fourteen, or seven hundred and fifteen, or seven hundred and sixteen, or seven hundred and seventeen, or seven hundred and eighteen, or seven hundred and nineteen, or seven hundred and twenty, or seven hundred and twenty-one, or seven hundred and twenty-two, or seven hundred and twenty-three, or seven hundred and twenty-four, or seven hundred and twenty-five, or seven hundred and twenty-six, or seven hundred and twenty-seven, or seven hundred and twenty-eight, or seven hundred and twenty-nine, or seven hundred and thirty, or seven hundred and thirty-one, or seven hundred and thirty-two, or seven hundred and thirty-three, or seven hundred and thirty-four, or seven hundred and thirty-five, or seven hundred and thirty-six, or seven hundred and thirty-seven, or seven hundred and thirty-eight, or seven hundred and thirty-nine, or seven hundred and forty, or seven hundred and forty-one, or seven hundred and forty-two, or seven hundred and forty-three, or seven hundred and forty-four, or seven hundred and forty-five, or seven hundred and forty-six, or seven hundred and forty-seven, or seven hundred and forty-eight, or seven hundred and forty-nine, or seven hundred and fifty, or seven hundred and fifty-one, or seven hundred and fifty-two, or seven hundred and fifty-three, or seven hundred and fifty-four, or seven hundred and fifty-five, or seven hundred and fifty-six, or seven hundred and fifty-seven, or seven hundred and fifty-eight, or seven hundred and fifty-nine, or seven hundred and sixty, or seven hundred and seventy, or seven hundred and seventy, or seven hundred and seventy-one, or seven hundred and seventy-two, or seven hundred and seventy-three, or seven hundred and seventy-four, or seven hundred and seventy-five, or seven hundred and seventy-six, or seven hundred and seventy-seven, or seven hundred and seventy-eight, or seven hundred and seventy-nine, or seven hundred and eighty, or seven hundred and eighty-one, or seven hundred and eighty-two, or seven hundred and eighty-three, or seven hundred and eighty-four, or the other case, he will enjoy a proud consciousness of having, by his own exertions, become a wiser, and more exalted nation.—Lord Brougham.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

THE FAIR. The Fair of the Congregational Church of this town, which commenced on Monday last and closed on Fast Day evening, we are pleased to learn, was in every respect a brilliant success; realizing all the fondest anticipations of its friends. The weather was delightful; the air soft and balmy, with all the mildness of a lovely spring day, which warmed the generous impulses of the heart, and each day brought its crowd of admiring visitors to the Hall, to participate in the festivities of the occasion, and to possess themselves of some of the beautiful articles, of use and ornament, there displayed. The managers come in for a good share of deserved praise.

SUDDEN DEATHS. On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Washington M. French, while attending the Ladies' Fair at the Town Hall, complained of feeling unwell and left for her home, which she succeeded in reaching, and sunk into a chair speechless. A physician was immediately summoned, pronounced it a paralytic shock. She died on Wednesday afternoon without being restored to consciousness. Her sudden death has cast a gloom over her family and a large circle of friends.

Mr. Thomas C. Webb, formerly of this town, and well known as leader of the Choir, of the Universalist Society, died suddenly of Pneumonia, at his residence in Boston, on the 30th ult. His remains were brought to this town on Wednesday for interment.

We are happy to announce that Mrs. E. Hayden, who has been quite dangerously sick for a number of weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to attend to the wants of her numerous patrons.

We would call the attention of our readers to the alteration of the running time of PERRY'S Quincy and Boston Sunday Line of Coaches, to be found in his card, published in another column of our paper to-day. To meet a public want, occasioned by the sudden withdrawal of the Horse Cars, Mr. Perry promptly came forward, and at considerable expense, by placing on the road a line of fine coaches and fast teams, has preserved the communication with the city unbroken, so that our citizens can now enjoy a pleasant ride on that day, as heretofore. His arrangements are made for the whole season—Summer and Fall, provided he receives sufficient encouragement; which we have no doubt he will; and that a ready and generous support of the community will be given to his enterprise.

LOCAL NEWSPAPER POSTAGE. The Post Office Department have just decided that all newspapers, circulars (unsealed) and periodicals (under four ounces) deposited in a post office in the place of publication, and from that post-office distributed direct to subscribers, are to have a one cent stamp attached before they are mailed; papers, circulars and periodicals however, will be sent free, as heretofore, to subscribers within the county, provided they pass through at least two post offices. This decision took effect on the 1st of April.

DELEGATES TO CHICAGO. It is well understood that Hon. Edward L. Pierce, of Milton, will be one of the leading candidates at the District Convention to represent in part this Congressional District, in the National Republican Convention to be held at Chicago, in May next. There is no man in the 2d District, who would more acceptably represent the party, than Mr. Pierce. He is a warm advocate of the nomination of General Grant for the Presidency and Senator Wilson for the Vice Presidency. The Milton delegation we understand are a unit for him and no doubt that of Quincy, will be equally in his favor.

BOOK NOTICE. Lee and Shepard have just issued "Human Life in Shakespeare," by Henry Giles. We commend to the public this production of the rare genius of our fellow-townsmen. Those who are already lovers of Shakespeare, will find their loyalty to the king of poets strengthened by the fresh and glowing words of one of the most genial of his interpreters; and those who have failed to familiarize themselves with the volume which men place side by side with the Holiest Book of all, will be drawn by the perusal of these Essays toward a Fountain only inferior in purity and sweetness to that which springs from the very foot of the Cross of Life.

The circumstances attending the publication of this work are set forth in the Author's short and simple preface, which reads as follows:—

"Having been invited, several years ago, to deliver a course of lectures before the Lowell Institute, in Boston, I accordingly delivered those which I now venture to print. The hall would, I believe, hold twelve hundred persons, and the desire to hear, that a sufficient number could not be accommodated. Each lecture was therefore repeated, at three o'clock in the afternoon, on the day following. I was then in health and spirits; now, alas! I am in an illness which will close but with my death. In sending forth my book, therefore, in my weakness, I hope it may be as generously received by the public, as the lectures spoken from my lips were by the audience."

PERSONAL. Rev. O. Brown has been engaged by the Universalist Society, in Weymouth, for another year, with an addition of $200 to her former salary.

BROOKLINE.

The Dedham Gazette says: "It was our good fortune to attend the Annual Meeting of the citizens of this beautiful town on Monday, the 23d inst. With a valuation second to no other town, in the State, with comparatively no poor, the yearly appropriations for their support being but nine hundred dollars, and with a population made up in large measure from the wealthy and cultivated merchants and professional men of Boston, we were once surprised and pleased to see that the old patriarchal forms of the ancient town meetings were so rigidly kept up. Probably no town in this County, at least, preserves so many of the ancient customs by which our fathers were wont to manage their municipal affairs. The meetings are opened with prayer. The Selectmen and other sworn officers, after their election is declared, are called out before the Moderator to open meeting, and the only order administered by that officer. The old practice, long fallen into disuse in most of the towns in this State in nominating the newly married men as field drivers, (the origin of which we have vainly endeavored to learn,) is still kept up. Another peculiarity, very observable in these changeable times, is the practice of keeping in office the old and tried incumbents. James Bartlett, Esq., the present and for several years past, the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, was first elected to the Board in 1845, and has ever since, with the exception of one year, been annually re-elected. The present year will be his twenty-third year of service in that capacity. Benjamin F. Baker, Esq., the model Town Clerk, whose splendid penmanship has made his records without a rival in this State, enters this year upon his nineteenth year of continuous service. Moses Withington, Esq., the efficient Treasurer and Collector, was on Monday re-elected to the office, which he has filled for eighteen years. And several other town officers are now filling positions which they have occupied for more than ten years."

THE REV. GEORGE PROCTOR will preach in the Universalist Church, to-morrow,—forenoon and afternoon.

"PANCAKE LEATHER." The demand for cheap shoes has been so pressing of late years, says the Lynn Reporter, that it has induced the most rigid economy in the manufacturers. Hardly a scrap of leather is allowed to go to waste. The wagon loads of odds and ends made in cutting, the refuse of the splitting machines, are all worked up again into that kind of leather known as "pancake." This being rolled and dried, is made to do service, in the cheaper grades of shoes, as inner sole leather, or as "lifts" for heels. So skillfully are these operations performed that sometimes the substitute is, for some purposes, almost as good as the genuine article. Some firms do a large business in the manufacture of "pancake," which is accomplished by powerful machinery driven by steam.

THE NEW ENGLAND CONSERVATORY of Music has had fourteen hundred pupils the past year, two thirds of whom are ladies. The apartments in Music Hall are finely adapted to the use of the Institution. Besides vocal and instrumental music, French, German and Italian languages, there are classes in elocution. Professor Greene has twenty theological students from the Methodist Institute. He is ranked by some as the first elocutionist in Boston.

HOW BIG ROUGES ESCAPE PUNISHMENT. The New York Express tells a story, which remote not long ago in a city not very remote from the one in which that journal is published. A bank officer went to a lawyer, and said: "I am a defaulter to the tune of $100,000. I have not yet been detected. What shall I do?" "Go back," said the lawyer, "take another $100,000, and return to me." The officer obeyed; when the lawyer wrote to the directors that his client had taken $200,000, but that he would return half of it if the affair was hushed up and the defaulter allowed to "go scot free." The directors took the half, and the officer, according to the Express, is to-day regarded as an honest man.

MARRIAGE FUND ASSOCIATION, is the latest sensation in Boston. Some forty enterprising philanthropists have subscribed $10,000 to carry out certain beneficent plans which can be explained at J. Grant & Co's, bankers, 19 Lindall street. Five hundred dollars is paid as a marriage portion, and $100 on the birth of each child, and other privileges are enjoyed by members, which deserve the notice of all bachelors and spinsters.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. ADAMS.—The London Correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune speaks as follows, concerning Charles Francis Adams: "He showed himself one of the coolest and most patient of men. There have been moments when a little heat of the blood would have kindled two empires into war, but I don't believe Mr. Adams ever showed a trait of irritation or resentment in his official or personal intercourse. I have heard Englishmen describe the state of society here during the war as corresponding to the last degree to an American. Their testimony is, that through it all, Mr. Adams bore himself as one who would neither give nor take offence, and at the same time with a proud respect for himself and his country which extorted admiration from those who were enemies of both. It is not for me to comment on the ability he displayed in a long series of difficult negotiations. The history of that is known, but the snares that beset him, and the rude trials he had to undergo in social relations are not so well known, and it would be unjust if I omitted to mention the expressions of admiration I have heard from many sources, and sometimes from very high quarters."

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, MARCH 31, 1868.

This, the fourth day of impeachment, witnessed the actual opening of the case, Gen. Butler of Massachusetts, the acknowledged greatest criminal lawyer in the country, was selected by the Managers to open the prosecution against one of the greatest criminals in the country. He occupied just three hours in reading his able argument from printed sheets. The Senate were very attentive throughout the whole, and there is not much doubt but that some of the clingers he so forcibly produced, will have some weight upon the minds of the doubting. Every American citizen ought to read it from beginning to end. He spoke of the advantages of a republic over a monarchy. In a monarchy, a wicked ruler could be removed only by assassination or revolution, while in our constitution, impeachment is the remedy provided by our fathers for the removal of treacherous magistrates. The President's Counsel listened very attentively, and had the stenographic clerk of the Attorney General's industriously taking down all that was said. Nelson also took elaborate notes. Stanbery indulged in some smiles. Sumner showed his approval in his peculiar style of unconsciously brushing his left shoulder with his right hand. Henry Wilson interrupted Mr. Butler, when about half through, by moving that the Senate take a recess of ten minutes. This was agreed to by the Senate, and Mr. Butler returning thanks for it, took a short rest. The Chief Justice called the Senate to order promptly in ten minutes. Even at the close, at seven minutes of four, Mr. Butler seemed the freshest man in the Senate. The short time he had to prepare the argument, and the manner in which he presented it, speaks well for his physical as well as mental powers. His description of the President "swinging around the circle," caused some of the Court to smile, others to giggle, others to laugh, and some to roar. Even the President's Counsel could not refrain from showing their feelings by a broad grin. He surprised his friends, as has created quite a profound impression among the legal fraternity now in Washington. When he had finished, Bingham arose and said the Managers were ready to proceed with the testimony. Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, then offered some documentary testimony, which he proposed to finish to-morrow.

MARCH 31st. To-day, after the documentary testimony was taken several witnesses were examined. Major McDonald, Chief Clerk of the Senate, testified to the service of the summons upon the President. Mr. Jones, an officer in the Senate, testified that he served a copy of the Resolution of the Senate on General Lorenzo Thomas at a masquerade ball, the General being en-masque at the time. Mr. Greary was sworn to show that the President recognized the Tenure-of-Office Act, by issuing commissions in his—The Treasury Department—in a changed form after the passage of that Act. Hon. Burt Van Horn, Member from New York, testified in regard to the interview between Stanton and Thomas, on the 23d of February, when Thomas demanded possession of the War Department. General Moorehead testified to substantially the same facts. Hon. Walter A. Burleigh, delegate from Dakota Territory was about to give a conversation in which Thomas said he would take the War Office by force. Stanbery objected to receiving it, but the objection was overruled by the Chief Justice. Senator Drake objected to the Presiding Officer deciding upon objections.

Quite a discussion arose on this important question when Henry Wilson moved that the Senate retire for consultation. The vote stood 25 to 25. The Chief Justice cast his vote for the first time, and voting in the affirmative the Senate retired. Boutwell spoke finely upon this question, several around me whispering that he was the orator of the House. The Senate were three hours in consulting, as each Senator has been ten minutes to expand himself on such occasions, the most of them must have had a hand at it. The number in the galleries however grew "small by degrees and beautifully less." The only change noticeable there to-day was a colored lady sitting with the nearest. Miss Anna Dickinson the popular female orator was also present, gayly and richly dressed, and attracted some attention.

With this shallow and sour opposition the Congress of the United States, representing in the fullest and most positive sense the deliberate sentiment of the people, is struggling at the capital of the nation. Surveying with the mind's eye, the situation, comprehending in all its ramifications the affairs of State at this juncture, we are alarmed at the magnitude of the issues at stake. It is appalling! Glance carefully over the pages of history: Rome, Carthage, Sparta, Thebes, Athens, with their brilliancy, and repugnance hurry through the mind. The warnings are manifold. Let us profit by the experience of the past. Discard every semblance of prejudice. Read and meditate carefully. Form no hasty opinions based upon mere hearsay; they will lead you into a dangerous and unrequited domain, where folly and incompetence linger, and ignorance and apathy bear sway. After all, the lessons of the past, written with the point of the sword, of the Republic, in letters crimsoned with blood, leaves our national domain, is it safe to stand still, and allow lethargic inattention and sloth, to seize and possess us, until we shall be awakened by the gigantic crumbling of the buttresses of the Republic, and we, amid its ruins, weeping over opportunities lost?

WHAT IS THEIR LOSS WILL BE OTHERS GAIN. We learn that the people of the West District are about to lose the services of the Principal of the Willard school, Mr. Seth Dewing, who has been a successful teacher in that community, between sixteen and seventeen years. S. D. has been called to the Adams school, in the South District, and will enter upon his duties on Monday, of next week. He has our best wishes.

"MARY OF FERMOY," answer to Pat Malloy, set to music by Frank Howard, has just been issued by Root & Cady, Chicago, the leading publishers of the West. Also, two sweet songs, "Loving Thee Ever," music by T. K. Murray, and the Soldier's last request:

"Give this Bible back to Mother," by Mmie Hahn, which deserve extensive circulation.

Rev. J. N. Carleton has removed his popular school for young ladies, from South Mahlen to Medford, and offers excellent facilities for the training of mind, soul and body. Professors Holton and Hudson, Stacy Baxter, Esq., the admired elocutionist of Boston, and other male and female instructors, are engaged for the spring term, beginning March 4.

"YE CANNOT SERVE TWO MASTERS."

For the Patriot.

DEAR PATRIOT. There are times in the history of individuals and nations, when the exigencies of the hour demand positive and certain action and undivided fidelity of purpose. Vacillating and doubtful positions tend only to disaster and misfortune. Mythology tells us that Jupiter turned a ravenous woman into a yawning gulf or whirlpool on the coast of Sicily, called Charybdis, and that Scylla, the daughter of Nisus, who betrayed her country to Minos, by cutting the purple locks of her father, was changed into huge rocks on the coast of Italy, directly opposite the whirlpool of Charybdis.

Over these dangerous places hovered the daughters of Oceanus and Amphitrite, named Parthenope, Ligeia and Leucosia. Their sweet voices became far-famed, and they so charmed their hearers, it is said, that they entirely forgot their employment, and gave attention to the Sirens, until at last they died of hunger. It was extremely dangerous for mariners to pass between these two places, for if they gave heed to the charms on either side, and departed from the middle waters, their barks were engulfed in Charybdis, or dashed on the rocks of Scylla.

There is a body of devoted men, who are exerting their utmost strength to place the institutions of our country upon the broad basis of justice, and upon the immutable principles which our forefathers intended to build the political structure of the United States of America. They represent to a great extent the intelligence, patriotism and loyalty of the nation. They are simply embodying or enacting into statute law what our soldiers, both living and dead, heroically inaugurated and established on the battle field with the loyal sword. It is the same body of men who raised and equipped an army, built and set afloat the most powerful navy of modern times, and manned it with hardy and valiant men. Who created and issued bonds, plighting the national faith, in order "that government of the people by the people, for the people, might not perish from the earth."

Upon all sides they are assailed. A wicked, demoralized, and recreant President, elevated to the second office in the gift of his countrymen for the declaration of devotion to the Republican party, he had so often made, and finally, still higher raised, by the bullet of an assassin instigated and animated by rebellion,—already arraigned before the people for "high crimes and misdemeanors"—an unprecedented occurrence in the history of the United States—yet demanded by the circumstances. A thoroughly conquered, but unrepentant and defiant class of rebels, fresh from the battle fields of the rebellion, their hands reeking with fraternal blood; a cringing army, composed of a mixture of defeated politicians, ex-rebels, and their sympathizers, are straining every political muscle to defeat their patriotic and humane endeavors, to mete out justice to all classes and conditions of men, regardless of nationality. But amid this unpatriotic and vituperative opposition, the star of duty ascends above them, making clear and luminous the pathway to national safety, honor and renown. Their course is clearly indicated by the promptings of the hour and the imperative demands of national justice. If they deviate from this course, irradiated by the experiences and traditions of the nations of the earth, the opening whirlpool of Charybdis, with its restless eddies, or the rocks of Scylla grinding to powder, whatsoever floats upon its huge projections will cause their total destruction.

Negro supremacy and a war of races are said to be imminent, by the chiefs of the rebellion, and their allies at the North couple with these fallacies the startling announcement that the country is loaded with an onerous debt, and cursed by an exploded system of taxation, all of which are peddled out in a prejudiced manner by blustering orators to defeat the consummation of the legitimate results of the war.

With this shallow and sour opposition the Congress of the United States, representing in the fullest and most positive sense the deliberate sentiment of the people, is struggling at the capital of the nation. Surveying with the mind's eye, the situation, comprehending in all its ramifications the affairs of State at this juncture, we are alarmed at the magnitude of the issues at stake. It is appalling! Glance carefully over the pages of history: Rome, Carthage, Sparta, Thebes, Athens, with their brilliancy, and repugnance hurry through the mind. The warnings are manifold. Let us profit by the experience of the past. Discard every semblance of prejudice. Read and meditate carefully. Form no hasty opinions based upon mere hearsay; they will lead you into a dangerous and unrequited domain, where folly and incompetence linger, and ignorance and apathy bear sway. After all, the lessons of the past, written with the point of the sword, of the Republic, in letters crimsoned with blood, leaves our national domain, is it safe to stand still, and allow lethargic inattention and sloth, to seize and possess us, until we shall be awakened by the gigantic crumbling of the buttresses of the Republic, and we, amid its ruins, weeping over opportunities lost?

[CONCLUDED NEXT WEEK.]

In Florida, near Ocala, there is a spring of water that covers more than an acre of ground and is thirty-seven feet deep. A stream more than fifty feet wide flows from it. The water is so clear that the form and color of pebbles and leaves on the bottom can be distinctly observed. Steamboats of light draught can go up the stream fed by this spring alone, and a fleet could lie at anchor in the spring itself.

The St. Louis Democrat states that there are, at various points in the West, over six hundred thousand bushels of corn waiting for shipment East.

Summary Intelligence.

St. Albans claims to be the butter metropolis of the United States. It furnished nearly 3,000,000 lbs. last year.

The postal business of the New York post-office has increased from 10 tons of mail matter received and dispatched per day in 1856 to 100 per day in 1867. It now averages 130 tons a day.

The paper that has the honor of being the smallest and most expensive in the country, is published in Brice City, Idaho. It is not so large as an eating-house napkin and sells for fifty cents a copy.

Great Britain leads the world in mercantile shipments with 7,000,000 tons. Germany is next on the list. The United States before the war was up with Great Britain; but now is from two to three millions of tons below her.

Hays City, one of the new towns on the Pacific Railroad, has increased its population twelve hundred per cent since last September. A census at that time would have shown one inhabitant.

It is computed that we used $3,000,000 pounds of tea in this country last year.

Greenwood Cemetery, the fashionable New York burial place, had 6000 interments last year, and holds in all 139,410 bodies. Its receipts and expenditures in 1867 were over a quarter of a million dollars.

The White Fawn has paid the expenses of bringing it out in Boston, and is now putting its proprietor ten thousand dollars a week.

The amount of National Bank notes in actual circulation March 10, was $199,693,506, of the following denominations. One dollar notes, $5,431,050; twos, 5,648,030; fives, $12,969,583; tens, $77,730,723; twenties, $43,673,325; fifties, $16,977,595; one hundred, $25,299,700; five hundred, $5,944,500; one thousand, $4,019,000.

It is said that over 10,000 German emigrants are expected to arrive in this country the present year, having been engaged to work on farms in the South.

No Wonder so many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases and when tried "found wanting," that the invalid loses all faith in specifics. We have yet to learn, however, of the first failure of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary diseases.

The entire amount of gold in the world at the present time is estimated at about $5,500,000,000 in value. That part of the "world" which is underground is probably not included in this estimate.

One of the greatest marches ever made by United States troops, was made by Colonel Kearny's command in 1845, in his expedition to the Rocky Mountains, when his men marched twenty-five hundred miles in ninety-nine days, including all delays as well as time lost in councils with the Indians.

The gross receipts of the United States Fire Insurance companies for the year ending June 30, 1867, were $88,400,858; dividends and additions to surplus fund, $11,199,478; taxes, $2,024,957.

Samuel Livermore has been postmaster at Pluvanna, New York, forty-one years. His bondsmen, who pledged themselves for his integrity in 1827, are alive, and remain his securities.

At a ball in New York a few evenings ago, some of the ladies had three servants to hold up the tails of their dresses.

A child died at Houlton, Me., last week, from the effects of swallowing a bean.

Only 240,134 of the thirty-five million inhabitants of the United States have a sufficient income to pay a tax to the government.

Numbers of sheep are dying in Vermont or a disease known as the grubs.

There is a frightful rumor prevalent that large bonnets are coming into fashion again.

A female physician in New York returns an income of $20,000.

Virginia promises, frost permitting, to give us the largest peach-crop for many years.

Quincy Savings Bank.

The Annual Meeting of members of the Quincy Savings Bank Corporation will be held at the Banking House, on TUESDAY, April 14, 1868, at 4 o'clock.

HORACE B. SPEAR, Treasurer.

Quincy, April 4.

HOUSE AND LAND

For Sale or to Let. A Large Two-Story House, with out-buildings and 12 acres of Land, on Washington street, about half a mile from the railroad depot, Churches, Schools, &c.

Also, Farming Tools, &c. if desired. For particulars, apply to JOHN H. YEAZIE, Apothecary, or at the Patriot.

Quincy, April 4.

New and Nobby!

JUST received and now offered for Sale, a choice lot of HATS AND CAPS, All Grades and Sizes, and of the latest styles for Spring and Summer wear.

Quincy, April 4.

C. T. REED.

THE BLOOM OF YOUTH RESTORED BY

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

TREES.

Wollaston Nursery

The Subscriber has for Sale

On reasonable Terms, At his Nursery,

ON WOLLASTON AVENUE.

A large variety of Hardy and

Ornamental Trees & Shrubs

Both Native and European, among which are

DECIDUOUS TREES:

American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elm; Norway Spruce, Rock, Ash, beech and Scarlet Maples; English and Turkey Oaks; Common and Weeping Ash; Scotch and Tyrolese Larches; American and English Yew; Tulip Trees; English and Purple Birch; English Sycamores; Horse Chestnuts; &c.

EVERGREENS:

Norway, Black and Hemlock Spruce; Scotch, Austrian, Weymouth, and Corsican Pines; Arbor Vitae, &c.

FLOWERING SHRUBS:

Althaea; Wignolia; Forsythia; Scarlet Dogwood; Mahonia; Box-wood; Evergreen and Common Privet; Rhododendron; Lauris; Spina; Syringa; &c.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently fresh, and of the best quality, are offered at a moderate price.

Selected Poetry.

GRANDMA'S DREAMS.

I wonder what grandma is thinking about,
As she sits in the corner there,
With the firelight shining into her eyes,
And over her silver hair?
She has laid her knitting across her knee,
And folded her hands so thin,
And I know that her thoughts are far away,
In spite of the children's din.

I'm sure it is something strange and sweet,
That brightens her eyes so dim;
Perhaps she is seeing the golden gates,
And hearing the angels' hymn,
And she smiles to think that the soon will cross
Where the wonderful river rolls,
And gather the rose of her youth again,
In the beautiful garden of souls!

Little Corporal.

Farmers' Department.

INDUCEMENT TO PLANT TREES.

How often do we meet men, with an abundance of means, who will tell you they would like to have a few trees here or there, a vineyard, or orchard, or a grove, and you propose that they should immediately commence planting, the almost invariable answer will be, "I don't care for the expense, but I can't wait so long." I can count many such men among my acquaintance who have made the same excuse for the last ten or fifteen years, and they have not commenced that grove or vineyard yet, and done very little toward the orchard. There are men, however, with whom to think and to act are near relatives, and a letter which I lately received from one who is a past octogenarian, calls to mind a circumstance which happened several years ago; it also illustrates the fact that there is never a period in life in which a man may not do some good to somebody by planting trees, and often he will gather the blessing himself, although he little expects it.

When I was in my fourteenth year, a gray-haired uncle of sixty, who had just purchased a farm, requested me to pull up some of the young trees which were growing in masses in my father's garden, and put them on a load of goods which were going to his place. With the assistance of my father I did so, tying the bundle to the body of the wagon, as there was no room on the load. I well remember the remark of my father at the time, "Uncle John, you are rather old to think of growing an orchard," "Never mind," replied my old uncle, "it is certainly not too late for me to try." That uncle still lives, and has been enjoying the fruit of those trees for many years. It is well that we cannot all be sure of living to such a venerable age, for in that case I fear we would never begin, as "Time enough" would become the motto, instead of, as now, "No time."—Fuller's Forest Tree Cultivator.

TO BRING UP SEEDS QUICK.

Those not provided with a hot bed, may hasten the germination of seeds sown in the garden, by covering the bed with bits of boards or old shingles. Seeds covered in this way will come up in half the time that will be required if left open, and it will give them a vigorous start. The reason is that the covering will prevent the escape of ammonia from the soil, and keep a good supply just at the surface where the seeds are deposited, and it is from the ammonia that the plants get nitrogen, their chief food. This plan is not only useful to seeds sown early, for early vegetables, but especially so when planting has been unavoidably delayed till late in the season. Remove the boards as soon as the plants appear.

Cabbage is one of the most profitable crops to the market gardener. A heavy, sandy loam overlying a porous subsoil and containing a good deal of lime, is best adapted to it. The land should be made rich with well composted manure, and carefully ploughed and subsoiled. About two feet apart each way, is an average distance for planting, though this must vary according to varieties planted. For very early cabbage the seed should be sown in the fall and the plants wintered over in cold frames.

We think the early spring the best time to apply either ashes or plaster. We should say the latter part of March or early in April. Barnyard manure or compost we apply directly after haying or late in the fall, but plaster should be applied after a few days of dry weather, but just before a rain, or just as it begins to rain.—Ploughman.

The editor of the North Journal, has seen a stalk of oats which had one hundred and fifty-four plump kernels on it.

Anecdotes.

The grandmother of a well known celebrated English financier having reached the patriarchal age of ninety-nine years and eight months, feeling very weak one morning, sent for her doctor, and asked him if he thought she would attain the age of one hundred.

"Well, madam," he replied "you may depend upon my doing my best."

"Oh, ha," replied the old lady; "I should so like to reach par!"

A lady out with her little girl and boy bought him a rubber balloon, which escaped him, and flew up in the air. The girl seeing the tears in his eyes, said "Never mind Noddy; when you die and go to heaven, you'll die it."

Mrs. Jenkins complained in the evening that the turkey she had eaten at Thanksgiving did not set well.

"Probably," said Jenkins, "it was not a hen turkey."

He got a glass of water in his face.

CHEAP CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.
Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.
AYER'S PILLS, 20 CTS.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.
Brown's Troches, 25 cts.
BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.
Hoops Skirts 87 cts.
Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.
DRESS GOODS,
WORKING PANTS CHEAP.
PANT CLOTHS.
German and American Corsets.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 22 cts.

FICS & ORANGES.
Hair Braids, 85 cts.BEADS, BEADS
Hair Oil and Perfumery.CUSTOM MADE Pants and Vests
VERY LOW.

HATS & CAPS

Perforated Card Board,
Gilt Paper,
Drawing Paper,
Blotting Paper,
Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES

BELOW COST
to close out.J. A. MCLELLAN, NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.

Quincy, Feb. 22. if

"There's Nothing New under the Sun," almost questioned when we seeLORING'S PATENT IRON WATERSTOP
THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,

Quincy, Jan. 11. if

FOR SALE!
A FULL Set of Carpenters' Tools, for Sale
Cheap.J. AREY, JR.
Quincy, Feb. 8. if

THE STAR BURNER

A new patent Kerosene Burner, superior to the Sun Burner—for Sale by the Subscribers.

THE American Foot Stove!

An excellent article for the parlor or sitting room. Very comfortable and durable; free from all danger of fire, therefore a valuable article to take when you wish to enjoy a sleigh-ride.

Call and examine.
C. F. & J. W. PIERCE.
Quincy, Dec. 14. if

Dr. Jackson's Catarrh Snuff.

A POSITIVE and pleasant remedy, for all Disorders of the Head, Throat, Breast and Vocal Organs, by Dr. J. HAYDEN, Washington Square, Quincy, Nov. 22.

GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Agents for
Dr. Fuller's Buchu.Dr. W. M. CORNELL,
No. 4 HAYWARD PLACE.

GIVES special attention to Epilepsy; to all Nervous Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven years in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.

His books on medical subjects may be had at his office, or will be sent by mail, for the following prices:—
"Epilepsy," 80 cents.
"Inhalation," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.50.
"Clinical Health," 40 cents.
"The Beacon," 60 cents.

Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says, "The Beacon" is adapted to do great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm. H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late President of Girard College, says, "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."

Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all our young men."
Aug. 17 if

Notice.

THE Selectmen will meet in their Office, in the Town House every SATURDAY, from 2 to 5 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.
EDMUND B. TAYLOR, Selectman
E. W. UNDERWOOD, of Quincy,
JACOB F. EATON, of Quincy,
Quincy, March 14.

NOTICE.

THE Selectmen will meet in their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each Month, from 8 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1867.
EDMUND B. TAYLOR, Selectman
E. W. UNDERWOOD, of Quincy,
JACOB F. EATON, of Quincy,
Quincy, March 14.

PHILBRICK'S

Fire Kindlings!
The Best Article in Use!!

A BOX contains 144 Squares—One Square will kindle a wood or charcoal fire, burning from 8 to 16 minutes, being the cheapest and best article ever used for kindling fires.
DISCOUNT—Light one of the small Squares, lay it on the grate of the stove, then put on your wood, and you will have a sure fire without further trouble.

Only 25 cents per Box.
For Sale by
JAMES PARKER,
First door South of the Orthodox Church.
Quincy, Feb. 29. if

Bread, Crackers, &c.
WASHBURN & GROVER of North Bridge-water, will run a Baker's Cart to this place, every

Tuesday and Saturday,
and will supply all who desire, with Bread of all kinds, Crackers, Fancy Cakes, &c.
Wedding Cake, &c., supplied at short notice.

Orders left at the Patriot Office, will receive prompt attention from Mr. PARKER, the driver.
Quincy, Dec. 7. if

FISHER'S PREMIUM
CURTAIN FIXTURES.

THESE Fixtures have been exhibited in three Fairs in competition with several others, and took the highest premium in each, and the only medal awarded on Fixtures at the Massachusetts Fair in Boston in 1865. They are warranted to give satisfaction, and if properly put up they will run a man's lifetime without getting out of order. All who contemplate purchasing please examine these before purchasing. For Sale by

JOSEPH AREY, Jr.,
WASHINGTON ST., QUINCY.
Quincy, March 7. if

Restaurant, Billiard
AND BOWLING SALOON,
Goodnow's Building, Cor. Hancock and Granite Streets.

THE Proprietor having made large additions to his stock and fixtures, is now provided with every facility for furnishing his patrons with the best market affords, his aim will be to keep a first class table.

Parties and families furnished with Oysters, Cooked and Raw, Pickled Clams, Lamb's Tongues, Pig's Feet, Clam and Oyster Chowders, Oyster and other Crackers, Pies, Cakes &c.

Fruits of all kinds in their respective seasons. Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, Nuts and all other kinds of Refreshments of the best quality. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

OTIS ROGERS, Proprietor.
Quincy, Jan. 27—if

Gents Nice Black Hats.
For $1.00 each, at
C. T. REED'S.
Quincy, Feb. 1. if

Great Bargains!
For a short time, at
C. T. REED'S.
Quincy, Feb. 1. if

GOOD NEWS
FOR 1868.

D. B. STETSON
has just received another large lot of
BOOTS AND SHOES,
SUCH AS

Men's Thick Boots, at $2.50 to $3.00
Men's Rubber Overs, .75
Men's Rubber Overs, .75
Women's Cloth Boots, .50 to 1.50

Also, another case of Men's Arctic Gaiters, of the best quality.
Having a large trade I can sell goods cheaper than can be purchased elsewhere.

D. B. STETSON,
Washington St., near Dr. Woodward's.
Quincy, Jan. 4. if

WARRANTED
BOOTS & SHOES,
For sale at low prices,
By E. CLAPP.
Quincy, Mar 3

BOOTS & SHOES
Repaired in the Neatest Manner.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy generally, that he has taken the Boot Shop over

EMERSON'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
where he is prepared to Make and Repair in the best manner, Ladies', Gents' and Children's Boots and Shoes at short notice.

JOHN WILLIAMS.
Quincy, Feb. 1. if

Food for Infants
AND INVALIDS.

CONDENSED MILK, recommended by the best Physicians for weakly children.
Baron Liebig's Nutritive Food.
Robinson's Pure Scotch Oatmeal, Grains and Barley.
For sale by
MRS. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square.
Quincy, Aug. 10. if

A GENUINE FLUID EXTRACT
Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH Renewed by
Dr. Fuller's Ext. of Buchu.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH
COUGHS, COLDS,
HOARSENESS,
OR BRONCHITIS,
USE VEAZIE'S
Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squills.

The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy known.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16. if

Deafness, Catarrh,
Consumption and Cancer Cured.

A Treatise on Deafness, Catarrh, Consumption and Cancer, their causes, means of speedy relief, and ultimate cure. By a Faculty of the Academy of Medicine, Paris. Sent to any address for 10 cents.
Letter from Robert McCarty, D. D., LL.D., Grand Prelate of Grand Encampment of U. S., and Editor of the "National Standard," Sept. 17, 1867.—Dr. STEWART, was in charge of Grace Church Hospital, Alexandria, Va., during the war. I frequently, almost daily, for months, visited this Hospital, and had every means of knowing his reputation for Efficiency and Skill. It was of the most creditable character, and his success in the treatment of patients was remarkable.—ROBT. MCCARTY.

ORGANIC VIBRATOR.
It fits into the ear, is not perceptible, removes impurities from the head, and enables deaf persons to hear distinctly at church and public assemblies. This instrument will often produce results almost miraculous, and indeed in most cases of long standing deafness, it will relieve in a short time. It may be adjusted with the ease of spectacles.
Dr. STEWART will be professionally at 81 East Washington Place, University Buildings, N. Y., daily, 10 to 12 o'clock, Tuesdays, when he will be at his room 1032 Pine St., Philadelphia, Pa. Oct. 28—17

New Hair Dressing Saloon.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy, generally, that he has fitted up a shop on Elm street, next door to Mr. Tutman's Provision Store, where he is prepared to execute in the best manner all the various branches of his business, viz:—Cutting and Curling of Hair, Shaving, Cham-pooning, &c.
He hopes by strict attention to business to meet a liberal share of patronage.
R. H. LEIGHTON.
Quincy, Oct. 14, 1865.

SMOLANDER'S EXT. BUCHU
CURES
ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
AND RHEUMATIC DIFFICULTIES
Price $1. Sold everywhere.
J. A. BURLEIGH, Wholesale Druggist, Boston, June 16—3m

WOOLEN GOODS.
A Great variety of Woolen Goods for Ladies' A Men's and Boy's wear for sale at very low prices, by
E. CLAPP.
Quincy, Sept. 28. if

DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION AND RHEUMATISM CURED BY
Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

J. W. LOMBARD,
90 & 92 HANCOCK ST.

DEALER IN
CUSTOM
Ready Made CLOTHING, HATS,
CAPS, GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,
STATIONERY, &c.
Quincy, Jan. 18. if

RICHARD HAILS,
Merchant Tailor!

BEGS Leave to inform the Citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has taken the store, at the corner of HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.,
and has a large assortment of choice Woolen Goods, which he will be pleased to make to measure, in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,
and warranted satisfactory. Goods sold by the yard, and garments cut and trimmed.
All Goods manufactured by H. Southern.
Quincy, April 28. if

JOHN A. HOLDEN,
Merchant Tailor & Dealer

IN CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS AND VESTINGS,
School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

HAS on hand and is constantly receiving from the best sources, New and Desirable Goods adapted to his trade. All who wish first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price, are respectfully invited to call.

N. B. It would be well to remember, that Cheapness and Decency are relative attributes; they have a relation to the quality of the article we buy, and that, which does not answer well the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR at any price.
Quincy, March 30

THE YOUNG MAN'S FRIEND,
Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

MILLINERY!
MISS S. H. HUSSEY
INVITES Attention to a SELECT ASSORTMENT OF FALL AND WINTER
MILLINERY.
Bonnets, Hats and Caps
Velvet, Felt and Straw.

Feathers, Flowers, Velvets, and RIBBONS.
BONNETS and HATS Bleached and Dyed.
Mourning and Grave Clothes made to order.
No. 82 Hancock Street, Side Entrance.
Quincy, Oct. 12. if

To the Ladies of Quincy and Vicinity.
Miss F. E. Currier,
Would respectfully say that she has JUST RECEIVED and is now opening, a New and Choice Assortments
OF
FALL AND WINTER
MILLINERY GOODS, and is prepared to make up the same at the lowest prices. Also, just received DIRECT FROM NEW YORK,
The Latest Style Patterns
For Dresses and Outside Garments.

She has also on hand a new and cheap lot of HOOP SKIRTS, and the latest PATENT SKIRT SUPPORTERS. Corsets constantly on hand and made to order.
Ladies will do well to call and examine.
Quincy, Sept. 28. if

MRS. M. E. CURTIS
INVITES the attention of the ladies of Quincy and vicinity to her Large and Choice Assortment
OF French Millinery Goods, which are offered at THE LOWEST PRICES.

Having secured the assistance of an experienced Milliner from the city, she hopes to continue to receive a liberal share of patronage.
Corsets, Hoop Skirts, and other articles kept constantly for sale.
Mourning and Grave Clothes constantly on hand or made to order.
Dress and Cloak Making in all its varieties.
Also, Agent for the famous WEEB SEWING MACHINE. Those in want of a Good Machine, please call and examine.
Rooms corner of Franklin and Pearl streets.
Quincy, Nov. 2. if

NEW GOODS.
A FULL assortment of Goods can now be found at No. 66 Hancock street, at very low prices.
ELBRIDGE CLAPP.
Quincy, Sept. 7. if

A GENUINE FLUID EXTRACT
Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

LIVERY STABLE.
REMOVED.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that owing to the recent fire he has removed for a short time, his Livery Stock, &c., to the stable next to Mr. Clapp's store, on HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY,
where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages at short notice.

He would also take this opportunity to thank the public for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.
JOHN HALL.
Quincy, Sept. 14.

ALB! ALB!
THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he will supply those who wish, with a good article of Amber or XX Ale, manufactured by H. Southern & Co., in its quarter or half barrels.
Particular attention given to supplying private families, at short notice.
F. SOUTHER.
Quincy, Dec. 21. if

Granular Fuel.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD Respectfully inform the people of Quincy and Dorchester, that he is now prepared to furnish them with Granular Fuel.
Also, with Wood Sawed right for the Stove.
ORDER SLATES at the Post Office, E. Clapp's Store and at Wilson's Market.
Quincy, July 8. if

The VIGOR OF YOUTH Renewed by
Dr. Fuller's Ext. of Buchu.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH
COUGHS, COLDS,
HOARSENESS,
OR BRONCHITIS,
USE VEAZIE'S
Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squills.

The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy known.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16. if

Deafness, Catarrh,
Consumption and Cancer Cured.

A Treatise on Deafness, Catarrh, Consumption and Cancer, their causes, means of speedy relief, and ultimate cure. By a Faculty of the Academy of Medicine, Paris. Sent to any address for 10 cents.
Letter from Robert McCarty, D. D., LL.D., Grand Prelate of Grand Encampment of U. S., and Editor of the "National Standard," Sept. 17, 1867.—Dr. STEWART, was in charge of Grace Church Hospital, Alexandria, Va., during the war. I frequently, almost daily, for months, visited this Hospital, and had every means of knowing his reputation for Efficiency and Skill. It was of the most creditable character, and his success in the treatment of patients was remarkable.—ROBT. MCCARTY.

ORGANIC VIBRATOR.
It fits into the ear, is not perceptible, removes impurities from the head, and enables deaf persons to hear distinctly at church and public assemblies. This instrument will often produce results almost miraculous, and indeed in most cases of long standing deafness, it will relieve in a short time. It may be adjusted with the ease of spectacles.
Dr. STEWART will be professionally at 81 East Washington Place, University Buildings, N. Y., daily, 10 to 12 o'clock, Tuesdays, when he will be at his room 1032 Pine St., Philadelphia, Pa. Oct. 28—17

New Hair Dressing Saloon.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy, generally, that he has fitted up a shop on Elm street, next door to Mr. Tutman's Provision Store, where he is prepared to execute in the best manner all the various branches of his business, viz:—Cutting and Curling of Hair, Shaving, Cham-pooning, &c.
He hopes by strict attention to business to meet a liberal share of patronage.
R. H. LEIGHTON.
Quincy, Oct. 14, 1865.

SMOLANDER'S EXT. BUCHU
CURES
ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
AND RHEUMATIC DIFFICULTIES
Price $1. Sold everywhere.
J. A. BURLEIGH, Wholesale Druggist, Boston, June 16—3m

WOOLEN GOODS.
A Great variety of Woolen Goods for Ladies' A Men's and Boy's wear for sale at very low prices, by
E. CLAPP.
Quincy, Sept. 28. if

DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION AND RHEUMATISM CURED BY
Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH Renewed by
Dr. Fuller's Ext. of Buchu.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH
COUGHS, COLDS,
HOARSENESS,
OR BRONCHITIS,
USE VEAZIE'S
Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squills.

The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy known.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16. if

Deafness, Catarrh,
Consumption and Cancer Cured.

A Treatise on Deafness, Catarrh, Consumption and Cancer, their causes, means of speedy relief, and ultimate cure. By a Faculty of the Academy of Medicine, Paris. Sent to any address for 10 cents.
Letter from Robert McCarty, D. D., LL.D., Grand Prelate of Grand Encampment of U. S., and Editor of the "National Standard," Sept. 17, 1867.—Dr. STEWART, was in charge of Grace Church Hospital, Alexandria, Va., during the war. I frequently, almost daily, for months, visited this Hospital, and had every means of knowing his reputation for Efficiency and Skill. It was of the most creditable character, and his success in the treatment of patients was remarkable.—ROBT. MCCARTY.

ORGANIC VIBRATOR.
It fits into the ear, is not perceptible, removes impurities from the head, and enables deaf persons to hear distinctly at church and public assemblies. This instrument will often produce results almost miraculous, and indeed in most cases of long standing deafness, it will relieve in a short time. It may be adjusted with the ease of spectacles.
Dr. STEWART will be professionally at 81 East Washington Place, University Buildings, N. Y., daily, 10 to 12 o'clock, Tuesdays, when he will be at his room 1032 Pine St., Philadelphia, Pa. Oct. 28—17

New Hair Dressing Saloon.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy, generally, that he has fitted up a shop on Elm street, next door to Mr. Tutman's Provision Store, where he is prepared to execute in the best manner all the various branches of his business, viz:—Cutting and Curling of Hair, Shaving, Cham-pooning, &c.
He hopes by strict attention to business to meet a liberal share of patronage.
R. H. LEIGHTON.
Quincy, Oct. 14, 1865.

SMOLANDER'S EXT. BUCHU
CURES
ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
AND RHEUMATIC DIFFICULTIES
Price $1. Sold everywhere.
J. A. BURLEIGH, Wholesale Druggist, Boston, June 16—3m

WOOLEN GOODS.
A Great variety of Woolen Goods for Ladies' A Men's and Boy's wear for sale at very low prices, by
E. CLAPP.
Quincy, Sept. 28. if

DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION AND RHEUMATISM CURED BY
Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH Renewed by
Dr. Fuller's Ext. of Buchu.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH
COUGHS, COLDS,
HOARSENESS,
OR BRONCHITIS,
USE VEAZIE'S
Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squills.

The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy known.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16. if

Deafness, Catarrh,
Consumption and Cancer Cured.

A Treatise on Deafness, Catarrh, Consumption and Cancer, their causes, means of speedy relief, and ultimate cure. By a Faculty of the Academy of Medicine, Paris. Sent to any address for 10 cents.
Letter from Robert McCarty, D. D., LL.D., Grand Prelate of Grand Encampment of U. S., and Editor of the "National Standard," Sept. 17, 1867.—Dr. STEWART, was in charge of Grace Church Hospital, Alexandria, Va., during the war. I frequently, almost daily, for months, visited this Hospital, and had every means of knowing his reputation for Efficiency and Skill. It was of the most creditable character, and his success in the treatment of patients was remarkable.—ROBT. MCCARTY.

ORGANIC VIBRATOR.
It fits into the ear, is not perceptible, removes impurities from the head, and enables deaf persons to hear distinctly at church and public assemblies. This instrument will often produce results almost miraculous, and indeed in most cases of long standing deafness, it will relieve in a short time. It may be adjusted with the ease of spectacles.
Dr. STEWART will be professionally at 81 East Washington Place, University Buildings, N. Y., daily, 10 to 12 o'clock, Tuesdays, when he will be at his room 1032 Pine St., Philadelphia, Pa. Oct. 28—17

New Hair Dressing Saloon.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy, generally, that he has fitted up a shop on Elm street, next door to Mr. Tutman's Provision Store, where he is prepared to execute in the best manner all the various branches of his business, viz:—Cutting and Curling of Hair, Shaving, Cham-pooning, &c.
He hopes by strict attention to business to meet a liberal share of patronage.
R. H. LEIGHTON.
Quincy, Oct. 14, 1865.

SMOLANDER'S EXT. BUCHU
CURES
ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
AND RHEUMATIC DIFFICULTIES
Price $1. Sold everywhere.
J. A. BURLEIGH, Wholesale Druggist, Boston, June 16—3m

WOOLEN GOODS.
A Great variety of Woolen Goods for Ladies' A Men's and Boy's wear for sale at very low prices, by
E. CLAPP.
Quincy, Sept. 28. if

DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION AND RHEUMATISM CURED BY
Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH Renewed by
Dr. Fuller's Ext. of Buchu.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH COUGHS

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.

GEO. W. PRESOTT, Printer.
Also—Advertising and Business Agent.

POST OFFICE.
Mails open 8 30 A. M., and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M., and 5 15 P. M.

Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
95 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.

GEORGE L. GILL,
AGENT FOR Fire and Life INSURANCE!
Applications solicited.
Quincy, Nov. 16.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY,
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

A Good Assortment
Kept Constantly on hand
YOU will constantly find at the Citizen's Market all kinds of meat of the best quality, at the lowest cash prices.

LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.

Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Congress and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to measure.

FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship

BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

TO THE PUBLIC.
THIS Subscriber is prepared to carry parties
to the beach, or on other excursions.
Careful attention will also be given to
MOVING FURNITURE, &c., at short notice.
All orders for JOBBING will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, June 15.

NOTICE.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons, that he has fitted up a shop
in the rear of his residence—entrance on the North side—where he is prepared to make and repair Boots and Shoes, at short notice, and would be pleased to see all of his old friends and customers as usual.
JOHN A. NEWCOMB.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1868.

NUMBER 15.

INSURANCE

AGAINST FIRE! FIRE!

National Insurance
COMPANY.
Capital, -- $300,000 00.

$30,000 can be taken in one risk and smaller amounts on Buildings, Stocks of Goods, Furniture &c., &c.
A. H. BEAN, President.
G. W. KEHN, Sec'y.

THE ABOVE
FIRST CLASS COMPANY
AND THE ROGER WILLIAMS
INS. CO.,

CAPITAL, $100,000.
A. A. WILLIAMS, President.
G. W. DAVENPORT, Sec'y.
$10,000 on one Risk;

Both combined enables me to insure on $40,000,
Being a larger amount than any office in Norfolk County can insure for on one
risk.

Economical Mutual LIFE INSURANCE
COMPANY.

Cash Capital, $200,000.
Assets, January 1, 1868,
$384,393.79.
Total Loss up to Feb. 1, 1868,
Only $4,500.

PREMIUMS payable Quarterly, Semi-Annually, or Annually, as parties may choose.

This Company offers SUPERIOR advantages to any other, and parties desiring
to insure their Lives, should by all means call at my office before insuring elsewhere.

THE reduction of rates being more than equal to the prospective dividends of some Companies.

TRAVELERS'
INSURANCE COM'Y.
CAPITAL, $500,000,
WITH
A Large Surplus, of $241,337.

Those wishing to insure themselves
against death by accident, or by injury
from accidents, are by this company paid
a weekly compensation during their recovery, in proportion to the sum insured,
from $3 to $50 per week.

For further particulars, call at the Insurance Office of
D. GREENE, Agent,
For the above Companies, for Norfolk Co.
68 Hancock Street.
Quincy, Feb. 29th, 1868.

IMPORTERS, GROWERS

—AND—
DEALERS IN SEEDS.
Wholesale and Retail.

The subscribers would call the attention of Farmers Gardeners and Traders, to their large and very carefully selected stock of Seeds, all of the new crops, and such as can be depended on as being PURE AND TRUE TO NAME.
Our Catalogue will be furnished to all who apply for it,
and it embraces a large variety of

Garden, Grass, Field
AND FLOWER SEEDS,
to which we have the present season added a number of new varieties, but only such as have proved worth cultivating; we give our personal attention to the handling and putting up of our seeds, so that no mistakes may occur, and we take especial care to have them well packed.

Warehouses Nos. 10 South Market and 10 Chatham Streets, Boston, Mass.
A. SCHLEGEL & CO.
Feb. 29.

AMATEUR
Cultivator's Guide
TO THE KITCHEN & FLOWER GARDEN.
Now Ready.

A Descriptive Work of 140 pages, fully illustrated with a beautiful colored plate and 400 engravings, containing a list of over 2,500 varieties, of Flower and Vegetable Seeds; also, 150 varieties of the choicest French Hybrid Gladioli.
All the novelties, both of the Flower and vegetable, for 1868, will be found described in the above work.

The following testimonials are unhesitatingly given, and can be multiplied by hundreds:
From Mr. John Masters Weymouth, N. H.—
"Your GUIDE came safe, and pleases me much;
it is the best I ever saw."
From Mrs. E. Fitzgerald East Sanborn, Belknap Co., N. H.—"It is with great satisfaction
and pleasure I have studied your AMATEUR'S GUIDE. I have examined it highly. Its pages
are full of valuable information, reliable, plain, and practical, and attractively conveyed—just what every new beginner wants."
From T. Hill, Oakland City, Tenn., N. Y. March, 2, 1867—"It is without exception the best best arranged, useful and instructive work I have seen, for amateurs especially."
From Miss D. W. Miller, Winchester, Randolph
Co., Ind.—"I have received your GUIDE for the Flower and Kitchen Garden, for which you have my sincere thanks. It is very valuable for all who wish to cultivate Flowers and Vegetables.
But praise from me is needless; it must recommend itself to any one."
From Mr. B. F. Stanley, Greenville, S. C. March 17, 1867—"Thanks for your AMATEUR GUIDE. It is indeed pleasant, useful, and instructive."

Tastefully bound in cloth, three colored plates,
price, post paid, 50 cts.; in paper covers, post paid 25 cts.

WASHBURN & CO.
Horticultural Hall, Boston.
Feb. 15.

CHOICE
SEEDS AND PLANTS.
FRESH AND CHOICE
GARDEN AND FLOWER
SEEDS,
GRAPE VINES,
STRAWBERRY PLANTS,
PINEAPPLES, ORNAMENTAL
TREES AND SHRUBS,
TRUE CAFE COFFEE, CRANBERRY, FOR UPLAND OR LOWLAND
FRUIT TREES, AND HEDGE PLANTS,
SMALL EVERGREENS.

Extra choice collection of German Flower Seeds, 25
Sorts Garden or Flower Seeds, prepaid by mail $1.00
The most judicious assortment ever offered.
Plymouth, Feb. 22.

BRADLEY'S
SUPER-PHOSPHATE
Of Lime Triumphant.

No better proof of the superiority of my Superphosphate over all others is needed than to know that the demand is beyond precedent.

TESTIMONIALS.
From Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 27, 1868.
Wm. L. Bradley, Dear Sir:—I used XL Superphosphate of your manufacture, during the spring and summer of 1867 with good effect. Its benefit was marked upon onions and carrots.
Richard and George's crops, in my neighborhood,
I took to my lawn, on grass with decided benefit. A second season's trial confirms the good opinion which I formed
of it both for farm and garden crops. Please send to Mr.
Turner a half ton for each use.
HENRY WARD BEECHER.

From Hon. Geo. B. Loring.
Salem, Mass., Jan. 3, 1868.
Sir:—The Super Phosphate of Lime used by me, of your manufacture, proved to be all that I could desire or wish. I have used very sparingly, and found it would operate more effectively and permanently than years of any other manure.
Geo. B. LORING.

Poetry.

THE DOMESTIC FOWL.

From rosy morn to dewy eve,
Who is it makes my soul to grieve,
And at the last doth take French leave?
My Biddle.

Who roasts my meat unto a coal?
Who breaks my nicest China bowl,
And says "She didn't on her soul?"
My Biddle.

Who cleans and scrubs the kitchen floor,
And in a half an hour or more
Has it precisely as before?
My Biddle.

My pocket-handkerchiefs and hose,
Who confabulates, under the nose,
And sometimes wears my nicest clothes?
My Biddle.

Who comes and goes whenever she chooses—
Injures whatever thing she uses—
And now and then to work refuses?
My Biddle.

Who slams and bangs, and breaks and slashes,
Who tears and rends, and knocks and dashes—
Who tips and spills, and slops and slashes?
My Biddle.

And shall I ever cease to be
In bondage unto such as thee?
My way is dark—I cannot see—
For Biddle.

I only know my misery;
I weary of my life with thee;
Would thou wert back across the sea!
O Biddle!

Interesting Selections.
LEXON PIE. Grate one cracker; to it add one sliced lemon and one cup of sugar. Bake with two crusts.

SOFT COOKIES. One cup of sugar, one half cup of butter, two eggs, one teaspoonful of soda and flour to thicken.

COLD SAUCE. One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, beaten thoroughly together; flavor with wine or nutmeg.

A celebrated lawyer once said that the three most troublesome clients he ever had were a young lady who wanted to be married, a married woman who wanted a divorce, and an old maid who didn't know what she wanted.

If the spring puts forth no blossoms,
in summer there will be no beauty, and in autumn no fruit. So, if youth be trifled away without improvement, ripe years will be contemptible, and old age miserable.

If you have a scolding wife, trust to time—her old age may bring to you the blessing of deafness.

Miscellany.

A True Story of George Washington.

"It must be, my child!" said the poor widow, wiping away the tears which slowly trickled down her wasted cheeks.
"There is no other resource. I am too sick to work, and you cannot surely see me and your little brother starve. Try and beg a few shillings, and by the time that is gone I may be better. Go, Harry, my dear—I grieve to send you on such an errand, but it must be done."

The boy, a noble looking fellow of about ten years, started up, and throwing his arms around his mother's neck, left the house without a word. He did not hear the groan of anguish that was uttered by his parent, as the door closed behind him; and it was well that he did not, for his little heart was ready to break without
it. It was a by-street in Philadelphia, and as he walked the street to and fro on the sidewalk, he looked first at one person and then at another, as they passed him, but no one seemed to look kindly on him; and the longer he waited the faster his courage dwindled away, and the more difficult it was to muster courage to beg.

The tears were running fast down his cheeks, but no one noticed them, or if they did, nobody seemed to care; for although clean, Henry looked poor and miserable, and it is common for the poor and miserable to cry.

Everybody seemed in a hurry, and the poor boy seemed quite in despair, when at last he spied a gentleman who seemed to be very leisurely taking a morning walk. He was dressed in black, wore a three-cornered hat, and had a face that was mild and benignant as an angel's. Somehow, when Henry looked at him, he felt all his fears vanish at once, and instantly approached him. His tears had been flowing so long that his eyes were quite red and swollen, and his voice trembled, but that was with weakness, for he had not eaten for four-and-twenty hours.

Henry, with a low, faltering voice, begged for a little charity, the gentleman stopped, and his kind heart melted with compassion as he looked upon the fair countenance of the poor young boy, and saw the deep flush that spread over his face, and listened to the modest, humble tones which accompanied his petition.

"You do not look like a boy that has been accustomed to beg his bread," said he, kindly, laying his hand on the boy's shoulder—"what has driven you to this step?"

"Indeed," answered Harry, his tears beginning to flow afresh, "indeed I was not born in this condition. But the misfortunes of my father, and the sickness of my mother, have driven me to the necessity now."

"Who is your father?" inquired the gentleman, with still more interest.

My father was a rich merchant of this city, but he became bankrupt for a friend, who soon after failed, and he was entirely ruined. He could not live after this loss, and in one month he died of grief, and his death was more terrible than any trouble
I could by shoveling snow and other work that I could find to do. But night before last mother was taken very sick, and she has since become so much worse—"here the tears poured faster than ever—"I do fear she will die. I cannot think of any way in the world to help her. I have not had any work for several weeks. I have not had the courage to go to any of mother's old acquaintances, and tell them that she has come to need and charity.
I thought you looked like a stranger, sir, and something in your face overcame my shame, and gave me courage to speak to you. Oh! sir, do pity my poor mother!"

The tears, and the simple, moving language of the boy, touched a chord in the stranger that was accustomed to vibrations.

"Where does your mother live, my boy?" said he, in a husky voice; "is it far from here?"

"She lives in the last house on this street, sir," replied Harry. "You can see it from here, in the third block, on the left hand side."

"Have you sent for a physician?"
"No," said the poor boy, sorrowfully, shaking his head. "I have no money either to pay for a physician or medicine."
"Here," said the stranger, drawing pieces of silver from his pocket—"Here are three dollars; take them and run immediately and get a physician."

Harry's eyes flashed with gratitude.
He received the money with a shudder-ing and inaudible voice, but with a look of warmest gratitude, and vanished.

His benignant gentleman immediately sought the dwelling of the sick widow.
He entered a little room in which he could see nothing but a few implements of female labor, a miserable table, an old bureau, and a little bed which stood in one corner on which lay the invalid. She appeared weak and exhausted, and in her bed at her feet sat a little boy, crying as if his heart would break.

Deeply moved at the sight, the stranger drew near to the bedside of the invalid, and feigning to be a physician, inquired into the nature of the disease. The symptoms were explained in a few words, when the widow, with a deep sigh, added: "Oh, my sickness has deeper cause and is beyond the art of the physician to cure.

I am a mother—wretched mother. I see my children sinking daily deeper and deeper into want, which I have no means of relieving. My sickness is of the heart and death alone can end my sorrows; but even death is dreadful to me—for it awakens the thought of misery into which my children would be plunged—"

Her emotion choked her utterance, and tears flowed unrestrained down her cheeks.
But the pretended physician spoke so consoling to her, and manifested so warm a sympathy for her condition that the heart of the woman throbbled with pleasure that was unwonted.

"Do not despair," said the benevolent stranger; "I think of preserving a life that is so precious to your children. Can I write a prescription here?"

The poor widow took a little prayer book from the hand of her child, who sat with her in bed, and tore out a blank leaf.
"I have no other paper," said she,
but perhaps that will do."

The stranger took a pencil from his pocket, and wrote a few lines upon the paper.

"This prescription," said he, "you will find of great service to you. If it is necessary, I will write you a second. I have great hopes of your recovery."

He laid the paper upon the table and went away.

Starely was he gone when the elder son returned.

"Cheer up, mother," said he, going to her bedside and affectionately kissing her.
"See what a kind and benevolent stranger has given us. It will enable us to have a physician, and he will be here in a moment. Compose yourself now, dear mother, and take courage."

"Come nearer, my son," said the mother, looking with pride and affection on her child.

"Come nearer, that I may bless you. God never forsakes the innocent and good. Oh, may he still watch over you in all your paths! A physician has just been here. He was a stranger, but spoke to me with a kindness and compassion that was a balm to my heart. When he went away, he left that prescription on the table—see it, you can read it."

Henry glanced at the paper and started back; he took it up, and as he read it through again and again, a cry of wonder and astonishment escaped him.

"What is it my son?" exclaimed the poor widow, trembling with an apprehension—she knew not what.

CONDITIONS.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisements is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized agents
to receive advertisements for the Patriot.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., Boston.
S. R. NILES, Boston.
Geo. F. Rowell & Co., New York.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., New York.
JOHN HOPKIN & Co., New York.

RUSSIAN TEA.

You are brought two white tea-pots—one large, the other small; the former containing water, the latter tea. You first—if you wish to follow the proper routine—fill your glass tumbler half full with water; then, when the glass is thoroughly warmed, empty the water, put in a couple of lumps of white sugar, then pour out half a tumbler full of tea, and weaken it with water. Then insert a slice of lemon; and if your mouth is fireproof enough to drink the beverage while it is scalding hot; you will get better tea than it has been your fortune to get elsewhere. There is no doubt the glass retains the heat much longer than a porcelain or crockery cup would do; but then, as there is no handle, and as the glass is as hot as hot can be, it is not easy to lift it. To avoid this difficulty, you must either put your head down to the glass, or hold the bottom in the hollow of your hand,—neither of which methods of imbibing is considered elegant at home.

Everybody about you sips his tea placidly.
Most of the company cross themselves before they raise the glass to their lips;
and almost all sip between puffs of smoke.
—Macmillan's Magazine.

FAILING EYES.
Persons suffering from dyspepsia or any other malady, must take care of their eyes. Any disease impairs the strength, and the nervous system is depressed; and when laboring under this form of depression, the eye is particularly liable to become weak. The reason of this is, that "of the ten nerves which go off from the brain, six are distributed wholly, and the other four partially to the eye." Through the great sympathetic nerve, the disturbed stomach, or liver, or intestines, communicates with telegraphic speed with the brain, and so with the eye. The first advice to be given with reference to the comfortable use of the eyes, undoubtedly is—to keep intestines and liver and stomach in a healthy condition, or in other words do everything to confirm the general health. If this be impaired, do not read, and especially do not write long without giving the eye a rest. The great remedy for an eye whose disease depends upon the nerve and not the muscle, is Rest! Rest! Rest!!!

Axe Grinding.—A Story for Boys.
This is a term borrowed from a story told by Franklin. A little boy going to school was accosted by a man carrying an axe. The man called the boy all kinds of pretty and endearing names, and induces him to enter a yard where there is a grindstone. "Now my pretty little fellow," says he with the axe, "only turn that handle, and you'll see something pretty." The boy turns and turns, and the man holds the axe to the stone and pours water over it till the axe is ground.
Straightway he turns with changed voice and fierce gesture on the boy:—"You abandoned little miscreant!" he cries,
"what do you mean by playing truant from school? You deserve a good thrashing. Get you gone this instant?" "And after this," adds Franklin, "when any body flattered me I always thought he "had an axe to grind."

An ingenious mechanic in Boston has nearly perfected a contrivance which will enable people to rise early without the slightest difficulty. An infant six months old is about equal to anything Hiorio discovered, and is quite sufficient for most people.

THE UNITED STATES MUSICAL RE-VIEW, published by J. L. Peters, 200 Broadway, New York, is before us, and merits the attention of all lovers of music.
It is a mammoth monthly magazine, sheet music, reviews, news, reviews, and choice art items, every line of which is readable, and we should say, invaluable to all musicians. This alone is well worth a year's subscription which is only $2.00.
The publishers, however, do not stop here, for, in addition to the above, each number contains four pieces of new music by the best writers in America, thus giving a select library of new music at such a low rate that even the poorest may indolge in what has hitherto been considered a luxury.

The music in the REVIEW, is of the best, as the following select list will testify, all of which has appeared within its pages during the last six months: "Nora O'Neal," "Katy McFerran," "You've been a friend to me," and "Kiss me good-bye, darling," all by Will. S. Hays;
"Good-bye, but come again," and "do you think that moon could have seen us?" by R. R. Thomas; "Ally Day," and "Little Brown Church," by William S. Pitts; "Maribell," by Danks;
"Let the dead and the beautiful rest,"
"Break, Break, O sea," etc.

Also, Kinkel's "Heavenly Thought," and "Maiden's Blush," Scott's "Mack's Damsel Rose," and "White Rose March," and several other choice pieces, amounting in all to $9 at retail prices.
The U. S. MUSICAL REVIEW is published at $2 per year; single copies, 20 cents. No musical family should be without it.

When ladies vote, candidates will always be elected by "hand-ome," and sometimes by "sweeping" majorities.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

A BIG FISH. A monstrous sea bass, was on free exhibition, at the Citizen's Market, in this place, on Tuesday and Wednesday last. It was caught in a seine from the Towa River, near Germantown, by Capt. Nauman B. Holmes and others, on Tuesday morning last. It was about three and a half feet long, and weighed forty-five pounds, and was a great curiosity to many of our citizens.

ANNUAL MEETING. At the Annual Meeting of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company, held on the first inst., the following gentlemen were elected Directors for the year ensuing:—

William S. Morton, Israel W. Munroe, Whitcomb Porter, William B. Duggan, Thomas Curtis, Charles A. Howland, Henry H. Faxon, and John Hardwick of Quincy; Charles Breck of Milton; Ebenezer Gay, R. B. Leachars, Boston; Alfred Loring, of Hingham; George Marston, of Barnstable; H. W. Blanchard, of Dorchester; Sumner A. Hayward, of North Bridgewater; Royal W. Turner, of Randolph; Solomon J. Beal, of Cohasset; J. Alba Davis, of West Roxbury.

At a subsequent meeting held on Thursday last, William S. Morton, was elected President, I. W. Munroe, Treasurer, and Chas. A. Howland, Secretary.

INSTALLATION. Rev. J. E. Hall will be installed as Pastor of the Hancock Street Congregational Church on Thursday evening next.

IDENTIFIED. From facts learned by Coroner Bass, it is supposed that the body found on Eaton's beach a few weeks since, was a brother of Jeremiah Daily of Salem. The last time he was seen by his brother, was about Thanksgiving, since then he had heard nothing concerning him. He had been in the service three years and eight months.

PHYSICAL CULTURE. Mr. Godard, a pupil of Dr. Dio Lewis, and a graduate from his institution is in town for the purpose of organizing a gymnastic class for society for the physical benefit of ladies and gentlemen of Quincy.

We are glad to hear that he has already met with favorable and encouraging responses from some of our most respected citizens. He comes well recommended and we hope he will be successful in his enterprise. We need him to act in conjunction with our School teachers; he will strengthen the bodies of our children, while they furnish their heads. There is more fun for all in patronizing the Gymnasium than in running up doctors' bills.

DORCHESTER, QUINCY AND MILTON DIRECTORY. Messrs. Dudley & Greenough, of Boston, have commenced the canvass for a Directory of Dorchester and vicinity. The long experience of this firm in publishing and compiling works of this kind, is a guarantee that it will be issued from the press in first class style, and be a reliable guide to the inhabitants and business of this vicinity. It will contain much interesting matter, including historical sketches of the towns, town officers, societies, churches, schools, &c., &c. We learn that the publishers have already secured a large subscription list, and an opportunity will be presented to those who may wish to subscribe by the agent when collecting the names. It is a book that will be useful and interesting to every citizen. The price to subscribers will be $1.00 per copy.

DORCHESTER. The April meeting was held in this town on Monday last, and the following appropriations were made:

For Schools, $47,000; poor in almshouse, $4000; poor out of almshouse, $3300; insane at hospital, $1500; highways, $15,000; fire department, $6000; volunteer companies, $900; town officers, $6000; cemeteries, $1000; installments and interest, $15,000; interest in anticipation of taxes, $5000; abatement of taxes, $4000; lighting streets, $6000; police and watch, $1500; incidental expenses, $9000; Baker's Lodge, $6450.56; new road at Hyde Park, $15,000; protection against fire at Lower Mills, $5000; improvement of Richmond street, $1500; improvement of Engine House No. 4, $1612.11; hook and ladder truck, $800; new cemetery, $10,000. Total—$152,262.67.

This amount exceeds by $14,000 the appropriations for town purposes of last year, but by reduction of the State and county taxes, the total expenses for the present year will be about $25,000 less.

The following were indefinitely postponed: To purchase steam fire engines for Neponset and Lower Mills; to erect a new town house, and in regard to salaries of town officers.

ELECTIONS. Connecticut held its State election on Monday. The result was the re-election of Governor English and the democratic ticket by a majority slightly increased from that of last year. The aggregate vote will foot up 94,523 against 91,143, the vote of last year, and exceeds the largest vote ever before polled in the State. The State will consist of 12 Republicans and 9 democrats, and the House of Representatives stands 130 Republicans to 108 Democrats.

RHODE ISLAND held its annual election on the 1st inst., the result being the re-election of Governor Burdette by a majority slightly increased from that of last year. The State legislature will stand as follows: Senate, 27 Republicans, 5 Democrats, in the House 62 Republicans, 8 Democrats.

The Rev. Edwin White will occupy the Universalist pulpit in this town, 10-MORROW, forenoon and afternoon.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 6, 1868.

The Managers for the prosecution concluded their testimony on Saturday last. The President's Counsel asked and obtained leave to have further time granted to prepare their witnesses. They stated that on Thursday, the 9th instant, they would be prepared to proceed with the trial, and accordingly the Court adjourned to that time. Many people are surprised that no more witnesses were called to prove the charges against the President. They looked for some new and astounding evidence. But the charges against the President were known to be true by the public generally just as well before as now. It was only required to attach to it more weight and authenticity by the testimony of witnesses under oath. Some who have attentively watched the voting of Senators on preliminary questions, express quite a doubt as to the result of the final vote. Senators of course will not express any opinion, until the proper time comes. Nevertheless, straws indicate the currents' course. Private conversation with several Senators, has not changed the opinion formerly expressed, that Andrew Johnson will be impeached, and that right soon. To defeat it, will require the votes of not only the twelve Democrats but seven Republicans must join them to make their number nineteen. Eighteen will not do, as that will leave a two-third vote in favor of impeachment. The Chief Justice cannot vote unless there is a tie. It will be difficult to find seven of the present Republican Senators to declare on their oath that the President is not guilty of the misdemeanors mentioned in the Articles of the House. It is plain how the twelve Democrats will vote; they always vote solid on all questions that arise, while the Republicans are divided on questions of law. Yet it is said the Senate are governed by party feelings. Who are? The twelve who always decide points of law in favor of their party, or those who sometimes differ as to these points, notwithstanding the interests of their party.

There have been some fifteen or twenty witnesses examined,—comprising army officers, heads of departments, civilians, short-hand reporters, and Col. Moore, the President's Private Secretary. Their testimony has long since been made public. Allow me, however, to refer to only one witness,—that of Karsner, of Delaware, who created quite a sensation by his droll manner of answering. It was impossible for the Chief Justice to preserve order in the Senate. He would take his gavel to command order, but whilst endeavoring to maintain his dignity, would suddenly, with the rest, burst into a hearty laugh. Such long and continuous strains of laughter never before so disturbed the serenity and sedateness of the Senate Chamber. It was not so much what the witness said, as the manner in which it was said. He was a dry, comical Toodles, but kept on hand a good stock of brains. He has travelled some, and often appeared on the stage,—being a stage driver by profession. I can only isolate a few answers that he gave, minus their connection.

On being asked by Manager Butler to give the conversation he had with Gen. Thomas, at the President's levee, he answered:—

"Thomas said he was a Delaware boy, which I very well knew; and he asked me what we were doing in Delaware. I don't remember the answer that I gave him, but said I to him, 'General, the eyes of Delaware are on you!'"

His emphatic Delaware, brought out in his original style, always produced a laugh among the Managers, the Counsel, the Court, and the spectators. Order being restored, the witness proceeded:—

"I gave my advice to him; I told him I thought Delaware would require him to stand firm. 'Stand firm, General,' said I. He said he would, 'he was standing firm, and he would not disappoint his friends; and in two days, or in two or three days, or at a short time, he would kick that fellow (Stanton) out.' I repeated again to him what the desire, I presumed, of Delaware would be,—and he said, 'I need not give myself any concern about that, he was going to remain firm, and kick that fellow out without fail.'"

Stanbery in cross-examining, asked,—

"Where did you meet Thomas prior to this?"

A. Answer, In Newcastle.

Question. On what occasion?

A. I saw him in the street.

Q. In which of the streets of Newcastle did you see him?

A. Well, there ain't many streets in Newcastle. (It is said there is but one in the whole town.)

Q. You recollect of repeating this conversation to any one beside Thomas?

A. Yes—I recollect a gentleman from Delaware.

Q. What was his name?

A. (Hesitation.) His name was Smith. (Laughter.)

Q. What was the first name of that Mr. Smith?

A. It wasn't John. (Great laughter.)

Q. What did you tell William Smith?

A. I told William Smith just what I have told you.

Q. What part of Delaware is Smith from?

A. He is from the banks of the Brandywine. (Great laughter.)

Q. Which bank?

A. I think he is on the east bank of the Brandywine, or northeast.

Q. Does he live in town or country?

A. He lives, I think, in the country—he is a farmer.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

BOSTON, APRIL 8, 1868.

Local Items.—The State Legislature.—Debate.—Impeachment of President Johnson.—A Strong Case evidently not made out against him.—Popular Sentiment on the Subject.

Notwithstanding the dulness of trade, the stranger here would hardly notice anything on the streets to denote stagnation of business. The times are blue with many; but better days are coming.—"Winter lingers on the lap of spring," in good earnest. Notwithstanding the rapid vicissitudes of weather, from pleasant to stormy days, from mild to cold, Boston is comparatively healthy. Diseases of the chest and throat are the most common here,—often rapid in a fatal termination. These classes of disease are incidental to a want of care. The momentary change from a warm to a cold atmosphere is a prolific source of sickness. The rooms of most of our dwellings are kept at a temperature of summer heat. A stricter attention to dress, and a uniform dryness of the feet, well guarded to meet the changes of the weather, would save large bills from the medical practitioner.

The proceedings of the State Legislature are becoming daily more interesting. As no new matters will now come before the House or Senate, it being agreed that none should be entertained from April 1st, instant,—the Orders of the day will be promptly disposed of. Some smart debates have occurred of late, particularly in the House, where there is an uncommon array of legislative talent. Among the able and ready speakers in the popular branch, are Messrs. Davis of Cambridge, Adams of Quincy, Thompson and Train of Boston, and many others. The naked question of politics has hardly been touched this Session. The great field of argument has been on the License question, the speciality of this Legislature—and there is no doubt that a well regulated License Law will be passed before the adjournment. A pleasant passage-at-arms occurred the other day between Mr. Dana, and Adams of Quincy, growing out of the consideration of a Bill lengthening the tenure for the election of Selectmen. Mr. Adams was found ready, and displayed his usual tact and ability in the debate.

Impeachment is still the prominent theme of conversation. The House articles presenting the whole issue have been acted upon on the part of the Managers, and if they cannot be sustained, the case must fall. It is generally admitted that by the evidence on the part of the prosecution, a strong case, as the lawyers say, is not made out. The grave charge of "high crimes," does not appear. The bias of politics has governed the whole proceedings, and the trial is strictly a political one. All indications show since the impeachment question has been pending, by the recent elections in various parts of the country, that the people do not believe in the doctrine of deposing the Chief Magistrate of the Nation for opinion's sake. They believe he has been well punished for mistakes he has made, (and all men are liable to mistakes) by the wholesale deprivation of political patronage, and no more. For the honor, peace and happiness of the Nation, the President should have been permitted to serve his term out. He has done nothing worthy of conviction and removal from office.

The great lights of humanity, which have illumined the minds of mankind, have burned dimly for a while! The uncertain winds of opposition, have caused them to be temporarily lessened. Yet gradually, as the storm subsided, their brilliancy and magnificence became more and more apparent, penetrating and brightening the crevices of darkened intellects.

Such was the Spartan Lycurgus; such was Washington,—and naturally coming to a later period, and glancing over the globe, intelligence points to one of the greatest,—forecasting its light and radiance over the perplexing affairs of men in our very midst. Impartial history, will pronounce Charles Sumner, the great light which dispelled the gathering darkness, during his generation. When, in 1851, the bludgeon and bowie knife were brandished above his head, he did not vacillate his fortitude of justice. Scrupulous honesty, unalloyed devotion, indefatigable persistence and consummate ability, have enabled him to boldly advance, gradually from one position to another, until he has trampled upon opposition on every hand, and to-day holds the highest position in the Senate of his country, and looms from the heights of eminence as one of the greatest of earth. What a record is this,—with no black spots to tarnish his character. When he speaks, the nation listens, and as his words drop from his lips, the pen of the historian quickly records them and they become authority. Let not the lesson of this man's career,—not finished, growing brighter and brighter,—be forgotten.

Republicans, who by their weak-kneed neutrality, are giving aid to the enemies of the party, are making themselves simply ridiculous. For a few votes, they will sacrifice their political honor and principles, and become tools of demagogism and ignorance.

Let the Republicans mass their forces. It is impossible for any decent man to stand aloof when the hour demands his co-operation. Those who voluntarily take side with any body of men opposed to the party, allured on by the political Sirens, who desire control of affairs, will find, when too late, that their political career has swerved from the smooth channel, and is drifting toward the whirlpool of Charybdis or the rocks of Scylla.

Great questions are to be decided in this great struggle which is going on. Even those who labor against the Republican party, allow that the vast and momentous matters of State, which they are to adjust, are enough to puzzle the minds of the greatest of earth. And let me quote from one of our citizens, John Q. Adams, Esq., in his recent speech in New Hampshire.

"And do not think that I fail to recognize the difficulty of the task before the Republican party. It was upon the whole the most puzzling if not the most impossible problem ever submitted to any body of statesmen. History, so far as my very limited survey extends, offers no parallel and imposes no precedent."

As true a declaration as ever was made by any man, and the frankness of the assertion is remarkable and reviving. Let every Republican take this matter into close consideration and defeat will not visit the party.

*—E. E. W.

YE CANNOT SERVE TWO MASTERS.

[CONCLUDED FROM LAST WEEK.]

Now, a man cannot aid directly or indirectly, Andrew Johnson and his followers in their desperate usurpations, and still be consistent with the principles of the Republican party. This is a matter which presents itself to the minds of every citizen with peculiar force. Can any Republican act with a party which is diametrically opposed to the Republican party and claim consistency? The government is passing through an ordeal such as has never been witnessed in our history. Shall we encourage and sustain Congress by our action, and therefore discount the plans of those who favored rebellion North and South? or shall we give aid and comfort to every enemy of free government? The time has arrived when it becomes necessary to know where we stand. We are upon the eve of a great and bitter political campaign. Every citizen must necessarily take a decided stand. Any person at all identified with either party who remains neutral, or in plain Anglo Saxon language, "rides two horses," will receive the derision of his friends and the contempt of his enemies. Boldly assuming and advocating a dogma, whilst acting with the majority or minority, if attended with any noticeable ability, always commands the warm admiration of co-workers, and the highest respect and consideration from opponents, who have the first rudiments of education and enlightenment. Audaces fortuna juvat.

Honesty, persistency, consistency and ability, will in the long pull gain a triumphant ascendancy.

The great lights of humanity, which have illumined the minds of mankind, have burned dimly for a while! The uncertain winds of opposition, have caused them to be temporarily lessened. Yet gradually, as the storm subsided, their brilliancy and magnificence became more and more apparent, penetrating and brightening the crevices of darkened intellects.

Such was the Spartan Lycurgus; such was Washington,—and naturally coming to a later period, and glancing over the globe, intelligence points to one of the greatest,—forecasting its light and radiance over the perplexing affairs of men in our very midst. Impartial history, will pronounce Charles Sumner, the great light which dispelled the gathering darkness, during his generation. When, in 1851, the bludgeon and bowie knife were brandished above his head, he did not vacillate his fortitude of justice. Scrupulous honesty, unalloyed devotion, indefatigable persistence and consummate ability, have enabled him to boldly advance, gradually from one position to another, until he has trampled upon opposition on every hand, and to-day holds the highest position in the Senate of his country, and looms from the heights of eminence as one of the greatest of earth. What a record is this,—with no black spots to tarnish his character. When he speaks, the nation listens, and as his words drop from his lips, the pen of the historian quickly records them and they become authority. Let not the lesson of this man's career,—not finished, growing brighter and brighter,—be forgotten.

Republicans, who by their weak-kneed neutrality, are giving aid to the enemies of the party, are making themselves simply ridiculous. For a few votes, they will sacrifice their political honor and principles, and become tools of demagogism and ignorance.

Let the Republicans mass their forces. It is impossible for any decent man to stand aloof when the hour demands his co-operation. Those who voluntarily take side with any body of men opposed to the party, allured on by the political Sirens, who desire control of affairs, will find, when too late, that their political career has swerved from the smooth channel, and is drifting toward the whirlpool of Charybdis or the rocks of Scylla.

Great questions are to be decided in this great struggle which is going on. Even those who labor against the Republican party, allow that the vast and momentous matters of State, which they are to adjust, are enough to puzzle the minds of the greatest of earth. And let me quote from one of our citizens, John Q. Adams, Esq., in his recent speech in New Hampshire.

"And do not think that I fail to recognize the difficulty of the task before the Republican party. It was upon the whole the most puzzling if not the most impossible problem ever submitted to any body of statesmen. History, so far as my very limited survey extends, offers no parallel and imposes no precedent."

As true a declaration as ever was made by any man, and the frankness of the assertion is remarkable and reviving. Let every Republican take this matter into close consideration and defeat will not visit the party.

*—E. E. W.

YE CANNOT SERVE TWO MASTERS.

[CONCLUDED FROM LAST WEEK.]

Now, a man cannot aid directly or indirectly, Andrew Johnson and his followers in their desperate usurpations, and still be consistent with the principles of the Republican party. This is a matter which presents itself to the minds of every citizen with peculiar force. Can any Republican act with a party which is diametrically opposed to the Republican party and claim consistency? The government is passing through an ordeal such as has never been witnessed in our history. Shall we encourage and sustain Congress by our action, and therefore discount the plans of those who favored rebellion North and South? or shall we give aid and comfort to every enemy of free government? The time has arrived when it becomes necessary to know where we stand. We are upon the eve of a great and bitter political campaign. Every citizen must necessarily take a decided stand. Any person at all identified with either party who remains neutral, or in plain Anglo Saxon language, "rides two horses," will receive the derision of his friends and the contempt of his enemies. Boldly assuming and advocating a dogma, whilst acting with the majority or minority, if attended with any noticeable ability, always commands the warm admiration of co-workers, and the highest respect and consideration from opponents, who have the first rudiments of education and enlightenment. Audaces fortuna juvat.

Honesty, persistency, consistency and ability, will in the long pull gain a triumphant ascendancy.

The great lights of humanity, which have illumined the minds of mankind, have burned dimly for a while! The uncertain winds of opposition, have caused them to be temporarily lessened. Yet gradually, as the storm subsided, their brilliancy and magnificence became more and more apparent, penetrating and brightening the crevices of darkened intellects.

Such was the Spartan Lycurgus; such was Washington,—and naturally coming to a later period, and glancing over the globe, intelligence points to one of the greatest,—forecasting its light and radiance over the perplexing affairs of men in our very midst. Impartial history, will pronounce Charles Sumner, the great light which dispelled the gathering darkness, during his generation. When, in 1851, the bludgeon and bowie knife were brandished above his head, he did not vacillate his fortitude of justice. Scrupulous honesty, unalloyed devotion, indefatigable persistence and consummate ability, have enabled him to boldly advance, gradually from one position to another, until he has trampled upon opposition on every hand, and to-day holds the highest position in the Senate of his country, and looms from the heights of eminence as one of the greatest of earth. What a record is this,—with no black spots to tarnish his character. When he speaks, the nation listens, and as his words drop from his lips, the pen of the historian quickly records them and they become authority. Let not the lesson of this man's career,—not finished, growing brighter and brighter,—be forgotten.

Republicans, who by their weak-kneed neutrality, are giving aid to the enemies of the party, are making themselves simply ridiculous. For a few votes, they will sacrifice their political honor and principles, and become tools of demagogism and ignorance.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

BOSTON, APRIL 8, 1868.

Local Items.—The State Legislature.—Debate.—Impeachment of President Johnson.—A Strong Case evidently not made out against him.—Popular Sentiment on the Subject.

Notwithstanding the dulness of trade, the stranger here would hardly notice anything on the streets to denote stagnation of business. The times are blue with many; but better days are coming.—"Winter lingers on the lap of spring," in good earnest. Notwithstanding the rapid vicissitudes of weather, from pleasant to stormy days, from mild to cold, Boston is comparatively healthy. Diseases of the chest and throat are the most common here,—often rapid in a fatal termination. These classes of disease are incidental to a want of care. The momentary change from a warm to a cold atmosphere is a prolific source of sickness. The rooms of most of our dwellings are kept at a temperature of summer heat. A stricter attention to dress, and a uniform dryness of the feet, well guarded to meet the changes of the weather, would save large bills from the medical practitioner.

The proceedings of the State Legislature are becoming daily more interesting. As no new matters will now come before the House or Senate, it being agreed that none should be entertained from April 1st, instant,—the Orders of the day will be promptly disposed of. Some smart debates have occurred of late, particularly in the House, where there is an uncommon array of legislative talent. Among the able and ready speakers in the popular branch, are Messrs. Davis of Cambridge, Adams of Quincy, Thompson and Train of Boston, and many others. The naked question of politics has hardly been touched this Session. The great field of argument has been on the License question, the speciality of this Legislature—and there is no doubt that a well regulated License Law will be passed before the adjournment. A pleasant passage-at-arms occurred the other day between Mr. Dana, and Adams of Quincy, growing out of the consideration of a Bill lengthening the tenure for the election of Selectmen. Mr. Adams was found ready, and displayed his usual tact and ability in the debate.

Impeachment is still the prominent theme of conversation. The House articles presenting the whole issue have been acted upon on the part of the Managers, and if they cannot be sustained, the case must fall. It is generally admitted that by the evidence on the part of the prosecution, a strong case, as the lawyers say, is not made out. The grave charge of "high crimes," does not appear. The bias of politics has governed the whole proceedings, and the trial is strictly a political one. All indications show since the impeachment question has been pending, by the recent elections in various parts of the country, that the people do not believe in the doctrine of deposing the Chief Magistrate of the Nation for opinion's sake. They believe he has been well punished for mistakes he has made, (and all men are liable to mistakes) by the wholesale deprivation of political patronage, and no more. For the honor, peace and happiness of the Nation, the President should have been permitted to serve his term out. He has done nothing worthy of conviction and removal from office.

The great lights of humanity, which have illumined the minds of mankind, have burned dimly for a while! The uncertain winds of opposition, have caused them to be temporarily lessened. Yet gradually, as the storm subsided, their brilliancy and magnificence became more and more apparent, penetrating and brightening the crevices of darkened intellects.

Such was the Spartan Lycurgus; such was Washington,—and naturally coming to a later period, and glancing over the globe, intelligence points to one of the greatest,—forecasting its light and radiance over the perplexing affairs of men in our very midst. Impartial history, will pronounce Charles Sumner, the great light which dispelled the gathering darkness, during his generation. When, in 1851, the bludgeon and bowie knife were brandished above his head, he did not vacillate his fortitude of justice. Scrupulous honesty, unalloyed devotion, indefatigable persistence and consummate ability, have enabled him to boldly advance, gradually from one position to another, until he has trampled upon opposition on every hand, and to-day holds the highest position in the Senate of his country, and looms from the heights of eminence as one of the greatest of earth. What a record is this,—with no black spots to tarnish his character. When he speaks, the nation listens, and as his words drop from his lips, the pen of the historian quickly records them and they become authority. Let not the lesson of this man's career,—not finished, growing brighter and brighter,—be forgotten.

Republicans, who by their weak-kneed neutrality, are giving aid to the enemies of the party, are making themselves simply ridiculous. For a few votes, they will sacrifice their political honor and principles, and become tools of demagogism and ignorance.

Let the Republicans mass their forces. It is impossible for any decent man to stand aloof when the hour demands his co-operation. Those who voluntarily take side with any body of men opposed to the party, allured on by the political Sirens, who desire control of affairs, will find, when too late, that their political career has swerved from the smooth channel, and is drifting toward the whirlpool of Charybdis or the rocks of Scylla.

Great questions are to be decided in this great struggle which is going on. Even those who labor against the Republican party, allow that the vast and momentous matters of State, which they are to adjust, are enough to puzzle the minds of the greatest of earth. And let me quote from one of our citizens, John Q. Adams, Esq., in his recent speech in New Hampshire.

"And do not think that I fail to recognize the difficulty of the task before the Republican party. It was upon the whole the most puzzling if not the most impossible problem ever submitted to any body of statesmen. History, so far as my very limited survey extends, offers no parallel and imposes no precedent."

As true a declaration as ever was made by any man, and the frankness of the assertion is remarkable and reviving. Let every Republican take this matter into close consideration and defeat will not visit the party.

*—E. E. W.

YE CANNOT SERVE TWO MASTERS.

[CONCLUDED FROM LAST WEEK.]

Now, a man cannot aid directly or indirectly, Andrew Johnson and his followers in their desperate usurpations, and still be consistent with the principles of the Republican party. This is a matter which presents itself to the minds of every citizen with peculiar force. Can any Republican act with a party which is diametrically opposed to the Republican party and claim consistency? The government is passing through an ordeal such as has never been witnessed in our history. Shall we encourage and sustain Congress by our action, and therefore discount the plans of those who favored rebellion North and South? or shall we give aid and comfort to every enemy of free government? The time has arrived when it becomes necessary to know where we stand. We are upon the eve of a great and bitter political campaign. Every citizen must necessarily take a decided stand. Any person at all identified with either party who remains neutral, or in plain Anglo Saxon language, "rides two horses," will receive the derision of his friends and the contempt of his enemies. Boldly assuming and advocating a dogma, whilst acting with the majority or minority, if attended with any noticeable ability, always commands the warm admiration of co-workers, and the highest respect and consideration from opponents, who have the first rudiments of education and enlightenment. Audaces fortuna juvat.

Honesty, persistency, consistency and ability, will in the long pull gain a triumphant ascendancy.

The great lights of humanity, which have illumined the minds of mankind, have burned dimly for a while! The uncertain winds of opposition, have caused them to be temporarily lessened. Yet gradually, as the storm subsided, their brilliancy and magnificence became more and more apparent, penetrating and brightening the crevices of darkened intellects.

Such was the Spartan Lycurgus; such was Washington,—and naturally coming to a later period, and glancing over the globe, intelligence points to one of the greatest,—forecasting its light and radiance over the perplexing affairs of men in our very midst. Impartial history, will pronounce Charles Sumner, the great light which dispelled the gathering darkness, during his generation. When, in 1851, the bludgeon and bowie knife were brandished above his head, he did not vacillate his fortitude of justice. Scrupulous honesty, unalloyed devotion, indefatigable persistence and consummate ability, have enabled him to boldly advance, gradually from one position to another, until he has trampled upon opposition on every hand, and to-day holds the highest position in the Senate of his country, and looms from the heights of eminence as one of the greatest of earth. What a record is this,—with no black spots to tarnish his character. When he speaks, the nation listens, and as his words drop from his lips, the pen of the historian quickly records them and they become authority. Let not the lesson of this man's career,—not finished, growing brighter and brighter,—be forgotten.

Republicans, who by their weak-kneed neutrality, are giving aid to the enemies of the party, are making themselves simply ridiculous. For a few votes, they will sacrifice their political honor and principles, and become tools of demagogism and ignorance.

Let the Republicans mass their forces. It is impossible for any decent man to stand aloof when the hour demands his co-operation. Those who voluntarily take side with any body of men opposed to the party, allured on by the political Sirens, who desire control of affairs, will find, when too late, that their political career has swerved from the smooth channel, and is drifting toward the whirlpool of Charybdis or the rocks of Scylla.

Great questions are to be decided in this great struggle which is going on. Even those who labor against the Republican party, allow that the vast and momentous matters of State, which they are to adjust, are enough to puzzle the minds of the greatest of earth. And let me quote from one of our citizens, John Q. Adams, Esq., in his recent speech in New Hampshire.

"And do not think that I fail to recognize the difficulty of the task before the Republican party. It was upon the whole the most puzzling if not the most impossible problem ever submitted to any body of statesmen. History, so far as my very limited survey extends, offers no parallel and imposes no precedent."

As true a declaration as ever was made by any man, and the frankness of the assertion is remarkable and reviving. Let every Republican take this matter into close consideration and defeat will not visit the party.

*—E. E. W.

YE CANNOT SERVE TWO MASTERS.

[CONCLUDED FROM LAST WEEK.]

Now, a man cannot aid directly or indirectly, Andrew Johnson and his followers in their desperate usurpations, and still be consistent with the principles of the Republican party. This is a matter which presents itself to the minds of every citizen with peculiar force. Can any Republican act with a party which is diametrically opposed to the Republican party and claim consistency? The government is passing through an ordeal such as has never been witnessed in our history. Shall we encourage and sustain Congress by our action, and therefore discount the plans of those who favored rebellion North and South? or shall we give aid and comfort to every enemy of free government? The time has arrived when it becomes necessary to know where we stand. We are upon the eve of a great and bitter political campaign. Every citizen must necessarily take a decided stand. Any person at all identified with either party who remains neutral, or in plain Anglo Saxon language, "rides two horses," will receive the derision of his friends and the contempt of his enemies. Boldly assuming and advocating a dogma, whilst acting with the majority or minority, if attended with any noticeable ability, always commands the warm admiration of co-workers, and the highest respect and consideration from opponents, who have the first rudiments of education and enlightenment. Audaces fortuna juvat.

Honesty, persistency, consistency and ability, will in the long pull gain a triumphant ascendancy.

The great lights of humanity, which have illumined the minds of mankind, have burned dimly for a while! The uncertain winds of opposition, have caused them to be temporarily lessened. Yet gradually, as the storm subsided, their brilliancy and magnificence became more and more apparent, penetrating and brightening the crevices of darkened intellects.

Such was the Spartan Lycurgus; such was Washington,—and naturally coming to a later period, and glancing over the globe, intelligence points to one of the greatest,—forecasting its light and radiance over the perplexing affairs of men in our very midst. Impartial history, will pronounce Charles Sumner, the great light which dispelled the gathering darkness, during his generation. When, in 1851, the bludgeon and bowie knife were brandished above his head, he did not vacillate his fortitude of justice. Scrupulous honesty, unalloyed devotion, indefatigable persistence and consummate ability, have enabled him to boldly advance, gradually from one position to another, until he has trampled upon opposition on every hand, and to-day holds the highest position in the Senate of his country, and looms from the heights of eminence as one of the greatest of earth. What a record is this,—with no black spots to tarnish his character. When he speaks, the nation listens, and as his words drop from his lips, the pen of the historian quickly records them and they become authority. Let not the lesson of this man's career,—not finished, growing brighter and brighter,—be forgotten.

Republicans, who by their weak-kneed neutrality, are giving aid to the enemies of the party, are making themselves simply ridiculous. For a few votes, they will sacrifice their political honor and principles, and become tools of demagogism and ignorance.

SPIRITED VOTER.

On the day of the recent election in New Hampshire, a mechanic at work in Lynn, but a voter in the Granite State, took the cars for Union Village, some seventy or eighty miles from Lynn, then walked twenty-one miles to the place where he was to vote, cast his vote for the Republican candidates, and then returned to Union Village in season to take the cars for Lynn, where he arrived the same night, well satisfied with his day's work.

Snow! The air appears to be full of it. It is said, that thirteen and a half feet on an

Selected Poetry.

A NON-UPRIGHT JUDGE.

An idle lad, who lacked employ,
Was full of woe and sigh,
And pining for another boy,
At playing stones and sticks,
Judge R., by age a little bent,
Held by, and felt some dread;
For one large brickbat scarcely went
An inch above his head.

"You hear me lad, I hope no grudge,
My blood you might have spilled;
Were I (and he) an upright judge,
I surely had been killed."

Farmers' Department.

LINE AROUND APPLE TREES.

We have known farmers to make it a regular practice, for a succession of years, to throw caustic lime around their apple trees in the spring and summer. We once noticed that a tree had, all at once, put forth with renewed energy, and we were at a loss for some time to define the cause. On examination, we found that a quantity of lime, which had accidentally been spilled and rendered worthless by becoming mixed with the refuse on the stable floor, had been thrown at the foot and around the tree, and to this, as the principal cause, we immediately accredited the reviviscence and renewed fructification of the tree.

Taking the hint from the accident, we purchased twelve casks of lime and applied half a bushel to each of the trees in our orchard, and found that it produced immediately beneficial effects. Not the health of the trees only, but the quality of the fruit also was greatly improved. This application will be especially beneficial in soils where there is a redundancy of vegetable matter. We would advise our farmers, in some places, especially in new forest lands, to make the experiment, and see if it is not deserving of the high recommendation it secures.—Correspondence New England Farmer.

HOW TO GROW POTATOES EARLY.

Prepare a set of shallow boxes, 24 to 3 inches deep; select for seed all that have good strong eyes at the blossom or seed end, and cut off each eye with a bit of the potato attached. The blossom eyes are No. 1, the middle eyes No. 2, the base eyes No. 3, which are to be kept separate. No. 1, will start and ripen first. Cover the bottom of the box with compost or sand, set the eyes so that they will touch each other, then fill with soil or compost. If common soil is used, the acts will be apt to stick together and make a hard mass, while with sand they will easily separate. Keep in a warm place and wet with warm water. From two to three weeks will bring them into a condition for planting, which, in this vicinity, should be about April 1st. A few days before planting water should be withheld for the purpose of easily separating the roots. Careful and repeated shaking is required to separate them. If any are set too forward at planting and there is danger of frost, they may be laid down and covered with earth. They are to set a foot apart. For early kinds the Goodrich is best; for late, the Harrison.—Exchange.

MANURE FOR POTATOES. I will give you a receipt for raising potatoes, that is worth the price of your paper for one year to any farmer that is short of manure. It is as good as the best superphosphate of lime, and it will not cost half as much. I have tried it two years, and I am satisfied that it is good on dry land. Take one cask of lime and slack it with water, and then stir in one bushel of fine salt, and then mix in loam, enough so that it will not become mortar; it will make about five barrels. Put in half a pint in a hill, at planting.—Mess. Farmer.

PRUNING GRAFTED TREES. Trees which were freely grafted last spring, and on which the grafts have taken well, may be safely pruned this spring of all the natural branches. In cases where the strength of roots would be likely to produce a growth of the graft too luxuriant to withstand the effect of the climate, some other limbs should be left.

GRAFTING WAX. One pound of resin, eight ounces of beeswax, two of tallow, slowly melted over a fire, with a little lard oil stirred in, make a good grafting wax. Pour it into a pail of cold water and work with the hands. More tallow will make it softer, and resin harder.

Anecdotes.

A little girl, just past her fifth year, while chattering about the beaux that visited two of the sex in the same house, of more mature age, being asked: "What do you mean by beaux, Annie?" replied: "Why, I mean men that have not got much sense."

A raw Irishman, just over, went into a restaurant, and was asked by the waiter what he would have?

"Why, something to ate, aw coorse," was the reply. A plate of hash was placed before him.

"Foc's that?" demanded he.

"That's wittles," was the answer. He eyed the compound suspiciously for some time, and finally exclaimed:

"Be jabbers, the man that chaw'd that can ate it!"

Little Susie, poring over a book in which angels were represented as winged beings, suddenly exclaimed and with vehemence:

"Mamma, I don't want to be an angel and I needn't need it!"

"Why, Susie?" questioned her mother.

"Humph! leave of all my pretty clothes, and wear foldiers like a hen!"

CHEAP CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.

Ayers' Hair Vigor 89 cts.

AYERS' PILLS, 20 CTS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.

Brown's Troches, 25 cts.

BURNETT'S COCAINE 89 CTS.

Hoops Skirts 87 cts.

Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY

STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.

DRESS GOODS,

WORKING PANTS CHEAP.

PANT CLOTHS.

German and American Corsets.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 22 cts.

FIGS & ORANGES.

Hair Braids, 85 cts.

BEADS, BEADS

Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM

MADE

Pants and Vests

VERY LOW.

HATS & CAPS

Perforated Card Board,

Gilt Paper,

Drawing Paper,

Blotting Paper,

Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES

BELOW COST

to close out.

J. A. McLELLAN,

NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.

Quincy, Feb. 22. if

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"

almost questioned when we see

LORING'S PATENT

IRON WATERSTOP

THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.

BAILEY & BAXTER,

SCHOOL STREET,

Quincy, Jan. 11. if

FOR SALE!

A FULL Set of Carpenters' Tools, for Sale

Cheap. J. AREY, Jr.,

Quincy, Feb. 8. if

THE STAR BURNER

A new patent Kerosene Burner,—superior to the Sun Burner—For Sale by the Subscribers.

ALSO—

The American Foot Stove!

An excellent article for the parlor or sitting room. Very comfortable and durable; free from all danger of fire, therefore a valuable article to take when you wish to enjoy a sleigh-ride.

Call and examine.

C. F. & J. W. PIERCE.

Quincy, Dec. 14. if

Dr. Jackson's Catarrh Suffer.

A POSITIVE and pleasant remedy, for all Disorders of the Head, Throat, Breast and Vocal Organs, and of Taste, Smell, &c. For Sale by

J. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square.

Quincy, Nov. 28.

GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Agents for

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,

No. 4 HAYWARD PLACE,

4th door from Washington street at No. 346.

GIVES special attention to Epilepsy; to all Nervous Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.

His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office or, will be sent by mail for the following prices:—

"Epilepsy," 50 cents.

"Inhalation," 25 cents.

"Physiology and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.

"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.

"Clerical Health," 40 cents.

"The Boston," 60 cents.

Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says,—"The Boston" is adapted to great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm. H. Allen, M. D., late president of Girard College, says,—"By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."

Rev. Dr. Edly says,—"It should be read by all our young men."

Aug. 17 if

Notice.

THE Selection will meet in their Office, in the Town House every SATURDAY, from 2 to 5 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of Quincy,
JACOB F. EATON, } March 14.

NOTICE.

THE Selection will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each month, from 8 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1867.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, } Selectmen
E. W. UNDERWOOD, } of Quincy,
JACOB F. EATON, } March 14.

PHILBRICK'S

Fire Kindlings!

The Best Article in Use!!

A BOX contains 144 Squares—One Square will kindle a wood or charcoal fire, burning from 8 to 10 minutes, being the cheapest and best article ever used for kindling fires.

Discontinue—Light one of the small Squares, lay it on the grate of the stove, then put on your wood, and you will have a sure fire without further trouble.

Only 25 cents per Box.

For Sale by JAMES PARKER,

First door South of the Orthodox Church.

Quincy, Feb. 29. if

Bread, Crackers, &c.

WASHBURN & GROVER of North Bridge-

place, every

Tuesday and Saturday,

and will supply all who desire, with Bread of all kinds, Crackers, Fancy Cakes, &c.

Wedding Cakes, &c., supplied at short notice.

Orders left at the Patriot Office, will receive prompt attention from Mr. PARKER, the driver.

Quincy, Dec. 7. if

FISHER'S PREMIUM

CURTAIN FIXTURES.

THESE Fixtures have been exhibited in three Fairs in competition with several rivals, and took the highest premium in each, and the only medal awarded on Fixtures at the "Centennial" Fair in Boston in 1860. They are warranted to give satisfaction, and if properly put up they will run a lifetime without getting out of order. All who contemplate purchasing please examine these before purchasing. For Sale by

JOSEPH AREY, Jr.,

WASHINGTON ST., QUINCY.

Quincy, March 7. if

Restaurant, Billiard

BOWLING SALOON,

Goodnow's Building, Cor. Hancock and

Granite Streets.

THE Proprietor having made large additions to his stock and fixtures, is now provided with every facility for furnishing his patrons with the best market affords, his aim will be to keep a first class saloon.

Parties and families furnished with Oysters, Cooked and Raw, Pickled Clams, Lamb's Tongues, Pig's Feet, Clam and Oyster Chowders, Oyster and other Cakes, Pies, &c., &c.

Fruits of all kinds in their respective seasons.

Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, Nuts and all other kinds of Refreshments of the best quality.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

OTIS ROGERS, Proprietor.

Quincy, Jan. 27—if

Gents Nice Black Hats,

For $1.00 each, at

C. T. REED'S.

Quincy, Feb. 1. if

Great Bargains!

For a short time, at

C. T. REED'S.

Quincy, Feb. 1. if

GOOD NEWS

FOR 1868.

D. B. STETSON

has just received another large lot of

BOOTS AND SHOES,

SUCH AS

Men's Thick Boots, at $2.50 to $3.00

Men's Rubber Overs, .75

Women's Rubber Overs, .50

Women's Cloth Boots, .50 to 1.50

Also, another case of Men's Arctic

Gaiters, of the best quality.

Having a large trade I can sell goods cheaper than can be purchased elsewhere.

D. B. STETSON,

Washington St., near Dr. Woodward's.

Quincy, Jan. 4. if

WARRANTED

BOOTS & SHOES,

For sale at low prices,

By E. CLAPP.

Quincy, Mar 3

BOOTS & SHOES

Repaired in the Neatest Manner.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy generally, that he has taken the Boot Shop over-

EMERSON'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

where he is prepared to Make and Repair in the best manner, Ladies', Gents' and Children's Boots and Shoes at short notice.

JOHN WILLIAMS,

Quincy, Feb. 1. if

$1 PER BOTTLE, 6 BOTTLES FOR $5.

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

Food for Infants

AND INVALIDS.

CONDENSED MILK, recommended by the best Physicians for weakly children.

Barnes' Lactogenic Food.

Robinson's pure Scotch (Natural), Grains and Barley.

For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN,

Washington Square.

Quincy, Aug. 10. if

J. W. LOMBARD,
90 & 92 HANCOCK ST.

DEALER IN

CUSTOM

—AND—

Ready Made

CLOTHING,

HATS,

CAPS,

GENTS'

FURNISHING

GOODS,

STATIONERY, &c.

Quincy, Jan. 18. if

RICHARD HAILS,

Merchant Tailor!

BEGS Leave to inform the Citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has taken the store, at the corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.,

and has a large assortment of choice Woolen Goods, which he will be pleased to make to measure, in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,

and warranted satisfactory. Goods sold by the yard, and garments cut and trimmed.

All Goods warranted as represented.

Quincy, April 28. if

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

Merchant Tailor & Dealer

IN

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS

AND VESTINGS,

School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

HAS on hand and is constantly receiving from the best sources, New and Desirable Goods adapted to his trade. All who wish first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price, are respectfully invited to call.

N. B. It would be well to remember, that Cheapsness and Cheapness are relative attributes; they have a relation to the QUALITY of the article we buy, and that, which does not answer will be the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR at any price.

Quincy, March 30

THE YOUNG MAN'S FRIEND,

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

C. N. DITSON

WOULD announce to his friends and former patrons, that he will continue to keep constantly on hand, at the Old Stand, A LARGE AND CHOICE VARIETY

OF

Family Groceries,

Glass and Crockery

WARE.

STONE AND WOODEN WARE,

which he offers to the citizens of Quincy, at The Lowest Cash Prices!

CHAS. N. DITSON,

Two Doors North of the Post Office,

Quincy, Nov. 4

TAP SOLE BOOTS,

CHEAP.

Men's Tap Sole, Opera Boots, a prime article, only $4.00

Men's Tap Sole Calf Boots only $3.00

per pair. To be had of

C. T. REED.

Quincy, Jan. 4. if

Parlor Cue Alley.

TO LET. A Parlor Cue Alley, nearly new, in perfect order, by

JOSEPH AREY, Jr.,

Quincy, Feb. 22. if

Stationery, Cheap,

At McLELLAN'S.

Also, Bibles and Books.

DISEASES OF THE SKIN—I HAVE made these a specialty for the last twenty years, and during this time have cured all the following cases, Eczema, Scalded, Suppurated Secretion, Malarial Secretion, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eczema, Inflamed Follicles, Itching, all kinds of sore heads, Black Worms, and white spots on the face, Wens, Warts, Freckles, Siner spots, and all kinds of excrescences and eruptions of the skin.

W. M. CORNELL, M. D.,

4 Hayward Place, Boston.

Franklin Coal at $9.00.

Send in Your Orders.

THE Subscribers are now ready to receive orders for the Genuine Lykens Valley Franklin Coal. A limited number of tons will be sold for $9.00 per ton, Cash on Delivery. Also, the celebrated Burnside and Lorry Coal, Cumberland Coal, Hard and Soft Wood, Brick and Lumber of all descriptions.

E. ADAMS & SON.

Quincy, June 29. if

Genuine Lykens Valley

Franklin Red Ash Coal!

THE Undersigned having now on hand, the above Pure Franklin Red Ash Coal is prepared to furnish all orders at immediate notice, at the lowest cash prices.

OWEN ADAMS.

Post Office Box, No. 31.

BOSTON, July 1st, 1867.

Mr. Owen Adams having purchased, has now on hand, the Pure Genuine Franklin Coal, the undersigned recommends the same to the citizens of Quincy. No other coal than the above being the genuine article.

WALLACE MOODY, Agent for Summit Branch R. R. and Short Mountain Coal Co.

Quincy, July 6. if

A GENUINE FLUID EXTRACT

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

For Sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN, Quincy.

LIVERY STABLE.

REMOVED.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that owing to the recent fire he has removed for a short time, his Livery Stable, &c., to the stable next to Mr. Clapp's store, on where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages at short notice.

HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY,

He would also take this opportunity to thank the public for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.

Quincy, Sept. 14. if

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty CENTS per annum in advance, and if delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS will be required.
GEO. W. PRESBOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

POST OFFICE.
Mails open 8 30 A. M., and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M. and 5 15 P. M.
Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
45 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.
GEORGE L. GILL,
AGENT FOR Fire and Life
INSURANCE!
Applications solicited.
Quincy, Nov. 16.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY,
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 1/2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14.
EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing,
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.
JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.
B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER.
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.
JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

A Good Assortment
Kept Constantly on hand
YOU will constantly find at the Citizen's Market all kinds of Meat of the best quality, at the lowest Cash Prices.
Also, all kinds of Fresh and Smoked Fish, Turnips, Beets, Squashes, Beans of all kinds; Eastern and Sweet Potatoes, Cucumbers, Pickles, Sweet Apples for preserves; Peas, Potatoes, Nuts, Citron, Jellies, Bottle Pickles of all kinds; Lemons, Figs, &c.
Also, the very best of White Wine Vinegar. We shall give particular attention to BUTTER, and shall keep the Best market affords.
All orders promptly attended to.
DAMON & ALLEN.
Quincy, Sept. 25.
LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Oxfords and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to Measure.
No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6.
FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.
TO THE PUBLIC.
THE Subscriber is prepared to carry parties to the beach, or on other excursions. Careful attention will also be given to MOVING FURNITURE, &c., at short notice.
All orders for JOBBER will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, June 15.
NOTICE.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons, that he has fitted up a shop in the rear of his residence—entrance on the North side—where he is prepared to make and repair Boots and Shoes, at short notice, and would be pleased to see all of his old friends and customers as usual.
JOHN A. NEWCOMB.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE,
Quincy, March 16.
WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE,
Quincy, March 16.
WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE,
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE,
Quincy, March 16.
WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE,
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE,
Quincy, March 16.
WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE,
Quincy, March 16.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, APRIL 18, 1868.

NUMBER 16.

INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE! FIRE!
National Insurance
COMPANY.
Capital, - - $300,000 00.
$30,000 can be taken in one risk and smaller amounts on Buildings, Stocks of Goods, Furniture &c., &c.
A. H. BEAN, President.
G. W. KUN, Sec'y.
THE ABOVE
FIRST CLASS COMPANY
AND THE ROGER WILLIAMS
INS. CO.,
CAPITAL, $100,000.
A. A. WILLIAMS, President.
G. W. DAVENPORT, Sec'y.
Both combined enables me to insure on
ONE RISK
$40,000,
Being a larger amount than any office in Norfolk County can insure for on one risk.

TREES.
Wollaston Nursery
The Subscriber has for Sale
On reasonable Terms, At his Nursery,
ON WOLLASTON AVENUE,
A large variety of Hardy and
Ornamental Trees & Shrubs
Both Native and European, among which are
DECIDUOUS TREES:
American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elm; Norway, Sycamore, Rock Ash, Laurel and Scarlet Maple; Mahonia; Box-leaved Evergreen and Common Privet; Rhododendron; Laurel; Spinas; Syringas; &c.
EVERGREENS:
Norway, Black and Hemlock Spruce; Scotch, Austrian, Mugho, Cypress, and Corsican Pines; Arbor Vitae, &c.
FLOWERING SHRUBS:
Althaea; Wigglesia; Forsythia; &c. Scarlet Dogwood; Mahonia; Box-leaved Evergreen and Common Privet; Rhododendron; Laurel; Spinas; Syringas; &c.
Also, a good assortment of
Fruit Trees, and Small Fruit, viz:
Pear—20 Varieties—Apples—10 do.—Peaches of the best sorts—Plums and Cherries—Raspberries—Vaccines and Cherry Currants—Triumph of Land Strawberry Plants—Gonard, Hartford, Trollope, &c. Roger's Hybrid, Iowa, Isabella, &c. Grape Vines.
Amongst the Peaches are Cal's Early, and a limited supply of the Golden Pearl, a comparatively new variety, rarely growing more than five feet high, of beautiful foliage and form, hardy and prolific, fruit excellent.
Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently of small size, a good opportunity is afforded to those who wish to plant large numbers, to supply themselves at a moderate expense.
Persons wishing to plant ornamental or fruit trees are invited to call at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere. All orders given to Mr.

POETRY.
THE WIDOW'S BOUNTY.
To the Publisher of the Patriot:
WEYMOUTH, MARCH 30, 1868.
Seeing it stated in the Quincy Patriot, of March 28th, that the Finance Committee of the United States Senate had agreed to report a bill repealing the Act recently passed giving bounties to the Widows of deceased soldiers, on the ground that it will involve an expenditure which the government under the present reduction of Taxation cannot meet without depreciating its credit, I beg leave to remark as follows:—
Repeat that righteous law—Ignoble feat
The soldier's widow and his orphan's cheer;
To be parch'd lip present the brimming cup,
Then meekly dash, or meekly drink it up.
To stay the tax on the rich miser's hoard,
Rob the poor widow of her just award;
Say with bold front—a mean excuse—to say,
'Tis just the debt, how can you now refuse.
To pay the debt and thus your trust abuse.
Shuffle, and turn, and twist, 't' escape the fate,
That ever on unjust lips settles wait;
The Nation's heart such paltry acts will spurn,
And its contempt her shillies agents learn.
The debt was just, and by your Act you say,
Without just cause we gave you—gold away;
If just the debt, how can you now refuse,
To pay the debt and thus your trust abuse.
He who to meanness would commit the State,
Stamps his own character and marks his fate;
Repeat that righteous law if thus you dare,
While mock'd insult Justice cries beware.
Sure none but cowards by weak folly led,
Would bring such scandal on a Nation's head;
By such an act the Nation's scorn to bid,
By such an act the Nation's scorn to bid.
While the dead soldier cries from 'neath the sod,
Who wrongs our widows, break the widow's rod,
And dare the Justice of 't' avenging hand,
To bring chastisement on a faithless band.
F. M. ANDERSON.

MISCELLANY.
ALMOST A WRECK.
Captain Abel Withers was one of the best ship masters that had ever handled a quadrant,—a perfect sailor; thoroughly versed in navigation,—and possessing a very clear judgment. And he was one of the most humane commanders in our mercantile marine; treating his men like brothers, and ever mindful of their comfort and welfare. All this was Abel Withers; but sometimes he would put a thief into his mouth, to steal himself away. When overcome by liquor, he was totally another being,—reckless and cross, and wholly unmindful of his conduct or its consequences. The owners knew that he made a free use of liquor when on shore sometimes, but fancied that he kept perfectly straight when at sea. The fact was, neither his officers nor his men would expose him, for they loved him too well.
In 1843, Withers had command of the ship Waterspout. She was a noble craft, and had a noble crew. Several times during the outward course the skipper allowed himself to be overcome by his enemy. It seemed to be a sort of disease, sometimes taking an occasional glass of brandy and water, and others going a week without tasting it. If by chance he got enough on board to feel it, he was sure to get drunk; and then came a storm, for which he would subsequently atone by renewed kindness and regret.
The Waterspout was bound for Smyrna. At noon, on the twenty-third of September we were in latitude thirty-five degrees and fifty minutes North, and longitude twenty degrees and forty-nine minutes East; about two hundred miles from Milo. During that afternoon and the following night there was but little wind. The ship lay upon her course, and averaged about three knots. On the next morning the breeze freshened a bit and came out from the eastward, so we had to stand upon a taut bow line, and off the course at that. At noon the sun was so deeply beclouded, that no observation could be obtained, and the course was calculated from dead reckoning. Towards the middle of the afternoon the wind lulled a while and then came up from the westward. At the same time Captain Withers came on deck—drunk! His face was flushed, his eye wild and glaring, and his step unsteady. There was a peculiar compression of the nether lip that betokened the worst state of mind. As soon as he saw that the wind had changed, and that the ship had it almost dead aft, he ordered all sail to be made; studding sails on both sides and the sky-sails set. After this the log was thrown, and she ran off eleven knots.
"Glorious!" cried Withers. "We'll make up for lost time. We have made just twenty miles since yesterday at this time."
"We've made nearly eighty, sir," said the Mate.
"What! Do you dispute me, sir?" said the Captain, in a rage. "I tell you, we've run just twenty miles just twenty, sir! I've kept the reckoning, and I know. We'll have no mutiny here, if you please."
"But, Captain Withers, have you not made a mistake?"
"By the eternal heaven, sir, do you mean to question my authority? Touch a rope if you dare. 'Tis sail this ship, if you please!"
Such was Abel Withers, drunk.
The breeze continued fresh and steady, and all sail was kept on. At dark, Mr. Sargent, the mate, asked if he should shorten sail. The Captain swore like a madman. He seemed to fancy that his officers wished to assume command and put him out of the way. He said he'd shoot the first man who dared take in a rag of canvas.
But Withers was not satisfied with that. He went below and took another glass of brandy, and then putting on his pea-jacket he returned to the deck and ordered the mate to go below. Sargent obeyed at once, though he was determined not to go to sleep. At midnight the Captain became aware that the mate was being strained, and he ordered that the studding-sail be taken in, and the royals furl'd. The mate had taken the sky-sails off before dark. Yet the ship now ran off ten knots.
At two o'clock the second mate went to the wheel and whispered to the helmsman to lay the ship three points further South. He did so, and Withers noticed it at once.
"What's all this?" he cried with an oath. "Has the wind changed?"
He went to the binnacle, and saw the trouble at once. The second mate had hoped that he was too drunk to notice the change, but his wits were keen and quick in that direction. It is a peculiarity of drunkenness that the intoxicated man seems possessed of an intuitive perception of any effort to deceive him; and so was Withers in this case. He ordered the man at the wheel to be put in irons, and then ordered the second mate, Mr. Clingman, to be put in irons, and then he paced up and down the deck, raving and storming like a madman.
At four o'clock Mr. Sargent came up. He could stand it no longer.
"Captain Withers," he said firmly, but respectfully, "this ship must not stand on so another half hour. I assure you, upon my honor, that the Island of Milo is directly ahead, and not over fifteen miles distant at the farthest."

"Get out of this!" yelled the Captain.
"Go below, sir, at once. I am commander here, if you please."
"But, sir, I am in earn—"
"Out," interposed the madman, with an oath.
"Down below, you go at once! I have kept the reckoning, if you please, and we are a hundred miles from Milo!"
Sargent still urged the Captain to listen, but he could make no impression upon him. He quickly found that Withers was not only determined, but madly so, and that he would not hesitate to resort to violence if he were opposed further. This the Mate was anxious to avoid, for the ship was not only very powerful, but he pushed to physical violence there would be danger of a death. So Sargent went below, but he resolved that in one hour he would come up, and then, if nothing else could be done, the Captain should be secured by force or some stratagem, and kept bound until he got sober.
The hour passed away, and yet the ship stood on the old speed. Mr. Sargent came on deck and looked about him. The stars were obscured by a thick haze, but the wind kept up as fresh as ever. The Mate knew that land could not be far distant. He made his way forward, and he fancied he could hear the roar of breakers. It would be already daylight but for the thick atmosphere. With a quick step the officer walked aft, and asked the Captain if he would not change the course further to the southward.
"What!" cried Withers, starting back and clenching his fists, "you up here again? Now, said he, with an oath, 'I'll let you know!'"
At this moment the Captain's voice was drowned by a cry that came from the bows; quick as thought the Mate rushed forward, the mist had lifted—the first gleam of daylight was upon the water—and directly ahead, not more than three cables' length distant, loomed up a foam-dashed, towering form of jagged rocks. They looked like black monsters there with the sea lashing in fury against them.
"Breakers ahead!" shouted half a dozen voices in concert.
"Breakers! breakers! all hands!" cried Sargent, in a prompt, ringing tone, which sounded above the roll of the breakers. He had examined the lay of the rocks carefully, and he knew how to act, though hope hung on a thread. "For your lives, men," he shouted, springing toward the waist. "Cast off the starboard braces!—haul in on the larboard ones! Port the helm! steady—steady, hard aport! oh! for your lives! Meet her now! Right your helm!"
The men saw the danger, but the stern promptness of the Mate gave them strength, and they obeyed his orders quickly and with a will. As yards were braced up, and the helm cast aport, the ship felt it, and came nobly to the wind. Captain Withers had been paralyzed by the first cry of breakers, and his power seemed gone. He stood at the taffrail like one in a dream, trembling from head to foot, and watching the working of the men with man's eagerness. As the ship came up to the wind, her stern came towards the rocks, and the end of the sparker-boom actually hit a projecting point. There was a sudden shock—a bump—and the men were nearly thrown from their feet. The keel had hit a sunken rock! A groan escaped the Captain's lips, and he clung to the sail for support as the cold spray from the dead breakers came dashing over him.
A few minutes after this shock the men held their breaths, but the ordeal was soon passed. The ship stood freely on, and in a few moments more the danger was over. The breakers were astern, and we were leaving them in the distance with our saved lives and a whole ship.
Ere long the mist was gone, and the first beams of the sun showed us the bleak, wave-bashed coast of Milo under our lee. The Captain was sober now, and I saw a shudder pass through his frame as he stood and gazed upon the dim rocks in the distance.
At the breakfast table he said not a word. He could not eat and he seemed sick and faint. Towards noon he came on deck and ordered all his crew aft.
"My men," he said in a firm, feeling tone, "I have deeply wronged you all, and my officers more deeply still. But let the past be forgiven me. I ask you not to forget it, for in the memory of the terrible fate I came so near bringing upon you, shall my own safety be fixed. But forgive me, and as God is my Maker you shall never have occasion to blame me again."
The glad shout that went up from the deck assured the Captain that he had not lost a friend. They loved him better than ever from that day, and he never betrayed the new confidence they reposed in him. He cast the accused enemy from him, and never touched it more, for he knew too well that his fate depended in an entire shutting out the thief which had stolen the best part of him.

CONDITIONS.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary price, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.
Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized agents to receive advertisements for the Patriot.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., Boston.
S. R. NILES, Boston.
GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., New York.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., New York.
JOHN HOOPER & Co., New York.

INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE! FIRE!
National Insurance
COMPANY.
Capital, - - $300,000 00.
$30,000 can be taken in one risk and smaller amounts on Buildings, Stocks of Goods, Furniture &c., &c.
A. H. BEAN, President.
G. W. KUN, Sec'y.
THE ABOVE
FIRST CLASS COMPANY
AND THE ROGER WILLIAMS
INS. CO.,
CAPITAL, $100,000.
A. A. WILLIAMS, President.
G. W. DAVENPORT, Sec'y.
Both combined enables me to insure on
ONE RISK
$40,000,
Being a larger amount than any office in Norfolk County can insure for on one risk.

TREES.
Wollaston Nursery
The Subscriber has for Sale
On reasonable Terms, At his Nursery,
ON WOLLASTON AVENUE,
A large variety of Hardy and
Ornamental Trees & Shrubs
Both Native and European, among which are
DECIDUOUS TREES:
American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elm; Norway, Sycamore, Rock Ash, Laurel and Scarlet Maple; Mahonia; Box-leaved Evergreen and Common Privet; Rhododendron; Laurel; Spinas; Syringas; &c.
EVERGREENS:
Norway, Black and Hemlock Spruce; Scotch, Austrian, Mugho, Cypress, and Corsican Pines; Arbor Vitae, &c.
FLOWERING SHRUBS:
Althaea; Wigglesia; Forsythia; &c. Scarlet Dogwood; Mahonia; Box-leaved Evergreen and Common Privet; Rhododendron; Laurel; Spinas; Syringas; &c.
Also, a good assortment of
Fruit Trees, and Small Fruit, viz:
Pear—20 Varieties—Apples—10 do.—Peaches of the best sorts—Plums and Cherries—Raspberries—Vaccines and Cherry Currants—Triumph of Land Strawberry Plants—Gonard, Hartford, Trollope, &c. Roger's Hybrid, Iowa, Isabella, &c. Grape Vines.
Amongst the Peaches are Cal's Early, and a limited supply of the Golden Pearl, a comparatively new variety, rarely growing more than five feet high, of beautiful foliage and form, hardy and prolific, fruit excellent.
Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently of small size, a good opportunity is afforded to those who wish to plant large numbers, to supply themselves at a moderate expense.
Persons wishing to plant ornamental or fruit trees are invited to call at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere. All orders given to Mr.

POETRY.
THE WIDOW'S BOUNTY.
To the Publisher of the Patriot:
WEYMOUTH, MARCH 30, 1868.
Seeing it stated in the Quincy Patriot, of March 28th, that the Finance Committee of the United States Senate had agreed to report a bill repealing the Act recently passed giving bounties to the Widows of deceased soldiers, on the ground that it will involve an expenditure which the government under the present reduction of Taxation cannot meet without depreciating its credit, I beg leave to remark as follows:—
Repeat that righteous law—Ignoble feat
The soldier's widow and his orphan's cheer;
To be parch'd lip present the brimming cup,
Then meekly dash, or meekly drink it up.
To stay the tax on the rich miser's hoard,
Rob the poor widow of her just award;
Say with bold front—a mean excuse—to say,
'Tis just the debt, how can you now refuse.
To pay the debt and thus your trust abuse.
Shuffle, and turn, and twist, 't' escape the fate,
That ever on unjust lips settles wait;
The Nation's heart such paltry acts will spurn,
And its contempt her shillies agents learn.
The debt was just, and by your Act you say,
Without just cause we gave you—gold away;
If just the debt, how can you now refuse,
To pay the debt and thus your trust abuse.
He who to meanness would commit the State,
Stamps his own character and marks his fate;
Repeat that righteous law if thus you dare,
While mock'd insult Justice cries beware.
Sure none but cowards by weak folly led,
Would bring such scandal on a Nation's head;
By such an act the Nation's scorn to bid,
By such an act the Nation's scorn to bid.
While the dead soldier cries from 'neath the sod,
Who wrongs our widows, break the widow's rod,
And dare the Justice of 't' avenging hand,
To bring chastisement on a faithless band.
F. M. ANDERSON.

MISCELLANY.
ALMOST A WRECK.
Captain Abel Withers was one of the best ship masters that had ever handled a quadrant,—a perfect sailor; thoroughly versed in navigation,—and possessing a very clear judgment. And he was one of the most humane commanders in our mercantile marine; treating his men like brothers, and ever mindful of their comfort and welfare. All this was Abel Withers; but sometimes he would put a thief into his mouth, to steal himself away. When overcome by liquor, he was totally another being,—reckless and cross, and wholly unmindful of his conduct or its consequences. The owners knew that he made a free use of liquor when on shore sometimes, but fancied that he kept perfectly straight when at sea. The fact was, neither his officers nor his men would expose him, for they loved him too well.
In 1843, Withers had command of the ship Waterspout. She was a noble craft, and had a noble crew. Several times during the outward course the skipper allowed himself to be overcome by his enemy. It seemed to be a sort of disease, sometimes taking an occasional glass of brandy and water, and others going a week without tasting it. If by chance he got enough on board to feel it, he was sure to get drunk; and then came a storm, for which he would subsequently atone by renewed kindness and regret.
The Waterspout was bound for Smyrna. At noon, on the twenty-third of September we were in latitude thirty-five degrees and fifty minutes North, and longitude twenty degrees and forty-nine minutes East; about two hundred miles from Milo. During that afternoon and the following night there was but little wind. The ship lay upon her course, and averaged about three knots. On the next morning the breeze freshened a bit and came out from the eastward, so we had to stand upon a taut bow line, and off the course at that. At noon the sun was so deeply beclouded, that no observation could be obtained, and the course was calculated from dead reckoning. Towards the middle of the afternoon the wind lulled a while and then came up from the westward. At the same time Captain Withers came on deck—drunk! His face was flushed, his eye wild and glaring, and his step unsteady. There was a peculiar compression of the nether lip that betokened the worst state of mind. As soon as he saw that the wind had changed, and that the ship had it almost dead aft, he ordered all sail to be made; studding sails on both sides and the sky-sails set. After this the log was thrown, and she ran off eleven knots.
"Glorious!" cried Withers. "We'll make up for lost time. We have made just twenty miles since yesterday at this time."
"We've made nearly eighty, sir," said the Mate.
"What! Do you dispute me, sir?" said the Captain, in a rage. "I tell you, we've run just twenty miles just twenty, sir! I've kept the reckoning, and I know. We'll have no mutiny here, if you please."
"But, Captain Withers, have you not made a mistake?"
"By the eternal heaven, sir, do you mean to question my authority? Touch a rope if you dare. 'Tis sail this ship, if you please!"
Such was Abel Withers, drunk.
The breeze continued fresh and steady, and all sail was kept on. At dark, Mr. Sargent, the mate, asked if he should shorten sail. The Captain swore like a madman. He seemed to fancy that his officers wished to assume command and put him out of the way. He said he'd shoot the first man who dared take in a rag of canvas.
But Withers was not satisfied with that. He went below and took another glass of brandy, and then putting on his pea-jacket he returned to the deck and ordered the mate to go below. Sargent obeyed at once, though he was determined not to go to sleep. At midnight the Captain became aware that the mate was being strained, and he ordered that the studding-sail be taken in, and the royals furl'd. The mate had taken the sky-sails off before dark. Yet the ship now ran off ten knots.
At two o'clock the second mate went to the wheel and whispered to the helmsman to lay the ship three points further South. He did so, and Withers noticed it at once.
"What's all this?" he cried with an oath. "Has the wind changed?"
He went to the binnacle, and saw the trouble at once. The second mate had hoped that he was too drunk to notice the change, but his wits were keen and quick in that direction. It is a peculiarity of drunkenness that the intoxicated man seems possessed of an intuitive perception of any effort to deceive him; and so was Withers in this case. He ordered the man at the wheel to be put in irons, and then ordered the second mate, Mr. Clingman, to be put in irons, and then he paced up and down the deck, raving and storming like a madman.
At four o'clock Mr. Sargent came up. He could stand it no longer.
"Captain Withers," he said firmly, but respectfully, "this ship must not stand on so another half hour. I assure you, upon my honor, that the Island of Milo is directly ahead, and not over fifteen miles distant at the farthest."

"Get out of this!" yelled the Captain.
"Go below, sir, at once. I am commander here, if you please."
"But, sir, I am in earn—"
"Out," interposed the madman, with an oath.
"Down below, you go at once! I have kept the reckoning, if you please, and we are a hundred miles from Milo!"
Sargent still urged the Captain to listen, but he could make no impression upon him. He quickly found that Withers was not only determined, but madly so, and that he would not hesitate to resort to violence if he were opposed further. This the Mate was anxious to avoid, for the ship was not only very powerful, but he pushed to physical violence there would be danger of a death. So Sargent went below, but he resolved that in one hour he would come up, and then, if nothing else could be done, the Captain should be secured by force or some stratagem, and kept bound until he got sober.
The hour passed away, and yet the ship stood on the old speed. Mr. Sargent came on deck and looked about him. The stars were obscured by a thick haze, but the wind kept up as fresh as ever. The Mate knew that land could not be far distant. He made his way forward, and he fancied he could hear the roar of breakers. It would be already daylight but for the thick atmosphere. With a quick step the officer walked aft, and asked the Captain if he would not change the course further to the southward.
"What!" cried Withers, starting back and clenching his fists, "you up here again? Now, said he, with an oath, 'I'll let you know!'"
At this moment the Captain's voice was drowned by a cry that came from the bows; quick as thought the Mate rushed forward, the mist had lifted—the first gleam of daylight was upon the water—and directly ahead, not more than three cables' length distant, loomed up a foam-dashed, towering form of jagged rocks. They looked like black monsters there with the sea lashing in fury against them.
"Breakers ahead!" shouted half a dozen voices in concert.
"Breakers! breakers! all hands!" cried Sargent, in a prompt, ringing tone, which sounded above the roll of the breakers. He had examined the lay of the rocks carefully, and he knew how to act, though hope hung on a thread. "For your lives, men," he shouted, springing toward the waist. "Cast off the starboard braces!—haul in on the larboard ones! Port the helm! steady—steady, hard aport! oh! for your lives! Meet her now! Right your helm!"
The men saw the danger, but the stern promptness of the Mate gave them strength, and they obeyed his orders quickly and with a will. As yards were braced up, and the helm cast aport, the ship felt it, and came nobly to the wind. Captain Withers had been paralyzed by the first cry of breakers, and his power seemed gone. He stood at the taffrail like one in a dream, trembling from head to foot, and watching the working of the men with man's eagerness. As the ship came up to the wind, her stern came towards the rocks, and the end of the sparker-boom actually hit a projecting point. There was a sudden shock—a bump—and the men were nearly thrown from their feet. The keel had hit a sunken rock! A groan escaped the Captain's lips, and he clung to the sail for support as the cold spray from the dead breakers came dashing over him.
A few minutes after this shock the men held their breaths, but the ordeal was soon passed. The ship stood freely on, and in a few moments more the danger was over. The breakers were astern, and we were leaving them in the distance with our saved lives and a whole ship.
Ere long the mist was gone, and the first beams of the sun showed us the bleak, wave-bashed coast of Milo under our lee. The Captain was sober now, and I saw a shudder pass through his frame as he stood and gazed upon the dim rocks in the distance.
At the breakfast table he said not a word. He could not eat and he seemed sick and faint. Towards noon he came on deck and ordered all his crew aft.
"My men," he said in a firm, feeling tone, "I have deeply wronged you all, and my officers more deeply still. But let the past be forgiven me. I ask you not to forget it, for in the memory of the terrible fate I came so near bringing upon you, shall my own safety be fixed. But forgive me, and as God is my Maker you shall never have occasion to blame me again."
The glad shout that went up from the deck assured the Captain that he had not lost a friend. They loved him better than ever from that day, and he never betrayed the new confidence they reposed in him. He cast the accused enemy from him, and never touched it more, for he knew too well that his fate depended in an entire shutting out the thief which had stolen the best part of him.

CONDITIONS.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary price, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.
Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized agents to receive advertisements for the Patriot.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., Boston.
S. R. NILES, Boston.
GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., New York.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., New York.
JOHN HOOPER & Co., New York.

INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE! FIRE!
National Insurance
COMPANY.
Capital, - - $300,000 00.
$30,000 can be taken in one risk and smaller amounts on Buildings, Stocks of Goods, Furniture &c., &c.
A. H. BEAN, President.
G. W. KUN, Sec'y.
THE ABOVE
FIRST CLASS COMPANY
AND THE ROGER WILLIAMS
INS. CO.,
CAPITAL, $100,000.
A. A. WILLIAMS, President.
G. W. DAVENPORT, Sec'y.
Both combined enables me to insure on
ONE RISK
$40,000,
Being a larger amount than any office in Norfolk County can insure for on one risk.

TREES.
Wollaston Nursery
The Subscriber has for Sale
On reasonable Terms, At his Nursery,
ON WOLLASTON AVENUE,
A large variety of Hardy and
Ornamental Trees & Shrubs
Both Native and European, among which are
DECIDUOUS TREES:
American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elm; Norway, Sycamore, Rock Ash, Laurel and Scarlet Maple; Mahonia; Box-leaved Evergreen and Common Privet; Rhododendron; Laurel; Spinas; Syringas; &c.
EVERGREENS:
Norway, Black and Hemlock Spruce; Scotch, Austrian, Mugho, Cypress, and Corsican Pines; Arbor Vitae, &c.
FLOWERING SHRUBS:
Althaea; Wigglesia; Forsythia; &c. Scarlet Dogwood; Mahonia; Box-leaved Evergreen and Common Privet; Rhododendron; Laurel; Spinas; Syringas; &c.
Also, a good assortment of
Fruit Trees, and Small Fruit, viz:
Pear—20 Varieties—Apples—10 do.—Peaches of the best sorts—Plums and Cherries—Raspberries—Vaccines and Cherry Currants—Triumph of Land Strawberry Plants—Gonard, Hartford, Trollope, &c. Roger's Hybrid, Iowa, Isabella, &c. Grape Vines.
Amongst the Peaches are Cal's Early, and a limited supply of the Golden Pearl, a comparatively new variety, rarely growing more than five feet high, of beautiful foliage and form, hardy and prolific, fruit excellent.
Many of the above trees have been recently imported, and being consequently of small size, a good opportunity is afforded to those who wish to plant large numbers, to supply themselves at a moderate expense.
Persons wishing to plant ornamental or fruit trees are invited to call at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere. All orders given to Mr.

POETRY.
THE WIDOW'S BOUNTY.
To the Publisher of the Patriot:
WEYMOUTH, MARCH 30, 1868.
Seeing it stated in the Quincy Patriot, of March 28th, that the Finance Committee of the United States Senate had agreed to report a bill repealing the Act recently passed giving bounties to the Widows of deceased soldiers, on the ground that it will involve an expenditure which the government under the present reduction of Taxation cannot meet without depreciating its credit, I beg leave to remark as follows:—
Repeat that righteous law—Ignoble feat
The soldier's widow and his orphan's cheer;
To be parch'd lip present the brimming cup,
Then meekly dash, or meekly drink it up.
To stay the tax on the rich miser's hoard,
Rob the poor widow of her just award;
Say with bold front—a mean excuse—to say,
'Tis just the debt, how can you now refuse.
To pay the debt and thus your trust abuse.
Shuffle, and turn, and twist, 't' escape the fate,
That ever on unjust lips settles wait;
The Nation's heart such paltry acts will spurn,
And its contempt her shillies agents learn.
The debt was just, and by your Act you say,
Without just cause we gave you—gold away;
If just the debt, how can you now refuse,
To pay the debt and thus your trust abuse.
He who to meanness would commit the State,
Stamps his own character and marks his fate;
Repeat that righteous law if thus you dare,
While mock'd insult Justice cries beware.
Sure none but cowards by weak folly led,
Would bring such scandal on a Nation's head;
By such an act the Nation's scorn to bid,
By such an act the Nation's scorn to bid.
While the dead soldier cries from 'neath the sod,
Who wrongs our widows, break the widow's rod,
And dare the Justice of 't' avenging hand,
To bring chastisement on a faithless band.
F. M. ANDERSON.

MISCELLANY.
ALMOST A WRECK.
Captain Abel Withers was one of the best ship masters that had ever handled a quadrant,—a perfect sailor; thoroughly versed in navigation,—and possessing a very clear judgment. And he was one of the most humane commanders in our mercantile marine; treating his men like brothers, and ever mindful of their comfort and welfare. All this was Abel Withers; but sometimes he would put a thief into his mouth, to steal himself away. When overcome by liquor, he was totally another being,—reckless and cross, and wholly unmindful of his conduct or its consequences. The owners knew that he made a free use of liquor when on shore sometimes, but fancied that he kept perfectly straight when at sea. The fact was, neither his officers nor his men would expose him, for they loved him too well.
In 1843, Withers had command of the ship Waterspout. She was a noble craft, and had a noble crew. Several times during the outward course the skipper allowed himself to be overcome by his enemy. It seemed to be a sort of disease, sometimes taking an occasional glass of brandy and water, and others going a week without tasting it. If by chance he got enough on board to feel it, he was sure to get drunk; and then came a storm, for which he would subsequently atone by renewed kindness and regret.
The Waterspout was bound for Smyrna. At noon, on the twenty-third of September we were in latitude thirty-five degrees and fifty minutes North, and longitude twenty degrees and forty-nine minutes East; about two hundred miles from Milo. During that afternoon and the following night there was but little wind. The ship lay upon her course, and averaged about three knots. On the next morning the breeze freshened a bit and came out from the eastward, so we had to stand upon a taut bow line, and off the course at that. At noon the sun was so deeply beclouded, that no observation could be obtained, and the course was calculated from dead reckoning. Towards the middle of the afternoon the wind lulled a while and then came up from the westward. At the same time Captain Withers came on deck—drunk! His face was flushed, his eye wild and glaring, and his step unsteady. There was a peculiar compression of the nether lip that betokened the worst state of mind. As soon as he saw that the wind had changed, and that the ship had it almost dead aft, he ordered all sail to be made; studding sails on both sides and the sky-sails set. After this the log was thrown, and she ran off eleven knots.
"Glorious!" cried Withers. "We'll make up for lost time. We have made just twenty miles since yesterday at this time."
"We've made nearly eighty, sir," said the Mate.
"What! Do you dispute me, sir?" said the Captain, in a rage. "I tell you, we've run just twenty miles just twenty, sir! I've kept the reckoning, and I know. We'll have no mutiny here, if you please."
"But, Captain Withers, have you not made a mistake?"
"By the eternal heaven, sir, do you mean to question my authority? Touch a rope if you dare. 'Tis sail this ship, if you please!"
Such was Abel Withers, drunk.
The breeze continued fresh and steady, and all sail was kept on. At dark, Mr. Sargent, the mate, asked if he should shorten sail. The Captain swore like a madman. He seemed to fancy that his officers wished to assume command and put him out of the way. He said he'd shoot the first man who dared take in a rag of canvas.
But Withers was not satisfied with that. He went below and took another glass of brandy, and then putting on his pea-jacket he returned to the deck and ordered the mate to go below. Sargent obeyed at once, though he was determined not to go to sleep. At midnight the Captain became aware that the mate was being strained, and he ordered that the studding-sail be taken in, and the royals furl'd. The mate had taken the sky-sails off before dark. Yet the ship now ran off ten knots.
At two o'clock the second mate went to the wheel and whispered to the helmsman to lay the ship three points further South. He did so, and Withers noticed it at once.
"What's all this?" he cried with an oath. "Has the wind changed?"
He went to the binnacle, and saw the trouble at once. The second mate had hoped that he was too drunk to notice the change, but his wits were keen and quick in that direction. It is a peculi

God on the Sabbath, but are treated as a stranger in the fullest sense of the word. You are not spoken to, you are not seated. We venture the assertion that when you go home it will be to attend some other meeting, if there is one near, and if there is no other, you will be quite inclined to stay at home.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, APRIL 18, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

INSTALLATION.

The installation of Rev. J. E. HALL, as Pastor of the Hancock Street Church, took place on Thursday, 16th inst. An Ecclesiastical Council convened at 3 P.M. A severe rain storm prevented a large attendance. Six churches were represented. Rev. J. H. Means, of Dorchester, was chosen Moderator, and Rev. Clark Carter, of Neponset, Scribe. The usual reading of records, correspondence, and credentials having been attended to, the Pastor elect gave a statement of his doctrinal belief and religious experience, and for an hour and a half sustained with self-possession a thorough examination, conducted by the Moderator.

Being by themselves the Council voted that the examination was satisfactory, and assigned the pastor for the evening. Notwithstanding the very unpropitious weather the evening exercises drew together a considerable number. The Scribe read the minutes and conducted the preliminary devotional service. Rev. Jacob M. Manning, D. D., associate pastor of the Old South Church, Boston, preached an able discourse from Rev. v. 11, 12, "WORTHY THE NAME," etc. A globe surrounded by a cross was an early symbol of Christianity. Nor does the figure exaggerate the importance of the Cross. It alone saves the world from oblivion. This is the altar world. Christ died here and this will give the history of this world the element of eternity. The memorableness of events is seen in their relation to the future. The name of Shakespeare saves Stratford-on-Avon from oblivion. Florence begged the dust of the poor Dante. Plymouth Rock, Bunker Hill, the Charter Oak, and other Meccas of devout pilgrimages, are bound by mystic ties to the living present. Yet there will be a time when even these will be forgotten, but Calvary never. "They shall perish but thou shalt endure." Having exhibited the importance of the work of Christ the preacher then pointed the line of true wisdom which pastors and other Christian workers should pursue to secure true immortality, illustrating the subject with allusion and attractive material, full notes of which we have, but have not space to use.

The Moderator offered the installing prayer, and gave an excellent charge to the pastor, urging hopefulness, courage, activity and prayer, with earnest study of the Bible. Rev. C. Cushing, Mr. Hall's pastor, read a "Bible Hymn" or "Worship," which contained an exposition of the true genius of Congregationalism as expressed in this exercises. He urged him to culture, grace and grit, in his work, and gave him other good advice, promising the continued sympathy of his brethren. Rev. Mr. Hayes, of South Weymouth, addressed the people, and the Rev. Mr. Freeman, offered the concluding prayer.

The singing under charge of Mr. Brown was very spirited, notwithstanding the absence of some leading vocalists. Mr. Hall enters on his work under favorable circumstances, and has the kindest good wishes of his people and the community among whom he has cast his lot.

TRIAL OF THE DORCHESTER BOND ROBBERS. At the session of the Superior Court, held at Dedham, on Wednesday, John Temple was placed on trial as accessory in the robbery of the funds of the Worcester Mutual Fire Insurance Office at Neponset, last winter. Robert Preston, the principal in the affair was the most important witness. The jury being satisfied of the guilt of the accused rendered a verdict accordingly. His counsel filed exceptions, which will probably be argued before the Supreme Court. Preston had previously pleaded guilty to the charges against him and was sentenced to three years in the House of Correction.

STOREBREAKING IN WEYMOUTH.—An attempt was made to break into the dry goods and clothing store of C. S. Williams at Weymouth Landing, on Sunday night. The thieves succeeded in gaining an entrance into an entry-way and were breaking through an inner door when the noise alarmed a person sleeping in the store, who immediately, with revolver in hand, hastened to the door and through the opening they had made fired at the burglars, who, not liking to face this kind of reception, immediately left. Soon afterwards the grocery store of A. J. Bates & Co., in East Braintree, was entered by breaking out the sash in one of the upper windows, and one of the burglars was caught. It was supposed that in breaking open a door leading to the lower part of the building he fell and was stunned, as he was found at the foot of the stairs in the morning. Circumstances tend to show that he was one of the party who made the attempt at Williams' store in Weymouth.—Dorchester Herald.

DELEGATES TO CHICAGO CONVENTION. The Republicans in the Second Congressional District met in convention Thursday, at Taunton, and elected Henry L. Pierce of Dorchester, and Henry B. Wheelwright of Taunton, as delegates to the National Convention at Chicago, and Theodore Dean of Taunton, and E. S. Beals of Weymouth, as alternates. Resolutions were adopted demanding the conviction of President Johnson, and endorsing General Grant and Henry Wilson.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 14, 1868.

At the meeting of the Court on Thursday, the 9th inst., the Managers occupied a few minutes in examining two new witnesses, Wood and Blodgett. Curtis occupied the rest of the day in opening the argument for the defence. He spoke quite slowly, with but little animation. A quantity of law books and a few brief notes for reference, were spread before him on the table. Old constitutional lawyers listened with attention to all that he said. General Sherman and Hancock were eager listeners. The Democrats call it a powerful argument. It is the general opinion that he did as well as any lawyer could on that side of the question. Next day, (Friday) he finished, and the defence began to call their witnesses. Adj. General Thomas was the first called. Stanbury put several questions to him, that were objected to by Butler, causing considerable debate. When Stanbury had finished, Butler began to cross examine Thomas. To get an idea of Butler and Thomas, one must read Butler's questions and the answers of Thomas. It will then be seen what kind of men the President gets to do his mean jobs. Thomas admitted in his testimony that "he was a liar," "didn't mean that he said," "that sometimes he said a thing and afterwards deny it. Last week while I was waiting in the Senate Post Office, the following conversation occurred. Karsner, the Delaware witness was there, waiting to be sworn. Ad interim, Thomas came in and sat down with him. Conversation began to be loud and exciting.

Thomas told Karsner that he (K) was going to swear to a falsehood. Karsner said it was all true. Says Thomas, your a liar. Says Karsner, your a liar. Says Thomas, your a base scoundrel. These compliments were exchanged several times without coming to blows, contrary to the expectations of the lookers on. A Democratic Senator, who knows them both very well, then came in slightly under the weather, and made this remark, about his two friends, Thomas and Karsner: "There's two fools well met."

On Saturday Thomas was up again for a few minutes, and was again severely catechized by Butler.

General Sherman was then called by the President's Counsel for the purpose of giving in a conversation the President had with him about the removing Stanton from the War Office. Butler objected to having the President's declarations brought in as evidence. The Chief Justice expressed his opinion that the question was admissible, and gave his reasons. The Senate, however, refused to admit the question—yeas 23, nays 28. The question was put in a dozen or more different forms, but Butler objected, and the Senate sustained him. Sumner voted with the Democrats several times. Karsner Johnson was the first Democrat to vote against the President, which so enraged Davis of Kentucky, that in a passion he changed his vote also. The Counsel tried in vain all day to get their answer out of Sherman. Therefore, they desired to be allowed to recall him on Monday. The Counsel felt quite discouraged, and the Managers encouraged with the day's work. On Monday, a move was made at the request of the Managers, to allow as many Managers and Counsel as desired to speak, to do so. After a lengthy debate, the matter was laid on the table. As it now stands, only Bingham and Boutwell will speak in the closing argument. General Sherman was called upon by the witnesses' stand again, and again Stanbury tried to get out of him the President's conversation. The Managers again objected, and the testimony was ruled out. At half past two, the usual recess of fifteen minutes was taken. In an instant the Senate was turned into an eating saloon. Parties grouped together in the Galleries, including often Senators or Members, and with united earnestness and sociability, they made way with their dainty meal. Some promenade in the corridors; some discussed their neighbor's style; some of the sternest sex smoked a pipe of fresh tobacco or cigar; and almost a few across the street to Whitney's, and put the spirits down, in order to keep the spirits up. The President's Counsel and Managers of the House often meet on such occasions, and laugh at each other's success or defeat. Chase steps out into the Vice President's room. Thad. Stevens has his dinner brought to him in the Marble room.

After the recess, Meigs, Clerk of the Supreme Court of the District, was examined with regard to the arrest of Gen. Thomas. Gen. Sherman was recalled, and by a great change in Senators' votes, was allowed to give some of the President's conversation. The Counsel were disappointed to find that it did not help their side any. Both parties appeared to be ignorant of what Sherman's testimony would exactly be. He did not want to be brought out on either side. His evidence was carefully considered both sides. Stanbury was confused.

To-day, (Tuesday) the Galleries were filled with a fine display of dry goods, (not mentioning the article of white-wash,) paints, drugs and dye stuffs, were in great demand.

Sergeant Bates, the king of humbugs—Barnum is only a prince—has just now reached the capital, amid the shouts of bootblacks, newsboys, and peanut Johns. I believe he is now climbing the dome to wave his colored handkerchief, and thus win up this Democratic farce, and his own illustrious career. Long may he wave.

At the opening of the Court to-day, Mr. Evans desired to have the Court adjourn, as Mr. Stanbury was unwell.—Query: Did the answers of Sherman yesterday, disturb his slumbers? Sad as his case may be, he received little compassion from the vast throng that assembled to witness the proceedings. Who can censured them? With great effort they had succeeded in getting a ticket,—had spent hours in preparation; had waited in the Galleries an hour or two; and then to find that all this trouble was wasted on the desert air, was it more or less than human for them to growl about Stanbury for getting sick? A nice little April shower came up, as they were going down, which served admirably to dampen their jocundity, and moisten their operative Sunday garments. If about eight hundred of this tender gender could have got hold of Stanbury, under the influence of the spirits that then possessed them, it is barely possible that the knight of the goose quill would have experienced a radical change. The Court meets again to-morrow, when it is expected that Stanbury will recover from this Shermanian fever. The Counsel cannot get along without him. It is hoped that the Chief Justice will preserve his health for a short time. He is now about the stoutest man in the Court. His peculiar habit is rubbing his tongue between his lips quite frequently when talking. He favors the President's side the most, and always is glad to have an adjournment.

FATAL ACCIDENT. It is our painful duty to announce a melancholy and fatal accident, which has caused the death of one of our most industrious and worthy citizens. Mr. George W. Spear, for ten years, head engineer at Mitchell Granite Company's ledge, was engaged on Thursday morning last in fastening a bolt, when his frock was caught by the machinery and he was terribly bruised and mangled. The engine had on but sixty pounds of steam at the time of the accident; and he being dragged into the machinery stopped its working, or he would have been literally torn to pieces. When Mr. Spear was taken out he was unconscious, but soon became sensible and remained so until he expired, yesterday morning, about four o'clock. His sufferings appeared not so severe as would naturally be supposed. He leaves a wife and ten children,—the youngest about six,—to mourn his sudden and untimely death. The funeral services will be held at his late residence, to-morrow, at one o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Chapin will speak in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

PACIFIC GUANO. Read the many excellent testimonials, which may be found in another column, of this superior fertilizer.

Owing to a rush of advertising we are obliged to lay over much interesting reading matter already in type.

The April number of Dr. Cornell's Guardian of Health, contains a number of cases of recovery from Epilepsy and Nervous Diseases; the case of a Virginian with advice to him; The Beggar Girl of Philadelphia; A Temperance Tale continued; The Feet, and How to take care of them; Cruelty to Animals; More Explosive Kerosene; Repiles in the Human Stomach, &c. To know this work it must be read.

By request, single numbers 15 cents; for sale by all Periodical Dealers and News-men.

BUTLER ON IMPEACHMENT.

The universal disgust excited by the impeachment trial, and the part taken by Butler, led him to a mid expression in the New York Times, as follows: "I fancy that Butler's tardiness of the old soldier, General Thomas, regarding his testimony before the Senate on Saturday was a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to permit such vulgar and insulting proceedings to be carried on in its presence, it could be of little avail for us to find fault with it. If it will forward the cause of justice, will aid in clearing the truth, will enable the Court or the public to have a fine thing, it would be foolish for me to quarrel with his taste. If the Senate consider it proper to Selected Poetry.

THE SPIRIT'S REST.

Seek we rest for the spirit on earth,
A home in peace where it may dwell?
Vain search! as if night of immortal bliss
Could be fostered by earth's frail spell!
Ah, no! a lover's spot will be found
When life's troubles draw to a close;
When fresh from cares that encompass it round,
The spirit may find sweet repose.

But not on earth—her levelled bowers
The foot of sin hath pressed,
And left its blight on its fairest flowers
—Earth may not be the spirit's rest.
Oh, no! but fingers in this bright sphere
Till, summoned by Heaven's command,
It breathes the slight fitters that bind it here,
And rests at God's right hand.

Farmers' Department.

GROWING ONIONS.

The high figures at which onions have been sold the past season will probably induce a more extended cultivation of this most valuable of vegetables. The most successful onion grower on a somewhat limited scale we ever saw, kept his ground in high till, forming a deep, rich bed for the seed. The soil was thoroughly stirred to the depth of a foot or more, and finely pulverized. When thus prepared the party commenced tramping across the beds in the line of the extended rows, thus compacting the soil quite hard. This done, a rake was used to stir up or scarify the surface sufficiently deep to cover the onion seed lightly or to assure its germination. In thus tramping the onion beds down, after the soil had been properly stirred and prepared, the onion was thrown, during the period of its growth, upon its surface, causing it to expand with more freedom than would have been the case if covered deep in a mellow soil. The result of this mode of planting and cultivation, was the most prolific yield of the best developed onions we ever saw. This mode was pursued year after year and with unvarying success.

The Official Agricultural Report for March.

The March report of the statistician of the Department of Agriculture includes several tables relative to farm animals. The returns of the numbers and prices of live stock show a slight increase during the year in horses, mules, cattle and milch cows, and a decrease in sheep.

The decrease in prices is more marked than in numbers, amounting in many States to a reduction of thirty or forty per cent. The aggregate decrease is not less than thirty-five millions of dollars, averaging nearly a dollar a head.

A reduction is noticed in prices of horses and mules in every section of the country in comparison with those of last year. The decline is more apparent in the Southern States than elsewhere, owing to the gloomy state of feeling in the cotton section where the returns were made. The price of cattle is reported higher than last year in many of the States, with the exception of milch cows, which have very generally decreased in value.

THE EARLY GOODRICH POTATO.

This variety has been found to withstand the rot successfully during the past year, when many other sorts failed wholly or in part. It is a strong grower, and yields a large crop of good potatoes. Among many bushels grown on light dry land, not a single tuber decayed. It ripens rather early, but remains good through the winter. It is a good market variety, as it cooks white and dry; and it is a very desirable variety to plant extensively for market purposes. We regard this as one of the best of the new sorts that have been sent out during the past few years.—American Journal of Horticulture for February.

TOADS FOR GARDENS.

A correspondent of the Lamotte News Dealer says he successfully defends his vine patch by laying boards between the rows, in such a manner as to afford shelter to toads in the day time, and leave it undisturbed, so that they will make their home under it, which they will do in great numbers. At night they sallied out and devour every bug, and grow fat as soldiers. He says he has a dozen or more of these little philanthropists making their home under a single board not more than six feet long.

Where fowls are confined in considerable numbers to a restricted enclosure they should have a good supply of wood ashes to wallow in. It will pay to fill a large box with ashes and place it under shelter where the fowls can use it at pleasure. It is a pleasure to them, as is manifest by the eagerness with which they avail themselves of this means of purification.

Anecdotes.

"Your handwriting is very bad indeed," said a gentleman a young college friend, who was more addicted to boating and cricketing than to hard study.
"You really ought to learn to write better."
"Ay, ay!" returned the young man, "it is all very well for you to tell me that; but if I were to write better, people would be finding out how I spell."

A gentleman calling on his butcher to order something for dinner, was asked if he would like a saddle of mutton.
"Why," said he, "would it not be better to have a brace, as I should then certainly stand a better chance of getting a bit in my mouth."

"Why do you always buy a second-class ticket?" asked a gentleman of a miser.
"Because there is no third-class ticket," was the reply of the latter.

CHEAP CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.

Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.

AYERS' PILLS, 20 CTS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.

Brown's Troches, 25 cts.

BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.

Hoops Skirts 87 cts.

Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY

STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.

DRESS GOODS,

WORKING PANTS CHEAP.

PANT CLOTHS.

German and American Corsets.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 22 cts.

FICS & ORANGES.

Hair Braids, 85 cts.

BEADS, BEADS

Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM

MADE

Pants and Vests

VERY LOW.

HATS & CAPS

Perforated Card Board,

Gift Paper,

Drawing Paper,

Blotting Paper,

Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES

BELOW COST

to close out.

J. A. MCLELLAN,

NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.

Quincy, Feb. 22. if

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"

almost questioned when we see

LORING'S PATENT

IRON WATERSTOP

THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.

BAILEY & BAXTER,

SCHOOL STREET,

Quincy, Jan. 11. if

THE STAR BURNER

A new patent Kerosene Burner,—superior to the Sun Burner—for Sale by the Subscribers.

The American Foot Stove!

An excellent article for the parlor or sitting room. Very comfortable and durable; free from all danger of fire, therefore a valuable article to take when you wish to enjoy a sleigh-ride.

Call and examine.

C. F. & J. W. PIERCE.

Quincy, Dec. 14. if

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH

COUGHS, COLDS,

HOARSENESS,

OR BRONCHITIS,

USE VEAZIE'S

Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squills.

The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy known.

JOHN H. VEAZIE.

Quincy, March 16. if

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,

No. 4 HAYWARD PLACE.

4th door from Washington street at No. 246.

GIVES special attention to Epilepsy; to all Nervous Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Cutaneous Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven years in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.

His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office or will be sent by mail, for the following prices:—

"Epilepsy," 50 cents.

"Tuberculosis," 25 cents.

"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.

"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.

"Clerical Health," 40 cents.

"The Boston," 60 cents.

Many of the best Physicians have recommended this book as a subject too much neglected.

Wm. H. Allen, M.D., LL.D., late president of Girard College, says: "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."

Rev. Dr. Eddy says: "It should be read by all our young men."

Aug. 17 if

Notice.

THE Selectmen will meet in their Office, in the Town House every SATURDAY, from 2 to 5 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, Selectman
E. W. UNDERWOOD, of Quincy,
JACOB F. EATON, of Quincy,
Quincy, March 14. if

NOTICE.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office in the Town House, on the last MONDAY, of each month, from 8 to 12 A. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid, to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1867.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, Selectman
E. W. UNDERWOOD, of Quincy,
JACOB F. EATON, of Quincy,
Quincy, March 14. if

PHILBRICK'S

Fire Kindlings!

The Best Article in Use!!

A BOX contains 144 Squares—One Square will kindle a wood or charcoal fire, burning from 8 to 10 minutes, being the cheapest and best article ever used in kindling fires.

Directions.—Light one of the small Squares, lay it on the grate of the stove, then put on your wood, and you will have a sure fire without further trouble.

Only 25 cents per Box.

For Sale by

JAMES PARKER,

First door South of the Orthodox Church.

Quincy, Feb. 29. if

Bread, Crackers, &c.

WASHBURN & GROVER of North Bridgewater, will run a Baker's Cart to this place, every Tuesday and Saturday,

and will supply all who desire, with Bread of all kinds, Crackers, Fancy Cakes, &c.

Wedding Cakes, &c., supplied at short notice.

Orders left at the Patriot Office, will receive prompt attention from Mr. PARKER, the driver.

Quincy, Dec. 7. if

FISHER'S PREMIUM

CURTAIN FIXTURES.

THESE Fixtures have been exhibited in three Fairs in competition with several others, and took the highest premium in each, and the only medal awarded.

They are warranted to give satisfaction, and are properly put up they will run a man's lifetime without getting out of order. All who contemplate purchasing please examine these before purchasing. For Sale by

JOSEPH AREY, Jr.,

WASHINGTON ST., QUINCY.

Quincy, March 7. if

Restaurant, Billiard

AND

BOWLING SALOON,

Goodnow's Building, Cor. Hancock and

Granite Streets.

THE Proprietor having made large additions to his stock and fixtures, is now provided with every facility for furnishing his patrons with the best the market affords, his aim will be to keep a first class establishment.

Parties and families furnished with Oysters, Cooked and Raw, Pickled Clams, Lamb's Tongues, Pig's Feet, Clams, Oyster Chowders, Oyster and other Crackers, Pies, Cakes, &c.

Fruits of all kinds in their respective seasons.

Confectionery, Cigars, Tobacco, Nuts and all other kinds of Refreshments of the best quality.

The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

OTIS ROGERS, Proprietor.

Quincy, Jan. 27—if

Gents Nice Black Hats,

For $1.00 each, at

C. T. REED'S.

Quincy, Feb. 1. if

Great Bargains!

For a short time, at

C. T. REED'S.

Quincy, Feb. 1. if

GOOD NEWS

FOR 1868.

D. B. STETSON,

has just received another large lot of

BOOTS AND SHOES,

SUCH AS

Men's Thick Boots, at $2.50 to $3.00

Men's Rubber Overs, .75

Women's Rubber Overs, .75

Women's Cloth Boots, .50 to 1.50

Also, another case of Men's Arctic Gaiters, of the best quality.

Having a large trade I can sell goods cheaper than can be purchased elsewhere.

D. B. STETSON,

Washington St., near Dr. Woodward's.

Quincy, Jan. 4. if

WARRANTED

BOOTS & SHOES,

For sale at low prices,

By E. CLAPP.

Quincy, Mar 3

BOOTS & SHOES

Repaired in the Neatest Manner.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy generally, that he has taken the Boot Shop over

EMERSON'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

where he is prepared to Make and Repair in the best manner, Ladies', Gents' and Children's Boots and Shoes at short notice.

JOHN WILLIAMS.

Quincy, Feb. 1. if

$1 PER BOTTLE, 6 BOTTLES FOR $5.

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

Food for Infants

AND INVALIDS.

CONDENSED MILK, recommended by the best Physicians for weakly children.

Robinson's Pure Swiss Condensed Milk, Robinson's Pure Swiss Condensed Milk, Robinson's Pure Swiss Condensed Milk.

For sale by

MRS. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square.

Quincy, Aug. 10. if

J. W. LOMBARD,

90 & 92 HANCOCK ST.

DEALER IN

CUSTOM

—AND—

Ready Made

CLOTHING,

HATS,

CAPS,

GENTS'

FURNISHING

GOODS,

STATIONERY, &c.

Quincy, Jan. 18. if

RICHARD HAILS,

Merchant Tailor!

BEGS Leave to inform the Citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has taken the store, at the corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS.,

and has a large assortment of choice Woolen Goods, which he will be pleased to make to measure, in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES,

and warranted satisfactory. Goods sold by the yard, and garments cut and trimmed.

All Goods warranted as represented.

Quincy, April 28. if

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

Merchant Tailor & Dealer

IN

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS

AND VESTINGS,

School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

HAS on hand and is constantly receiving from the best sources, New and Desirable Goods adapted to his trade. All who wish first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price, are respectfully invited to call.

N. B. It would be well to remember, that Cheapsness and Decency are relative attributes; they have a relation to the QUALITY of the article we buy; and that, which does not answer well the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR at any price.

Quincy, March 30

THE YOUNG MAN'S FRIEND,

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

C. N. DITSON

WOULD announce to his friends and former patrons, that he will continue to keep constantly on hand, at the Old Stand, A LARGE AND CHOICE VARIETY

OF

Family Groceries,

Glass and Crockery

WARE.

STONE AND WOODEN WARE,

which he offers to the citizens of Quincy, at

The Lowest Cash Prices!

CHAS. N. DITSON,

Two Doors North of the Post Office,

Quincy, Nov. 4

TAP SOLE BOOTS,

CHEAP.

Men's Tap Sole, Opera Boots, a prime article, only $4.00

Men's Tap Sole Calf Boots only $3.00

per pair. To be had of

C. T. REED.

Quincy, Jan. 4. if

Parlor Cue Alley.

TO LET. A Parlor Cue Alley, newly new, in perfect order.

JOSEPH AREY, Jr.

Quincy, Feb. 22. if

Stationery, Cheap,

At MCLELLAN'S.

Also, Bibles and Books.

DISEASES OF THE SKIN—I HAVE made these a specialty for the last twenty years, and during this time have cured all the following cases, Enclosed Circle, Suppressed Secretion, Malarial Secretion, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eczema, Itch, Follicles, itching, all kinds of sore heads, Black Worms, and white spots on the face, Warts, Freckles, Scurf spots, and all kinds of eruptions and eruptions of the skin.

W. M. CORNELL, M.D.

4 Hayward Place, Boston.

Oct. 25—if

Franklin Coal at $9.00.

Send in Your Orders.

THE Subscribers are now ready to receive orders for the best quality of Quincy, and during this time have cured all the following cases, Enclosed Circle, Suppressed Secretion, Malarial Secretion, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eczema, Itch, Follicles, itching, all kinds of sore heads, Black Worms, and white spots on the face, Warts, Freckles, Scurf spots, and all kinds of eruptions and eruptions of the skin.

W. M. CORNELL, M.D.

4 Hayward Place, Boston.

Oct. 25—if

Franklin Coal at $9.00.

Send in Your Orders.

THE Subscribers are now ready to receive orders for the best quality of Quincy, and during this time have cured all the following cases, Enclosed Circle, Suppressed Secretion, Malarial Secretion, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eczema, Itch, Follicles, itching, all kinds of sore heads, Black Worms, and white spots on the face, Warts, Freckles, Scurf spots, and all kinds of eruptions and eruptions of the skin.

W. M. CORNELL, M.D.

4 Hayward Place, Boston.

Oct. 25—if

Franklin Coal at $9.00.

Send in Your Orders.

THE Subscribers are now ready to receive orders for the best quality of Quincy, and during this time have cured all the following cases, Enclosed Circle, Suppressed Secretion, Malarial Secretion, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eczema, Itch, Follicles, itching, all kinds of sore heads, Black Worms, and white spots on the face, Warts, Freckles, Scurf spots, and all kinds of eruptions and eruptions of the skin.

W. M. CORNELL, M.D.

4 Hayward Place, Boston.

Oct. 25—if

Franklin Coal at $9.00.

Send in Your Orders.

THE Subscribers are now ready to receive orders for the best quality of Quincy, and during this time have cured all the following cases, Enclosed Circle, Suppressed Secretion, Malarial Secretion, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Eczema, Itch, Follicles, itching, all kinds of sore heads, Black Worms, and white spots on the face, Warts, Freckles, Scurf spots, and all kinds of eruptions and eruptions of the

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

"GOING TO SEA ON A SHINGLE."

A THRILLING ADVENTURE.

We took occasion to mention, a few weeks since, a very successful day's gunning, by our townsman, Wm. Gardner Prescott. We now are about to notice a more perilous voyage taken by the same gentleman on Saturday last. The facts appear to be as follows:—

Mr. Prescott started from home early in the morning, and went to the beach in the rear of the new National Sailors' Home, to obtain a few shots at the wild ducks, that are usually found in that vicinity, about sunrise. After hitching his horse, he took his gun and decoys and proceeded a short distance up the Cove, where he soon obtained a fine shot and succeeded in killing three, two falling into the water close by, which his dog brought to him; but the third fell some fifty rods before he fell. It being a considerable distance from the shore, his dog failed to go after it, and Mr. Prescott not wishing to lose so valuable a prize made up his mind to go himself. It being too far to swim, he concluded to make a raft, and seeing a piece of joist and a piece of plank on the beach, he carried them to the water's edge, and then taking a door which was near by placed it across them, and getting a long pole he started for his home.

It being early in the morning, there was scarcely any breeze stirring and the water was very placid, therefore, our sportsman succeeded in sailing to within a rod or so of the duck without the least trouble; then he found that his stick was too short or the water too deep, as he could not touch bottom. Not willing to give up, he thought he could only paddle the remaining distance, he could get back easy enough as the tide was coming in. He learned by vigorous efforts, that even with a round stick, he could make some headway, and soon obtained the bird. Mr. P. then started for the shore, but soon ascertained that the task was more than he expected. During the time he had been paddling out for the duck the wind had been rising, which had now set on his raft, the tide. With his utmost exertions he soon found he could make no headway. Then came the dilemma. An attempt to swim ashore, at such a great distance was hazardous. The last, and only chance of escape was to go to sea on his frail raft, with the hopes of being picked up.

For an hour he sailed along very quietly, standing erect gazing at the beautiful scenery. But as the time sped on, the wind became more boisterous, and the waves rough and angry. At last a sudden gust of wind tipped over his raft, and pitched him into the briny deep—he soon, however, succeeded in swimming to the door; collecting and placing the joist and plank together, and finally in getting upon it. He remained but a short time upon his "shingle" before he received another ducking, a more dangerous one than the first. It was only with extra exertions that he was able to gather the pieces as the waves this time had sent them far apart; without them he must sink to rise no more. The thing must be done and he did it. This time he placed his joist across the door, and took his seat upon it, and by placing his pole, which had a hook on the end, over the corner of the door, he had something to hold on to without keeping his hands in the water—his limbs and the lower part of his body were covered the rest of the voyage; occasionally a wave would splash over him.

He continued drifting out to sea and had got nearly to Pettuck's Island when he discovered a Stone Sloop, which proved to be the Abbie White of Quincy Point, commanded by Captain Joseph White of Braintree. As it neared him, he waved his hand, and was seen by Mr. George R. Derry, one of the crew. A boat was soon lowered which came along side of the adventurer, but he had not strength enough left to get in and was obliged to be lifted. He was soon put aboard the sloop and kindly cared for by the Captain and crew. Mr. Prescott had been upon the water six hours—started about six and was picked up at twelve. He was landed at the Point in a few hours, and was carried to his residence by Mr. Lapham. The next day we met him upon the street, and he said he was quite well, otherwise than feeling a little stiff.

THE CIRCUS. Herr Dreisbach's Menagerie and Howe's Transatlantic Circus is to perform in this place on Wednesday next. It is one of the largest and said to be one of the best shows of the kind that has visited this place for years. There will be two performances, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. For full particulars read their advertisement in to-day's paper.

FAIR. The Fair, which was recently held by the Hancock Street Congregational Society, resulted in the raising of the handsome sum of $1,500, clear of all expenses. This large sum, considering the "hard times," speaks well for the energy as well as for the persuasive powers of those, having the Fair under their immediate management. The Managers feel deeply grateful to all who assisted either in services or money, and trust they may feel rewarded in the consciousness of having aided in the establishment of one more power for the removal of sin from the world. UNUS PLEBIS.

READ the advertisement of Procter's Grub Exterminator. It's a sure thing.

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK. At the annual meeting of the members of the Quincy Savings Bank Corporation, held on the 14th inst., the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year, and have accepted said trust:—
President, Daniel Baxter.
Vice President, Edward Turner.
Trustees, Noah Cummings, Whitcomb Porter, Charles Marsh, Charles R. Mitchell, William S. Morton, John D. Wheeler, Israel W. Munroe, George A. Brackett, D. H. Bills, and James Torrey.
Secretary, Horace B. Spear.

SEWING GUIDE. This useful little silver shield is a pretty acquisition to a lady's work-box, and on trial we have found it a great protection to the finger from the point of the needle which often makes sewing so unpleasant. It is for sale at No. 55 Water street, Boston, for the low price of twenty-five cents. See advertisement.

LICENSE BILL. The license bill has become a law without the signature of the Governor. Neither approving the bill, nor desiring to interpose his veto in a case where the people had so evidently intended that something should be done, the Governor resorted to what seemed to him the only remaining alternative of allowing the bill to pass, and presenting his objections afterward. These objections are the same in substance that were urged with unavailing force while the bill was a subject for discussion, and are sure to rise again when the question returns to the people for their judgment. The Governor himself has removed his objections to the act so forcibly that many of his constituents will be disposed to regret that he did not go a step further, and give the General Court an opportunity to revise it.—Advertiser.

IMPROVEMENTS IN SOUTH BRAINTREE. As to business matters an improvement is clearly perceptible. Several estates have recently changed hands. Hon. F. A. Hobart has purchased the estate of the late E. S. Bradford, on Washington street, extending to the railroad, which he contemplates to improve, we learn, upon an extensive scale. A new street will be laid out through the premises from Washington street to the Old Colony and Newport Railway, commencing at a point between the late residence of Mr. Bradford and the apothecary store, thereby opening several eligible house lots much needed to supply the wants of the citizens. The large manufacturing shop of the late Mr. Bradford has been leased to a Boston company for three years for the manufacture of paper hats. As new machinery is to be introduced, several weeks may elapse before operations will commence, then probably from one hundred to one hundred and fifty hands will be employed.

THE estate also of Mr. Moore, opposite the depot on the west side, has recently been purchased by a shipmaster from Maine, for $4000. This, too, we learn, is to be extensively improved and embellished.—East Norfolk Register.

"LONG STRIKE." Bonicault's great sensational drama of the "Long Strike" is now being performed at the Boston Museum in fine style. Its scenic effects are novel, among the most striking of which is the scene in the telegraph office, and the appointments are of an elaborate and costly description. It also presents some of the best acting that has been witnessed in Boston for a long time.

OBITUARY. Mr. Nathaniel B. Proby who has carted flour, grain, &c., for many years to supply the wants of our citizens, died on Tuesday evening last after a brief illness. He had been in the employ of Messrs. Loud & Co. for a long time, and will be much missed by them. He was a good citizen—very industrious and highly respected.

MESSRS. TURNER & CO., Proprietors of Turner's The Douloureux or Universal Neuralgia Pill, have removed their manufactory and salesroom from No. 120 to No. 137 Tremont Street. Their new factory and salesroom occupies a building 100 feet deep, 26 feet wide, and 5 stories high. Messrs. Turner & Co. are to occupy the whole of this building, which is so arranged, that there will be ample space for the accommodation of 200 operatives, who will produce ready for sale, goods to the amount of $5000 to $6000 daily. Their salesroom on the lower floor is one of the most convenient and elegant in Boston, and adapted by its size to the constantly increasing business.

CONCERT. The Singing School, numbering one hundred and twenty-five voices which has been taught the past winter by Mr. H. B. Brown, will give a concert some evening during the first week in May, and judging from the number of pupils and the reputation the teacher enjoys of giving first-class musical entertainments, we think this well worthy the patronage of all.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN. This is to certify that Dio Lewis' system of Gymnastics is on the whole, in my opinion, the most reasonable and the most beneficial of all systems now in vogue. And I desire to express my hope that the efforts of Mr. Godard to form classes in Quincy may meet with perfect success.
JOHN D. WELLS.
Quincy, April 13th, 1868.

WE would call attention to the fine AMERICAN ORGAN, manufactured by S. D. & H. W. Smith, Boston, (Mass.), containing two banks of keys and fourteen stops, which was used at the musical convention, to assist in supporting the chorus. At the concert, the deep sub bass notes were plainly manifest above the three hundred voices in the grand Hallelujah chorus, while in the accompaniment of the solo, "He was despised." The touching effects of the tremolo, with the soft stops, was strikingly exhibited.—Burlington Sentinel.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 21, 1868.

On Wednesday, the 15th, Stanley not having recovered, Evans announced that they would proceed with the documentary evidence, which was accordingly done under the superintendence of Curtis. The same day the Lincoln Monument was dedicated in front of the City Hall. It is made of marble and is forty-two feet high. The base is an octagon, six feet high, on which rests a circular tapering column eighteen feet in height. A moulded cap, four feet by two, rests upon the shaft, surmounted by the statue of Lincoln, apparently life-size, standing erect, and looking toward the Capitol. It was erected by contributions from the citizens of Washington, who thus honor him more when dead than while living. Mayor Wallace so planned it, as to allow no one but John Adams to take part in the ceremonies. Grant was present but took a back seat, in the office of the Superintendent of Police. President Johnson unveiled the statue amid the cheers of many thousands who were assembled; cheers, not for his Presidency, but for the great Emancipator. A large portion of those present were colored persons, who idolize the name of Lincoln. When Johnson came down the steps, he took of his hat, and bowed low to the throng on each side. An old colored man was asked, "Why don't you cheer your Moses?" "Why don't you cheer your Moses?" "Why don't you cheer your Moses?" "Why don't you cheer your Moses?"

"No sir, Boss, he nare Moses, he Pharo," was the reply.
Tuesday, the Counsel for Gen. Thomas testified in regard to the custody of Ad interim, in the Supreme Court of the District. Sharp debate ensued between Butler and Evans, both sides using rather severe epithets. Butler humorously referred to a letter he had just received from one of the Ku Klux Klan, which contained the following:
"Butler prepare to meet thy God. The avenger is on thy track. Hell is your lot."

Such letters are constantly being received by some of the radical leaders.
The same day occurred the celebration of the sixth anniversary of emancipation in the District of Columbia. It is said that seven or eight thousand colored men were in the procession, the most of whom were voters. They marched six miles or more in the rain and mud. Colfax remarked to the barber in the morning, that "He had rather do that by proxy."
"Well, Mr. Speaker," said the barber, "if like us, you had been emancipated from slavery, perhaps, like us, you would be willing to wade a few miles through mud and water."

On Friday, there were many distinguished characters in the galleries. On the floor of the Senate, were Secretaries Wells, Seward, McCulloch, Randall and Browning, of the President's Cabinet, Gen. Sherman, and Gen. Geary, of Pennsylvania. An order was made that the Court recess, meet at 11 o'clock, instead of 12. A. Newspapers publishers and reporters, were examined and testified to substantially the same as those summoned by the Managers in regard to the President's Cleveland and St. Louis speeches. Frederick Seward testified as to the manner of making Consular appointments in the State Department.—Gideon Wells was next sworn, but his testimony was objected to by Butler, and the most of the day was spent in debate.

Saturday was what Simon Cameron called an honest day. The Counsel were prevented from putting in as evidence, the opinions of the President's Cabinet in the Tenure of Office Act. All the Cabinet were present and expected to be sworn, but the ruling of the Senate forbade it. Post Master General Randall testified to some appointments he had made in his department, similar to the President's ad interim appointment. The defence then announced that they had offered all their testimony.

Monday, Randall was recalled by the Managers, but his testimony was ruled out. Boutwell then stated that he was ready to go on with the closing argument, but would prefer to take the next day for it. Evans requested the Court to adjourn until Wednesday when it was hoped Stanley might be present. The Managers not objecting, the Court and the Senate adjourned until that time. It is understood that Boutwell will occupy the time Wednesday, Evans that of Thursday, Stanley Friday and Saturday, Bingaman Monday and Tuesday. The Senate will not probably come to a vote before the last of the week. That vote will be for impeachment, the general impression to the country notwithstanding. The occupants of the White House are getting ready to emigrate to a more genial climate. Percy has just interested me by introducing Mr. Q, one of the sons of Quincy. Quite a pleasant chat occurred, when he found out that Quincy was my native place. Strangers are flocking to the city to hear the closing argument. If Johnson is let alone, depend upon it he will resign before many days. He came into power by accident, and don't like the idea of going out by impeachment. If you need a tailor in Quincy, now is the time to secure him. Andrew is sure of making tight fits.

CONVENTION AT SOUTH WEYMOUTH. There was a large and interesting convention of Churches held on Friday of last week, at South Weymouth. Rev. J. T. Wilson presided, Rev. E. P. Thwing was Scribe. Among the speakers, was Mr. Needham, an earnest Irish Evangelist, just arrived from England. Mr. Durant preached in the evening. Rev. J. P. Terry, of South Weymouth, is laid aside from pastoral work, and softening of the brain is feared.

EAST ABINGTON. The first train of cars ever seen in this village entered last week—a gravel train, but an earnest of what will be as soon as the Haverford Branch is finished a few weeks hence. "Double-enders" will be used on this road, a kind of locomotive not often seen in this part of the country.

ITS GOOD EFFECTS ARE PERMANENT. In this it differs from all hair dyes. By its use luxuriant growth is guaranteed, natural color and gloss are restored. One trial will cause you to say this of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED (new style) HAIR RESTORER OR DRESSING, (in one bottle). Every druggist sells it. Price One Dollar. A 4—1m

HON. CHARLES SUMNER,

On the Powers of the Chief Justice as Presiding Officer of the Impeachment Court.

The masterly and irrefutable argument of Senator Sumner on the powers of the Chief Justice as Presiding Officer of the Senate, sitting as a High Court of Impeachment for the trial of the President, which was delivered before the Senate in secret session, should be carefully perused by all who have doubts as to the functions of Mr. Chase, as Presiding Officer of the Court. An unbroken series of authorities against the claim made by the Chief Justice, of the right to rule or vote, are cited in his argument, which must convince every unprejudiced thinker, that the Chief Justice has not even the right to vote on an interlocutory question. As yet, as is stated by Mr. Sumner, the Chief Justice has not assumed to give any but the casting vote. But it must be seen that if the Chief Justice has the power to vote when the Senate is equally divided, he has the right to have a voice in the proceedings when the Senate is not equally divided. The Constitution explicitly says that the Chief Justice shall preside when the President is on trial, but it does not even tacitly imply that he is at all endowed with powers other than those which belong to the Presiding Officer of the Senate; that is, the Vice President of the United States, who is made by the Constitution the Presiding Officer of the Senate.

Mr. Calhoun, who became Vice President in 1825, ingeniously and logically gave a clear exposition of his duties as Presiding Officer of the Senate.

Mr. Calhoun says, in words eminently applicable to the present occasion:—
"I affirm that as a Presiding Officer, the President has no inherent power whatever, of doing what the Senate may prescribe by its rules, be such a power."
"There are, indeed, inherent powers, but they are in the body, and not in the officer. He is a mere agent to exercise the will of the former. He can exercise no power which he does not hold by delegation, express or implied."—Calhoun's Life and Speeches: p. p. 17.

And again, he says:
"There is not the least analogy between the rights and duties of a Judge and those of a Presiding Officer in a deliberative assembly. The analogy is in the other way. It is between the Court and the House."
It would be extremely difficult to answer this reasoning of Mr. Calhoun, but Mr. Sumner in his usual exhaustive manner has supported his views with copious illustrations, gleaned from the records of English Parliamentary Law. Starting from the authoritative text in the Constitution, he quotes from Lord Coke in his Fourth Institute. From Sir William Blackstone, in his Commentaries; from Mr. May, Lord Campbell, Sir Walter Raleigh, Barclay's Digest, and an innumerable number of others, considered standing authority in all departments of national jurisprudence. In fact, Mr. Sumner shows beyond cavil, that the Chief Justice in his present position, has no power, either implied or expressly derived from the Constitution or Laws to vote or rule. He is simply the Presiding Officer, and by reading Mr. Sumner's argument, and referring to the eminent authorities cited by him, an intelligent idea can be gained of the duties of the Chief Justice.

This great argument of Mr. Sumner's, considering that in some respects, he was not so fully sustained as he should have been, will be read with great interest. The characteristic powers of research, the perspicuity and force of language which he displays, only add another evidence of the vastness of his foresight and intelligence, which has long since placed him high upon the pinnacle of statesmanship.

Every member of the Mt. Wollaston Lodge is requested to be present at the next meeting. See notice.

ACQUITTAL. We would call attention of those in want of Furniture to a sale on Monday next, at one o'clock, over C. T. Reed's Store,—belonging to Miss Currier.

Summary Intelligence.

A Vermont named William Bailey has been arrested for too much murder. He had given portions of his heart and hand to six females who were afraid of being old maids and consequently accepted a sixth of his affections and goods.

State Constable Jones reports that two thousand seven hundred and seventy-nine new liquor shops have been set up in this State since the 5th of September last—and as yet not a license has been issued.

Since 1848, the territory west of the Rocky Mountains has produced precious metals to the value of $1,255,000,000 of which $900,000,000 came from California alone.

A citizen of Winthrop, Me., has drank nearly a pound of tea per week lately hoping that it might restore a waning memory.

There are two merchants, one lawyer, one physician, and one minister who have been at their different vocations for more than fifty years at Newburyport.

The best of loose hay is selling in Bangor Me., for from $15 to $16 per ton.

The St. Lawrence County (N. Y.) farmers saved their spring wheat in March—the earliest sowing within the memory of the "oldest inhabitant."

The Natural Bridge of Virginia is advertised for sale by public auction on the 25th of April.

PROCTOR'S GRUB EXTERMINATOR. THIS ARTICLE is far superior to anything yet produced for the destruction of GRUBS and other insects. It will not injure the tree, will not dry up, and cannot be washed off. Full directions accompany each can. Five B. can, $1.50; Ten B. $2.50; Twenty-five B. $5.00. Orders accompanied with the money will receive prompt attention, and the EXTERMINATOR delivered to any express office in Boston free of charge. Address PROCTOR BROTHERS, Gloucester, Mass.

FIRE. In South Braintree, on Monday morning, the house of Mr. D. F. Leonard was entirely destroyed by fire with all its contents. Loss twelve hundred dollars, and insured for eight hundred.

There is a "champion baptizer" out West, who dips forty-six persons in twenty minutes.

A gentleman has just married in New Orleans a lady from whom he had been divorced twenty years.

MAY FESTIVAL. The return of this gala day in the order of the season, when Nature it is expected will be dressed in her gayest attire to welcome her worshippers, will be celebrated by the pupils of the Coddington School, at the Town Hall, on Friday next, 1st instant, to which, a respectful invitation is extended to the members of all the other schools, to participate. The order of exercises are of an interesting character: Music—vocal and instrumental, dancing, games, etc., but more especially commemorative, raising a May Pole and crowning the Queen. To the young, the advent of this day, brings the most pleasant emotions. It is the spring-time of new born hopes—and as the whole management will be under the supervision of Mr. Brown, the Principal, it is fair to presume, that their brightest anticipations or floral dreams will all be fully realized. See notice.

FOR SALE.

LUMBER Wagon, Planing Machine, and the Carpenter's Shop, situated near the residence of Mr. George Jones, in the "Hollow." Apply to HENRY G. PRATT.

FOR BOOT CRIMPERS.

ONE Crimping Machine and a lot of Forms in good order. J. AREY, Jr.

TOMATO PLANTS.

A LARGE lot of Tomato Plants of the best variety. For sale by J. AREY, Jr.

JUST RECEIVED.

A LARGE lot of Cottage and Round Corners! Bostons for sale at greatly reduced prices. Please call and examine. N. B. FURNALD.

Dog Collars.

A VARIETY of Patterns and sizes, for sale and engraved with initials. JOHN O. HOLDEN'S.

LOOK! LOOK!

AT THE PRICES FOR

MEN'S AND BOYS'

Fine, Medium Low-Price

CLOTHING!

COATS, { $3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26 and 30.

PANTS, { $2, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

VESTS, { $1.50, 2, 2.25, 2.50, 3, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6 and 7.

BOYS'

Garibaldi and Grecian Suits.

$3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

JACKETS, { $2, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7 and 8.

PANTS, { $1.50, 2, 2.25, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7 and 8.

SACKS, { $3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16.

VESTS, { $1, 1.25, 1.50, 1.75, 2, 2.50, 3, 3.50 and 4.

BENNETT & CO'S

One Price House,

14 & 15 Dock Square,

BOSTON.

April 25, 2m

Paper Hangings.

A SMALL lot of House Paper for sale Cheap. J. AREY, Jr.

PROTECT YOUR FRUIT TREES

BY USING

Procter's Grub Exterminator.

THIS ARTICLE is far superior to anything yet produced for the destruction of GRUBS and other insects. It will not injure the tree, will not dry up, and cannot be washed off. Full directions accompany each can. Five B. can, $1.50; Ten B. $2.50; Twenty-five B. $5.00. Orders accompanied with the money will receive prompt attention, and the EXTERMINATOR delivered to any express office in Boston free of charge. Address PROCTOR BROTHERS, Gloucester, Mass.

FOR KIDNEY DISEASES USE

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

HERR DREISBACH'S

MENAGERIE

AND HOWE'S Transatlantic Circus.

CONJOINTLY, FORM THE BEST AND LARGEST SHOW

OF THE SEASON.

The widely-known and deserved popular HERR DREISBACH presents his ENTIRE CARAVAN! And at solely exhibits more Wild Beasts and Curious Birds than have ever been concentrated in one Concern.

EIGHTEEN FULL DENS

Of Living Animals, from all parts of the Globe.

Including a Wapette, or East India Aquatic Buffalo, the Dodo African Elephant, Lions, Tigers, Hyenas, Bears, Leopards, Cockatoos, Parrots, and all kinds of Birds, Monkeys, Apes, Baboons, &c.

FOR SALE.

LUMBER Wagon, Planing Machine, and the Carpenter's Shop, situated near the residence of Mr. George Jones, in the "Hollow." Apply to HENRY G. PRATT.

FOR BOOT CRIMPERS.

ONE Crimping Machine and a lot of Forms in good order. J. AREY, Jr.

TOMATO PLANTS.

A LARGE lot of Tomato Plants of the best variety. For sale by J. AREY, Jr.

JUST RECEIVED.

A LARGE lot of Cottage and Round Corners! Bostons for sale at greatly reduced prices. Please call and examine. N. B. FURNALD.

Dog Collars.

A VARIETY of Patterns and sizes, for sale and engraved with initials. JOHN O. HOLDEN'S.

LOOK! LOOK!

AT THE PRICES FOR

MEN'S AND BOYS'

Fine, Medium Low-Price

CLOTHING!

COATS, { $3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26 and 30.

PANTS, { $2, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

VESTS, { $1.50, 2, 2.25, 2.50, 3, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6 and 7.

BOYS'

Garibaldi and Grecian Suits.

$3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

JACKETS, { $2, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7 and 8.

PANTS, { $1.50, 2, 2.25, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7 and 8.

SACKS, { $3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16.

VESTS, { $1, 1.25, 1.50, 1.75, 2, 2.50, 3, 3.50 and 4.

BENNETT & CO'S

One Price House,

14 & 15 Dock Square,

BOSTON.

April 25, 2m

Paper Hangings.

A SMALL lot of House Paper for sale Cheap. J. AREY, Jr.

PROTECT YOUR FRUIT TREES

BY USING

Procter's Grub Exterminator.

THIS ARTICLE is far superior to anything yet produced for the destruction of GRUBS and other insects. It will not injure the tree, will not dry up, and cannot be washed off. Full directions accompany each can. Five B. can, $1.50; Ten B. $2.50; Twenty-five B. $5.00. Orders accompanied with the money will receive prompt attention, and the EXTERMINATOR delivered to any express office in Boston free of charge. Address PROCTOR BROTHERS, Gloucester, Mass.

FOR KIDNEY DISEASES USE

Dr. Fuller's Buchu.

CANES, CANES.

A FEW very new styles of Box, Cane, and other wood Canes, manufactured by an inmate of the National Sailors' Home. For sale at JOHN O. HOLDEN'S, 87 Hancock Street.

BRICKS FOR SALE!

THE Subscriber has a quantity of Bricks at the Quincy Depot, for sale. For price, &c., apply to WILLIAM RHINES, or Wm. H. FRENCH, South Quincy.

Mortgagee's Sale.

PURSUANT to, and in execution of the power of sale, mortgage deed from FREDERICK GEORGE, to me, dated May 15th, 1866, and recorded in Notary Registry of Deeds, Lib. 242, Fol. 30, for breach of the condition of said mortgage, [the equity of redemption in the premises] I do hereby give notice that I shall sell and dispose of the same, all and singular the mortgage premises hereinafter described, and all benefit and equity of redemption of said premises in said mortgage, having been conveyed by one EDWARD MUND to the said FREDERICK GEORGE, and the said FREDERICK GEORGE, to the said JOHN O. HOLDEN, on the 14th day of May at five o'clock, P. M., in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

The mortgaged premises are thus described:—A certain tract or parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in West Roxbury, in said

CANES.

of Box, Cane, and manufactured by an in-
HOLDEN'S.
37 Hancock Street.

OR SALE!

quantity of Bricks at Sale.
WILLIAM RHINES, at 37 Hancock Street.

Sale.

Execution of the power vested by a certain Will from FREDERICK May 15, 1866, and revey of D. S. L. 212, condition of said mort-
in the premises, city, having been by one EDMUND
Notice is hereby
I caused all and singular hereinafter described, entireties, administrators, and executors, to sell
the said land, to wit:
five acres of P. M. in thousand eight hundred es are thus described:

of land with the building, in said
bounded as follows:
a point in the South-on the North-westerly North-westerly, and
and six links; thence and six links, and bounded now or formerly by and eighty links to a point in the North-westerly North-westerly, and thence measuring on and eighty links to the corner of the N. M. H. EDMOND,
1868, Ap 23-34

ND LAND

Sale!

Auction, on THURSDAY, at 2 o'clock P. M., of the late estate of said side of Liberty Street,
South of the Broadway is a small Barn and
of land, with a number
of excellent water, purchase money down
the house. If the pur-for interest for one year and the house will be the house.

Sale of

RN & LAND

INCY.

lie Auction, on MONday, at 2 o'clock P. M., of the late estate of
said side of Liberty Street,
South of the Broadway
is a small Barn and
of land, with a number
of excellent water,
purchase money down
the house. If the pur-
for interest for one year and the house will be the house.

D GOODS

CAP.

Cultural Tools and Imple-fire and water, on the the lot and at prices to suit are invited to call and aged by water 75 Cents.

D Flower Seeds,

constantly on hand.

BELCHER & CO.

nial Row.

NERY!

HUSSEY

patrons and the Ladies has removed to BUILDING.

at favors, respectfully sod SUMMER

NERY.

VE CLOTHES made to

dred, Bleached & Dyed.

attny attended to

K & GRANITE, STS.

Up Stairs.

to Let.

R sons very convenient.

New-Old Colony Depot.

G. W. KENSON,

Washington Street.

nd LAND

to Let.

Two-Story House, with and 14 acres of Washington street, about from the railroad depot, schools, &c.

to JOHN H. VEAZIE,

Attorney Office.

i-Scrofula Syrup.

valuable Symp. de-licie.

has E. HAYDEN,

Washington Square.

Going!

at very low prices.

ABERCROMBIE.

11.

A QUEER PERMIT. A sexton, at on of the Cemetery not many miles from here, who had dug the grave, and was waiting for the funeral, on Thursday afternoon in the rain, received the permit as he supposed to bury the corpse, but owing to the disagreeable weather, he placed the same in his pocket without carefully examining it, until he arrived home, when to his surprise he found it to be a bill of the weight of a load of coal.

THAT IRON IS VALUABLE AS A MEDICINE has long been known, but it is only since the preparation of it in the particular form of Peruvian Syrup was discovered that its full power over disease has been brought to light. Its effect in cases of dyspepsia and debility is most salutary.

A CARD.
The Subscriber would return his heartfelt gratitude to Captain Joseph White,
Mr. George R. Derry, and the Wright Brothers—Captains and crew of the Sloop Abbie White—for their prompt exertions in rescuing him from his perilous voyage, on the 18th inst. Also, for the kindness shown by furnishing food and clothing while on board the Sloop. Your kind acts are highly appreciated, and it is my wish that you accept something more substantial than this in return.

W. G. PRESCOTT.

Quincy, April 25. 1w

Special Notices.

NOTICE. The New Gymnastic Club of Quincy, will meet at the Hancock House Hall, this SATURDAY EVEN-ING, April 25th at 7 1/2 o'clock.
Children's Class meet at 3 P. M. All wishing to unite with the club are invited.
April 25. 1w

MAY FESTIVAL.

The pupils of the Coddington Grammar School intend to hold a Children's Festival, in the Town Hall, on FRIDAY May 1st, in which all the School Children of the town may participate. The exercises will consist of vocal and instrumental music, dancing, games, &c.
Joe Creams and Refreshments will be on sale.
An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged to defray expenses.
April 25. 1w

NOTICE.

The next regular meeting of Mt. Wollaston Lodge, will be held on THURSDAY EVENING next, at 8 o'clock, at which every member is requested to be present, as business of vital importance to the Lodge will come before them at that time.

Per order W. C. T.

April 25th. 1w

DOGS!

Owners or keepers of Dogs in this town are reminded that said Dogs must be numbered and registered at the office of the undersigned before the expiration of the present month. Dogs which were registered in Quincy in 1867, can retain the same numbers this year, if their owners make early application therefor.
GEO. L. GILL, Town Clerk.

Quincy, April 18. 3w

THE BEST STYLES

Of Umbrellas. SHUTE & SON, 173 Washington street, Boston.

Finest On Cartons—Dealers supplied at reduced prices.
Having purchased the stock of a bankrupt manufacturer,
we offer the same to dealers in lots to suit, at much less than manufacturers' prices. This stock of Old Cloths comprises over 1000 styles of assorted widths, are enamel faded and modern styles. Also, after shirtings, 12, 18 and 24 inch wide. Our retail customers will be supplied at the wholesale prices. NEW ENGLAND CARPET CO., 57
Hawthorne Street, Boston.

TAPESTRY and RUGS. Don't pay the High Prices. We are constantly receiving from the auction trade sale in New York, supplies of English Tapestries and Brussels. NEW ENGLAND CARPET CO., 57
Hawthorne Street, Boston.

CARPETS FOR THE MILLION at half value—20 cents per yard. The only Carpet for as low price, that is made of good style and genuine materials. These Carpets cost nearly a dollar per yard to produce them. The manufacturers having stopped the production, we have bought the entire product on hand—600 rolls, and our customers will be supplied at 50 cents per yard. NEW ENGLAND
CARPET CO., 57 Hawthorne Street, Boston.

CARPETS at REDUCED PRICES. Tapestries, Brussels,
2-Plys, Kidderminster, Floor Oil Cloths, Cotton Matting, just opened by the NEW ENGLAND CARPET CO., 57 Hawthorne Street, Boston.

FUR GOODS

On sale at all seasons of the year. SHUTE &
SON, Importers and Manufacturers, 173 Washington street, Boston. April 25—2m

A CARD.

The Subscriber wishes to return his many thanks to the public of Quincy and vicinity, for the liberal patronage bestowed upon him within the past four years, and would state that he is now better prepared than ever to furnish good music, where it is required, having secured the services of Mr. George Monk, who is a first class violinist, and whose talent is too widely known to need comment.
All orders should be made to R. G. EL-LIOTT, George Monk, B. Watson, or J.
Paine.
Quincy, Nov. 16. 1w

NOTICE.

Bills against the Fire Department will not be approved by the Engineers, or paid by the Selectmen, unless ordered by the Engineers.

WASHINGTON M. FRENCH,
Chief Engineer.

Quincy, June 8. 1w

Deaths.

In this town, on the 17th inst., Mr.
Benjamin C. C. White, aged 44 years, 2 months and 5 days.

On the 21st inst., Mr. Nathaniel B.
Proddy, aged 61 years, 3 months and 4 days.

On the 21st inst., Mary E., daughter of Mr. Wm. F. and Mrs. Eleanor E.
Maybury, aged 8 months.

In Braintree, on the 21st inst., Mr.
Howard Willis, aged 72 years, 11 months and 25 days.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Restore Your Sight.

SPECTACLES AND SURAL OPERATIONS. REN-DERED USELESS THE INDETERMINABLE BLES-
ING OF SIGHT IS MADE PERPETUAL BY THE
USE OF THE NEW PATENT LENSES FOR THE EYE CUPS.

Many of our most eminent Physicians, Oculists, Sindents and Doctors have had their sight restored and permanently cured of—

1. Impaired Vision.
2. Presbyopia, or Far Sightedness.
3. Astigmatism, or Weak Eyes.
4. Epithelium—Running or Watery Eyes.
5. Weakness of the Retina, or Optic Nerve.
6. Ophthalmia, or Inflammation of the Eye and its appendages.
7. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light.
8. Phoria, or Falling of the Eye-lids.
9. Myopia, seeing moving specks or floating bodies before the Eye.
10. Anisometropia, or Uncertainty of Vision.
11. Cataracts, Partial Blindness, and the Worst Disorders of the Eye.

ANY ONE can use the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

Over 2000 certificates of cures where a cure was previously guaranteed, may be seen at our office.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles; or, if wearing
new, to lay them aside forever.

For sale by the Ivory Eye Cups, without the aid of
DOCTORS or MEDICINE as it is so simple and permanent, and never wears spectacles

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents per annum in advance, and delayed until the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESBUTT, Printer.
Also—Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

POST OFFICE.
Mails open 8 30 A. M., and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M., and 5 15 P. M.
Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
95 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 1/2 P. M.—other hours in Quincy.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing,
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

Dr. Roundy & Wife,
CLAIRVOYANT, MAGNETIC AND
ELECTRIC PHYSICIANS,
ON QUINCY AVENUE,
Near the corner of School and Elm Sts.
Quincy, March 14.

WOODS & HOSMER,
Market Eating House,
No. 46 North Market St.,
CORNER OF MERCHANT'S ROW
BOSTON
Sept. 14.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Oxfords and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to Measure.
No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6.

FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warerooms, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,
No. 4 HAYWARD PLACE.
4th door from Washington street at No. 348.
GIVES special attention to Epilepsy, to all Nervous Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Tongue and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical Colleges, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.
His books on medical subjects may be had at his office or will be sent by mail for the following price:—
"Epilepsy," 50 cents.
"Inhalation," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.
"Clinical Health," 40 cents.
"The Boston," 40 cents.
Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says, "The Boston" is adapted to do great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm.
H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Harvard College, says, "By the publication of this book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."
Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all our young men." Aug. 17.

Worst Goods at Cost
AT M'LELLAN'S

Parlor Cue Alley.
TO LET, A Parlor Cue Alley, nearly new,
in perfect order, by
JOSEPH AREY, Jr.
Quincy, Feb. 22.

Worst Goods at Cost
AT M'LELLAN'S

Worst Goods at Cost
AT M'LELLAN'S

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 2, 1868.

NUMBER 18.

CHEAP CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.
Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.
AYER'S PILLS, 20 CTS.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.
Brown's Troches, 25 cts.
BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.
Hoops Skirts 87 cts.
Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.
STATIONERY
STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.
DRESS GOODS,
WORKING PANTS CHEAP.
PANT CLOTHS.
German and American Corsets.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 22 cts.
FICS & ORANGES.
Hair Braids, 85 cts.
BEADS, BEADS
Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM
MADE
Pants and Vests
VERY LOW.
HATS & CAPS
Perforated Card Board,
Gilt Paper,
Drawing Paper,
Blotting Paper,
Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES
BELOW COST
to close out.
J. A. M'LELLAN,
NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.
Quincy, Feb. 22.

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"
almost questioned when we see it repeated.
LORING'S PATENT
IRON WATERSTOP
THRESHOLD!
Call and see it. Every house needs it.
BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

THE STAR BURNER
A new patent Kerosene Burner, superior to the Sun Burner for Sale by the Subscribers.
—ALSO—
The American Foot Stove!
An excellent article for the parlor or sitting room. Very comfortable and durable; free from all danger of fire, therefore a valuable article to take when you wish to enjoy a sleigh-ride.
Call and examine.
C. F. & J. W. PIERCE.
Quincy, Dec. 14.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH COUGHS, COLDS,
HOARSENESS,
OR BRONCHITIS,
USE VEAZIE'S
Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squirrels.
The Simplest and Most Effectual Remedy known.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

Parlor Cue Alley.
TO LET, A Parlor Cue Alley, nearly new,
in perfect order, by
JOSEPH AREY, Jr.
Quincy, Feb. 22.

TREES.
Wollaston Nursery
The Subscriber has for Sale
On reasonable Terms, At his Nursery,
ON WOLLASTON AVENUE,
A large variety of Hardy and
Ornamental Trees & Shrubs
Both Native and European, among which are
DECIDUOUS TREES:
American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elm; Norway, Spruce, Red, Ash-leaved and Scarlet Maple; English and Turkey Oak;—Common and Weeping Ash; —Sycamore and Tyndale Larches;—American and English Limes;—Tulip Trees;—English and Purple Beeches; —English Sycamores;—Beech Chestnuts, &c.
EVERGREENS:
Norway, Black and Hemlock Spruce;—Scotch, Austrian, Mugho, Cypress, and Corsican Pines;—Arbor Vitræ, &c.
FLOWERING SHRUBS:
Althea;—Wigolias;—Forsythias;—Scarlet Dogwood;
—Mahonias;—Box-leaved Evergreen & Common Privet;
—Rhododendrons;—Lauras;—Spiræas;—Syringes; &c.
Also, a good assortment of
Fruit Trees, and Small Fruit, viz:
Pears—20 Varieties—Apples—10 do.—Peaches of the best sorts—Plum and Cherry—Raspberries—Yewsawle and Cherry Currants—Triomphe de Gand Strawberry Plants;—Concord, Hartford Prolific—Roger's Hartford, Iowa, Jernalla, &c. Grape Vines.
Amongst the Peaches are the Early, and a limited supply of the Golden Dwarf, a comparatively new variety, rarely growing more than five feet high, of beautiful foliage and form, hardy and prolific, fruit excellent.
Many of the above trees have been recently imported,
and being consequently of small size, a good opportunity is afforded to those who wish to plant large numbers, to procure them at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere.
Persons wishing to plant ornamental or fruit trees are invited to call at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere.
All orders given to Mr.

JAMES M. BECKFORD,
will be promptly filled.
GEORGE EATON.
Wollaston April, 4.

Strawberry, Blackberry,
AND RASPBERRY PLANTS
For Sale.
Jacunda, Agriculturist, Lady of the Lake, Monitor, Brooklyn, La Constant,
Scarlet, Col. Ellsworth, Russell's Prolific,
and Hovey's Strawberry Plants. Lawton
and Dorchest. Blackberry. Franconia
Raspberry. Giant Asparagus roots; Hartford Prolific and Concord Grape vines.
Also, a few early Goodrich Potatoes.
WILLIAM G. PRESBUTT,
Quincy, April 11.

GARDEN SEEDS
For the Spring of 1868.
JOS. BRECK & SON
would call attention to their collection of Garden and Flower Seeds,
embracing everything worthy of cultivation.
No seeds but such as we know to be the
FIRST QUALITY, raised by ourselves or imported,
are ever offered for sale at our establishment.
After an experience of forty years, we believe that we can say that we are a trustworthy PORTED AS TO THE WANTS OF THE FARMER AND GARDENER.
We have everything new and all well known and tried varieties of Seeds, which we offer at
the lowest cash prices.
For full particulars send for descriptive catalogues which will be sent gratis.
JOSEPH BRECK & SON,
51 & 52 North Market St., Boston.
March 28.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood
Agricultural Warehouse,
—AND—
SEED STORE,
49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row, offer a large assortment of the best Agricultural Implements,
MACHINERY & TOOLS,
OF ALL KINDS,
Buckeye Mowing Machines, Whitcomb's
Reaper Rakes, Palmers' Horse
Pitchforks,
Are sold exclusively by us.
Garden, Field and Flower Seeds.
Our large and well selected stock of Seeds, grown by EXPERIENCED SEEDSMEN in Europe and America, the quality of which is not and cannot be surpassed, is offered in quantities to suit.
Grass Seeds, Seed Grain, in all their varieties.
Hungarian Grass, Millet, &c.
Seed Potatoes—Early Goodrich, Early Shee, Early Blue, Greenback, &c.
FERTILIZERS.
Guano, Super-phosphate of Lime, Bone Dust, Gumbo, &c.
GRAFTING WAX, made expressly for our trade—
WALKER'S OIL SOAP, genuine olive oil, and BONE
MEAL for feeding.
All orders and inquiries by mail or express, will meet with prompt attention. Tool, vegetable and Flower Seeds, sent upon application to Parker, Gannett & Osgood,
BOSTON, Mass.
March 28.—2m.

A Good Assortment
Kept Constantly on hand
YOU will constantly find at the Citizen's Market all kinds of Meat of the best quality,
at the Lowest Cash Prices.
Also, all kinds of Fresh and Smoked Fish,
Turnips, Beets, Squashes, Beans of all kinds; Cauliflower, Sweet Potatoes, Cucumbers, Pickles, Sweet Apples for preserves; Peaches, Nuts, Citron, Jellies, Bottle Pickles of all kinds; Lemons, Figs, &c. application to
Also, the very best of White Wine Vinegar.
All orders promptly attended to.
S. T. ALLEN.
Quincy, April 25.

FOR SALE!
A FULL Set of Carpenters' Tools, for Sale
Cheap.
J. AREY, Jr.
Quincy, Feb. 8.

Poetry.
THE FOLLOWING LINES TO THE MEMORY OF ALICE E. SPEAR,
Were spoken by one of her Class,
At the Sabbath School Concert, at the METHODIST CHURCH, NEWBURY.
The pleasant Spring has come again;
And soon will come the flowers;
But Alice never can return
To this fair world of ours.
The voice, that mingled in our strains,
Forevermore is hushed;
The form, so full of earnest life,
Mingles with kindred dust.
Dear Schoolmate! she has passed away
In her early bloom;
And Death too soon his seal has set,
And laid her in the tomb.
And there her body slumbers now,
And we miss her by our side;
Spreads its light wings, and soars to God,
Beyond Death's dark control.
No light of sin, nor grief, nor pain,
Will ever reach her there;
Oh, may we meet her once again
In regions ever fair!
She loved to meet with Christians here;
She loved to sing of Heaven;
And now, in humble hope, we trust
Is breathing, "It is well!"
"She is not lost, but gone before!"
To the bright world above;
But oh, we think of her in tears,
We think of her in love!
We miss her in the house of God,
Where Christians' prayers unite;
And much we miss her by our side;
We miss her to-night!
But, ah! within the earthly home
Her presence made so bright,
A dark and fearful shadow falls,
And gone, its pleasant light!
And stricken hearts are bending low,
And yearning for their dead;
And fondest bosoms rent with woe,
Where rested her young head.
But, oh, they mourn not without hope,— While floods of anguish swell,
"A still small voice," within the heart
Is breathing, "It is well!"
Yes, weeping parents "It is well!"
To know that "God is love!"
That love, exceeding throne, has called Thy cherished one above.
Oh, may the holy thoughts of her
The troubled spirit bless!
And leading mercy, hope serene,
Spring up amid distress!
Farewell, dear Alice! now farewell,
And peaceful be thy rest;
We would not call thee back again!
Who art so early blest.

Interesting Selections.
LEMON PIES. Stir together a piece of butter the size of an egg, and sugar to your taste; after beating well, add the yolks of 6 eggs; the grated peel of 2 lemons; tablespoonful of flour; add the juice of the 2 lemons and beaten whites of 6 eggs; 1 quart sweet cream; bake in deep plates.
A CURE FOR WHOOPING COUGH.— Inhaling the odors of a gas house for the cure of whooping cough is found to be of real benefit. In Hartford, Conn., children are taken to the gas works, where they breathe the not very pleasant air there produced, and there is something in the chemical combination that cures them of whooping cough. During the past year three hundred cases have been thus experimented upon with success.

An Irishman wishing to express his idea of the inexhaustible supply of fish in the Irish waters said that there are so many fish in the sea that if you were to take every fish you could catch out of it, he didn't think there would be one less in it.
It is asserted that magnets lost almost their entire power in the vicinity of graveyards, and electrical machines are similarly affected under the same circumstances.
Be always frank and true; spurn every sort of affectation and disguise.
Have the courage to confess your ignorance and awkwardness. Confide your faults and follies to but few.
A woman's idea of "clever," as applied to a man, is that of an unmitigated fool. If gentlemen ever receive that compliment the sooner they are inside their great coats and outside the door, the better for themselves and those who pay them the compliment.
Wait, mother, before you speak harshly to the little chubby rogue who has torn his apron and soiled his white Marseilles jacket. He is only a child, and "mother" is the sweetest and most sacred word in all the world to him. Needle and thread and soap suds will repair all damage now but if you once teach him to shrink from his mother and hide away his childish faults, that damage cannot be repaired!

Glycerine, as an article of food, as a nutriment, is well worthy of being brought into public notice. Sweet oil, in Palestine and other old countries, has for ages been used as an article of daily food; and glycerine may be considered as the essence of pure "sweet," that is "olive oil."
Never enter a sick room in a state of perspiration, as the moment you become cool your pores absorb. Do not approach contagious diseases with an empty stomach, nor sit between the sick and the fire, because the heat attracts the vapor.
A torn jacket is soon mended, but hard words tear a child's heart.

Miscellany.

AN OLD MAID.
Fifty-six years old to-day, Jane; that's just it; fifty-six years!
I'm sure I don't know why I shouldn't say so. It's none of my business it is, that I'm fifty-six years old? Most people would be fifty-six years old if they lived long enough. What if a body does wear caps and spectacles, and has been bothered with false teeth these ten years?
Caps are as warm as toast these winter days, and very becoming, too, if you put blue ribbon in,—and how I should look without any! He in a pretty fix if it weren't for my spectacles now, shouldn't
I? knocking round the house like a bat.
And sewing every body's sleeves in bottom side top for 'em. As for teeth, I should like to know if it isn't a mercy to have any of any sort, when Providence has pulled out your own for you, and if you've any business to mind it, if anybody catches you taking your afternoon nap without them? To be sure, I mayn't look quite so handsome as I did once, but what of that? If other people can stand it, I can.
I tell you, Jane, I'd rather be fifty-six than twenty-six, any day.
Oh no, you needn't arch your little black eye-brows at me—just like your mother, for at the world! for I mean precisely what I say.
How did I look when I was twenty-six?
Sakes alive, child! you don't expect me to remember all this time. There was a likeness of me taken by a man in a car on wheels, in green and white gingham and ribbon—I mean I was in green-and-white gingham, not the car. But I—well—I gave that likeness away, and I am sorry to say I never got it back. I had red checks, if I remember straight, and black hair, and my wrists were round, and my neck was white, seems to me,—but there;
this world is all a fleeting show, and handsome is that handsome does, Jane! I remember that. May be if I'd been a home-lier woman I should have been a happier one and a better one; I don't know.
Twenty-six. Dear me! how different life does look to you at twenty-six from what it turns out to be. It's really funny, come to think of it. How did it look? And will I mind telling you all about it? Yes, I should mind telling you all about it, my dear; I've never told any body all about it
; it's not my way.
But as to how it looked—about the door,
Jane—well, do you know how the days look along at the last of April, with the grass just thickening under the windows and out on the slope, and the leaves breaking out like a green cloud all over the trees, and a little music of bird-voices all about, and the sunshine burning everything, like—why, like a great, sweet, soft fire that nothing can put out! That's about how it looked.
You see I thought it was always going to look so, till one day—no matter how—
I found out it wasn't any such thing.
Not any—such thing. It was in June I found it out; one June night just after supper. I had on my pink calico that day. The sun was just setting, up behind the great elm over the well-curb. I went away alone behind the wood-pile, and sat down on a little heap of chips. I sat there till I heard mother calling from the house that it was nine o'clock and time to go to bed.
Heigho-o! well, I thought my heart was broken, Jane, and I used to sit up till eleven o'clock crying in the moonlight—little fool! I caught a cold and a toothache, and that put an end to it pretty quick; I had to go to bed at eight for a week to come; your grandmother dosed me up with ginger tea and camphor, and gave me enough to think about for one while.
To be sure I thought my heart was broken; and the way I wanted to die! I used to go down to the river and try to jump off the bridge; but I never did it, my dear; I never did it; and I knew I shouldn't all the time, which is more.
Girls do enjoy cheating themselves so, and they will know it is a cheat all the time, too, which is the curious part of it.
But people's hearts don't break so easily as they think they're going to; they have a strong constitution, hearts have as a general thing. I've a notion its inherited right along straight from Eve. Why didn't she break hers because she couldn't get back into Paradise? As for dying, what's the use of doing that, because the pleasantest things of life are over and gone out of reach for you? Plenty of people in the world besides yourself, I should think!
Well, it took me time enough to find this out. It is curious how long it will take people to find it out! We will skip along here, for it is a long story, and a silly one, and I'm ashamed of it.
By-and-by I began to open my eyes and see that I should very likely live to be fifty-six years old—which I have my dear, sure enough—and there were thirty years and what was to be done with them?
I didn't believe in living round on your relations who had homes and husbands, and children of their own, and I had quite made up my mind not to marry, though I had work enough making some people take the idea into their brains; (if there's anything that I can't stand, it is a teasing man!) so I went away by myself and taught school awhile.
But your aunt Sarah wanted me to come to her, and your uncle Elihu kept writing to me to make him a visit, and your mother never was reconciled to it that I wouldn't make a home with her; so at last, I made up my mind to go the rounds and spend a week with each, just to satisfy them.

But dear me! when the week was over they wouldn't hear of my going, any of them. What with telling stories to the children, and helping about the preserves, and one thing and another, the time had gone fast enough; but I was so glad that they had enjoyed it as much as I did, and so afraid they would be tired of me if they saw any more of me, that I went right away back to my school and staid through another term.
But they never gave me any peace after that, and when 'Likim's Mary Ann was taken with the typhus, nothing would do but I must go and nurse her through, and cheer up her mother, and as for taking a word of thanks for it, why, I should like to know, if the favor wasn't on their side, in giving me something to do? So, somebody or other it came about that there was nothing more said about the school. Every where where I went somebody just up and said, Aunt Manda, we must have you!
Till there didn't seem to be anything to do about it.
Well, when Mary Ann was well, 'Likim's wife, she was worn out with sewing and babies, and I went there to stop awhile.
One Christmas I managed to have a machine put up in the sitting room while she was out to tea, and she came home and found it standing there as nice as you please; dear me! how she cried. I have laughed more to think how she cried, than I have over any other funny thing in the course of my life.
After that, Mary Ann was down again; something the matter with her spine that time, and uncle 'Likim's wife was better, and so off I went to Mary Ann again, and there I stayed a long time. The child wouldn't hear of having any body but Aunt Manda round her, and the poor dread was having a hard time of it with the pain; so what else was there to do but stay?
But dear me, they made so much of me! I don't believe ever anybody was so made of as I have been in this world, and it is the most curious thing now! Why, they petted me up as if I'd been a baby, instead of an old-fashioned old maid, with caps and spectacles, and false teeth, my dear! Some folks are too modest to say they like to be made of, but I am not.
I'm inclined to think everybody likes to be made of; at any rate I do,—and I am not ashamed to say many's the time I've kneeled down at night and thanked God that with all my crossness and ungracefulness and ugliness and selfishness and the rest of it, there was somebody in the world to pet me up. Didn't I thank Him, Jane; you don't understand about that;
you're not even twenty-six yet.

Well; they kept me going from pillar to post; for it was the year we buried Mary Ann, poor thing! That I had the news from your mother; the very day your father died she telegraphed to me.
O, poor creature, wasn't I sorry for her!
I remember just how she looked the day I came, standing on the steps in her black dress, with her arms stretched right out so, as if she couldn't wait, for the hurry she was in, to get hold of me. So I ran right into them, hand-boxes and all, and she never said a word, and I never said a word, and she took me in where you children were sitting round in your little black dresses, and then we just cried, and felt better, you know. That very night, when we had been over to the grave and had come back and had set down by the fire with our hands shut into each other's:
"Amanda," she says, "you mustn't ever go away from me now."
"Charlotte," says I, "I never will."

Well, I've asked her regularly once a year if she wasn't tired of me, but it's always happened that she never was, and so here I am, and am like to be, till my time comes.
Sometimes I wish it would come, Jane, though I've had a happy life. O yes, I've had a happy life, my dear. I used to think when I was twenty-six, that nobody loved me; but I never bother myself about that now. Perhaps they don't love me any more than they did then, but if you don't stop to think about it, why, it's all the same, you see. There has always been enough to do, Jane, always.
There have been children to play with,
and children to teach, and children to comfort up and keep mended, and still, and amused; there have always been somebody's breadths to run, or cuffs to stitch, or cake to make, or room to dust; there have always been your girl's love stories to hear, you sly little scamp! and the boys' stockings to darn, and your mother to look after, and—deary me! Enough!
I could have filled ten lives if I had had them.

Now, would I go back and be twenty-six again, Jane? Would I undo and un-learn these thirty years? give up the little sense Providence has beaten into me, and take back my moonlight nights and my nonsense?
Would I throw away some of the looks poor Mary Ann used to give me, and some of the things your mother has said to me,—and some of the nights that I've kneeled in the dark, thanking God?
You wouldn't catch me!
Besides, my dear—what was that little

CONDITIONS.
No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot:
S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., } Boston.
S. R. NILES, }
HOBACE DODD, }
A. F. LINCOLN & CO., }
S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., } New York.
GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., }
JULIUS ROBERT & CO., }

Scotch hymn you girls were singing the other night? Something about I'm weary after while,
For the lang-for-bairn-ing, an' my Father's welcome smiles."
That's about it. I've had a grand blessing of a life, but I shan't be sorry when it is over.
Fifty-six; why think, Jane! It can't be much longer, can it?—
Now, did I ever see anything like it!
There's the child crying again. Oh my dear, won't you ever let your Auntie go?

LETTER FROM ANDOVER.
ANDOVER, APRIL 13, 1868.
To the Publisher of the Patriot:
As I was sitting in my room this afternoon, engaged in sorting some newspapers, I chanced to see a Quincy Patriot; instantly the thought flashed across my mind, perhaps it might interest some of the good people of Quincy to hear a few words from Phillips Academy,—one of the best institutions in this country; and one which is constantly fitting young men from almost every State in the Union for future usefulness and success.

Early one very cold morning, a few years ago, the inhabitants of Andover were aroused from their slumbers by the cry of fire; of course, such an appeal, made as well to their fears as their sympathies, was not to be slighted, and soon up the street was heard the heavy rumble of that great bugbear of incendiaries, the fire engine. For a few minutes, it was uncertain where the fire was located; but it was soon ascertained with a positive certainty that it was Phillips Academy,—a grim stone structure, situated on the main street of the village, and which, by the way, looked to a casual observer, more like a county jail than an Academy;
soon, with a hue and a cry, the engine (with its usual accompaniment of rowdies) dashed into the enclosure surrounding the building, and shortly a tiny jet of water was seen playing upon the burning roof; but alas! though the firemen did their best, and worked at the brakes until they were well exhausted, and heavy beads of perspiration stood upon their brows, it was of no avail,—and in a few short hours all that remained of "Old Phillips," was the blackened walls.

Exactly opposite the old Academy, now stands a beautiful structure; the pride and delight of every Phillips' boy. The cost of this edifice was about fifty thousand dollars. At the present time, there are about two hundred and fifty students here assembled. We have two literary societies connected with the Academy, and here let me say, better than Latin and Greek (though each is well enough in its way) is a practical knowledge, which enables a man to be ready upon any occasion to speak extemporaneously, before any audience, and at any time; such is one of the benefits arising from our literary societies. At Yale College the most dearly prized award for speaking and literary accomplishments, is the De Forest Medal; it has been stated that for the last few years, the possessor of this medal has been a member of this Academy, and connected with the Philomathean Society, one of the two already mentioned.

Our Principal, S. H. Taylor, LL.D., is one, who when once seen, even by the most careless observer, can never be forgotten. He is a most stern disciplinarian, unbending in his hatred of that which is wrong, and oftentimes appearing to the students, harsh and tyrannical; yet he has a noble, and truly kind heart,—really desiring the best good of all under his charge.

Hoping that what has been written may interest, especially the young men of Quincy, and impel some who have new other plans of life, to seek a good education as the basis of their future activity.
I remain, yours respectfully,
STUDENT.

ALL THERE.
A whole family in heaven! Who can picture or describe the everlasting joy?
No one absent. Nor father, nor mother, nor son, nor daughter are away. In the world below they were united in faith, and love, and peace, and joy. In the morning of the resurrection they ascended together. Before the throne they bow together in united adoration. On the banks of the River of Life they walk hand in hand, and as a family have commenced a career of glory which shall be everlasting. There is here no separation in the family. No one is to be laid down upon a bed of pain. No one to wander in the arms of death. Never in Heaven is that family to move along in the slow procession, clad in the habitiments of woe, to consign one of its members to the tomb. God grant that, in His infinite mercy, every family may be thus united.—Rev. Albert Barnes.

Pets. Pets should always be telegraphed, for they have their proper place in every household. If they furnish to the young imaginary play-fellows, if they help older people to forget the cares of the present, and soften in them the austerities of this hard world's life, if, above all, they can be made morally significant, let us not condemn them as unworthy of our regard. Frolicsome kittens, sweet singing birds, brave old dogs—and shall we not add merry-hearted children—have brightened and gladdened and sweetened this world to many.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, MAY 2, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

NEW ENGLAND LIGHTNING ROD CO.

Our attention has lately been called to the excellent accomplishments of this company in placing upon several of our public buildings and the residences of many of our citizens, their superior lightning rod, which is much larger, and presents more surface than any now in use, and is so galvanized that it will not rust or corrode. The student of electrical phenomena, in their different phases and tendencies, cannot but admire the manner in which genius and intelligence, as exhibited through this company, have completely mastered the abstruse scientific problem of successfully controlling the subtle electric fluid, first observed in a carbonaceous and generally transparent mineral called amber.

Early in the history of modern invention, Franklin drew electricity from the clouds through the medium of his kite, thereby causing the dawn of an era in the progress of the great questions of science, which American brain has done so much toward the unfolding and development.

People generally, scarcely appreciate the practical necessity of guarding against the possibilities of a lightning visitation. During a terrible thunder storm, when the vivid lightning flashes, making us nearly blind, and the thunders, caused by the vacuum thus produced, seem to shake the very buttresses of the universe, we behold, with awe, the exhibition, admiring with wonder its grandeur. But should this fatal fluid, which comes like a "thief in the night," giving no warning to its victim, enter the sanctuary of our families, and strike down one of the happy circle, the loss would be irreparable.

Money will replace the demolished edifice, but what human power can resuscitate into life and being; those who meet in its course this destroying element? who can fill the vacant chair, or replace the genial smiles of the departed? If then through human agency many sad calamities may be averted, is it not the imperative duty of owners of residences, where the lives of their families are at risk and of owners of valuable property, where there are pecuniary interests of moment, to at once avail themselves of the almost inestimable benefits derived from a carefully adjusted lightning rod? The New England Lightning Rod Company, the office of which is at 40 Clinton street, Boston, takes the highest rank in America in this department. Its agents are men of character and reliability, and the most critical care is exercised in the performance of their work, which, when done, is "well done." Mr. O. C. Tozier, its well known agent, who thoroughly understands his business, has placed rods upon the Town Hall, the North District school house, upon the residences of Mr. Henry Wood, Mr. C. A. Southworth, Mr. Benjamin F. Curtis, Mr. John Faxon and a large number of others. He is stopping at the Hancock House and intends to remain in town a short time, and we would sincerely recommend our citizens to take this subject into consideration, resting assured that all orders left with Mr. Tozier at the Hotel will be attended to with great care and promptness. We wish him great success, which he amply deserves, believing good lightning rods upon any building to be great means of security.

THAT COMICAL BROWN. Wm. B. Brown, the unrivaled comic genius, announces one of his side splitting, button persuading, musical treats at the Town Hall, Quincy, on Monday Evening, May 4th when a crowded house and a good time may be anticipated, for Mr. Brown is one of the most popular vocalists now before the public, and wherever he goes a crowded house is sure to greet him.

Mr. William Hayward, the celebrated balladist will assist Mr. Brown, and those who have ever heard him sing one of his favorite pieces, will admit that it is well worth the price of admission.

Those who want seats should see to it early, for those who come late will have a poor sight for a seat.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE. The estate recently occupied by Mr. John Arnold, and formerly owned by John V. Clark, was sold at public auction on Monday last, to Henry H. Faxon, Esq., for thirty-three hundred and fifty dollars.

PERSONAL. We understand that Isaac H. Meserve, Esq., one of the Representatives of Roxbury in the General Court, has accepted the position of Superintendent of the "National Sailors' Home," in this town, and will immediately enter upon the duties of that office. Mr. Meserve is excellently fitted for this, and we wish him all success in his new undertaking.

WENT TO SEE THE ELEPHANT. The Circus on Wednesday last, drew a large concourse of people, and many who paid dear for a sight of the creature. Mr. Nathaniel Nightingale, a worthy son of Crispin, was mysteriously relieved of his wallet, from his pantaloons pocket, containing thirty-four dollars, while lost in silent admiration of the wonders of animated nature, (this case is a hard one, and he is ill able to afford it,) and quite a number of others, that we hear of, were similar sufferers, in sums varying from five dollars and upward. It is thought, if our dentists could relieve their patients of an obnoxious stump, as unconsciously as these dexterous pick-pockets do their victims of their wallets, there would be no occasion to etherize them. As such exhibitions are always attended by a crowd of unprincipled ruffians, (and this one appears to have had its full share) the public would do well to use more caution when visiting such places.

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

BOSTON, APRIL 30, 1868.

Impachment.—Is Probable Result. The State Legislature. A Glance at Business Matters.

The impeachment case has nearly ended—and the result, which no one can doubt, will soon be known. The proceedings from the outset of the investigation have been strictly political and by a portion of his political opponents is Mr. Johnson to be condemned. The President in many features of his administration has erred in language and deed; and all men whatever may be their position in public life are liable to errors. But that he has been guilty of "High crimes and Misdemeanors" in the purview of constitutional interpretation, no small portion of the American people disbelieve. The ground of his conviction will be the removal of Mr. Stanton and the appointment of General Thomas as Secretary of War ad interim. That is all. But Stanton has never been removed, and he is still Secretary of War. It has been argued that if the intent on the part of the President was malicious, this would convict him. The counsel for the respondent met this question with promptness and offered to show by the testimony of Mr. Johnson's constitutional advisers, the Cabinet, what the intentions of the President were. This was ruled out by the High Court of Impeachment and so many important matters, bearing directly upon the defence, were ruled out, and the great farce of trial, which will soon end in conviction has been ex parte. At the November Election the people will speak either in condemnation or approval of this perilous partisan experiment of Impeachment; and this mighty issue will take the lead in the preparatory recites shortly to open upon us. The counsel in the impeachment case on both sides have exhibited great talents and research. But the people will be slow to believe that a case of conviction has been made out by the removal of Mr. Johnson. In the views of Mr. Evans, one branch of the government will be divested of its prerogatives and the President will be succeeded by a member of the body which deposed him—a question of Supremacy between Congress and the President.

The proceedings of the State Legislature from day to day are of much interest. A License law has been passed, though there are hitches in the way for its future operation. A bill has passed to incorporate the town of Hyde Park. On Wednesday a bill was reported fixing the time of holding Probate Courts in Norfolk County, principally at Dorchester (Fields Corner) every Wednesday. This will abolish the Probate Courts at Quincy. A bill has passed to a third reading providing for the taxation of shares on banks in the towns and cities where the banks are located, whether the owners live in such places or not. A Committee has been selected to ascertain the amount of business before the Legislature and to report at what time consistent with the public interest the Legislature can be prorogued. Aside from politics, interesting debates occasionally come off. Mr. Adams of Quincy has filled the Chair in a Committee of the Whole of the House. He proves a good presiding officer; as in Committee of the Whole, at no time are the parliamentary abilities of the Chairman more tried. Mr. Jewell makes a fine Speaker.

We are pleased to record the fact of a general revival in most branches of business. Mechanics find enough to do and at good wages. Retail trade is active but with panic prices for the necessities of life. Shipping interests look better than at any other time since the close of the rebellion. The money market continues so active that the banks are not able to meet all the demands made upon them. Gold at 139½.

WE would call the attention of the reader to the valuable real estate advertised for sale in another column. It is seldom that property of this description finds its way into the market,—which commands itself so strongly to the interests of the business community, or men of capital. Mr. Pantan is about to leave town, and wishes to close up his business; thus, throwing opportunities of rare occurrence before the people, which we think will be readily improved.

NATIONAL BUSINESS COLLEGE. On several occasions we have called the attention of our readers to the great facilities for obtaining a complete knowledge of commercial law and routine, as well as a thorough education in Book Keeping, Penmanship, Commercial Correspondence, Commercial Calculations, and Business Practice, at the well known Commercial College, in Mercantile Building, Boston, known as the "Bryant and Stratton National Business College." Young persons, and even those of older years, who are desirous of receiving an education which will fit them to systematically transact business, should attend this College.

Mr. M. R. Hyde, who is the principal and business manager, Superintendent of Instruction, and Lecturer on the Science of Accounts, is a gentleman of fine qualifications for the position which he now occupies, completely master of all branches of commercial education, and a scholar of rare attainments, and varied acquirements. This institution has, in addition to its unequalled local reputation, a national fame, and persons representing all departments of knowledge, have certified to its excellence. We earnestly recommend it to the public.

STONIE ADRIANCE; OR, TRYING THE WORLD. This is the name of a new Novellet by Amanda M. Douglas, the talented author of "In Trust," "Stephen Dane," &c. It is the story of a young orphan girl's experiences. It is now being published in the Saturday Evening Post, and will run through from fifteen to twenty papers. One dollar sent to the publishers, H. PETERSON & Co., Philadelphia, will secure The Post for six months, including this and other deeply interesting stories. Single numbers five cents.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 29, 1868.

On Wednesday, the 22d, Manager Boutwell, of Massachusetts, began his argument and closed it the next day. It was regarded as entirely worthy of the occasion, of the man, and of the State, which he in part represents. As he closed, he became quite eloquent, and took his hearers along with him as he dwelt upon the happy results of a change in the Presidential office. It was manifest to all that he felt what he said. His earnest manner, and clear sonorous voice, commanded the attention of the Senate, and made even his legal arguments interesting to all present. When he had finished, the Senate took a short recess; after which, Nelson of Tennessee spoke for the President. His colleagues requested him to keep silent; but like his client, he determined to have his own way, and undertook to enlighten the Senate and the country. Being a neighbor of Andrew Johnson, of like passions and temperament, it was supposed that he would speak best his views. This supposition proved to be correct, for Nelson seemed impressed with the spirit of Andrew the First. He spoke from very brief notes with great animation; the sweat rolled from his brow; and several handkerchiefs, wisely provided for the occasion, were slightly drenched. He paid Butler quite a compliment, being in that respect more honest in his statements, than some of Butler's political enemies. He acknowledged that no man in the country could have managed the case with more ability. He used a great deal of poetry and sentiment. While asking, "Who is Andrew Johnson?" and referring to his career, Senators Buckalew and Vickers could not refrain from shedding tears. They are both good men, and I tried hard to sympathize with them, "to weep with those who weep," but there being no onions handy, the attempt turned out to be a miserable failure. The first hour, Nelson made a good stump speech, which was quite entertaining. Had he been content with that, his friends would have been satisfied. His speaking the rest of that day and the whole of the next, had a very soothing effect upon his hearers, causing the Senate to resemble a sleeping car—2-40 on the road to Boston.

He is called in Tennessee, one of their ablest and finest looking statesmen; so that I hope our worthy townsman, who did not feel insulted, when I mention, that while he was speaking, he reminded me of Mr. Thompson B. In fact, if he had been three inches taller, the likeness would be complete. Even his lameness is similar. Perhaps, however, our enthusiastic citizen might have better succeeded in keeping the sleepy ones awake. It was thought at one time, that his speech would be an exception to the old adage, that "every thing has an end." He finally, however, pleased his friends, foes, and the rest of man and womanhood, by coming to a close. Manager Logan showed his wisdom by having his argument filed without reading it.

Saturday, Hon. William S. Groesbeck addressed the Senate on behalf of the President. He was not well, and had hard work to speak at first. Senator Fessenden suggested that one of the Managers proceed, but he expressed a wish to go on if the Senate would indulge him. This was the first time he had said anything during the trial,—but this effort showed that he had kept up a terrible thinking. In the opinion of many lawyers on both sides, his address showed more legal ability than any yet offered. It will have more weight with the Senate than that of either Stanbery or Curtis. He had not an eloquent voice, but as will be seen from parts of his speech, he has the spirit of eloquence. He is quite tall and straight, of a commanding figure, seldom indulging in gestures, slow in speech, but firm and determined in his manner. He has a smooth face, with a nose a little on the fish-hook order.

On Monday, Thaddeus Stevens began to read his address to the Senate. He stood up at the clerk's desk and read for fifteen minutes, then sat down and read ten minutes more, when at the suggestion of Senator Conkling, Manager Butler offered to read for him. The offer was accepted and Butler, although not a good reader, did his best, and satisfied both Mr. Stevens and the Senate. While Stevens was speaking, Senators and Members gathered near him in order to hear what seemed likely to be the last speech of the veteran statesman. Mtngr. Williams of Pennsylvania, was the next to address the Senate. He read in rather a monotonous tone, but did not sound legal argument however. Before he closed on Tuesday, he became somewhat warmed up and spoke with more power. His closing was greatly appreciated by all present. Butler and Nelson then had a little debate, which seemed to indicate that neither of them were non-combatants. When the combat ended, Evans of New York proceeded to address the Senate. His manner did not please some, but to me, on the whole he appeared to have the best delivery for a lawyer, of any of his predecessors. He has a dignified air with him, and is what the world calls "a high toned gentleman." Yet he is long and very lank and lean. He could get through a good sized knot hole (literally, not figuratively.) His little head contains a big mind, and his little body a big heart. His face might be taken for that comical Whiston whom people pay to have him make up faces to them. Like him also he has to-day showed his power to amuse. His reference to Boutwell's allusion to dooming Andrew to the hole in the sky, was pictured out splendidly, and he brought it in evidently to rivet the attention of the weary. It would have been a rich thing to have let Boutwell reply to it.

There are a thousand rumors, more or less around the city, none however worthy of note. A placard was posted on the White House, Monday morning, announcing that house to let, for particulars enquire at the Senate. On enquiring of the occupants however, it was found to have been put there by a wag. Curtis left for Boston yesterday morning. The mail is closing as usual. I have no time for corrections, so please do not view me with a critic's eye, but pass by imperfections. In haste, CONFIDENCE MAN ON HIS TRAVELS. A man known in this community as Alfred B. Adams, who has resided here six months or so, maintaining a respectable appearance, recently vamosed, leaving many of his generous friends in Haverhill, Boston, and elsewhere "short" to the tune of five, ten and up as high as five hundred dollars each, borrowed on various pretences. He claims to act as Broker and Insurance Agent, and manages in a thousand ingenious ways to swindle all his acquaintances by the borrowing dodge. With one he pretends his wife is ill, and he wants to purchase some delicacy or comfort; with another, his family (who by the way, we learn to be respectable people entirely ignorant of his true character) are "out of provisions or coal, and he wants two or five dollars to buy a small supply. He has managed in various ways we learn during the last six months to mulct the community out of probably as many thousand dollars. Recently some of his victims on making careful inquiry about him, found out his true character, and were about instituting legal proceedings, but he had taken the alarm and flown no one knows whither. He went ostensibly to the Navy, which position he filled, we believe, creditably, but since coming out of the army his career has been anything but honorable.

He may well be known from his appearance: Is of quite short stature, very broad shoulders, and has bushy red hair, no whiskers, good address, and is withal a modest, gentlemanly appearing fellow, well calculated to deceive the unwary.—Weekly Patriot.

Mr. Adams is too well known in Quincy to need any extended notice from us. He tried very successfully the depth of several gentlemen's pockets while teaching school in this place.

WE would call the attention of our readers to the sale of furniture, at the late residence of Nathaniel B. Proudy, on Tuesday next, at 2 o'clock.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. The state Democratic committee have called a convention at Worcester on the 20th of May, for the election of four delegates at large to the National convention to be held in New York, and have likewise requested district committees to call conventions at the same time and place for the election of two delegates with two substitutes, to the same general convention, from each district.

TO INVALIDS. Those afflicted with cancer, scrofula, dyspepsia, liver complaints, rheumatism, neuralgia, and all diseases caused by impure blood, should apply at the Medical Institute, No. 10 Temple Place, Boston. Dr. R. Greene, the Principal, has had remarkable success in treating this class of disease, during a practice of more than twenty years in this city. Many thousands have been restored to health by his treatment, after seeking relief elsewhere in vain.

The Doctor has issued a new edition of his book, of one hundred pages, describing these various diseases and their mode of treatment, which he now offers to send free to invalids.

Address R. Greene, M.D., 10 Temple Place, Boston, Mass.—Boston Traveller.

SOLAR ECLIPSE. The total eclipse of the sun which is to take place on the 18th of August next, will present such a long duration of darkness that astronomers are anticipating it with unusual interest.—From near Aden, the central line of the eclipse extends to the southern coast of New Guinea, crossing Hindostan, the Bay of Bengal, the Malayan Peninsula and the Gulf of Siam on the way; and at certain places on this line the duration of total darkness will be six degrees forty-six minutes. English and French astronomers are making preparations for observations in the track of the eclipse.

THE Rev. A. A. Ellsworth began his labors, last Sunday, with the Union Church, of Weymouth, and Braintree, late Rev. Mr. Dickerman's, at a salary of $2000 a year.

A SUCCESSFUL SWINDLER. Recently a store was refitted in Brooklyn by a man who called himself "C. Smith," who proposed opening a first class bakery and confectionery. The requisite fixtures were all put in, and the man then rented a number of other stores in different parts of Williamsburg, and had them fitted up as branch establishments. He then advertised for married couples to take charge of these branch stores, and required $150 security from each.—Twelve accepted his proposition and paid him the amount. Mr. Smith is at present non est inventus.

ART ITEMS. Miss Purdy, of Cambridge, has some very tasteful specimens of rice paper crosses, at Childs & Co., Tremont street, which are worthy examination. Of Mr. Russell, Winter street, one of our oldest Boston artists, has some new portraits on his easel. His long residence in Italy has given him an acquaintance with both ancient and modern art. Messrs. Dodge, Collier & Perkins, 113 Washington street, have a new invoice of chromos, photographs and other art goods for the spring trade. Mr. Titcomb, the well-known landscape painter is fitting up a large and attractive studio, corner of Essex and Washington streets.

Summary Intelligence.

The English and American newspapers agree that Charles Francis Adams is one of the best ministers at the Court of St. James.

Green peas and early potatoes from Bermuda, and fresh tomatoes were among the luxuries at Boston on Saturday last.

The steamer Old Colony got ashore on Hart Island, during a recent trip from New York, but was got off again without having sustained material damages.

Scarlet fever is prevalent through the State of Maine, and in many portions of it very fatal.

There are whole sections of territory in the far west where an acre of land can be bought for the price of one bushel of wheat raised on it.

A lady of Collinsville, (Ct.) has a pony plant, now in a thrifty condition, which belonged to her great-grandmother over one hundred years ago.

A table-top and a ladies' work-box elaborate mosaics of wood, the table containing 16,000 pieces of various colored woods inlaid in intricate patterns, are on sale in Hartford for their maker, a prisoner serving a sixteen years' sentence in the State prison.

There are said to be but two factories of pressed tin ware in the United States, one in Philadelphia and one in New York.

It is estimated that Mrs. Gaines gained twenty millions by the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court.

There are 535 men employed upon the Hoosac Tunnel and the pay roll is about $20,000 per month.

It is said that a firm in Boston have just contracted to build a ship of one thousand tons in Liverpool, $15,000 less than it could be bargained for in Boston.

The cost of the widening of Devonshire street, Boston, is estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

A Maryland farmer thinking that his end was near at hand, a few days ago carried the material to the cabinet maker and had his coffin made; he had had the lumber well seasoned, having prepared it some two years ago.

A firm in West Troy, N. Y., have received upward of fifty cannon from the Haytian government, to be cast into bells. They were made in France more than 103 years ago.

The amount of money coined in the Philadelphia mint during the month of March was $351,691.

Competition has reduced the railroad fare between New York and Chicago, to twenty dollars.

There are said to be a thousand Swedes and their descendants now living in Gloucester. They follow fishing, and are a very worthy class of people.

A Worcester paper advertises for an able-bodied man to shovel snow from now till the first of November next.

In the town of Searcy, Ark., a pair of twin girls were born a few days ago each having twenty fingers.

The National debt was reduced the other day to the extent of $20,000 which amount was paid into the New York Sub-Treasury, it having been bequeathed to the nation, by the late Ralph S. Fretz of San Francisco.

The Alabama and Florida Railroad, twelve and a half miles long, in good running order, and completely equipped for passenger and freight business, was recently sold at public auction by the United States Marshal for $55,000.

The trial of Surratt will commence again this month.

Imitation lace peddlars are said to be numerous and several persons have been victimized by them.

An elm tree was recently cut down in Andover which was twenty-four feet in diameter, and produced nine cords of wood.

In France 81 persons in a population of 38,000,000 are annually killed by lightning, in Germany 72 in 47,000,000, 11 in Sweden in 4,000,000, and 6 in Saxony in 2,000,000. More women are struck than men—cause unknown.

The fruit business of Chicago averages $15,000,000 yearly.

Elizabeth Stone of Dedham has made a gift of a two-story house, a barn, and ten acres of ground, in Lunenburg, to William B. Morse of Andover, who lost his leg in the late war, in consideration of his patriotism. Mr. Morse served in Co. H. 1st Massachusetts Battery.

A mining shaft in Nevada has already attained a depth of 1200 feet, the deepest on the Pacific slope.

BE WISE TO-DAY. 'Tis madness to neglect a cough or cold, however slight. Consumption may follow, and though Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has frequently cured this most dreaded disease, for the primary diseases of the throat, lungs and chest, it always cures where other remedies fail.

ITS GOOD EFFECTS ARE PERMANENT. In this it differs from all hair dyes. By its use luxuriant growth is guaranteed, natural color and gloss are restored. One trial will cause you to say this of MRS. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED (new style) HAIR RESTORER OR DRESSING, (in one bottle.) Every druggist sells it. Price One Dollar. A 4—1m

MAY DAY was ushered in with a cloudy sky, but as the day advanced, the sun dispersed the thick canopy, and nature shone out in all her loveliness,—much to the satisfaction of many a young heart whose sole thoughts had been engrossed for days past, at the good time they expected to have at the entertainment to be given at the Town Hall, in commemoration of the event. But more of this another time.

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR BIDDIES.—Several families at the north part of the town, had their hen roosts disturbed on Saturday night last; and in the morning found that they were each minus of six to eight of their best hens. The rogue probably is no stranger to that section of the town, and we would advise our readers to be on a watch for the thief, and give him his just deserts.

Since writing the above, we learn that several families in the south part of the town, have recently met with similar losses.

DEMOREST'S FASHION MAGAZINE.—This excellent Magazine is constantly growing in popularity, and the secret of its success is the conscientiousness with which it is conducted. It gives all, and more than all, that it promises. It is the most complete Fashion Magazine in the country. Its departments of music, needle-work, braiding, patterns, etc., are either one worth the price of subscription, which is only $3.00 per year, with a handsome and valuable premium.

Office, 473 Broadway, New York.

The schooner Ely Townsend, Capt. Gardner, arrived at New York on Monday, from Portsmouth Grove, Rhode Island, having on freight two hundred and ninety-five bodies of soldiers, who died from the effects of wounds and disease during the late war. These remains of our honored dead are in charge of the United States Christian Commission.

The bodies were separately encased in coffins with plates thereon giving the name of the deceased, the regiment to which he belonged, and the age and date of his death. The regiments represented are the 31 and 10th Maine, 6th Wisconsin, 94th, 179th, 88th, and 7th Cavalry of New York, the 9th, 10th and 33d New Jersey, the 7th, Massachusetts Cavalry, 2d and 10th Wisconsin, 4th United States Artillery and 8th United States Infantry. They will be interred at Cypress Hills Cemetery, Long Island.

Referring to the Vice Presidency the Providence Herald, says: John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, would make a very desirable candidate for the Vice Presidency. Conservative, well read, honest and not a mere politician, but a statesman, the Democratic National Convention would more honor itself than him by putting him in nomination."

The proprietors of the Western skating rinks, not satisfied with their profitable winter season, have had their ponds floored over, and advertise a summer season of "roller" skating.

BOOTS AND SHOES. Men's Calf Sewed Custom Boots $9.00 Men's Calf Sewed Custom Shoes 7.00

At JAMES PARKER'S. Quincy, May 2.

NOTICE. THE SUBSCRIBER, Sealer of Weights and Measures for the Town of Quincy, for the present year,—hereby gives notice to the inhabitants of said town, that he shall attend at his workshop, on EVERY SATURDAY, in the present month, for the purpose of Sealing such Weights, Measures, and Measures, as shall be brought to him for that purpose.

JOSHUA ADAMS, Sealer. Quincy, May 2, 1868.

Mortgagee's Sale. PURSUANT to the power set forth in a mortgage given by Frederic Bigelow, to Ephraim Wales, dated April 31, 1857, and recorded with Norfolk deeds Lib. 254, Fol. 45, for breach of the condition of said mortgage, the undersigned will sell at public auction, on the premises on MONDAY, May 18th, 1868, at 2 o'clock P. M., all that lot or parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in the town of Randolph, Mass., on South side of Union Street, and bounded Northerly by said Union Street, Easterly by land of Zevran P. Jordan, Southerly by land of Zevran P. Jordan and of A. J. Dyer; and Westerly by land of A. J. Dyer and of John A. Blood, or lower others for the Town of Randolph, six acres, more or less, and being the same premises described in said mortgage.

The estate is subject to two previous mortgages, now held by Wales French, of said Randolph.

PETER A. WALES, { Executors of the Will of EPHRAIM WALES. SETH MANN, 2d., } Randolph, April 20th, 1868. May 2—3w

Commonwealth of Massachusetts. NORFOLK, ss. PROBATE COURT. T^o the Heirs at Law, Next of Kin, and all other persons interested in the last will and testament of HANNAH HOBART, late of Quincy, in said County, single—woman deceased, GREETING: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be holden at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the fourth day of May, A. D. 1868, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any, for setting aside the same. And the said THOMAS CURTIS, is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this Citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in the newspaper called the Quincy Patriot, printed at Quincy, in said County, to two days, at least before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE B. BROWN, Judge of said Court, this twenty eighth day of April, in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

JOHN A. HOLDEN, Clerk of District Court for said District. Quincy, May 2.

District Court of the U. States. District of Massachusetts. In Bankruptcy. THIS is to give notice that a Petition has been presented to the Court, this 26th day of February, 1868, by WASHINGTON BROWN, of Cohasset, a Bankrupt, praying that he may be decreed to have a full discharge from all his debts provable under the Bankruptcy Act, and upon reading said Petition, it is Ordered by the Court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 10th day of May, A. D. 1868, before the Court in Boston, in said District, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and that notice thereof be published in the Quincy Patriot and Dedham Gazette, newspapers printed in said District, once a week for three weeks, and that the Clerk of the Court of said District should not be granted.

S. E. SPRAGUE, Clerk of District Court for said District. Quincy, May 2.

NEW DEPOT. "The endeavors of the Old Colony & Newport Railway Company to provide for the comfort of their passengers at the Boston terminus of the road are highly appreciated by them, and the lady patrons of the line are profuse in their praises of the commodious waiting-room that has been tastefully fitted up in the northeasterly corner of the new station."

We copy the above from the Boston Transcript and trust soon to be able to congratulate our own citizens upon a similar improvement in this place; the patrons of the Railway have waited long and patiently and are now to be recompensed.

PACIFIC GUANO. Those persons using fertilizers should not fail to read the many favorable testimonials of the Pacific Guano, which will be found in our advertising columns, before purchasing. This is no new fertilizer, but has been before the public for years, as most of our readers well know, and is preferred by many persons to any other. Let those who have not tried it do so this season, and we believe that they will be well pleased with the result.

The Rev. Mr. Bisby will preach at the Universalist Church to-morrow.

That Comical Brown, WILLIAM B. BROWN

The Great Comic Genius, WILLIAM HAYWARD, The Eminent Balladist.

Will give one of their Unique Entertainments, TOWN HALL, QUINCY, Monday Evening, May 4th.

Tickets, 25 Cts. Reserved Seats, 50 Cts. Doors open 7. Concert 7½. Quincy, May 2.

AUCTION. WILL be sold at Public Auction, on TUESDAY, May 5th, at 2 o'clock P. M., at the residence of the late N. B. PROUDY, at the corner of Marsh and School Sts. A lot of Household Furniture, consisting of Sofa, Rocking Chairs, Chairs, Tables, Bedsteads, Carpet, Feather Bed and Pillows, Bureau, Clock, Desk, one Dry Sink and Ice Chest. Also, Glass, Crockery, Tin and Wooden Ware, and many other useful articles.

Conditions made known at time of Sale. EBENEZER ADAMS, Auctioneer. Quincy, May 2.

CABBAGE & TOMATO PLANTS. THE Subscriber has a fine lot of Early Wakefield Cabbage Plants for Sale. Also, Tomato Plants. JOSHUA H. SPEAR. Quincy, May 2.

For Sale. THE Following Parcel of Real Estate, situated in Quincy—Twenty acres of first rate Mowing Land, situated on South Street, and running through to Washington Street, near the house of Mr. George Baxter. Six acres of good Village Land, on South Street, adjoining Land of Samuel E. Johnson at Quincy Point, will be sold in one lot, or in small Lots as wanted. Two Houses and one acre of Land adjoining the School House Lot at Quincy Point. Two Houses on Liberty Street. Eight acres of Land on West Street near the residence of the late William Trask. If the Land is not sold by the 15th of May, it will be Let. All the above will be Sold on favorable terms. DANIEL HATIER. Quincy, May 2.

To Let. A Desirable Tenement consisting of 9 rooms, situated within three minutes' walk of the Depot. There is a variety of Fruit Trees. Apply at this office. H. A. GAY, Ticket Master. Quincy, May 2.

FOR SALE. A LUMBER Wagon, Planing Machine, and the Carriage of Mr. George Jones, in the "Hollow." Apply to Mr. George Jones, in the "Hollow." Quincy, April 25.

CANES, CANES. A FEW very neat styles of Box, Cane, and Zebra-wood Canes, manufactured by an inmate of the National Sailors' Home. For sale at JOHN O. HOLDEN'S, 87 Hancock Street. Quincy, April 25.

BRICKS FOR SALE! THE Subscriber has a quantity of Bricks at the Quincy D-pot, for sale. For price, call on Wm. H. FRENCH, South Quincy, Quincy, April 25.

TOMATO PLANTS. A LARGE lot of Tomato Plants of the best variety. For sale by J. AREY, Jr. Quincy, April 25.

JUST RECEIVED. A LARGE lot of Cottage and Round Corned Canned Beans for sale at greatly reduced prices. Please call and examine. N. B. FURNALD. Quincy, April 25.

Dog Collars. A VARIETY of Patterns and sizes, for sale and engraved to order, at JOHN O. HOLDEN'S, 87 Hancock Street. Quincy, April 25.

JOHN A. HOLDEN, Merchant Tailor & Dealer in CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS AND VESTINGS, School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

HAS on hand and is constantly receiving from the best sources, New and Desirable Goods suitable for his trade. All who wish first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price, are respectfully invited to call.

N. B. It would be well to remember, that Cheapness and Desirability are relative attributes; they have a relation to the QUALITY of the article we buy, and that, which does not answer well the purpose for which it was intended, is DEAR at any price. Quincy, March 30

A NOVEL BOAT proposed in Boston, of the Fourth of July, is a race of rowing from Long Wharf to the immediate vicinity of East Boston, a distance of three miles, three practical enter for the race, a be under the image "diver," who is now in blasting rocks in the Island, in the also proposed that a barrel of gunpowder way between the two ploded at the signal, that the explosion would of water a high feet from the surface, water spout, accomplish whole constituting a sight. In this connection it is in coming yacht race start from

Bates' store was broken into on quantity of goods pilfered, but the rogue got from frequent potatoes to leave, and was fleeing slumbering past lanes hoghead. It furnished with more at the lock-up, and over for trial.—No.

THE DORCHESTER John Temple, who was an accessory to the murder

The Quincy Patriot.
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESOOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

POST OFFICE.
Mails open 8 30 A. M., and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M. and 5 15 P. M.
Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
55 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY,
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 1/2
P. M.,—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing,
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

Dr. Roundy & Wife,
CLAIRVOYANT, MAGNETIC AND
ELECTRIC PHYSICIANS,
ON QUINCY AVENUE,
Near the corner of School and Elm Sts.
Quincy, March 14.

WOODS & HOSMER,
Market Eating House,
No. 46 North Market St.,
CORNER OF MERCHANT'S ROW
BOSTON
LEWIS M. WOODS,
DEO. M. HOSMER.
Sept. 14.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Oxford and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to Measure.
No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6.

FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,
No. 4 HAYWARD PLACE.
4th door from Washington street at No. 285.
GIVES SPECIAL ATTENTION TO EPILEPSY; to all Nervous
Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical College, Quincy, and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.
His books on medical subjects may be had at his office or will be sent by mail, for the following prices:—
"Epilepsy," 50 cents.
"Inhalation," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Sings and Shows Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Chronic Health," 40 cents.
"The Bazaar," 60 cents.
Many of the best Physicians have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says, "The Bazaar" is adapted to do great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm.
H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Harvard College, says, "By the publication of this book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."
Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all our young men."
Aug. 17.

Worsteds Goods at Cost
AT M'LELLAN'S

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1868.

NUMBER 19.

CHEAP
CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.

Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.

AYER'S PILLS, 20 CTS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.

Brown's Troches, 25 cts.

BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.

Hoops Skirts 87 cts.

Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY

STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.

DRESS GOODS,

WORKING PANTS CHEAP.

PANT CLOTHS.

German and American Corsets.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 22 cts.

FICS & ORANCES.

Hair Braids, 85 cts.

BEADS, BEADS

Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM

MADE

Pants and Vests

VERY LOW.

HATS & CAPS

Perforated Card Board,

Gilt Paper,

Drawing Paper,

Blotting Paper,

Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES

BELOW COST

to close out.

J. A. MCLELLAN,

NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.

Quincy, Feb. 22.

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"

almost questioned when we see

LORING'S PATENT

IRON WATERSTOP

THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.

BAILEY & BAXTER,

SCHOOL STREET,

Quincy, Jan. 11.

THE STAR BURNER

A new patent Kerosene Burner, superior to the Sun Burner—for Sale by the Subscribers.

—ALSO—

The American Foot Stove!

An excellent article for the parlor or sitting room. Very comfortable and durable; free from all danger of fire, therefore a valuable article to take when you wish to enjoy a sleigh-ride
Call and examine.

C. F. & J. W. PIERCE.

Quincy, Dec. 14.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH

COUGHS, COLDS,

HOARSENESS,

OR BRONCHITIS,

USE VEAZIE'S

Ozmyel of Wild Cherry & Squills.

The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy
known.

JOHN H. VEAZIE.

Quincy, March 16.

Parlor Cue Alley.

NO LET. A Parlor Cue Alley, nearly new,
to be sold at a low price.

JOSEPH ARREY, Jr.

Quincy, Feb. 22.

TREES.

Wollaston Nursery

The Subscriber has for Sale

ON WOLLASTON AVENUE,

A large variety of Hardy and

Ornamental Trees & Shrubs

Both Native and European, among which are

DECIDUOUS TREES:

American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elms; Norway, Sycamore, Rock, Ash-leaved and Scarlet Maples;—Nor-

English and Turkey Oaks;—Common and Weeping Ash;—

—Scotch and Tyndale Larches;—American and English

Lindens;—Tulip Trees;—English and Purple Beches;—

—English Sycamores;—Horse Chestnuts; &c.

Also, a good assortment of

FLOWERING SHRUBS:

Altheas;—Wigolias;—Porsythias;—Scarlet Dogwood;—

—Mahonias;—Blue-leaved Evergreen and Common Privet;—

—Rhododendrons;—Laurels;—Spiras;—Syringas; &c.

Also, a good assortment of

FRUIT TREES, and Small Fruit, viz:

Pears;—20 Varieties;—Apples;—10 do;—Peaches of the best sorts;—Plum and Cherry;—Raspberries;—Ver-nalise and Cherry Currants;—Triomphe de Gand Strawberry Plants;—Concord, Hartford, Frodoe;—Boggs's

Hybrids, Iowa, Isabella &c. Grape Vines.

Amongst the Peaches are the Early and a limited supply of the Golden Dew, a comparatively new variety, rapidly growing more than five feet high, of beautiful size and form, early and prolific, fruit excellent.

Many of the above trees have been recently imported,

and being consequently of small size, a good opportunity

is offered to those who wish to plant large numbers, to supply themselves at a moderate expense.

Persons wishing to plant ornamental or fruit trees are invited to call at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere.

All orders given to Mr.

JAMES M. BECKFORD,

will be promptly filled.

GEORGE EATON.

Wollaston April, 4.

Strawberry, Blackberry,

AND RASPBERRY PLANTS

For Sale.

Jucunda, Agriculturalist, Lady of the Lake, Monitor, Brooklyn, La Constant,

Scarlet, Col. Ellsworth, Russell's Prolific,

and Hovey's Strawberry Plants. Lawton

and Rochester Blackberry. Francoina

Raspberry; Giant Asparagus roots; Hart-

ford Prolific and Concord Grape vines.

Also, a few early Goodrich Potatoes.

WILLIAM G. PRESCOTT.

Quincy, April 11.

GARDEN SEEDS

For the Spring of 1868.

JOS. BRECK & SON

would call attention to their collection of

Garden and Flower Seeds,

embracing everything worthy of cultivation.

No seeds but such as we know to be the FINEST QUALITY, raised by ourselves or imported,

are ever offered for sale at our establishment.

After an experience of forty years, we believe that we can say that we are a PROVED

POINT as to the wants of the FARMER and

GARDENER.

We have everything new and all well known

and tried varieties of Seeds, which we offer at

the lowest cash prices.

For full particulars send for descriptive catalogues which will be sent gratis.

JOSEPH BRECK & SON,
81 & 82 North Market St., Boston.
March 23.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood

Agricultural Warehouse,

SEED STORE,

49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row,

offer a large assortment of the best

Agricultural Implements,

MACHINERY & TOOLS,

OF ALL KINDS.

Buckeye Mowing Machines, Whitcomb's

Horseless Rakes, Pulmers' Horse

Pitchforks,

Are sold exclusively by us.

Our large and well selected stock of Seeds, grown by

Renowned Seedsmen in Europe and America, the quality of which is not and cannot be surpassed, is offered in quantities to suit.

Grass Seeds, Seed Grain, in all their varieties.

Hungarian Grass, Millet.

Seed Potatoes—Early Goodrich, Early Sebec, Early

Blue, Green, &c.

FERTILIZERS.

Guano, Super-phosphate of Lime Pou-

drette, Ground Bone, Plaster, Fish

Guano, &c.

GRAFTING WAX, made expressly for our trade—

WATER-SOLUBLE, genuine article, at lowest prices.

—All orders and inquiries by mail or express, will meet with prompt attention. Tool, vegetable and Flower

Seeds, and all other articles, furnished upon application to

Parker, Gannett & Osgood,

49 No. Market St., BOSTON, Mass.

March 23.—2m

A Good Assortment

Kept Constantly on hand

YOU will constantly find at the Citizen's Market all kinds of Meat of the best quality,

at the lowest Cash Price.

Also, all kinds of Fresh and Smoked Fish,

Turnips, Beets, Squashes, Beans of all kinds;

Early Potatoes, Sweet Potatoes, Cucumbers, Pickles, Sweet Apples for preserves; Pears, Peaches, Nuts, Citron, Jellies, Bottle Pickles of all kinds; Lemons, Figs, &c.

Also, the very best of White Wine Vinegar.

All orders promptly attended to.

S. T. ALLEN.

Quincy, April 25.

FOR SALE!

A FULL Set of Carpenters' Tools, for Sale

Cheap.

J. ARREY, Jr.

Quincy, Feb. 8.

Poetry.

For the Patriot.
Lines on learning that THE HON. HENRY WILSON
Had been nominated for the VICE PRESIDENCY.

Elect him your Vice President,
But therefore should you see?
Although it be with good intent,
Is 't wisdom so to do?

And can you spare him from a post,
That none so well can fill;
His power might then in part be lost,
'T influence others will.

The weighty burden on him laid,
Few others could endure;
And well in truth it may be said,
It is no sinecure.

Ever attentive to his trust,
Devoted to your cause,
Esteemed by all the good and just,
The guardian of your laws.

None other of our favored land,
So dear to Freedom known;
Except the noble Sumner, and These two brave hearts are one.

Honor is given on their brows,
The virtues that endure;
And Patriots never plighted vows,
To men more just and pure.

Should all the good that they have done,
Be placed before your eyes,
'T would dazzle like the noon-day sun,
And e'en yourselves surprise.

Go ask the millions once enslaved,
Who told to set them free?
Who in their cause their tyrants braved,
And won their liberty?

Go ask the despots who conspired,
In treason's hopeful hour,
Who foremost stood, and never tired
To crush their rebel power?

Go ask the soldier who sustained Midst fortune, good and ill,
The soldier's cause, their rights maintained,
And seeks to guard them still.

A grateful country knows their worth,
And where their value lies;
The fearless advocates of truth,
That men and nations prize.

Some gifted mind at Truth's behest,
Will yet diffuse their fame;
'Till every patriot heart's impressed With Sumner's, Wilson's name.

F. M. ADLINGTON, Weymouth.

Interesting Selections.

COTTAGE PUDDING. 1 cup of sugar;
1 do. of sweet milk; 1 do. melted butter;
1 egg; 2 small teaspoons cream tartar;
1 do. of soda; 1 pint lightly sifted flour.
Butter a pudding dish and bake three quarters of an hour. A few currents or raisins would be a nice addition to the pudding.

Fruit Sauce for the above.—1 cup of sugar; two-thirds of a cup of butter; 1 tablespoon of flour. Beat to a cream; place it over the fire, and stir in quickly
3 gills of boiling water.

A CURE FOR A COLD IN THE HEAD.
A cold in the head, according to an eminent French physician can be cured by inhaling hartshorn. The inhalation should be by the nose, seven or eight times in five minutes.

CHEERFULNESS. He who would march well through ill to good, must march to music not by groans; and the harder the road, the braver and cheerier must the music be.

MANNER. There is no policy like politeness; and a good manner is the best thing in the world, either to get a good name or to supply the want of it.

A drunken north countryman, in Scotland, returning from a fair, fell asleep by the roadside where a pig found him, and began licking his mouth. Swamy roared out:—

"Who's kissing me now? Ye see what it is to be well liked among the lasses."

Some tasteful individual very correctly remarks that the best live salt in creation is a kiss; the remedy should be used with great care, however, as it is apt to bring on an affection of the heart.

"Sorrow gather round great souls as storms do around mountains; but, like them they break the storm and purify the air of the plain beneath them."

If milk be introduced into bottles, put into a pan with cold water, and gradually raised to a boiling point, and after being allowed to cool, be taken out, corked, and set away in a cool place, it may be preserved perfectly sweet for upwards of half a year. The reason is said to be that heat deprives the sugar of its power of changing into lactic acid.

Never lay a stumbling block in the way of a man who is trying to advance himself in the world honestly and uprightly, for he is likely to walk over it and laugh at you afterward.

An old lady once said, that her idea of a great man was—

"A man who was keener of his clothes; didn't drink spirits; kin read the Bible without spelling the words; and kin eat a cold dinner on wash-day to save the win-

Miscellany.

ELLEN JAYNE'S RESOLUTIONS.

"Why don't you clean your boots before you come into the house?" said Ellen Jaynes to her husband. "I had just nicely arranged the room, and settled down to my sewing as you came in; now there it is all dirt—from one end of the room to the other, and I suppose it is the same thing in the hall. Dear! dear! I am discouraged and tired out with brushing."

"And so am I discouraged and tired out with such a continual fret; fretting every time I come into the house. Don't you ever get tired of scolding?" was the provoking response

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

IMPROVEMENTS. The old livery stable on Hancock street, so old that the "oldest inhabitant" cannot tell when it was first erected, was torn down the present week. There had been several additions, from time to time, but a portion of it is supposed to have been built over a hundred years ago. In 1800, and for some time previous, it was used by Jonathan Marsh, who kept a hotel near by; the house stood nearly on the spot now covered by Col. Almer B. Packard's residence. The stable was afterward owned by Messrs. Newcomb, Blackett, Packard and Brigham. For many years it was used by Mr. Gillett, the popular stage driver between this little village, at that time, and Boston. Several months ago, after the death of Mr. Josiah Brigham, it was sold to Mr. Packard, who wishing to improve his estate, has caused the dilapidated building to be taken down. The ground is to be covered, we learn, with fruit and ornamental trees. It is certainly a great improvement, and will add additional charms to the Colonel's very attractive estate.

MELANCHOLY AFFAIR. We are sorry to announce the sudden death of Mr. Charles A. Spear, one of the most successful and enterprising farmers in this place. He has had dull and desponding spells, we learn, each spring, for several years, owing to the large care and anxiety in carrying on his extensive farm. Yesterday morning about three o'clock, he arose and went out, as his wife thought, only to be gone a few moments; soon after he left she fell asleep and a vision passed over her—she thought she was walking in the street with her husband when some one stepped up and shot him—the shock of the news had the effect to awake her from her dream. She looked for her husband but found that he had not returned, she immediately got up and searched for him, but not finding him about the house or outbuildings she called one of the men and they went to the barn where the unfortunate man was found. He was immediately cut down but life had fled, and he who was so dearly beloved by an affectionate wife, son, daughter, an aged mother, loving sisters, brother and large circle of relatives and friends, was no more. Mr. S. has always been a very industrious, and we might say with propriety, a hard working farmer. Probably letting his business absorb too much of his time and attention for his health, and just in the prime of life, at the age of 48 years, he has passed from us. By his industry and economy he had accumulated considerable property.

His disease was probably hereditary as his father was found in his barn, some twenty years ago, in a similar position.

ACCEPTED. Rev. S. T. Aldrich, for several years pastor of the Universalist Society, in this place, has received and accepted an invitation from Marlboro, Mass. He commenced his pastoral labors there on Sunday last. The society had heard him but twice, before they set themselves energetically to work to secure him.

TO TAXPAYERS. We would call the attention of all persons liable to pay taxes in Quincy, to the Assessors' notice in our columns. It gives some information which may be entirely new to many of our readers, while others may have known what the law is, but have forgotten; therefore we would invite all taxpayers to read the Assessors' notice in today's paper.

RESIGNED. We learn that the Rev. Mr. Burroughs, who has been pastor of the Episcopal Society, in this place, for many years, has resigned. This is the fifth minister that has left his society in this town within a year. They are most as changeable as the school teachers were a few years ago.

SNOW IN MAY. We were unexpectedly visited by a snow storm on Friday morning, after the rain of Thursday evening. It came down quite brisk for a short time, cooling our ardor and fond anticipation in the pleasures of spring.

PROPOSALS FOR BLASTING ROCKS. We would call the attention of our granite dealers and lodge men generally to an advertisement, in to-day's paper, for proposals for blasting rocks on Jerusalem road, Cohasset.

DRY GOODS. We doubt not, but many a husband and father, have at times felt a little vexed with us, for calling the attention of their wives and daughters, to the rich stock of goods available to be found at Messrs. Shepard, Norwell & Co., 30 Winter street, Boston. But as the ladies always wish to know where they can find rich goods, at low prices, we cannot refrain from calling the attention of our fair readers to their advertisements in our columns to-day.

ORNAMENTAL TREES.—SHRUBBERY, ETC. Those in want of such articles, should signify their intentions at once, by sending their orders to the "Wollaston Nursery." A large and valuable assortment may be found there, and orders left with Mr. James M. Needford will receive prompt attention.

CLOSE OF LEGISLATIVE SESSIONS. It is understood that the committee on ascertaining when the sessions of the Legislature may be brought to a close will report in favor of the adjournment on the 23d of May. An allowance of a week or two may be made to this time, which will make the session as long if not longer than that of last year.

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

Washington Matters.—Legislative Items.

BOSTON, MAY 7, 1868.

This is the eleventh week of the trial of Andrew Johnson, but it is uncertain when the verdict will be reached. In the judgment of many, a case for conviction and removal from office is not made out. And the demerit is that Mr. Johnson must be deposed as a political necessity; that is, to bring Mr. Wade into the Presidential chair for a few months with a patronage at his disposal of officials of twenty millions of dollars. But the end is not yet, and the dominant party will yet find that this political move to turn out Andrew Johnson was a grave mistake.

A quite animated discussion took place in the Massachusetts House of Representatives on Tuesday. The Senate's resolve in favor of Stephen J. Newman, was considered on the question of an appeal from the Chair, that the resolve was a "money bill," and must originate in the House. The discussion of the question occupied nearly the whole session. Messrs. Adams of Quincy, Walker of Springfield and Dana of Cambridge taking the view of the Speaker and Messrs. Thomson and Train of Boston the opposite view. The decision of Speaker Jewell was sustained by a yeas and nays vote, 142 yeas to 15 nays. The speech of Mr. Adams is given at some length in the Boston Advertiser, and no better evidence can be given of its soundness, than in the manner by which his views were sustained by the vote of the House.

It will be recollected, that John Adams the great grandfather of your representative, has the credit in history of being one of the chief framers in 1757 of our State Constitution and now, after the lapse of over 80 years one of his posterity of the fourth generation is found an able and eloquent champion in the Legislative Councils of the Commonwealth in its defense.

The late hour of receiving the Boston Correspondence this week, made it impossible to get it all in time.

COUNTY CONFERENCE AT NORTH WEYMOUTH. The Norfolk County Conference which embraces upwards of thirty Congregational Churches had a large and interesting meeting Tuesday with Rev. Mr. Rockwood's Church. Encouraging reports were given as to revivals and religious activity throughout the conference. Besides the pastors of this neighborhood, Rev. Mr. Noyes, F. D. Stedman, Esq. of Boston and Pres. Labaree, late of Middlebury College, took part in the meeting. The ladies furnished a beautiful collation, and the exercises closed at 4 P. M. with the celebration of the Lord Supper.

The Norfolk County S. S. Society held its 33d Anniversary in connection with the Conference. A warm discussion followed the report of Mr. Cyrus Brewer, turning chiefly on the S. S. literature of the present day and the responsibility of the Church for the Sabbath School.

The Rev. Mr. Bisley will preach in the Universalist church to-morrow.

HOOK AND LADDER CO., No. 1. At the annual meeting of this Company, held on Monday evening last, the following members were elected officers for the ensuing year:—

Foreman—A. M. Alpoigh.
Assistant—Edward A. Spear.
Clerk & Treasurer—Joseph M. Glover.
Foreman of Hook—John Jacobs.
Assistant—E. S. Fellows.
Foreman of Ladder—T. H. Plummer.
Assistant—Percy Chubbuck.
Assessors—Charles Arnold, Marcus M. Hobart.
Standing Committee—John T. Venzie, James N. Blake, George W. Prescott.

REMOVAL. Messrs. Joseph Stone & Co., manufacturers and dealers in hats, caps and furs, have removed from 37 Court street, to 245 Washington, near Winter street, Boston. Their spring stock is unusually large and very attractive. The latest style of spring hats, manufactured in the best manner, can be found at their establishment, and at prices very satisfactory. We think our citizens will find this one of the best places in the city to trade, and we would invite them to call and examine.

SOAP.—A NEW ARTICLE. Chemical experience, it was thought, had long since brought this article to perfection. But here our judgment stands corrected, since using a new article, of this description, manufactured by Mr. Edward B. Souther of this place, which combines many excellencies not to be found in others in common use, and which strongly recommends it for domestic purposes generally. It goes to the very root of the evil,—is a perfect purifier,—saves labor, and although powerful in its operations, does not injure the clothes, and may be used on the most delicate skin without inconvenience. Try it.

TRIAL OF JEFF. DAVIS POSTPONED. Jeff. Davis's bail bond was renewed on the 2d inst. The accused is to appear on such day, at the next term, as the Court may hereafter fix. The Judge said that Chief Justice Chase had told him that he would be in Richmond to preside at the trial within two days after the impeachment trial has concluded.

The new bond has Horace Greeley, Cornelius Vanderbilt and Gerrit Smith on it for $25,000 each, and the remaining $25,000 is given by citizens of Richmond. This was done by instructions from the parties named. Ex-Senator Bright, of Indiana, was in the Court room, and Gen. Lee and Ex-Secretary of War Seddon were in the city to attend as witnesses. It is thought that the trial will take place the last of May.

A certain house in New York is furnished from top to bottom with rosewood. The owner five years ago was a sutler in the army.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, MAY 6, 1868.

Bingham says Everts' speech was eternal, not quite. Standby was not able to deliver but about half of his argument. The remainder was read by a very young man, his Secretary. It hardly came up to the solid matter of Groesback's, or the finished style of Everts'. All that has been said of these gentlemen, and of the composed manner of Curtis may be all deserved. They played their parts well in the President's grand orchestra, especially Nelson, who is a splendid blower.

To-day, Bingham has finished speaking for the abused people of a free country. At this moment as on the lightning's wings his last words are being carried home to the hearts of his countrymen, the sons of freedom from the Atlantic to the Gulf respond in a hearty Amen! When he had finished, the crowds in the galleries, that had been held for an hour in almost breathless suspense, now like some spontaneous combustion broke out in loud applause. Chase ordered the galleries to be cleared. The people knew this would be the consequence but for the first time during the trial, were unable to keep silent. Like the boy in school "it whistled itself." Senator Cameron and others thought it was too bad to drive the people out for showing a little feeling on such a great occasion, but the order was enforced. Quite an excitement prevails all around the Senate, not unlike the day before a great battle.

Millions of dollars are here trying to influence the vote of the Senate, (so a leading Senator states from personal knowledge.) This will have no influence upon Fessenden. Both sides claim him, but notwithstanding the rumors, there are indications to-day that he will be with the people. In a few days the fate of the nation will be decided.

Mr. Frank Doubleday, of Barre, claims that he can play two separate tunes upon the piano, and sing a third, all at the same time.

Last week, Rev. Mr. Walker, pastor of Bowdoin Square Baptist Church, Boston, attended the funeral of a widow lady of nearly eighty years of age, whose mother is still living at the advanced age of 102 years, in the town of Jay, Maine.

Vessels arriving from European ports report vast fields of ice on the Newfoundland Banks and in the Gulf Stream, to clear which, in some cases, it was necessary to go hundreds of miles out of the regular course.

The three largest Savings Banks in Boston, have an aggregate of upwards of ninety thousand depositors, to whose credit there stands upwards of nineteen million and a half dollars.

In all parts of the South, according to report, heavy crops of cotton are being planted; and also, warned by previous misfortunes, the planters are sowing a good deal of corn for home consumption.

The Pall Mall Gazette states that the American Government is likely soon to be without a Representative to the English Court. Mr. Adams, it is understood, will not postpone his return to America beyond the time he has already fixed, which is now close at hand.

The appropriation of Bristol, (Me.) for public schools have been so liberal this year that scholars have been furnished with books and stationery without any charge.

A distinguished German Professor has predicted that there will be only 2 seasons instead of 4, commencing with 1868.

An English elm tree, which, by vote of the town of Boston, was planted on Tremont Mall just southerly of the entrance from West street to the Common, in the year 1733, was cut down and removed on Monday, having died at the advanced age of 134 years.

Good butter is now worth from sixty to seventy-five cents per pound in Galveston, while Texas cowboys more neat than any State in the Union, and it costs nothing to feed them.

The first printing press set up in this country was at Plymouth, and the first book printing was the Psalms.

Last Monday, green cherries at Richmond were as large as pees, and apple and lilac trees nearly in full blossom.

Since Monday, the 27th ult., 3177 emigrants have arrived at the port of New York.

It is stated in the fifteenth annual report of the Massachusetts Board of Agriculture that the total amount of indebtedness of the various societies in the State is $66,306 98; value of real estate, $292,089 55; value of personal property, $101,902; amount of permanent funds, $342,282 41.

In all parts of the South the farmers are planting pretty heavy crops of cotton. The late advance in the price of this staple has stimulated them to this.

The publisher of the Delaware Express, has recently recovered at law, thirteen years' subscription and costs from a subscriber, who pleaded the statute of limitation, which she claimed for all exceeding six years. The judge held that it was a continuing contract.

Among the recent governmental reforms in Austria, are mentioned, trial by jury, a bankruptcy regulation bill, the regulation of the relations of seats, and the closing of the shops on Sunday.

In the United States, in 1860, the whole number of copies of newspapers circulated during the year was 927,951,548. The annual circulation is now estimated at 1,500,000,000. In Great Britain the annual circulation of the newspapers is estimated at 500,000,000.

During the recent rebellion the Government purchased twenty-seven million pounds of powder.

MORE ECONOMICAL, REMARKABLE CERTAINTY OF PROMPT ACTION, IN FACT, every good quality is guaranteed for Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED (new style) HAIR RESTORER OR DRESSING, (in one bottle.) Every Druggist sells it. Price one dollar. May 9—4w

Summary Intelligence

Strawberries, blackberries, and almost every kind of garden vegetables have commenced arriving in Chicago, from the Gulf of Mexico region, via the Mobile and Ohio and the Illinois Central Railroads.

A laboring man in Clinton decided to have a stiff finger amputated, and two doctors went to work to do it, but instead cut off a sound digit and left the useless one on the hand.

There is a mad dog panic at Syracuse, and the unmuzzled dogs are all killed on sight. Several persons have been bitten.

By a derangement of the Draw of the Old Colony and Newport Railroad bridge between Boston and South Boston, on Monday morning last, a large number of trains were delayed several hours.

A few days ago, John Smith, of Grafton, (Vt.) just at the point of death, deeded his property to his son. His son died the next morning, when it came reversion to him; and his death on the same day made a third change of ownership in twenty-four hours.

A Gloucester photographer was visited the other day, by a young woman of uncommon naivete, who inquired meekly, "How long does it take to get a photograph after you leave your measure?"

Mr. Frank Doubleday, of Barre, claims that he can play two separate tunes upon the piano, and sing a third, all at the same time.

Last week, Rev. Mr. Walker, pastor of Bowdoin Square Baptist Church, Boston, attended the funeral of a widow lady of nearly eighty years of age, whose mother is still living at the advanced age of 102 years, in the town of Jay, Maine.

Vessels arriving from European ports report vast fields of ice on the Newfoundland Banks and in the Gulf Stream, to clear which, in some cases, it was necessary to go hundreds of miles out of the regular course.

The three largest Savings Banks in Boston, have an aggregate of upwards of ninety thousand depositors, to whose credit there stands upwards of nineteen million and a half dollars.

In all parts of the South, according to report, heavy crops of cotton are being planted; and also, warned by previous misfortunes, the planters are sowing a good deal of corn for home consumption.

The Pall Mall Gazette states that the American Government is likely soon to be without a Representative to the English Court. Mr. Adams, it is understood, will not postpone his return to America beyond the time he has already fixed, which is now close at hand.

The appropriation of Bristol, (Me.) for public schools have been so liberal this year that scholars have been furnished with books and stationery without any charge.

A distinguished German Professor has predicted that there will be only 2 seasons instead of 4, commencing with 1868.

An English elm tree, which, by vote of the town of Boston, was planted on Tremont Mall just southerly of the entrance from West street to the Common, in the year 1733, was cut down and removed on Monday, having died at the advanced age of 134 years.

Good butter is now worth from sixty to seventy-five cents per pound in Galveston, while Texas cowboys more neat than any State in the Union, and it costs nothing to feed them.

The first printing press set up in this country was at Plymouth, and the first book printing was the Psalms.

Last Monday, green cherries at Richmond were as large as pees, and apple and lilac trees nearly in full blossom.

Since Monday, the 27th ult., 3177 emigrants have arrived at the port of New York.

It is stated in the fifteenth annual report of the Massachusetts Board of Agriculture that the total amount of indebtedness of the various societies in the State is $66,306 98; value of real estate, $292,089 55; value of personal property, $101,902; amount of permanent funds, $342,282 41.

In all parts of the South the farmers are planting pretty heavy crops of cotton. The late advance in the price of this staple has stimulated them to this.

The publisher of the Delaware Express, has recently recovered at law, thirteen years' subscription and costs from a subscriber, who pleaded the statute of limitation, which she claimed for all exceeding six years. The judge held that it was a continuing contract.

Among the recent governmental reforms in Austria, are mentioned, trial by jury, a bankruptcy regulation bill, the regulation of the relations of seats, and the closing of the shops on Sunday.

In the United States, in 1860, the whole number of copies of newspapers circulated during the year was 927,951,548. The annual circulation is now estimated at 1,500,000,000. In Great Britain the annual circulation of the newspapers is estimated at 500,000,000.

During the recent rebellion the Government purchased twenty-seven million pounds of powder.

MORE ECONOMICAL, REMARKABLE CERTAINTY OF PROMPT ACTION, IN FACT, every good quality is guaranteed for Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED (new style) HAIR RESTORER OR DRESSING, (in one bottle.) Every Druggist sells it. Price one dollar. May 9—4w

WEATHER COCKS.

Why should the good old fashion of "Cocks" be changed on church steeples? We are told by Eusebius, "That as long as Saint Peter lived, he got up every hour in the night, when he heard the cock crow and prayed," &c. And Southwell, says, "That about the middle of the Ninth Century, it was enacted, that the figure of cocks should be put on church steeples, to put the people in mind of Peter's sin and unfeigned repentance. But kirk gives nearly the same account. It is certainly the handsomest vane, and most appropriate, from its connection, and calculated to remind us ever of the sin of obstinate persistency in belief of our own strength.

W. C. S.

THE WHISKY TAX.—Deficit. Sec. McCulloch has sent a communication to Congress concerning the whisky tax, showing a deficiency of $38,000,000 in the receipts from the estimates of Commissioner Wells. The government is receiving but little more than $1,000,000 per month, or $12,000,000 per annum, instead of $50,000,000, as he anticipated. The deficiency, in the opinion of the revenue officers of the government, is owing to their inability to collect the $2 per gallon tax.

GOLDEN WORK, 16, mo 392 pp. This is one of Mr. Hoy's best publications, narrating in an attractive style the blessedness of living for others. The story of the Canal Boat will take a prominent place among the many valuable religious books for the young which have come from No. 9 Cornhill.

PHYSIOLOGY, COURTESHIP & MARRIAGE, is the name of an excellent book just published by Piper & Co. It is written in a chaste, Christian style, and is full of timely and valuable truths to both young and old.

Billiard tables paid the government the last fiscal year, $124,711 49 in revenue. Tax $10 per table.

SILKS AND SATINS.

RECEIVED THIS DAY

A NEW LOT OF

SILKS AND SATINS,

ALL BEAUTIFUL SHADES,

VERY CHEAP.

Shepard, Norwell & Co.,

30 and 34 Winter street.

Dress Goods!

A BEAUTIFUL LOT OF

SILK AND WOOL

POPLINS,

WALKING SUITS,

VERY CHEAP.

Shepard, Norwell & Co.,

30 and 34 Winter street.

CLOAKS.

WE WOULD INVITE THE ATTENTION OF

LADIES TO OUR

NOVELTIES

PARIS GARMENTS.

SHEPARD, NORWELL & CO.

30 and 34 Winter street.

Housekeeping Goods.

JUST RECEIVED

A LARGE LOT OF

TABLE DAMASK

—AND—

NAPKINS.

A Great Bargain!

SHEPARD, NORWELL & CO.,

30 and 34 Winter street, Boston.

PROPOSALS

—FOR—

BLASTING ROCKS,

On Jerusalem Road, Cohasset.

PROPOSALS will be received by the undersigned until May 17, 1868, for Blasting Rocks, widening and otherwise improving said Road, at the following named points; the numbers in the order of the County Commissioners correspond with the numbers in this notice.

No. 1. At Sleep Rocks, removing Ledge on the west side, widening the road on the east side at lower part of the hill.

No. 2, 3 and 4. From opposite A. C. Wheelwright's house to E. Richardson's D-ane house, widening by removing ledges upon both sides of the Road.

No. 5 and 6. Near and opposite the house of Mrs. John Morse, by removing ledges on east side of road.

No. 7. Near E. D. Peters' entrance gateway, in part by removing ledges on both sides of road. The lines of Rock cutting at the several points being indicated by red paint marks on the ledges. Separate proposals must be given for No. 1, for Nos. 2, 3 and 4, for Nos. 5 and 6, and for No. 12, marked to correspond with the above. The work to be completed on or before the first day of July next, to the acceptance of the Selectmen and County Commissioners, reserving the right to reject any and all proposals.

Specifications may be seen at the office of Chairman of Selectmen.

J. Q. A. LOTHROP,) Selectman ZACHARIAH HILL,) MARTIN LINCOLN,) Cohasset.
Cohasset, May 9, 1868. 2w

Paper Hangings.

A SMALL lot of House Paper for sale Cheap.

J. ARLEY, Jr., Quincy, April 25. 1f

NEW Wheelwright Shop.

THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop,

NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS'

Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow,"

is now prepared to execute all orders in the Wheelwright line.

Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds of Carriages, with promptness and dispatch. Blocks made to order.

The Subscriber hopes by his long experience and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.

DANIEL MCCURDY, Quincy, May 9. 1f

LIVERY STABLE.

REMOVED.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that he has removed for a short time, his Livery Stable, &c., to the stable formerly owned and occupied by Alfred Furnell, corner of

Hancock & Canal Streets, Quincy,

where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages at short notice.

He would also take this opportunity to thank the public for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.

JOHN HALL, Quincy, May 9. 1f

Drs. BRIGHAM & HOLLACE,

DENTISTS,

86 Winter Street, Boston, (Room 1.)

Having adopted Dr. Folom's Patent method of constructing plates for Artificial Teeth, whereby the teeth are retained securely in their places, rendering mastication, &c., far easier than with teeth mounted in any other way, respectfully invite all desirous of obtaining teeth, and especially those who have tried elsewhere and failed of success, to call and investigate.

Teeth extracted by the use of Nitrous Oxide Gas or Ether. Special attention paid to fitting badly decayed teeth. Consultation free.

D. T. BRIGHAM, N. E. HOLLACE, May 9, —6m

REMOVAL.

JOS. STONE & CO.,

Hat, Cap & Fur Dealers,

HAVE REMOVED FROM

No. 37 COURT STREET,

to the spacious store,

245 Washington street,

Near Winter street, BOSTON.

May 9. 3w

Granite Railway Company.

NOTICE is hereby given that the total amount of assessments voted by the Granite Railway Company, and actually paid, is Two Hundred and fifty thousand dollars; the same being divided into twenty-five hundred shares, of one hundred dollars each; and also that the amount of the existing debts due by said company on the first day of April, 1868, was twenty thousand, two hundred and eighty and 73-100 dollars.

JOHN S. TYLER, President and a majority of the Directors of the Granite Railway Company.

JOHN C. PRATT, Secretary and a majority of the Directors of the Granite Railway Company.

W. B. JEWELL, JAMES BELT OSGOOD, GEORGE LEWIS, Boston, April 30, 1868. May 9—2w

NOTICE.

To the Inhabitants and other Persons

Liable to pay Taxes in the Town of Quincy.

THE ASSESSORS of the Town of Quincy, hereby give notice to the persons liable to pay taxes therein, that their office will be open on and after the Fifth day of MAY, next, and continuing until the Fifteenth day of JUNE, from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M., to receive the valuation of estates. And all persons liable to be taxed, whether real or personal, are hereby notified to bring in at said office, true and correct schedules and estimates of the real and personal estates in which they are liable to pay taxes. Persons holding estates in trust, whether for tenants or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with statements in relation to such estates. When estates of persons deceased have been divided since the past year, or have changed hands from other causes, the executor, or administrator, or other persons interested, in a quiet and orderly manner, shall be held

Poetry.

For the Patriot.
PURE MOTIVES.

If your motive be pure, never mind the world,
In coldness may sneer, as the proud pass you by,
The heart that is human, can ever enfold,
The truth that is veiled from many an eye.

Tho' adversity frown, and friends, like the smile,
Of summer, shall pass where the blast has swept by;
Remember yourself and the moments beguile,
With thoughts, that shall last till the winter frosts die.

For as surely as spring-time, succeeds to the cold,
So surely will worth find its treasure at last,
And you'll smile at the success, (both thoughtless and bold.)

While you muse on the dark days all over and past.
So be faithful, be strong, and let Right be the guide,
Like the harbor light swinging, far o'er the dark stream,
It shall guide you in safety, thro' change and o'er trials.

And life will be then something more than a dream.

MATTHEW L. B. NEWELL.

New Haven, Conn. April 28, 1868.

Farmers' Department.

MANURING MARKET GARDENS.

All successful market gardeners agree that it is useless to attempt to grow good crops, without a yearly application of manure, in large quantities. Henderson's Gardening says:

It is a grave blunder to attempt to grow vegetable crops without the use of manures of the various kinds. I never yet saw soil of any kind that had borne a crop of vegetables that would produce as good a crop the next season without the use of manure, no matter how rich the soil may be thought to be. An illustration of this came under my observation last season. One of my neighbors, a market gardener of twenty years' experience, and whose grounds have always been a perfect model of productiveness, had it in prospect to run a sixty-foot street, through his grounds; thinking his land sufficiently rich to carry through a crop of cabbages without manure, he thought it useless to waste money by using guano on that portion on which the street was to be, but on each side sowed guano at the rate of 1,200 lbs. per acre, and planted the whole with early cabbages.
The effect was the most marked I ever saw; that portion on which the guano had been used sold off readily at $12 per hundred, or about $1,400 per acre, both price and crop being more than an average; but the portion from which the guano had been withheld, hardly averaged $3 per hundred. The street occupied fully an acre of ground, so that my friend actually lost over $1,000 in crops, by withholding $60 for manure.

Another neighbor whose lease had only one year to run, and who also unwisely concluded that it would be foolish to waste manure on his last crop, planted and sowed all without; the result was,
as his experience should have taught him,
a crop of inferior quality in every article grown, and loss on his eight acres of probably $2,000 for that season.

A WORD FOR THE URRANT.

It is very strange that so little attention is paid to this most acceptable fruit.
It is easily raised, and brings a good price in market, the supply always being short of the demand. We give the experience of the author of "Walks and Talks," for the benefit of those who have old and unproductive bushes: "We had a splendid crop of currants last year.—
There were quite a quantity of old bushes on the farm when we came here, but the worms had stripped off every leaf, and they were in a forlorn condition. We set out a number of new ones, and in the meantime undertook to renovate the old ones by pruning and manuring. The old bushes produced five times as many currants as the new ones, and are good for years to come. Currants bring six dollars a bushel in the city, and it would seem that at such prices the crop would be a profitable one. If you have old bushes of good varieties, dig about them and dung them. Cut out all the suckers except one or two that may be needed to take the place of the old, decayed branches.
Keep a sharp lookout for the worms soon after the leaves are formed. You will find the eggs on the under side of the lower leaves, and they can be crushed between the thumb and finger in a moment.
And then, especially, look out for the second brood, after the fruit is gathered, and serve them in the same way.
It is here where so many fail. Destroy this second brood, and you will have comparatively few to kill next spring. If any escape, dig about the bushes with white heliochrome powder; but don't forget to destroy the eggs."

Inednotes.

"Madam your boy cannot pass at half fare, he is too large," said a conductor of a railway train, which had long been detained on the road by the snow.

"He may be too large now," replied the lady, "but he was small enough when we started." The conductor gave in, and the boy passed for half fare.

"Why does the operation of hanging kill a man?" inquired Dr. Whately.
A physiologist replied: "Because inspiration is checked, circulation stopped, and blood suffices and congests the brain."

"Bosh," replied his Grace. "It is because the rope is not long enough to let his feet touch the ground!"

"Do you like codfish balls, Mr.
Wiggins?"

"I really don't know, Miss," said Mr.
Wiggins, hesitatingly; "I don't recollect attending one."

PACIFIC

Guano Company's Ammniated or Soluble

PACIFIC

GUANO.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

Dr. Warren's Bilious Bitters,

THE

BLOOD

Purifier

PACIFIC

GUANO.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

GRASS SEED

AND SEED BARLEY.

THE

BLOOD

Purifier

PACIFIC

GUANO.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

Notice.

THE

BLOOD

Purifier

PACIFIC

GUANO.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

WILLIAM GARRITY'S

(Formerly Farnall and Shea's)

Quincy & Boston Express

THE

BLOOD

Purifier

PACIFIC

GUANO.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

BEST FERTILIZER

—AT THE—

LOWEST PRICE.

THE

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.
GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1868.

NUMBER 20.

POST OFFICE.
Mails open 8 30 A. M., and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M. and 5 15 P. M.
Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
95 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18. tf

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY,
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 1/2
P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14. tf

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing,
Weymouth, Mass. July 13. tf

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25. tf

Dr. Roundy & Wife,
CLAIRVOYANT, MAGNETIC AND
ELECTRIC PHYSICIANS,
On QUINCY AVENUE,
Near the corner of School and Elm Sts.
Quincy, March 14. tf

WOODS & HOSMER,
Market Eating House,
No. 46 North Market St.,
CORNER OF MERCHANT'S ROW
BOSTON
LEWIS H. WOODS,
Sole Proprietor,
Sept. 14. tf

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29. ly

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18. tf

LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Oxfords and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to Measure.
No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6. ly

FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in points of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warerooms, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13. ly

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,
No. 4 HAYWARD PLACE.
4th door from Washington street at No. 245.
GIVES special attention to Epilepsy; to all Nervous
Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After twenty years practice in Boston, and the last seven years in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Phil adelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.
His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office
or, will be sent by mail for the following prices:—
"Epilepsy," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Repeals and Shores Physiotherapy and Surgery," $1.25.
"Chronic Health," 40 cents.
"The Reason," 60 cents.
Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins, of Williams College, says:—"The Reason" is a book of no great size, but it is a subject too much neglected." Wm.
Allen, M. D., L.L.D., late president of Girard College, Pa., says: "The publication of this book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of a public."
Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all our young men." Aug. 17 tf

Worst Goods at Cost
AT M'LELLAN'S

CHEAP CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.
Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.
AYERS' PILLS, 20 CTS.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.
Brown's Troches, 25 cts.
BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.
Hoops Skirts 87 cts.
Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY
STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.
Prints and Delaines.
DRESS GOODS,
WORKING PANTS CHEAP.
PANT CLOTHS.
German and American Corsets.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 22 cts.

FIGS & ORANGES.
Hair Braids, 85 cts.
BEADS, BEADS
Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM MADE
Pants and Vests
VERY LOW.
HATS & CAPS
Perforated Card Board,
Gilt Paper,
Drawing Paper,
Blotting Paper,
Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES
BELOW COST
to close out.
J. A. M'LELLAN,
NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.
Quincy, Feb. 22. tf

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"
almost questioned when we see
LORING'S PATENT
IRON WATERSTOP
THRESHOLD!
Call and see it. Every house needs it.
BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11. tf

THE STAR BURNER
A new patent Kerosene Burner,—superior to the Sun Burner—for Sale by the Subscribers.
—ALSO—
The American Foot Stove!
An excellent article for the parlor or sitting room. Very comfortable and durable; free from all danger of fire, therefore a valuable article to take when you wish to enjoy a sleigh-ride
Call and examine.
C. F. & J. W. PIERCE.
Quincy, Dec. 14. tf

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH
COUGHS, COLDS,
HOARSENESS,
OR BRONCHITIS,
USE VEAZIE'S
Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squills.
The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy
known.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16. tf

Parlor Cue Alley.
TO LET. A Parlor Cue Alley, nearly new,
in perfect order, by
JOSEPH AREY, Jr.
Quincy, Feb. 22. tf

TREES.
Wollaston Nursery
The Subscriber has for Sale
ON WOLLASTON AVENUE,
A large variety of Hardy and
Ornamental Trees & Shrubs
Both Native and European, among which are
DECIDUOUS TREES:
American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elms; Norway, Spruce, Rock, Ash, Laurel and Scarlet Maples;— English and Turkey Oaks;—Common and Weeping Ash;—
—South and Tyndale Larches;—American and English Lindens;—Tulip Trees;—English and Purple Beeches;—
—English Sycamores;—Horse Chestnuts; &c.
EVERGREENS:
Norway, Blue and Hemlock Spruces;—South, Australian, Mugho, Gumbra, and Corsican Pines;—Arbor Vitae, &c.
FLOWERING SHRUBS:
Altheas;—Wigandas;—Forsythias;—Scarlet Dogwood;
—Mahonias;—Box-leaved Evergreen & Common Privet;
—Hollandale;—Laurus;—Epimas;—Syringes; &c.
Also, a good assortment of
Fruit Trees, and Small Fruit, viz:
Pears—20 Varieties;—Apples—10 do.—Peaches of the best sorts;—Plums and Cherries;—Raspberries;—Ver-million and Cherry Currants;—Roses of all kinds;—
—Hawthorn;—Concord, Hartford, Frolic;—Roger's Hawthorn;—Grass, Japanese and Purple Bees; &c.
Amongst the Pears are the Early, and a limited supply of the Golden Dwarf, a comparatively new variety, rarely growing more than five feet high, of beautiful foliage and form, and of fine fruit, and of fine flavor, and of fine quality, and of fine quality, and being consequently of small size, a good opportunity is offered to those who wish to plant large numbers, to supply themselves at a moderate expense.
Persons wishing to plant ornamental or fruit trees are invited to call at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere.
All orders given to Mr.

JAMES M. BECKFORD,
will be promptly filled.
GEORGE EATON.
Wollaston April. 4. tf

Strawberry, Blackberry,
AND RASPBERRY PLANTS
For Sale.
Jucunda, Agriculturalist, Lady of the Lake, Monitor, Brooklyn, La Constant, Scarlet, Col. Ellsworth, Russell's Prolific,
and Hovey's Strawberry Plants. Lawton
and Dorchester Blackberry. Franconia
Raspberry; Giant Asparagus roots; Hartford Prolific and Concord Grape vines.
Also, a few early Goodrich Potatoes.
WILLIAM G. PRESCOTT.
Quincy, April 11. tf

GARDEN SEEDS
For the Spring of 1868.
JOS. BRECK & SON
would call attention to their collection of Garden and Flower Seeds,
embracing everything worthy of cultivation.
No seeds but such as we know to be the best quality, raised by ourselves or imported,
are ever offered for sale at our establishment.
After an experience of forty years, we believe that we can say that we are thoroughly posted as to the wants of the FARMER and GARDENER.
We have everything new and all well known and tried varieties of Seeds, which we offer at
the lowest cash prices.
For full particulars send for descriptive catalogues which will be sent gratis.
51 & 52 North Market St., Boston.
March 23. tf

Parker, Gannett & Osgood
Agricultural Warehouse,
—AND—
SEED STORE,
49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row, offer a large assortment of the best Agricultural Implements,
MACHINERY & TOOLS,
OF ALL KINDS.
Buckeye Mowing Machines, Whitcomb's
Horse Rakes, Palmers' Horse
Pitchforks,
Are sold exclusively by us.
Garden, Field and Flower Seeds.
Our large and well selected stock of Seeds, grown by EXPERIENCED SEEDSMEN in Europe and America, the quality of which we can guarantee to be surpassed, is offered in quantities to suit.
Grass Seeds, Seed Grain, in all their varieties.
Hangover Grass, White.
Seed Potatoes—Early Goodrich, Early Sebec, Early
Blue, Gleason, &c.
FERTILIZERS.
Guano, Super-phosphate of Lime, Pon-drette, Ground Hides, Plaster, Fish
Guano, &c.
GRAFTING WAX, made expressly for our trade—
WHALE OIL SOAP, genuine article. Extra Bone MEAL for feeding.
All orders and inquiries by mail or express, will meet with prompt attention. Tool, vegetable and Flower Seed Catalogues furnished upon application to Parker, Gannett & Osgood,
BOSTON, Mass.
March 23.—3m.

A Good Assortment
Kept Constantly on hand
YOU will constantly find at the Citizen's Market all kinds of Meat of the best quality,
at the Lowest Cash Prices.
Also, all kinds of Fresh and Smoked Fish;
Turnips, Beets, Squashes, Beans of all kinds;
Eastern and Sweet Potatoes, Cucumbers, Pickles, Sweet Apples for preserves; Peas, French Beans, Cabbages, Jellies, Bottle Pickles of all kinds; Lemons, Figs, &c.
Also, the very best of White Wine Vinegar.
All orders promptly attended to.
S. T. ALLEN.
Quincy, April 23. tf

FOR SALE!
FULL Set of Carpenters' Tools, for Sale
Cheap.
J. AREY, JR.
Quincy, Feb. 8. tf

Poetry.
For the Patriot.
EVENING.

'Tis the hour when daylight closes;
When the wild-bird goes to rest;
When the children cease their singing
And deep-dyed is the crimson west—
'Tis the hour when nature singeth
To the son of toil, a song,
Telling him to leave his labor,
Cherishing him in its way along.
To the loving wife, who waits him,
To those friends blessings too—
Little prattlers—Heaven guide them,
Parent love they bring to you.
'Tis the hour when angel voices,
Greet me from that far off shore,
Whispering words of consolation—
Speaking of an Evermore.
This the hour I think most pleasant,
This the hour I love to see,
This the hour, for pure devotion,
"Lift the heart, and bend the knee,"
While thine angel friends surround thee,
And the evening shades grow dim,
Let the heart in silent praying,
Sound the soul's sweet vesper-hymn.
MATTHEW L. B. EWE.

Interesting Selections.
TAPIOCA PUDDING. Take one quart of milk, and put into it six tablespoons tapioca; place it on the fire till it boils;
then sweeten to taste, and let it simmer for a quarter of an hour; stir frequently that it may not burn; then pour it into a basin and slightly cool; stir into it a lump of fresh butter and three eggs well beaten.
You may now pour it into a buttered pudding dish and bake an hour. Sago pudding may be prepared in the same manner.
TO PREVENT PRINTS FROM FADING.
The dress should be washed in lather, and not by applying the soap in the usual way direct upon the muslin. Make a lather by boiling soap and water together; let it stand until it is sufficiently cool for use, and previously to putting the dress into it, throw in a handful of salt; then wash the dress in the clear, cold water, into which a little salt has been added;
wash; remove it and rinse it in a fresh supply of water and salt. Then wring the dress in a cloth and hang it to dry immediately, spreading as open as possible, so as to prevent one part lying over another. Should the dress be any white in the pattern, mix a little blue in the water.
THE poorest man in all the country
—the one who can't afford to take his Town Newspaper.

HEALTH. The four ordinary secrets of health are, early rising, exercise, personal cleanliness, and the rising from the table with the stomach unoppressed.
There may be sorrow in spite of these,
but they will be less with them; and no body can be truly comfortable without them.
A Yankee is never upset by the astonishing. He walks among the Alps with his hands in his pockets, and the smoke of a cigar is seen among the mists of Niagara. One of this class sauntered into the office of the lightning telegrapher and asked how long it would take to transmit a message to Washington. "Ten minutes," was the reply. "I can't wait," was the rejoinder.

Friendship is a sacred enclosure in life where the bravest and best souls meet together to repose upon, yet defy the common lot.
PRIDE. Pride emanates from a weak mind. You never see a man of strong intellect proud and haughty. Just look about you. Who are the most given to this folly? Not the intelligent and talented, but the weak minded and the silly.
Jekyll was told that one of his friends, a brewer, had been drowned in his own vat. "Ah!" he exclaimed, "floating on his own watery bier."

The "game of life" is very like a game of cards—time deals, death cuts, and everybody is waiting for the last trump.
If the man who wrote—it might have been a woman—"I love to see the snow-flakes dancing in the air" still lives, what a heap of enjoyment he or she must have suffered this winter!

Japanese scissors are in the shape of our sugar tongs—of steel—and sever articles freely as the blades approximate by pressure. Their locking glasses are highly burnished steel. They use a very elastic, transparent silk paper in window frames instead of glass, and a more firm opaque substance of the same, stretched on frames as partitions inside their dwellings.

A little boy in Portland told his father he was a fool. On being reminded by his mother and required to say he was sorry, he ran to the insulted parent and exclaimed, "Papa, I'm sorry you're a fool!"

PREJUDICE. A sick man being urged to send for a physician, replied—"No, I wish to die a natural death."

Perfect peace is not possible even in the deepest retirement. A wolf will creep into the most pastoral life.

Miscellany.
Some of the Trials of Captain Tom Jones.

In the year 18—I made my first voyage to Calcutta, in the good ship Clara. In her I invested the hard earnings of years;
indeed, all the hard earnings of years except a small annuity to my wife in case I should never return; but my hopes were to double the amount of my investment in a single voyage.
My hopes were blasted. After a short voyage we came to anchor in the Hoogly, and during a severe gale the ship parted her cable, and running along the British brig Nancy, stove a hole in her bows.
The result was that the ship and three of her crew were swallowed up in the deep sea. Fortunately, I went ashore before night to visit the consignee, who was not being at home, I waited for him until it was too late to go aboard the ship. Thus a special providence watched over me, while other poor fellows found watery graves.

Well, here I was, a stranger in a strange land, penniless. At first, grief overpowered me, and I wished I had shared the fate of the ship. But calling into exercise my indomitable will, I resolved to surmount my trials. The consignee being in want of a secretary, I at once entered his service. My expenses were trifling and wages good. In a few months I had accumulated quite a little fund. With this I began a system of careful speculations, and being flattered by success, I plunged into all manner of business transactions, and, strange to say, was successful in all. Indeed, dame fortune seemed to be making amends for my former ill-luck;
but alas, she could not restore the dead, and although she might shower perpetual blessings on my head, widow's and orphan's tears would far outweigh her gifts.

I had passed nearly eight years under India skies, and having amassed enough of this world's goods, I resolved to go home to America. I should add that in these long years I had received no tidings from home. I sent letter after letter to my wife, and waited in vain for answers.
Sometimes I feared she might be dead, and the thought made me miserable indeed. But I realized the fact that I had a living to obtain, and that I could make a fortune in Calcutta in half the time I could at home—and stayed year after year, beguiled as many others have been by prospects of speedy competency.

After settling up my affairs, I had not long to wait for an opportunity to sail for home. I took passage in the ship Neptune, bound for Boston, and in due time arrived at our desired haven. I lost no time in going to Salem, my former home, where I expected to find my wife. Imagine my disappointment on being told by strangers, who occupied the house I had lived in, that my wife had died some years before. I then passed on to Mrs.
Thomas Jones lived in Salem. I went to the house of our former pastor, hoping he would be able to give me the desired information, but learned that the good man had been dead six years. Then I thought of Mrs. Ashton, my wife's sister, who lived in Pelham, and thither I went as fast as steam could carry me. I found my trials were ended when I saw old Elijah, Mr. Ashton's gardener. Of him I learned that Mr. Ashton was dead, the place sold, and his widow was living in New York. I then asked if he had seen Mrs. Jones there previous to her sister's removal. He said she had spent a winter there six or seven years ago, and was in deep mourning for her husband who had been lost at sea. When I made myself known, the old man looked upon me as upon one risen from the dead. He said his son had seen my monument in the old burying ground at Ashley, erected by my wife. Hearing this, I was more impatient than ever.

In the morning I took the first train for Ashley, the birthplace of my wife, and where she would most likely retire in supposed widowhood. It was noon when I arrived at the depot, and on enquiry found that Mrs. Thomas Jones was living at the Mason Place—the old homestead.
Thither I went, and as I lifted the huge brass knocker it seemed as if every panel in the old door trembled. So sure was I that my own dear wife would be the first to greet me that I came near embracing the buxom Irish girl who appeared at the door. My excitement somewhat abated when I was told that Mrs. Jones had gone away for the day. I told the girl that I was a relative of Mrs. J., and I would wait for her.

I was ushered into the old family sitting room, where I had spent some of the happiest hours of my life. There were many familiar objects in the room. On the wall hung my portrait, and beside me that of my wife. Even my easy chair sat in the corner, looking as well as when I used it eight years before.

There were a few objects which I could not understand—children's toys; a little whip, a toy cart and a suspicious looking little frock hung upon a chair as if just taken off. As I was revolving a thousand impossibilities in my mind, a pretty boy came in. He was somewhat taken aback when he saw the room occupied, but I soon restored him to his senses by letting him fumble my watch seals. As soon as he had become familiar, I asked him my name. Imagine my consternation when he answered, "Tommy Jones, sir."

"Tommy Jones!" exclaimed I. "Who are you named for?"

"Noah was probably the only person
who went to sea for fear of being drowned."

"My papa, sir. He's gone to sea and never seed me," cause I was borned after he went away."
"How old are you, boy?" said I.
"Free last June," said the boy in his baby dialect.
"You are more, sir, you are eight,"
said I.
"No Tommy's only free," was his answer.
Here was indeed a mystery. A boy bearing my name and purporting to be mine, whose age is but three.
Then a sudden thought struck me. The child might have been adopted by my wife, I asked the Irish girl how long she had lived in Mrs. Jones' family; she answered, "going on four years."
"And did you live here when Tommy was born?" I asked.
"Indeed I did—and didn't I pray to the blessed virgin to protect the father of him on the briny deep?"
I thrust the child from me, and ex-cusing myself by saying I would go and meet Mrs. Jones.

I left the house in a perfect frenzy, not knowing where I was going. I wandered on, and at last looking up, found myself in close proximity to the graveyard, and curiosity prompted me to enter, and take one look at my monument, and then to leave my native land forever, without letting my wife know of my existence.

Had she married again, I think I could have forgiven her, but such perfidy I could not forgive. My heart seemed frozen within me, and I cursed the fate that had preserved me through so many trials.

Casting my eyes about, I saw a broken shaft, and approaching nearer, I perceived a female dressed in deep mourning, picking flowers, and so absorbed was she that I approached unobserved, and read my own epitaph. I was about moving away when I was seen.
O, heavens! here was my wife standing before me. She did not recognize me, I was so changed.

"You lavish great care on these fading flowers, madam," said I, "but have evidently neglected to cherish the most beautiful and enduring."
You speak ambiguously, sir. This memorial I have erected to the memory of my own dear husband who was lost at sea, as you may read."

"And you still believe him dead? Does the thought never occur to you that the sea sometimes gives up its dead, madam?"
"O, sir, I have lived in hope many years, but it has all died out of my heart now. I shall never see him again until the great judgment day." And she wept.
"Would it be too much joy to know that he still lives?"
"I fear my joy would be more than I could bear. Sir, don't hold out any false hopes—my poor heart cannot bear much more grief."

Could I longer doubt her sincerity?
"Mary! Mary, my own dear faithful wife," I said, repeating the words slowly.
"My husband!" was all she could utter before she fell fainting into my arms.

After she had sufficiently recovered to converse, said I, "My wife, what child is that at home bearing my name?"
"Why, your nephew's," Thomas Jones, Jr. He married sister Lucy, and Tommy is their only child. I was lonely after I came here, and so invited Lucy to live with me—for you know Tom is a sailor, and has been there six years. He has been gone three years, but we expect him home soon. Lucy has gone to Boston to-day in the frigate, and she'll be back in a week or so."

We went home the happiest couple in the world, and I shall leave you to conjecture the rest of our conversation. Of course, I was foolish enough to inform her of my jealousy.
The following day, Skipper Tom, Jr., arrived, and it was hard for me to believe the handsome fellow before me was the stripling I left eight years before.

Tommy the third and I became fast friends; and to this day Mrs. Jones declares he stands higher in my affections than our own little Joneses.

As for the broken shaft, there it stands.
I have altered the lettering somewhat,
but there stands the monument, and there it shall stand until time shall raze it to the ground.

THE ART OF ADVERTISING.
Advertising has come to be a necessity in every business which depends upon the patronage of the masses of people.
How to reach this class and secure their trade is the main question. Advertise in a "Daily" will not do it, for it circulates only among the shopkeepers themselves, who briefly scan the telegraphic news, glance at the locals, and then throw the paper aside, to be looked at no more. The weekly Newspaper is the one that is read by the people. This is taken home to the family, is preserved, is read and re-read, advertisements and all, and then, perhaps,
sent away to friends as giving a fuller summary of news and more entertaining reading than a Daily—thus bestowing a wider influence in behalf of trade. The benefits of advertising in the family newspaper must be obvious to every keen business man. It goes directly to the people, whom the merchant or trader desires to reach.

Noah was probably the only person
who went to sea for fear of being drowned.

CONDITIONS.
No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.
Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., Boston.
S. R. NILES,
HORACE DODD,
A. F. LINCOLN & Co., New York.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., New York.
GEO. P. HOWELL & Co., New York.
JOHN HOOPER & Co., New York.

For the Patriot.
THE HEALTH—HOW TO PRESERVE IT.
BY W. M. CORNELL, LL. D.

Not Study soon after Eating, nor late at Night.
It is no time to study soon after eating.
This will be fully shown "when we come to speak of the process of digestion. It is sufficient to say at present, that the mind requires rest, while the digestive apparatus is discharging its peculiar functions. There are many clever men who spend the week, till near its close, in other duties; and, as late as Friday, betake themselves to study to prepare for the Sabbath. They feel that their "full tale of brick" must be rendered, "straw," or "no straw." Hence the intellect is overtaxed, while the physical man is neglected.

In the midst of his study, the minister is called to dinner, swallows it in hot haste, scarcely aware whether he is eating or writing; and, as though the hand of necessity were upon him, without allowing a moment for the repose of his physical man, hastens back to the study. The hour for supper arrives, and the same course is repeated. Amidst the ringing of the door-bell, and numerous interruptions, which serve only to perplex, night has overtaken him, and the sermons are not finished. The labor grows upon his hands. The subject is cumulative. He cannot curtail, criticize and trim. In a word, he must make a long sermon, because he has not time to make a short one.

The study is continued to a late hour of the night. Now, no man can think intensely, without the flow of more blood to the brain, than takes place at other times. By keeping up this determination of blood to the brain, for hours, this great central organ becomes congested. An excess of excitability obtains in it, and it is not possible that so important an organ, the acknowledged seat of the superiority of man over the whole animated world;
the residence of consciousness; the throne of intellect; of reason, memory, judgment;
the fountain from which every passion, and every feeling, and every manifestation of human intellects flow, can be thus affected, thus abused, without the whole system participating in the injury.

While these operations are going on in the brain; while too much of the vital fluid is collected there, the rest of the system is proportionally deprived of its due share; hence, from the want of this natural stimulus, the liver, the great wheel of all the digestive apparatus, with the whole alimentary canal, becomes torpid, and a long train of nervous, dyspeptic, and hypochondriacal complaints is the result. To listen on, and perpetuate this abnormal state of things, unfortunately and strangely the physical appetite is often in an inverse ratio to the intellectual; and, with the love of study, there is frequently associated great doling of the digestive organs. The weary brain can no more sleep, than the overstrained muscle can be quiet. But of Sleep, we have already spoken.

The sensation, thus induced, affects every part of the body, and frequently the poor sufferer imagines that he is laboring under incurable disease. When such an idea has taken possession of the mind, it is not easily dislodged from the imagination. Argument only deepens the impression.

There is no remedy for this state of things but for the professional man to do his work "in season," and for the wife to secure the frugal, and allow no more oil to be put into the lamp.

Night-study ruins many constitutions, by keeping up a chaos of impressions upon the brain, during the succeeding sleep, if that can be called sleep, which is constantly interrupted by incoherent dreams and half-waking trains of thought. The brain must have rest, or perpetually overloading it with blood will destroy its energy.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]
SHAW'S AND STRAWS.
An incident is mentioned by a correspondent, who was desired by his mother to go to neighbor Shaw's and see if he had any straw suitable for filling beds.
"Mr. Shaw," says our informant, "was blessed with a goodly number of Misses Shaw, and I therefore felt a little timid at encountering them, and to make the matter worse, I arrived just as the family were seated at dinner. Stepping in the doorway, hat in hand, I stammered out,
"Mr. Straw, can you spare enough Shaw to fill a couple of beds?" Well, replied the old gentleman, glancing around at his large family, and enjoying my mistake,
"I don't know but I can; how many will you need?" Before I could recover, I threw those hateful Shaw girls burst into a chorus of laughter, and I made a hasty exit.

ANOTHER DOCTOR.
The patient of a "root and herb" medicine man got the following prescription from him for a bad cold:
"Puteher feet in hot water, gobbed and drink a pint of Loo!"
The patient brought the enigma to us in despair. "I can make out the first part well enough, he said. "Put your feet in hot water, go to bed, and drink a pint—that is plain enough. But what is Loo?"
We were embarrassed at first, but a happy inspiration flashed across our minds, and we turned out to be the explanation.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

From time immemorial, nations have erected monuments to commemorate the deeds and genius of persons eminent in whatever department of education, or of whatever calling or profession they admired or revered. The heathen and barbaric, the half-civilized and civilized, and enlightened nations, have, according to the peculiar notions of their people, and of their times, erected something to serve as a memento of the eminence and heroism of departed leaders. Civilization and Christian enlightenment have suggested the propriety of rearing in the midst of communities, something generally of emblematic characters, which may perpetuate the works of those who have left the impress of their greatness upon mankind. If we explore the dim passages of oriental literature, we shall find that crude and unmeaning blocks of wood and stone, served to quicken the memory.

At a later day, some emblem of the accomplishments, graced the shaft of remembrance, and Christian development and refinement have delineated in elaborate form the features and states of truly enlightened nations hail with honor and reverence the genius which moulds the figure of their champions, whether it be in war, statesmanship, religion, science, literature or poetry,—communities bear religious testimony of sadness for those who have passed away, by strewing the grassy mound of their sepulchre, with the sweetest garlands, which lavish their fragrance and perfume upon the balmy air of lovely spring-time, in raising private monumental columns, with appropriate inscriptions.

A walk through the Crystal Palace in Sydenham, exhibits to the half-admiring and half-repugnant view, a series of statues representing the sovereigns of England. The Norman Conqueror leads the line, which is gracefully terminated by the present lady Monarch. There is personified, innocence and guilt, might and inability, which at once command feelings of respect and sorrow. Nations with semi-coldness honor! Communities and friends bear closer relations, and with acute and personal grief, bedew the immediate spot with the copious tears, true devotion and heartfelt sadness unobscuredly prompt.

The people of Quincy will soon be called to dedicate a Monument erected by their munificence and patriotism, which shall convey to posterity a brief record of the heroism and patriotism of those of their friends and neighbors, who perished in the cause of their country and of good government, and which shall serve throughout all coming time, to recall the memory of their daring deeds and patriotic exertion, to maintain the principles which lay at the base of a rightly ordered society.

On the day of dedication, we shall endeavor to chronicle the events, and give a general history of the Monument and the occasion. Let it be consecrated to the memory of the sleeping soldiers, with the benedictions and tears of a mourning and grateful people. Gather the choicest wreaths and place them upon the Shaft. Let the dedicatory oration be prepared with care, and let the people of this old town of Quincy, whose history is so closely interwoven with that of the nation, do sacred honor to the dead, and thereby add new lustre to that which has already accrued by the efforts of Hancock, the Adamses, and Quincys, in the broad field of American statesmanship. Their names may not be known to every passer by, yet their glorious work performed upon the battlefield cannot be forgotten, and although the grief of the mourning widow and orphans, of the aged father and mother, and the loving brother and sister, may not be assuaged, yet the assurance of the holy cause fortifies the stricken heart, and accompanies near companions in life, down to the grave.

TIGER ENGINE CO. No. 2. At the annual meeting of the Tiger Engine Co. of this town, held on Monday evening, May 14th, the following persons were elected officers for the year ensuing:

Foreman, E. S. Brown.
1st Assistant, J. L. Maxim.
2d " Warren Dunbar.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. W. Penniman
Steward, J. S. Paine.
Suction Hosemen, W. H. Felts, L. McDonald, Wm. Griffin, F. O. Keith.
Leading Hosemen, A. A. Hayden, Linus Bird, J. W. Hayden, T. W. Talbot, J. Griffin, G. H. Hobart.
Standing Committee, J. S. Paine, J. W. Thayer, T. M. Butler.

PARALYSIS. Mr. James Packard, the eldest man in town, was prostrated by a paralytic shock on Wednesday evening. He seemed to be in his usual good health, having attended the funeral of his granddaughter, at the Neck that afternoon. His advanced age, eighty-seven, makes it extremely doubtful of his recovery.

CONCERT. The Orthodox Church was well filled on Thursday evening last, by our citizens, to listen to some very fine singing, given under the charge of Mr. H. B. Brown. His class, numbering one hundred and twenty-five voices, has been carefully drilled the past winter and spring, and on the evening of the entertainment gave great credit to themselves and instructor. We were well pleased with many of the pieces, and would like to mention some of those taking prominent parts, but all did so nobly we dislike to discriminate.

The Rev. Quincy Whitney is expected to occupy the desk in the Universalist Church, to-morrow.

SLEIGHING IN MAY. The Bangorians had their sleighs out last Friday, and at Northport, Maine, the snow was a foot deep.

BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

BOSTON, MAY 14, 1868.

Conventions.—State of Business.—Trade and Prices.—The Legislature.—Impediment excitement at fever heat.

The advent of the annual Conventions for religious and other purposes taking place the last week of the present month, will attract vast crowds to Boston; giving great animation to the community. We may have occasion to notice their proceedings in a future number.

According to the business record, the public and private sales of the week have been quite extensive, with prices well sustained, if we except the dry goods market, which has been flat and dull. Judging from the quick sales of real estate,—this only really safe kind of property is looking up in Boston. But building is a risky experiment; as there is great demand for all kinds of lumber, with full prices, notwithstanding the extensive arrivals of lumber vessels from Maine. Lumber is quoted at $1.25 per cask. Lined oil as high as $1.20. Paints without change in price. It is really a hazardous experiment to build or extensively repair the habitations of men in consequence of the high price of labor and materials. Four or five dollars per day, of ten hours labor, is a modest price for some mechanics,—and they get it, whether or no.

The days of the present session of the State Legislature are drawing to a close, after some five months of business. Special Legislation has occupied no small part of the time and ingenuity of the members. There is a great want of harmony on the liquor question between Governor Billock and the Legislature, which has culminated in anything but good feeling. He will probably not be Governor after the present year, as it is said, he will decline a re-nomination.

The great and absorbing question of impeachment is about to be settled. The whole matter is now in the hands of the Senators, and the series of questions to be answered by them on Saturday will settle the fate of Andrew Johnson. This subject transcends all others on the public heart, and well it may, for a more grave one never was before the American people. We hardly believe the masses and the business community in particular believe in the expediency or justice of convicting the President on political grounds; for on no other principle will be be condoned. The consequences of conviction will be fearful to the success of the Republican party in November next.

NEW YORK, May 14. A special cable dispatch gives the following:
"London, May 13. Charles Francis Adams, United States Minister to the Court of St. James, took leave of the Queen at a special audience to-day. Mr. Adams left London soon afterward for the continent, leaving Mr. Moran in charge of the American legation."

AUCTION. We would call the attention of our readers to the sale of nice household furniture, this afternoon, in front of Mr. Lombard's Store. See notice in another column.

ACCIDENT AT THE MARLBORO HOTEL. Saturday last a young son of Wm. P. F. Meserve, the proprietor, as he was climbing over the banisters of the Marlboro Hotel, fell a distance of seventeen feet, striking upon his head, and injuring himself so badly that he was unconscious for some time.

The Weymouth Soldiers' Monument. of Quincy Granite, twenty-five feet high, with memorial tablets of Italian marble, bearing the names of ninety-nine deceased soldiers of that town, will be dedicated July 4, and Dr. George B. Loring of Salem will deliver the oration.

OLD COLONY AND NEWPORT DEPOT. Everybody is lavish in their praise of the new and beautiful Passenger Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railroad Company at Boston. That portion of the old structure which was not taken down has been so remodelled as to be hardly recognizable, and with the new additions, makes a building of one hundred and forty-four feet long and about one hundred and thirteen feet wide. All the rooms for the various offices are spacious and every way comfortable. The passengers' apartments,—gentlemen's and ladies'—are spacious and elegantly fitted up, embracing every convenience possible for ease and comfort. The baggage and hackmen's rooms, newspaper stand, restaurant, telegraph station, ticket office, ladies' package depository, together with the car-house, in size, finish, and every convenience, are all that any one could desire. As a whole it is one of the most extensive commodious, best arranged and finished Depots in New England, and reflects not a little credit upon the agency and enterprise of Messrs. STEARNS and BELLOCK, the enterprising and popular President and Superintendent of the Old Colony and Newport Corporation, under whose immediate supervision and direction it has been built.

A tower is in course of erection for a large clock that can be seen extensively in various directions.—Barnstable Patriot.

THE INCOME TAX UNCONSTITUTIONAL. The Constitution provides that all direct taxes shall be levied upon States in proportion to their population. Congress has no power to levy any direct tax upon individual citizens. It must impose such taxes upon the States, and upon them only. The income tax is a direct tax. It is levied not upon the States, but upon individuals. Therefore it is unconstitutional, and cannot rightfully be collected of any man.—Rosbury Gazette.

MONSTROUS. They have a calf in Dartmouth which weighed 150 pounds at the time of its birth, and now, at two weeks old, weighs 200.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, MAY 12, 1868.

The Senate was in session yesterday as a court from 10 A. M. until 11 P. M. Fessenden, Trumbull, Grimes and Henderson claiming to be Republicans, spoke in favor of acquittal, making the result look very dubious. Quite an excitement prevailed around the Senate during the deliberation, now and then a member, member or senator boiling over with rage, as they heard of Republicans speaking on behalf of the President. Late in the evening a more hopeful spirit prevailed, and still remains to some extent. There has been a great rush at the Capitol to-day to hear the final result. After the reading of the Journal on motion of Edwards, the order previously passed to take a vote at 12 o'clock, was rescinded. Senator Chandler then stated that his colleague, Senator Howard was quite sick and could not be brought in to-day, without endangering his life. He insisted on being here if they took the vote, but his physician thought such an undertaking would prove fatal to him. Therefore he moved that when the Court adjourns, it adjourn at 12 o'clock, Saturday the 16th inst. This was agreed to and the Senate then adjourned.

Rumors are so plenty it is hard to tell the true from the false. One coming from good authority will bear repeating. It is that the Missouri Representatives waited upon Senator Henderson this morning and told him that Missouri could not bear the shame of having one of its Senators declaring Andrew Johnson not guilty, and begged him to save them from the disgrace, by resigning. To which he replied that he would either resign, or not vote on the question at all. This being so, conviction will be likely to follow. The Illinois Representatives are to wait upon Trumbull this evening. If the President cannot be convicted, the majority can delay the acquittal, rather than to give him full license to carry out his dictatorial plans. The rebels are very hopeful and jubilant. The colored people appear as if they had lost every friend in the world. Many remarked to-day that they could not sleep last night, thinking of the fearful result to their race, of an acquittal. The Republicans of the House are a unit, and confidently declare that this new game to build up a new party will be another grand failure. It is believed that Wade will resign his position as President pro tem. of the Senate in order to vote with unquestionable propriety on impeachment. The Secretary of the Senate it is said will tender his resignation to the Senate. Congress will probably adjourn for a week or ten days to allow time to have the chambers fitted for the Summer, and some of the members to attend the Chicago Convention.

The increasing demand for METAL TIPPED SHOES, both Silver and Copper, the former being extensively used on fine shoes, shows conclusively that the public appreciate their value. It is astonishing that any parent should buy any other, as they save a half the expense in keeping children supplied with shoes.—N.Y. Post.

One of the church choirs in Abington, Mass., a recent singing came "with one" of electing a lady as its leader, she receiving the same number of votes as her male competitor.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY. A horrible murder was perpetrated at Hampton Falls, (N. H.) on Thursday last week. The victims were Mr. Thomas Brown, a respectable farmer of considerable property, and his wife—each about seventy-five years old. They were found Friday morning with their heads terribly crushed.—Mr. Brown lying in bed, and his wife prostrate on the floor. An inspection of the premises showed that the deed had been done with an axe, and that the house had been plundered, and about $500 in money taken away. Both Mr. Brown and his wife were alive when found, and the old gentleman, in answer to enquiries, said "John Ross has been here." Ross is a man who has recently left Mr. Brown's employ, and of whom suspicions were entertained when the deed was discovered. Mr. E. B. Towle, one of the Selectmen, started for Boston, in pursuit of him, stopped at Newburyport on the way, to give information. On reaching Boston, Mr. Towle received a despatch from the City Marshal of Newburyport, stating that Ross (whose real name is said to be Josiah Pike) had been arrested in that city, and that a part of the stolen money had been found upon him.

Mrs. Brown died Saturday and Mr. Brown on Wednesday last.

Ross (or Pike) is a man about 25 years of age, tall and muscular, with black hair, moustache, and red face. He was some months since an inmate of the house of correction at Newburyport, from which he once escaped; and was regarded as a worthless fellow. He has respectable connections at Newburyport. He was committed for trial.

THE COLLAR TRADE. The North Bridgewater Gazette, says: "During the past week, a little local competition in the sale of paper collars has created quite a 'tumble' in the market and made it possible for one to indulge in the luxury of clean neck surroundings every half hour if he chose, without laying himself open in any degree to the charge of extravagance. On Saturday evening they got down to the low price of a cent a box, at which figure several hundred boxes were sold, and one or two stores entirely cleaned out. The 'run' has given opportunity for several strokes of enterprise in the way of advertising, not the least effective of which was the decorating of several good looking and regularly licensed dogs with the article in question, bearing the name of a popular clothing house and the latest market quotations from that establishment."

Three dollars yearly. Published by J. W. Demorest, 473 Broadway New York.

LEGISLATIVE. The amendment to the license law changing the time of election of license commissioners to the first Tuesday in June has passed both Houses. The Governor on Monday sent in a message vetoing the bill for the better enforcement of the laws on the same grounds substantially of his veto of the bill repealing the State constabulary laws.

Mr. Francis W. Bird estimates that the Hoosac Tunnel will cost certainly twenty one millions, and advises the Legislature to send no more money into the shafts after what has already gone in.

SCARLET FEVER.

It is not very safe to rely much upon newspaper opinions on medical or legal subjects. But here are some remarks on scarlet fever, which we find in a recent number of the London Times, communicated by "A Fellow of the College of Physicians," which seem to be sensible and timely:

"It is a notorious fact that scarlet fever prevails extensively throughout the country. We meet with it everywhere, in public schools and in private houses, in the cottage of the poor, in the palace of the rich. The wide prevalence of this fearful malady is due to a variety of causes, but there are some to which I desire to direct particular attention. In the first place it frequently happens that persons who are recovering from the disease travel in public conveyances while they are throwing off poisonous exhalations from their bodies, and therefore, while they are still a source of danger to all who come near them, or who follow them as travellers in the same vehicles. In this way it constantly happens that railway carriages, omnibuses, cabs, and other public conveyances become infected by the subtle poison, which may be a source of danger and of death for an indefinite period."

Shortly after the reassembling of a great school it frequently happens that a scarlet fever makes its appearance. Why? Perhaps five hundred boys come together from various parts of the country. In the course of their journey there is a high degree of probability that some of them will travel in an infected carriage, and that one or more of them will contract the fever which may then spread more or less through the school. Thus the railways constantly scatter about the country, as they recently conveyed the cattle plague."

Another source of danger is this:—A convalescent from scarlet fever is thought to require change of air, and while his skin is still peeling and thus throwing off the fever poison, he travels by rail infecting the carriages and his fellow-passengers on the way, and goes into a lodging by the seaside. From mere carelessness or from a worse motive, the subject of scarlet fever is hardly mentioned. The unsuspecting landlady lodges her dangerous guest; the bedding and the furniture become infected, and the next occupant of the lodgings, coming to them probably for health takes the fever."

The germs of the disease will remain active in blankets, carpets and curtains for many months. In last week's London a correspondent relates a case in which some new blankets, having been infected by scarlet fever, were put away uncleaned in a wardrobe. Fourteen months afterwards the mistress of the house had these blankets taken out and put upon her own bed; in a few days she took the fever and died."

Care were taken to cleanse thoroughly and disinfect all articles of clothing, bedding and furniture, and if all persons, acting upon the golden rule of loving their neighbors as themselves, would abstain from travelling by public conveyances, or entering hotels and lodging houses while there is reason to believe that the germs of the disease are still clinging to them, we should hear much less than we now do of the sorrow and suffering occasioned by this formidable scourge."

MEMORIAL OF THOMAS THIRING.—Messrs. Lee & Shepard have published in a thin duodecimo a very interesting memorial of this veteran missionary for thirty years totally incessantly among the poor of Boston, and who has, as a Christian philanthropist, left a record which is imperishable. The story of his early life, his apprenticeship, his activity in the Masonic order for a while, his labors before coming to Boston, and vivid scenes in the dens of our neighboring metropolis, constitute a very readable work. It is published in paper covers at twenty-five, and in cloth, at fifty cents, to ensure a large circulation. Mr. J. O. Holden has copies for sale.

A NEW COUNTERFEIT. A large number of counterfeit two dollar bills on the Mark National Bank of New York have been put in circulation. The counterfeit is a quarter of an inch shorter than the genuine, and the paper has a greasy, suspicious appearance.

MARGARET; by Lyndon. Scribner & Co. have published in this volume a tale of "Margaret and Robert," whose "daily records" in hearts and homes,—but for their dark and joyless, and whose influence is felt in all that is true, noble and Christlike." We commend it to such as seek light reading of a pure and elevated type.

DEMOREST'S ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY. This periodical has risen from being a mere Gazette of Fashion, to the position of the popular parlor magazine. Ladies who take it think "the world of it," as their phrase is, and are quite sure they could not get along without it. No wonder, for its patterns alone are worth double the cost of the magazine. A large and unusually interesting amount of reading matter is promised for July, for country enjoyment.

Three dollars yearly. Published by J. W. Demorest, 473 Broadway New York.

LEGISLATIVE. The amendment to the license law changing the time of election of license commissioners to the first Tuesday in June has passed both Houses. The Governor on Monday sent in a message vetoing the bill for the better enforcement of the laws on the same grounds substantially of his veto of the bill repealing the State constabulary laws.

FALL IN THE PRICE OF BUTTER.—The St. Albans Messenger says that, on Tuesday last, the butter market there was well supplied and prices ruled about ten cents per pound lower than last week. Quotations are for prime quality 35 to 38 cents. The butter-makers, of whom there was a rather more than usual attendance, were considerably disgusted with the prices, and a good deal of butter was stored or carried home by them in anticipation of higher prices.

FIFTEEN-CENT FRACTIONAL CURRENCY NOTES. There have been issued from the United States Treasury a number of specimens of the new fifteen-cent fractional currency notes, which are somewhat shorter than the twenty-five cent notes, but of the same width. On the right side of the face is an excellent vignette of General Grant, and on the left a vignette of General Sherman. Between the vignettes are the words "fifteen cents," prominently displayed, and immediately beneath the figures "15." The back is similar in appearance to that of the twenty-five cent notes, with the denomination on each end.

Summary Intelligence

A committee appointed by the town, have reported in favor of introducing instruction in music into the public schools of Hingham.

Herrings in large numbers are caught at East Weymouth.

Capt. B. C. Smith caught 15,000 mackerel on Monday in a weir at Woods Hole.

When the Pacific Railroad is finished, the tour of the world can be made in two months and a half. From New York to San Francisco will take seven days; from San Francisco to Hong Kong, by way of Yokohama, twenty days; from Hong Kong by steamer to Suez, thirty-two days; from Suez to Paris, six days; from Paris to New York, ten days; in all, seventy-five days.

Mrs. Burnham, wife of Mr. Zachariah Burnham, of Essex, stuck a needle into the bottom of her foot about nine months since, and it came out one day last week near the end of her big toe.

Rev. Silas S. Ripley, of Hingham, died suddenly on Thursday last, aged 68 years. He was well known as a faithful and successful Baptist minister.

President Johnson's upholstery bill, since his occupation of the White House, amounts to something over $42,000.

In the kitchen of the new St. James Hotel in Boston, cooking can be done for one thousand people at once.

A cheap and convenient apparatus has been invented, by means of which the limb of a tree can be drawn towards the gatherer of its fruit, and held there, while the fruit is taken.

The largest income in New Hampshire is that of the proprietor of a Hair Restorer. A half dozen years ago this Restorer was unknown, and to-day it would have been worthless but for advertising. This income is from printers' ink.

In Belfast are said to be two beautiful twins so perfectly alike that the mother herself only distinguishes them by embroidering on the ribbons around their waists the names, Martha and Mary.

A woman in New York, aged 25 years is now living with her fourth husband, having been divorced three times since she was 18 years old!

Louisiana's sugar crop this year will be larger than that of 1867, but very much smaller than before the war.

House-keeping has been introduced as a regular branch of instruction in German schools.

Mrs. Lois Goss of Levant, an old lady ninety years of age, has cut three teeth of her third set during the past winter.

In the building of yachts an improvement is announced. The masts are surrounded in the "step" with india rubber springs instead of being fastened by wedges. This plan is said to diminish the strain on the mast, and also to increase the speed of the vessel. It would seem to be applicable to all sailing craft as well as yachts.

An immense quantity of wheat has been sown this Spring by the farmers of Maine.

J. K. Baker, Jr., and others, owners of a cranberry swamp of 13 acres, at North Harwich, flow it by means of chain pumps driven by water power. They have built a dam on Herring river, and a sufficient quantity of water is pumped up to the level of the swamp, a height of 13 feet.

The orange crop of Florida will be immense this season.

The Bangor Whig says that a cow case was disposed of in the Supreme Court, in that place, on Saturday, by being entered neither party, which has been before the Court about six years, during which time one of the contestants has died, and the costs of the suit have amounted to one hundred and fifty dollars. The value of the cow was twenty dollars.

At the battle of Lexington, April 19, 1776, trees were in blossom, grass was knee high, and many soldiers fell out of the ranks exhausted with heat.

In consequence of our high tax on manufactures Brazilians anxious to buy American machinery have found it profitable to send an American sample to France and England, to get machines made there after these American models, cheaper than we can make them.

Potatoes are selling in Bangor, Me., at $1.40 to $1.45; eggs at 22 cents; butter from 45 to 48 cents.

THE MARKETS. The Pork market is dull and prices nominal. Lard is firm. Beef is very firm but inactive. The Butter market is weak and prices are lower. The receipts the past week have been very liberal, and the market is very irregular and unsettled, the demand being limited to only such quantities as are required for immediate use. The impression seems to be that we shall have lower prices before we get good grass feed, as the present make must be disposed of on more favorable terms, for it will not do to hold. There is a good demand for Cheese. Eggs are firm at 26 cents per dozen at retail. Beans are in good demand at $1.25 to $1.50 per bushel. Dried Apples are retailing at 12 to 14 cents for choice Eastern, and 8 to 9 cents for Western and New York State. Potatoes are selling at $1.60 to $1.70 per bushel for Jackson Whites. Hay is selling at $20 to $26 per ton for prime, and $18 to $20 for inferior qualities.—Mass. Poughman.

The Steamer OM Colony is expected to be ready to resume her place on the Sound next week. Her repairs have made her as good as new.

One firm in Springfield, Vt., manufactured and sold 2500 children's carriages and 3500 toy carriages in the month of April, the total value of which was $24,700.

The State Temperance Convention held in Boston this week adopted a series of resolutions in favor of prohibition, and appointed a State Central Committee, with authority to call a State Convention for the purpose of nominating candidates for State officers in favor of prohibition.

Another "financial irregularity" in Boston is reported—amount $200,000. The parties implicated, the cashier of the Hide and Leather Bank and Mr. A. C. Felton, are under bonds for trial.

TRIAL OF SURRAT. The case of John H. Surrat was before the Criminal Court at Washington, on Tuesday, and at the request of the prisoner's counsel, the trial was postponed until the June term. A motion to admit Surrat to bail was argued briefly, and laid over.

For Sale!
A DOUBLE BARREL GUN, almost New, in perfect order.
For particulars, apply to T. G. EMERSON.
Quincy, May 16.

SILVER PLATED WARE.
REED & BARTON'S Patent Seamless Lined
ICE PITCHERS, SALVERS,
BUTTER DISHES,
SPOON HOLDERS,
BREAKFAST CUPS, SYRUP CUPS, CAKE BASKETS,
CHILDREN'S CUTS

ROGERS BROS.
PLATED SPOONS and FORKS; Plated and Steel-blade DESSERT KNIVES; for sale by JOHN O. HOLDEN,
87 Hancock St.
Quincy, May 16

Paper Hangings.
A SMALL lot of House Paper for sale Cheap. WHITE WASHING and Small Jobs of MASONRY, to order.
Apply at the Store of J. A. REY, Jr.
Quincy, April 23.

THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE. That on the 13th day of May, A. D. 1868, a Warrant in Bankruptcy was issued against the Estate of Thomas Saunders, of Quincy.

In the County of Norfolk, and State of Massachusetts, who has been adjudged a Bankrupt on his own petition: that the payment of any debts and the regular running of the business of said Bankrupt, to him, or for his use, and the transfer of any Property by him are forbidden in law; that a most solemn oath has been taken by said Bankrupt, to prove his Debts, and to choose one or more Assignees of his Estate, to be held at a Court of Bankruptcy, to be held at Room No. 7, United States Court House, in Boston, in said State of Massachusetts, before Samuel B. Nowes, Register, on the 5th day of June, A. D. 1868, at 12 o'clock, M.

GEO. L. ANDREWS, U. S. Marshal, Mass. District, as Messenger.

NEW Wheelwright Shop.
THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop, NEXT TO J. Q. A. WILDS Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow," is now prepared to execute all orders in the Wheelwright line.

Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch. Blocks made to order. The Subscriber hopes by his long experience and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.

DANIEL McCURDY,
Quincy, May 9.

Drs. BRIGHAM & HOLLACE, DENTISTS.
36 Winter Street, Boston. (Room 1.)

Having adopted Dr. Folsom's Patent method of constructing plates for Artificial Teeth, where by the teeth are retained SECRETELY IN THEIR PLACE, rendering mastication of the food easier than with teeth mounted in any other way, respectfully invite all desirous of obtaining teeth, and especially those who have tried elsewhere and failed of success, to call and investigate.

Teeth extracted by the use of Nitrous Oxide Gas or Ether. Special attention paid to filling badly decayed teeth. CONSULTATIONS FREE.

D. T. BRIGHAM,
N. E. HOLLACE.

REMOVAL.
JOS. STONE & CO.,
Hat, Cap & Fur Dealers,
HATE REMOVED FROM
No. 37 COURT STREET,
to the spacious store,
245 Washington street,
Near Winter street, BOSTON.
May 9.

Potatoes are selling in Bangor, Me., at $1.40 to $1.45; eggs at 22 cents; butter from 45 to 48 cents.

Furniture at Auction.

Will be sold at Public Auction, on SATURDAY, May 16, at 2 o'clock, P. M. in front of JOSEPH W. LOMBARD'S Clothing Store, the following Articles, viz:—1 Mahogany Sofa, spring seat; 4 nice Stuffed Chairs, spring seats; 1 handsome Brussels Carpet, 1 common wooden Carpet; 1 set of Stair Rods, 1 Feather Bed, almost new; 1 Splendid Secretary, Table and many other articles.

These Goods must be sold as the Owner is about to leave town.

JOSEPH T. FRENCH, Auctioneer.
Quincy, May 16.

Boarders Wanted.

A few persons can be accommodated with good board in a pleasant locality, within a few minutes' walk of the Railroad Depot. For particulars apply at the PATRIOT OFFICE.
Quincy, May 16.

Help Wanted!

A GOOD GIRL—One used to General Housework. Good wages paid.
Apply to SAMUEL B. LUZARDER, on Main Street, back of Edwards Hill.
Quincy, May 16.

For Sale!

A GOOD Second Handed Carriage and a Good Light Express Wagon. Will be sold low for Cash.
Apply to SAMUEL B. LUZARDER, on Main Street, back of Edwards Hill.
Quincy, May 16.

$5 REWARD!

TAKEN from the Store of J. A. REY on TUESDAY last: one Black Enamelled Coat Vase, containing 1 pair of black ribbed pants, and vest of the same material, 1 pair black and white woolen shirts, 1 pair of white shirts, a small portion, value not known, of a Solder's needle case, 2 pair of stockings and a few other things. Whoever will return the same shall receive the above reward.

J. A. REY.
Quincy, May 16.

CABBAGE & TOMATO PLANTS.

THE Subscriber has a fine lot of Early Wakefield Cabbage Plants for Sale.
Also, Tomato Plants.
Quincy, May 2. JOSHUA H. SPEAR.

To Let.

A Desirable Tenement consisting of 9 rooms, situated within three minutes' walk of the D-pot. There is a variety of Fruit Trees.
Apply at this office, or
H. A. GAY, Ticket Master.
Quincy, May 2.

FOR SALE.

A L

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1868.

NUMBER 21.

The Quincy Patriot.
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.

TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESBOTT, Printer.

Also, Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

POST OFFICE.

Mails open 9 30 A. M., and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M. and 5 15 P. M.

Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
95 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.

JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY,
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.

Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 1/2
P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

Dr. Roundy & Wife,
CLAIRVOYANT, MAGNETIC AND
ELECTRIC PHYSICIANS,
ON QUINCY AVENUE,
Near the corner of School and Elm Sts.
Quincy, March 14.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Oxfords and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to Measure.

No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6.

FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.

Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warerooms, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,
No. 4 HAYWARD PLACE.
4th door from Washington street at No. 248.

GIVES special attention to Erysipelas; to all Nervous Affections; to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven years in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.
His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office
or, will be sent by mail for the following prices:—
"Erysipelas," 50 cents.
"Inhalation," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.
"Cerebral Health," 40 cents.
"The Broom," 80 cents.
Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says, "The Broom" is adapted to do great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm.
H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Girard College, says, "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."
Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all our young men." Aug. 17 if

PAINTING.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has taken the old stand on Coddington street, for many years occupied by his father, E. B. HAN-COCK, and is prepared to execute

PAINTING,
GLAZING, GRAINING,
VARNISHING,
&c., in the best manner.
JOHN W. HERSEY.
Quincy, Jan. 18.

CHEAP CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.

Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.

AYER'S PILLS, 20 CTS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.

Brown's Troches, 25 cts.

BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.

Hoops Skirts 87 cts.

Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY

STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.

DRESS GOODS,

WORKING PANTS CHEAP.

PANT CLOTHS.

German and American Corsets.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 22 cts.

FIGS & ORANGES.

Hair Braids, 85 cts.

BEADS, BEADS

Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM

MADE

Pants and Vests

VERY LOW.

HATS & CAPS

Perforated Card Board,

Gilt Paper,

Drawing Paper,

Blotting Paper,

Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES

BELOW COST

to close out.

J. A. MCLELLAN,

NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.

Quincy, Feb. 22.

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"

almost questioned when we see

LORING'S PATENT

IRON WATERSTOP

THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.

BAILEY & BAXTER,

SCHOOL STREET,

Quincy, Jan. 11.

THE STAR BURNER

A new patent Kerosene Burner, superior to the Sun Burner—for Sale by the Subscribers.

—ALSO—

The American Foot Store!

An excellent article for the parlor or sitting room. Very comfortable and du-table; free from all danger of fire, therefore a valuable article to take when you

wish to enjoy a sleigh-ride

Call and examine.

C. F. & J. W. PIERCE.

Quincy, Dec. 14.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH

COUGHS, COLDS,

HOARSENESS,

OR BRONCHITIS,

USE VEAZIE'S

Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squills.

The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy

known.

JOHN H. VEAZIE.

Quincy, March 16.

Parlor Cue Alley.

NO LET. A Parlor Cue Alley, nearly new,

in perfect order, by

JOSEPH AREY, Jr.

Quincy, Feb. 22.

Poetry.

A DREAM OF SUMMER.

BY JOHN O. WHITTIER.

Bland is the morning breath in June
The South-west breeze play;
And, through its haze, the winter noon
Seems warm as summer's day.
The snow-plumed Angel of the North
Has dropt his icy spear:
Again the mossy earth looks forth,
Again the streams gush clear.
The fox his hill-side coil forsakes—
The muskrat leaves his nook,
The blue-bird in the meadow brakes
Is singing with the brook.
"Bear up, O Mother Nature!" cry
Bird, brook and streamlet free,
"Our Winter voices prophecy Of Summer days to thee!"

So, in those winters of the soul,
By bitter blasts and drear
O'er swept from Memory's frozen pole,
Will sunny days appear.
Revering hope and faith, they show
Behind the cloud the starlight turks,
And how beneath the Winter's snow
Lie gems of summer flowers!
The Night is Mother of the Day,
The Winter of the Spring,
And ever upon Old Decay
The greenest mosses cling.
Behind the cloud the starlight turks,
Through showers the sunbeams fall;
For God, who loveth all his works,
Has left His Hope with all!

Interesting Selections.

RHUBARB.—The best way of cooking this delicious substitute for fruit is to bake it. Cut up the stalks into a pie-dish size white or yellow earthen-ware, sprinkle sugar over, cover with a plate, set in the oven and bake fifteen or twenty minutes, just long enough to be tender and retain its fresh green color, like green apples. It is an excellent supper dish eat with bread and butter or cream.

RHUBARB WINE. Take 1 gallon of rhubarb well bruised, add 11 gallons of cold water. Let it stand 3 days, stirring it every day. Then strain it, and to each gallon of the liquid put 4 pounds of loaf sugar. Keep it one or two months, or until it seems to have done working, then bottle it.

Three things to govern—temper, conduct and tongue.

A little girl once hearing the remark that all people had once been children, artlessly inquired, "Who took care of the babies?"

"They say I am growing old because my hair is silvered, and there are crow's feet upon my forehead, and my step is not so firm and elastic as of yore.
But they are mistaken. This is not me.
The brow is wrinkled, but the brow is not me. This is the house, in which I live.
But I am young; younger now than I ever was before.—Dr. Guthrie.

There is a gentleman in Bangor so absent minded that, meeting his son on the street a day or two since, he extended his hand and inquired, "How do you do?
When is your father coming home?"

"I want to ask you a question, Uncle John," said a little boy to his intemperate relative. "Well, my lad,"
"Why is a rum-hole like a bad twenty-five cent stamp?" "Well, really, I can't tell." "Because you can't pass it!"

Profane swearing never did any man any good. No man is the richer or happier, or wiser for it. It commends no to any society. It is disgusting to the refined; abominable to the good; insulting to those with whom we associate; degrading to the mind; unprofitable, needless and injurious to society.

There is a story told of the late Lord Mansfield when Chief Justice of the King's Bench, that he thus retorted, upon a counsel, who, in a very marked and angry tone, told him that he entirely dissented with him in law and opinion. His Lordship replied, "To be sure you do!
I know that very well! you are paid to do so."

What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to the human soul.

You may joke when you please,
if you are careful to please when you joke.

CONTENTMENT. Climb not too high, lest you fall; nor lie on the ground, lest you be trampled on. Consider yourself safest when your own legs bear you.—
Dr. John Hammond.

No familiar line is so often misquoted as the 173d of Goldsmith's "Traveller," which reads, "But winter lingering chills the lap of May."

There was an independent old lady once whose comments on the Bible were generally very pointed. Speaking of Adam's naming all the animals, she said she didn't think he deserved any credit for naming the hog—anybody would know what to call him.

"You ought to acquire the facility of being at home in the best society," said a fashionable aunt to an honest nephew.
"I manage that easy enough," responded the nephew, "by staying at home with my wife and children."

Miscellany.

THE OLD RED SLEIGH.

After mother had gone to bed I went up stairs and brought down my writing desk. There were sheets of paper and some delicate envelopes, which had been there for months stored within, and a silver pen and pen-holder, which had been a birthday present in my school days.
I took them out and the ink-bottle also. The ink was thick, for we did not write much, either of us, and I brought the vinyer's eraser from the closet and thinned it to my liking. Then I sat down and looked at the paper; then I went to the stairs and listened to see that mother was not coming; then I actually seated myself, squared my elbows, and began to write. This is what I wrote:

"DEAR MISS HARROW: I am a coward. Not
I hope, in one sense, but certainly as regards you.
For a year I have loved you; yet I no more would have dared to say so than I would have been a quiver. Perhaps because I did not cherish a hope that you like me."

"To-morrow you and I will ride together.
I never would have said a word of love to any one before; that must be my excuse; but, if ever so elegant, it could not mean more; for I offer all the love in my heart—the only love I ever felt or shall ever know."

I sealed this note in the daintiest envelope I possessed, and wrote Hepsy Harrow's name on the back, and hid it in the desk from mother's eye; sharp eyes that looked under the cushion, but a reticule for all that—Hepsy Harrow's reticule! I opened it. There lay a comb
and a brush; an artificial rose—how well
I remembered it in her hair!—and my letter. Yes, my letter, that she had never read, never seen, never known of.

"What's the matter, Almon?" asked my mother.
For a few moments I did not know. At last I spoke, "It is Miss Harrow's reticule."
"She must have lost it when you took her sleigh-ride," said my mother. "Just like her, to lose it and not know, extravagant critter. She's teaching yet; likely to—she ain't married; no doubt she'll be an old maid, and serve her right."

The rest my mother said to herself, for
I waited for no more.
I took the reticule in my hand and went over to the long-forgotten path toward the school-house. School was over.
A figure stood alone near the gate. I did not know it at first. But on a nearer view I found it was a more mature edition of Hepsy Harrow's slender frame—not so slender now, but pretty—just as pretty
in the face, and fresh and buxom.

I walked up to her. She gave me a puzzled look. Then her cheek flushed.
"Mr. Craig!" she said.
"Yes, Miss Harrow," I answered. "I am here to restore your property. You lost a reticule in my sleigh five years ago. To-day I found it. There is something in it which I asked you to look at when you were alone. I make the same request now. May I see you this evening?"

She bowed. I walked away. That night I went once more to see her. She had been weeping; the letter lay upon her knee.
"Such an old relic of those foolish old times," she said.
I took her hand.
"You never answered it, Hepsy," I said. "Will you answer it now?"
"After all this time?" she said.
"Yes," I said.
She said nothing, and I kissed her.
Our wedding was a quiet one, and our lives have been quietly happy from that day to the present hour.

A PARAGRAPH FOR YOUNG LADIES.

It is not your dress, your shawl, or your pretty fingers, that attract the attention of young men of sense. They look beyond these. It is the true loveliness of your nature that wins and continues to retain the affection of the heart. Young ladies sadly miss it who labor to improve their outward looks, while they bestow no thought on the mind. Fools may be won by gewgaws and showy dresses; but the wise and substantial are never caught thus. Let modesty be your dress.

GOSSIPING.

It is not alone in small neighborhoods that scandal exclusively operates. Out in the world it interferes with a thousand things, causing unbounded troubles. In trade, in friendship, in politics, its effects are seen; and half the troubles of life that one encounters is caused by the obtrusion of some hand in his besides his own. How much heart-burning is caused by it, how much bitterness, how much hatred, how much annoyance! And yet those who meddle most are often very good people, who would not do any harm for the world, and are quite shocked at the results which their abominable interference has brought about. Every thing is heard to be repeated, and suggestions are made by them which afterwards become affirmations of your own, that do all manner of harm. And yet the meddlers do not know what they have done. They might indeed, weep with you over crushed hopes that their very propensity has caused, and bear no malice in their hearts towards any body; as an innocent cold might, in his excess of lovingness, kick his owner's and best friend's brains out. If people would mind their own business, there would be less bankruptcy of comfort in society, and the machinery of life in all its departments would run more smoothly.

"I am coming home again, since you will not live here with me. Expect me to-morrow."
And on the morrow I went. My mother had not altered much. But I had grown a long, light beard, and was a youth no longer—a fact which troubled her. There were changes in the place too. Girls were married—old people dead. The tallest, handsomest man I remembered had met with an accident, and crawled about a wretched cripple. The church was rebuilt, and the huts in the hollow had been burnt. A factory had risen, and the factory people's houses were about it. Instead of the old frame school house was a brick building, with many windows and an cupola.

Who was the teacher? Was she there—Hepsy Harrow? I dared not ask.
Idly I sauntered about the house—painted and refurbished now; and idly, in the evening of my second day at home,
I went out to the shed where the little red sleigh stood—the shabby old thing, with a green patch on the cushions.
"It ain't been touched since you left,
Almon," said my mother. "Poor old Dobbin! How smart he used to take it round! I felt as if I'd lost a friend when he died. Remember my patchin' the cushion?"

She lifted it as she spoke. From behind it dropped something. What? Of leather bound with mould, crushed by its long lying under the cushion, but a reticule for all that—Hepsy Harrow's reticule! I opened it. There lay a comb
and a brush; an artificial rose—how well
I remembered it in her hair!—and my letter. Yes, my letter, that she had never read, never seen, never known of.

"What's the matter, Almon?" asked my mother.
For a few moments I did not know. At last I spoke, "It is Miss Harrow's reticule."
"She must have lost it when you took her sleigh-ride," said my mother. "Just like her, to lose it and not know, extravagant critter. She's teaching yet; likely to—she ain't married; no doubt she'll be an old maid, and serve her right."

The rest my mother said to herself, for
I waited for no more.
I took the reticule in my hand and
went over to the long-forgotten path toward the school-house. School was over.
A figure stood alone near the gate. I did not know it at first. But on a nearer view I found it was a more mature edition
of Hepsy Harrow's slender frame—not so slender now, but pretty—just as pretty
in the face, and fresh and buxom.

I walked up to her. She gave me a puzzled look. Then her cheek flushed.
"Mr. Craig!" she said.
"Yes, Miss Harrow," I answered. "I am here to restore your property. You lost a reticule in my sleigh five years ago. To-day I found it. There is something in it which I asked you to look at
when you were alone. I make the same request now. May I see you this evening?"

She bowed. I walked away. That night I went once more to see her. She had been weeping; the letter lay upon
her knee.
"Such an old relic of those foolish old times," she said.
I took her hand.
"You never answered it, Hepsy," I said. "Will you answer it now?"
"After all this time?" she said.
"Yes," I said.
She said nothing, and I kissed her.
Our wedding was a quiet one, and our lives have been quietly happy from that day to the present hour.

ONE OF THE BOYS.

In a Western village a charming, well-preserved widow had been courted and won by a physician. She has children; among them a crippled boy, who had been petted, and, if not spoiled, certainly allowed very great "freedom in debate." The wedding day was approaching, and it was time the children should know they were to have a new father. Calling the crippled boy, she said:
"Georgie, I am going to do something before long that I would like to talk about with you."
"Well, ma, what is it?"
"I am intending to marry Dr. Jones in a few days, and—"
"Bully for you, ma? Does Dr. Jones know it?"

PRESERVING THE HEALTH.

1. Rise early and never sit up late.
 2. Wash the whole body every morning with cold water, by means of a large sponge, and rub it dry with a rough towel.
 3. Drink water.
 4. Avoid spirits and fermented liquors of every kind.
 5. Keep the head cool, and sleep in an airy apartment.
 6. Eat no more than enough, and let the food be plain.
 7. Let your supper be light.
 8. Study to preserve a tranquil mind and a cheerful temper.
- These are golden rules for health.

COND.

No Subscription nor Advertisement to be discontinued previous to the arrangement, unless at the option of the advertiser. Advertisements correctly and inserted at the customary prices,
charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.

S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., Boston.
S. R. SILL, Boston.
HOBART DODD, Boston.
A. F. LINCOLN & CO., New York.
S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., New York.
GEO. I. BOWELL & CO., New York.
JOHN HOOPER & CO., New York.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS.

Sykes went down to New York last winter, and dropped in on his old crony Velvet, who had been several years in the great city, made a small fortune by selling dainty and cheap laws, then married a wife richer, as well as older and plainer than himself, and built a splendid mansion on Fifth Avenue, where he now lives in splendid elegance. Velvet would have his old friend go up and see his wife, his house and all their settings-off, and Sykes consented. Velvet showed him everything,—last of all, his black coachman, butler, footman, cook, lady's maid, chambermaid, etc., etc., eating a very good dinner in their snug basement.
Sykes saw it all through, didn't stare much, made his bow, came away and put for home, where the following colloquy with a neighbor is reported:
"Hallo, Sykes! been to New York, eh? Seen Velvet? What is he doing?" Well, can't say exactly; when I saw him he 'peared to be keeping a nigger-boarding house upon the Fifth Avenue!"

PRESERVING FRESH FLOWERS.

Flowers may be kept in pretty fair condition, say for a week or ten days, according to the species selected for bouquets and the time of the year, by renewing the water every alternate day, and while doing so, refreshing decayed flowers and leaves, and taking care to cut off the stems immersed in water, with a sharp pair of scissors, about from a quarter to half inch of the length; then should be added to the water about a pinch of salt, and a few grains of saltpetre for every pint of fluid; when flowers are very much faded, they may be revived by immersion of the stems for two or three minutes in hot water, or better yet in strong spirits of wine, or Eau de Cologne; in some cases liquid ammonia may be advantageously applied to the stems for a few minutes to revive flowers. These recommendations are applied by several of the largest horticulturists of Ghent and other parts of Belgium, and found to answer in practice very well if properly applied. To keep well, flowers should not, after being cut, be placed in localities where there is tobacco smoke, or bad ventilation, neither should the rooms be too much heated.

FLOWERS.

How the universal heart of man blesses flowers! They are wreathed round the cradle, the marriage altar, and the tomb.
The Persian in the far East delights in their perfume, and writes his love in rose-gays, while the Indian child of the far West cups his hands with glee as he gathers the abundant blossoms—the illuminated Scriptures of the Prairies. The Cupid of the ancient Hindoos tipped his arrows with flowers, and orange flowers are a bridal crown with us, a nation of yesterday.
Flowers garlanded the Grecian altar, and hung in votive wreaths before the Christian shrine. All these are appropriate uses.
Flowers should deck the brow of the youthful bride, for they are in themselves a lovely type of marriage. They should twine round the tomb, for their perpetually renewed beauty is a symbol of the resurrection. They should festoon the altar, for their fragrance and their beauty ascend in perpetual worship before the Most High.

ONIONS AS A MEDICINE.

</

The Quincy Patriot.

(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Printer.
Also, Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1868.

NUMBER 22.

CONDITIONS.

No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conscientiously inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisements is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., Boston.
S. R. NILES,
MORRIS DODD,
A. F. LINCOLN & Co.,
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., New York.
GEO. F. ROWELL & Co.,
JOHN HOPKES & Co.,

POST OFFICE.

Mails open 8 30 A. M. and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M. and 5 15 P. M.
Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
55 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 1/2
P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 12.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.

Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

Dr. Roundy & Wife,

CLAIRVOYANT, MAGNETIC AND
ELECTRIC PHYSICIANS,
ON QUINCY AVENUE,
Near the corner of School and Elm Sts.
Quincy, March 14.

B. F. MESERVEY,

WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,

DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

LEMUEL BAXTER

SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Oxfords and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to Measure.
No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6.

FURNITURE

— AND —
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,

No. 4 BAYWARD PLACE,
4th door from Washington street at No. 246.
GIVEN special attention to EPILEPSY; to all Nervous Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.
His books on medical subjects may be had at his office
or will be sent by mail for the following prices:—
"Epilepsy," 50 cents.
"Insulation," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Ship and Shore Hygiene and Surgery," $1.25.
"Clinical Health," 40 cents.
"The Brain," 60 cents.
Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says, "The Doctor's" is adapted to great good effect, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm.
H. Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Harvard College, says, "By the publication of this book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."
Rev. Dr. Eddy says, "It should be read by all our young men."
Aug. 17.

PAINTING.

THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has taken the old stand on Coddington street, for many years occupied by his father, E. B. HAN-NEY, and is prepared to execute PAINTING,
GLAZING, GRAINING,
VARNISHING,
&c., in the best manner.
JOHN W. HERSEY.
Quincy, Jan. 18.

CHEAP

CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.
Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.
AYER'S PILLS, 20 CTS.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.
Brown's Troches, 25 cts.
BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.
Hoops Skirts 87 cts.
Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY

STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.

DRESS GOODS,

WORKING PANTS CHEAP.

PANT CLOTHS.

German and American Corsets.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 20 cts.

FICS & ORANGES.

Hair Braids, 70 cts.

BEADS, BEADS

Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM

MADE

Pants and Vests

VERY LOW.

HATS & CAPS

Perforated Card Board,

Gilt Paper,

Drawing Paper,

Blotting Paper,

Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES

BELOW COST

to close out.

J. A. MCLELLAN,

NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.

Quincy, Feb. 22.

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"

almost questioned when we see

LORING'S PATENT

IRON WATERSTOP

THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.

BAILEY & BAXTER,

SCHOOL STREET,

Quincy, Jan. 11.

THE STAR BURNER

A new patent Kerosene Burner,—superior to the Sun Burner—for Sale by the Subscribers.

The American Foot Stove!

An excellent article for the parlor or sitting room. Very comfortable and durable; free from all danger of fire, therefore a valuable article to take when you wish to enjoy a sleigh-ride
Call and examine.
C. F. & J. W. PIERCE.
Quincy, Dec. 14.

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH

COUGHS, COLDS,

HOARSENESS,

OR BRONCHITIS,

USE VEAZIE'S

Oxymel of Wild Cherry & Squills.

The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy
known.

JOHN H. VEAZIE.

Quincy, March 16.

Parlor Cue Alley.

TO LET. A Parlor Cue Alley, nearly new,
in perfect order, by

JOSEPH ARNEY, Jr.

Quincy, Feb. 22.

TREES.

Wollaston Nursery

The Subscriber has for Sale
On reasonable Terms, At his Nursery,
ON WOLLASTON AVENUE,
A large variety of Hardy and
Ornamental Trees & Shrubs
Both Native and European, among which are
DECIDUOUS TREES:
American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elm; Norway Spruce, Rock, Ash, Laurel and Scarlet Maple; English and Turkey Oaks; Common and Weeping Alder;
Scotch and Tyndale Larches; American and English
Lindens; Tulip Trees; English and Purple Berberis;
English Sycamores; Horse Chestnuts; &c.
EVERGREENS:
Norway, Black and Hemlock Spruce; Scotch, Austrian, English, Common, and Corsican Pines; Arbor Vitaes, &c.
FLOWERING SHRUBS:
Ailanthus—Wistaria—Forsythia—Scarflet Dogwood;
—Mahonia—Box-wood—Evergreen & Common Yew;
—Rhododendron—Laurus—Spiraea—Syringa; &c.
Also, a good assortment of
Fruit Trees, and Small Fruit, viz:
Pear—20 Varieties—Apples—10 do.—Peaches of the best sorts—Plums and Cherries—Raspberries—Yer-bury Plants—Gooseberry, Hawthorn, Strawberry, &c.
Hybrid, Iowa, Parsonage &c. Grape Vines.
Amongst the Peaches are Gals' Early, and a limited supply of the Golden Dwarf, a comparatively new variety, rarely growing more than five feet high, of beautiful
foliage and form, hardy and prolific, fruit excellent.
Many of the above trees have been recently imported,
and being consequently of small size, a good opportunity
is offered to those who wish to plant large numbers, to supply themselves at a moderate expense.
Persons wishing to plant ornamental fruit trees are invited to call at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere.
All orders given to Mr.

JAMES M. BECKFORD,

will promptly fill.

GEORGE EATON.

Wollaston April, 4.

GARDEN SEEDS

For the Spring of 1868.

JOS. BRECK & SON

would call attention to their collection of Garden and Flower Seeds,
embracing everything worthy of cultivation.
No seeds but such as we know to be the
FIRST QUALITY, raised by ourselves or imported,
are ever offered for sale at our establishment.
After an experience of forty years, we believe that we can say that we are THOROUGHLY
POSTED AS TO THE WANTS OF THE FARMER AND GARDENER.
We have everything new and all well known and tried varieties of Seeds, which we offer at
the lowest cash prices.
For full particulars send for descriptive catalogues which will be sent gratis.
JOSEPH BRECK & SON,
51 & 52 North Market St., Boston.
March 28.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood

Agricultural Warehouse,
— AND —
SEED STORE,
49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row. offer a large assortment of the best Agricultural Implements,
MACHINERY & TOOLS,
OF ALL KINDS.
Buckeye Mowing Machines, Whitcomb's
Horse Rakes, Palmers' Horse
Pitchforks,
Are sold exclusively by us.
Garden, Field and Flower Seeds.
Our large and well selected stock of Seeds, grown by EXPERIENCED SEEDSMEN in Europe and America, the quality of which is not and cannot be surpassed, is admirable in quantities to suit.
Grass Seeds, Seed Grain, in all their varieties.
Hungarian Grass, Millet.
Seed Potatoes—Early Goodrich, Early Sebce, Early Blue, Cleburn, &c.
FERTILIZERS.
Guano, Super-phosphate of Lime Pou-
drette, Ground Bone, Plaster, Fish
Guano, &c.
GRAFTING WAX, made expressly for our trade—
WALKER'S SOAP, genuine article. Extra Size BOXES
MEAL for feeding.
TREES, SHRUBS, PLANTS, &c., at wholesale and retail at lowest prices.
All orders and inquiries by mail or express, will meet with prompt attention. Fruit, vegetable and Flower Seed Catalogues furnished upon application.
Parker, Gannett & Osgood,
BOSTON, MASS.
March 28.—3m.

Dr. Jackson's Catarrh Snuff.

A POSITIVE and pleasant remedy for all Discharges of the Head, Throat, Breast and Vocal Organs, loss of Taste, Scurvy, &c. For Sale by MR. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square,
Quincy, Nov. 23.

Weymouth Photograph Rooms.

L. W. COOK,

His pleasure of announcing to his friends and patrons generally, that having still further enlarged and improved his Photograph rooms, is now better prepared than ever to answer the requirements of the public, in the execution of EVERY BRANCH
OF THE PHOTOGRAPHIC ART,
in a style of workmanship unsurpassed,
and particularly in the production of those beautiful and much admired, the Stereotypes, the Casts de Vitrée. He is prepared to get up Large Photographs from small pictures, finished in India Ink or Water Colors.
35 Proofs and Photographs sent by mail.
Carson from Quincy and vicinity solicited.
Rooms near the Post Office,
WEYMOUTH LANDING.
L. W. COOK, Photographer.
June 4.

Tracy's

Vegetable Healing Balm.

THE great Pain Destroyer. It will cure Felon's, Scalds, Canker, Erysipelas, Burns, Freezes, Itch, Finger, Ring, Stings, &c., &c.
For Sale by
MR. E. HAYDEN,
Quincy, Nov. 23.

Poetry.

"AUF WIEDERSEHN."

By our Heavenly Father's Law,
The near and dear who with us are,
Must depart.
The world has no more bitter word,
Than that the aching heart is heard,
Than—depart.
A precious band, indeed, thus lost,
And into water it is cast,
Thou know'st it—
A little rose the morning shows,
But fades away when evening glows,
Thou know'st it,
Yes, thou know'st it.
So when a loving heart God gives,
To cheer and bless thee while it lives,
Thou know'st it,
Thou know'st it,
Only a little while 'twill stay,
Lonely thou must pursue thy way—
Thou weep,
Yes, weep.
Now, understand, that not in vain,
Not in vain,
When friends part in sorrow and pain,
They say, Till we meet again!
Auf Wiedersehn!
Till we meet again!

From the German. MARY E. LUNT.

Interesting Selections.

ASPARAGUS should be thrown into boiling hot water, salted, and boiled till three-quarters cooked. Longer boiling makes them tasteless. A spoonful of butter and flour melted in a pan, with half a pint of hot water added and stewed, makes a good sauce.

FRIED ASPARAGUS.

Four tablespoonfuls of flour, salt, cold water, stirred together in a bowl to a thick batter. Beat two whites of eggs to a stiff froth, and stir in with the rest. Throw the tops of asparagus in boiling water, with a little salt, till half done. Then throw them in the batter, cook them out and fry with hot fat.

Punch knows a gentleman

so guarded in his remarks, lest he should wound anybody's feelings, that he will not even use a Personal Pronoun.

The young lady who was recommended to take exercise to improve her health, says that she "will jump at an offer and run her own risk."

The Bible says that the race is not to the swift, and "our young men should remember that the race of life is seldom to the "fast."

Some one, looking at a rich man, said: "Poor man, he toiled day and night until he was forty to gain his wealth, and he has been watching it day and night, ever since, for his virtuous and clothes."

A deaf man waiting to hear the ticking of a sun-dial is said to be the height of patience.

Good will like a good name is won by many actions and lost by one.

No man should complain of being poor or of hard times who can afford to use rum and tobacco.

The multitude of the affections enlarges the heart.

Some old chap has said that "he that sows brambles must not go barefoot," but we cannot see what hurt it would do him while sowing.

The age of a young lady is now expressed according to the present style of hoopskirts, by saying that "eighteen springs have passed over her head."

The rock ahead—what a young husband forces when the cradle is brought home.—Punch.

The pleasure of giving is necessary to true happiness; but the poor may have it.

Josh Billings says, "If you trade with a Yankee steal his jack-knife fast; for if he gets to whittling, you are gone in spite of thunder."

All deception in the course of life, indeed, nothing else but a lie reduced to practice, and falsehood passing from words into things.

A sporting Quaker puts his bets thus: "A Friend Edward there thinks thy horse is faster than mine. I value my opinion at twenty dollars. Now, if thy values thy opinions at the same rate, we will put the money together and ask our horses what they think of it and leave the conclusion to them."

A thrifty wife wonders why the men can't manage to do something useful?

Might they not as well assume themselves in smoking hats as smoking cigars?

The latter part of a wise man's life is often taken up in curing the follies, prejudice and false opinions he had contracted in the former.

When the Brenton mariner puts to sea, his prayer is, "Keep me, my God!

my boat is so small and thy ocean so wide!"
Does not this beautiful prayer truly express the conditions of each of us?

There is one thing above many in this life to try men more than any other.

It is a—Jury.

Miscellany.

MATILDA PRIMROSE.

Matilda Primrose, the subject of this sketch, was a modest lady, whose age at the time we introduce her to the reader might be nearly thirty-five. She was a short, plump little woman, with a pretty face, keen black eyes and hair black as midnight. Why it was that such a good-looking woman as Matilda Primrose should reach the age of thirty-five without getting married, we know not; but this much we do know, that at age she began to feel the want of a husband. Matilda had a small farm that was left her by her father, who died when she was about thirty. For five years this had been worked by a man and his family, who occupied a part of the house, at halves.

Now, it occurred to Matilda that she might just as well have the whole of the profits of the farm as half, for she never would have thought of this, but for one reason, and that was, she was getting very penurious as she grew older; and the more she had the more she wanted. So, in order to secure the profits of the whole farm, she bethought herself of this plan to secure it—get married.

"Yes, a husband I must have," said she to herself, one evening after she had been paid five hundred dollars as her share of the profits of the farm for one year. "I might just as well have the whole as half, and have it I will next year."
But soon she thought: "Well, that is easier said than done. I have lived so long without getting married, and have got to be so old that folks around here take it for granted that I do not want a portner. I do, though, and one I'll have before the new year comes in,"—which I will here mention wanted just three months taking place.

Matilda thought of various ways to get a husband, but none that seemed to be in her mind so likely to succeed as the following plan, which she adopted at once.

She would dress herself up in the latest and most fashionable style, and go to some village where she was unknown, engage lodgings for a couple of months, and palm herself off upon the unknown community as a young lady of about twenty-five, and the possessor in her own right of quite a little fortune.

No sooner was this thought of, than she set about putting it into execution; and ten days later, we find her at the village of Seymour, some twenty miles from home, where she engaged board for two months, at five dollars a week.

Matilda certainly looked at least ten years younger than she really was; and this was just what she wanted, since it would help her wonderfully toward getting a husband.

Now, it was her custom to take a walk every morning and afternoon, that she might the sooner get acquainted with some of the young men of the village. As she had hoped, this daily walking ended not without its desired result.

Ere two weeks had passed away, Miss Matilda—just returned from a long walk was handed, by the lady of the house, a nicely perfumed envelope, and without stopping to ask any questions as to who left it there, or how she came by it, Matilda hastened up stairs and without stopping to take off her bonnet and shawl, she opened the envelope, which contained the following note, written in a plain gentlemanly hand:

"My DEAR YOUNG LADY: Having met you several times of late, and being an ardent admirer of your personal charms and beauty, and being anxious to secure a suitable companion for life, I have taken the liberty to address you this note, begging the privilege of an interview with you, any evening that you can make it convenient for me to call. Should the above meet with your approval, you can inform me by a return note through the post-office, addressed to Mrs. R. SIMPSON, Weymouth Landing, I. R. S."

Matilda Primrose, the heroine of our story, read the contents of that note for more than half an hour. She literally devooured it; when she had read it what good, her mind was made up what to do. She would answer it; which she did in the following manner:

"Seymour, October 24, 1868.
"MR. R. SIMPSON—DEAR SIR: Your note, handed me this morning, and I make haste to answer it, by informing you that on Thursday evening of this week, I should be pleased to receive a call from you. You will please come early in the evening as you can, that we may have a longer time to talk upon a subject that I think interests us both."
"Yours in haste, MATILDA PRIMROSE."

It is well to mention here that Mr.
Simpson was quite a young man, and a very lazy one; working only when he was obliged to to pay his board and keep himself in clothes. For a long time he had tried hard to better his condition in life by getting married to some lady who would have enough of the needful to support him in idleness; but he was too well known to succeed in any such undertaking in the village where he lived; and so, for this purpose, he had gone to the village of Seymour, arriving there about the time our heroine did.

Seeing Miss Primrose often upon the street, and always well dressed, he came to the conclusion that she must be a lady of means or she could not afford to dress and live in the manner she did. He learned soon after his arrival there, that she was a stranger in the place; though why she was there he could not know, nor where she had been.

"Now," thought he, "is my time to strike. Who knows but what I may be fortunate enough to secure the really beautiful young lady for a life companion."

Acting upon this thought, he addressed her the note we have appended above.

Not willing to let a good opportunity slip of securing a wife, Thursday evening found him at the house where Matilda was stopping, enjoying himself delightfully in the presence of Matilda Primrose, who did her best to please the gentleman.

The moment she saw him, she made up her mind to marry Simpson. So pleased was she with him in every particular, that she felt satisfied he would make her

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

VAN AMBURGH & CO.'S GREAT GOLDEN MENAGERIE. Notwithstanding rain storms and hurricanes, this popular exhibition is slowly wending its way hitherward, and considering the very unfavorable weather, is doing an immense business wherever it exhibits. The storm of Saturday last prostrated the large stand of bills which the agents had erected here, but not until it became very generally known that the Menagerie was to exhibit in Quincy on Tuesday, the 24 day of June. The Providence Herald asserts that more people were congregated under the colossal pavilion of this exhibition during its stay in that city than were ever before assembled at an exhibition of the kind in America; and we have no reason to doubt it, for it is not only the largest but the best organized menagerie in the country, and has the redeeming feature of being connected in any way with circus performances. For this reason it always draws the very best class of the community. At Providence the Episcopal and Catholic Bishops, ex-Governor Sprague, Governor Burdette, and nearly every clergyman in the city were among the visitors.

AUCTION. We would call the attention of our readers to the sale of valuable property on Hancock street this afternoon. It is opposite Mr. Lemuel Brackett's, and was owned for many years by the late Edmund Marsh. The estate has a large variety of excellent fruit trees and will positively be sold to the highest bidder, at half past four.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION. The Second Congressional District Convention which was held in this town on Wednesday last, to choose delegates to the National Democratic Convention, in New York, on the 4th of July next, was pretty fully attended—about 125 delegates being present—and was organized by the choice of John Q. Adams, Esq., as Chairman, Edmund S. Fellows, of Quincy, and six others, as Vice Presidents, and William S. Pattee, as Secretary. At a formal vote, Samuel B. Thaxter, of Abington, and Edward Avery, of Braintree, were elected delegates, and Moses Bates, of East Bridgewater, and Charles Albro, of Taunton, alternates.

PROBATE COURTS. The Act fixing the times and places of holding Probate Courts in the County of Norfolk provides that the sessions of the Court shall be held at Dorchester every Wednesday, except during the month of August; and at Dedham every first Tuesday of each month except August. No Courts will be hereafter held either at Quincy, Medway or Wrentham.

The Act received the signature of the Governor on the 19th instant, and is now a law. Although no provision has yet been made for a location in Dorchester, it is understood that the County Commissioners will give the matter early attention.

CLOSED. The billiard hall which was opened several months ago in Goodnow's building has been closed the present week, and the tables taken down and carried to the city.

FLORAL. By reference to the Card of Mrs. Joyce, to be found in another column of our paper to-day, it will be seen that she has established a Floral Depot on Quincy Avenue, where she is prepared to serve the public with garlands to decorate the bridal altar, flowers and bouquets for the boudoir or public occasions, and wreaths, for the house of mourning. Her assortment of flowers are large and of a choice kind, to which she invites attention.

ACCIDENT. Mr. George Packard, of this town, was seriously injured on board of his sloop at Edwards' wharf yesterday afternoon. While up in the rigging at work a block fell hitting him on the side of the head, breaking the frontal bone and bridge of the nose, also cutting and bruising him on the head and face shockingly. His wounds were dressed on board of the sloop, and he was then conveyed to his residence on Quincy Avenue.

THE COMPETITION OVER THE SOUND among the different lines makes the boats go loaded. Cabin fare on Thursday was only one dollar, regular price five. The price of state rooms or meals has not been advanced by the Newport line.

SOLDIERS' MONUMENT. Workmen have been engaged in the Mount Wollaston Cemetery, the present week, in erecting the Soldiers' Monument. It will be completed now in a few days.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY AT KINGSTON. Cornelius Holmes, a brother of Alexander Holmes, formerly President of the Old Colony Railroad, was found murdered on the 27th instant, in a by-road near the back entrance to the cemetery, in Kingston, his brains having been beat out.

It is stated that while he was at the house of a Mr. Samuel Andrews, a boy came to the door and delivered him a note, upon which he remarked that he must be going, and accordingly left.

Near the entrance to the cemetery he was attacked and murdered as described. It is known that he received quite a sum of money the day before, which was found upon his person, it being supposed that the murderer was frightened away before he succeeded in robbing him.

The scene of the murder gave evidence of a violent struggle, many stones lying about, some of which had evidently been imbedded half their size in the head of the unfortunate man.

A reward of $2000 for the discovery of the murderer has been offered by his brothers.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, MAY 26, 1868.

The High Court of Impeachment met to-day at 12 o'clock. Every Senator present, and the galleries were filled. After a few not very important votes, on motion of Senator Williams, the Senate rescinded its former orders, and proceeded to vote on the second Article of Impeachment. The Chief Justice then announced that thirty-five having voted guilty, and nineteen not guilty, the President stood acquitted upon that article. The same result followed on the third Article. The Senators voted just as they formerly voted on the 11th Article. A slight hissing sound was heard in the gallery when Ross voted, but it was quickly suppressed by the Chief Justice. After the vote was declared on the third article, Williams moved that the Senate adjourn sine die. The vote stood the same as on the articles of Impeachment. Republicans voting for and Democrats against it. Thus the impeachment ends. The Article in our Constitution referring to it should be struck out, as it amounts to nothing. Who believes that a President can ever be impeached, no matter how perfidious his crimes. Jefferson was right when he pronounced that Article in our Constitution, "not even a scarecrow." The majority must submit, the minority rules on this subject.

The great subject of Impeachment, being among the things that were, my letter will require other topics to make it of any length. With much delicacy and hesitation, I leave the fond things of the past, to dwell for a moment on those that are fair.

It may be of some interest to your female readers (whom I verily believe are in the majority) to hear something about the leaders of their sex at the Capital. The Queens of Washington society are by no means, of that class of women, who think of nothing but dress and gewgaws; nor of the Flora McFlinty, shoddy or mushroom order. They are intellectual as well as beautiful. The newspapers and jealous rivals without knowing them, sometimes mention them as flirts. Yet it is a fact, as in other large cities, so in Washington, real worth, demands and receives a higher social position than mere money or beauty. Where the three are combined in one person, the popularity increases.

Quincy, besides her great men, has furnished history some noble women. Mrs. John Adams will never be forgotten in Washington society, as the model American woman. Her intellectual and moral character charmed much more than her envied grace and beauty.

Many an heiress comes to the Capital every winter, smothered in costly silks, satins, velvets and laces, sprinkled with big diamonds, and precious jewelry, thinking she will move the heads and the hearts of the universe here represented, who goes back disconsolate to her petroleums home, scarcely known, except by a few dry goods clerks, hair-dressers or waiting maids. That little, plain, (homely) "Gail Hamilton" received more attention here than a host of Beacon street belles.

Mrs. Sprague, according to public opinion, takes the lead in society. She leads the fashions, and, as a natural result, is closely scrutinized by her followers. A short time since her notes were written with purple ink, and almost immediately there sprang up a great demand for that article among young Misses. She is rather tall and slender, has a graceful figure, with a slight Grecian bend, (I believe that is what they call the thing,) or a French twist perhaps is a better name for it. Whatever may be thought now, she has had a very pretty face. But her great attraction is her well-known conversational abilities. That makes her a star in any company, and by that art she makes friends of those who have been prejudiced. She is the oldest daughter of Chief Justice Chase, and was well known during Lincoln's first term, as Miss Kate Chase. About three years ago, she was married to Senator Sprague, a millionaire, who owns a great deal of the small State of Rhode Island. She is said to be rather conservative on national affairs. The Senator says that Mrs. Sprague has her politics, and he has his. General Banks once remarked in my hearing, that her sister, Miss Mary Chase, was a lady of superior education.

The second in popularity, may be said to be Miss Blanche Butler, the young and accomplished daughter of General Butler, of Massachusetts. She received a thorough education at the celebrated convent school at Georgetown, (D. C.) Her mother was Miss Hildreth, an actress. The daughter always attracts a large and distinguished company of admirers about her. She converses with the freedom of an old court lady, without being the least bit airy. With the old and the young, with the rich and the poor, with the great and the humble, she is alike agreeable. "How beautiful," exclaims every body at first sight; especially it is so, when she is stired in her favorite green silk, which admirably suits her complexion. Her hair is of that shade so much admired now in fashionable circles, but which was once derisively called, redish auburn.

Mrs. General Banks is one of those ladies, who have kept along with their companions, as they have risen in the world. How different the General's situation from that of our martyred President. Elevation and prosperity is the worst thing that happens to some folks. No lady can be more lady-like than Mrs. Banks at the receptions. No lady can better prepare her husband's meals than the same General's lady.

Of Mrs. General Grant, and the mother and sister of Speaker Colfax, I may have something to say in another letter.

Miss May Morrill, daughter of Senator Morrill, of Maine, and Miss Eliot, daughter of the member from New Bedford, Massachusetts, have become quite noted for their modesty and purity. Other ladies who stand high in public estimation, necessarily have some enemies.

Be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, Thus shalt not escape calumny."

These last mentioned young ladies are exceptions, for no one ever heard them spoken of abusively. In thus humbling themselves, they become greatly exalted among all classes.

Miss Foote, a niece of the late Senator Foote, of Vermont, is said to have the most historical or classical face in the city. The arrangement of her large swinging curls of auburn hair, has much to do with bringing her into notice. Madame Gossip says she is soon to be Mrs. Henderson, and that she had some influence over that Senator's vote. She is small, but of good form, and is about twenty-six years of age. The Senator is tall and slim, and forty-one years of age.

Gossip has been stating that Senator Fowler was expecting to take the President's daughter, Mrs. Stover, but this is denied by another rumor, that she will soon be Mrs. Cooper.

Miss Chandler, daughter of Senator Chandler, of Michigan, has made her entrance into society this winter. She is the only child of a millionaire. Her carriage and horses are valued at twelve thousand dollars, with other little things to correspond.

There are scores of other ladies who attract considerable attention here, but time and space will not permit notice at this time.

Dr. Mary Walker attracts attention by wearing the trousers. The boys in the streets point their fingers at her, and the little girls turn and hide their faces. This style of dress, may be "a consummation devoutly to be wished," but it does seem as if such a change would be accomplished sooner by approaching it lightly.

Grant was serenaded the other night, and made a speech of about three sentences. As he was going in the house, he remarked, "I don't suppose they heard all I said." Johnson has hurt himself by "making too much noise with his mouth." There is no danger of our next President being greatly troubled that way. The country will be anxious to hear his first inaugural address.

LEGISLATIVE. The House on Tuesday voted to abolish corporal punishment in the Schools of this State, by 98 to 70.

SILVER WARE. Those of our citizens who wish to purchase good silver ware, that will last a life time, should call on Mr. Holden. If you buy your plated ware here you will have it warranted, but if you go to Boston and buy that which appears to you to be cheap to-day our word for it, you will find it dear to-morrow.

VALUABLE COW. A correspondent of the Weymouth Gazette, says that:

"Mr. Thomas Bicknell, of North Weymouth, has a very valuable cow, a full blooded Alderney, which he thinks cannot be beat in Norfolk County. This cow gives on an average seventeen quarts of milk a day, with no extra keeping, fed only on hay. Her milk surpasses in richness the milk of any other cow I ever saw. The cream from six quarts of her milk makes one pound of the best excellent butter. Mr. Bicknell thinks that when he turns his cow out to pasture her milk will increase to twenty-one quarts a day, from which three and a half pounds of butter can be made every day."

Boston spends twenty-five thousand dollars on the Fourth of July this year.

FREEMAN, BAKER, 26 Winter St., Boston, through our columns to-day, offers Trimmings, Hosiery, Gloves, Laces, Embroideries, and a seasonable assortment of small wares, at a reduction from former prices.

DEDICATION OF A SOLDIERS' MONUMENT. The monument erected by the late city of Roxbury, at the Forest Hill Cemetery, will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies in connection with the decoration of the soldiers' graves with flowers at half past one o'clock to-day.

VICTORIA'S BIRTHDAY. Sunday last was the birthday of the Queen. She was born in Kensington Palace, on the 24th day of May, 1819, and is now 49 years of age.

THE CLOTHING HOUSE of Bennett & Co., 14 & 15 Dock Square, Boston, has been established too long to need any extended notice to those who have not traded there. To those who have not, and wishing any article in their line, we would say that they have one of the largest stocks of seasonable goods, manufactured with great care, especially for the New England retail trade, anywhere to be found, and their prices are such as will ensure a speedy sale, and give universal satisfaction. Read their advertisement and give them a call.

BRAINTREE. At the town meeting lately called in Braintree to investigate and hunt up evidence concerning the fires or any attempt to set fires in Braintree, a Committee of fifteen were chosen to take the matter in hand, and also to offer a reward of $500.00. This Committee chose a sub-committee consisting of Joseph A. Arnold, Charles French, Horace Faxon, and Joel E. Holbrook. The sub-committee, by vigorous efforts have found a clue to the attempt to set fire to the Baptist Church. As we understand, however, that further investigation may disclose something not yet known in regard to the matter we will delay giving our information to a future time. Suffice it to say that the community breathes a little freer as the one who applied the match has been found, as we have reason to believe.

If every town had a good standing committee to take all such matters in hand we think the cause of justice would be furthered.—Weymouth Gazette.

HEAVY FALL IN BUTTER. At St. Albans, on Tuesday, 28 cents was the ruling price for good butter, 39 cents being paid for a few fancy lots.

Summary Intelligence

The strawberry vines are now in blossom and give promise of an abundant crop.

Thatcher, the New York weather prophet, says that June will have more pleasant days than May—a safe prediction, for it could not well have less—but that the three summer months will be showery. He promises three pleasant autumn months.

A lady of New York speculates daily in Wall street to the extent of between fifty and one hundred thousand dollars.

Dr. Dio Lewis has bought a house in Beacon street, Boston, for $51,000.

A boys' quarrel in Lowell on Friday evening resulted fatally. George Blake was hit in the head by a stone thrown by Freeman Young, and died in a few hours.

Anson, (Me.), produces more wool than any other town in the State. There are twenty-three thousand sheep in the town, chiefly Spanish merino.

In Providence (R. I.) recently, a young child of Mr. John Cristy was left alone and while playing round the stove, upset a kettle of boiling water and was so severely scalded that she died soon after.

San Francisco, is so largely built on made land that the timbers of old wharves were recently exhumed half a mile from the present water front.

Governor Fenton signed six hundred and seventy-five bills of the late New York legislature. Something less than a million others failed to become laws from lack of his mark.

The ladies are rejoicing in a new invention by which they can have their hair electro-plated.

They have got an oyster in Gloucester which measures 28 by 32 inches, and weighs 234 pounds.

One of the maples in the park in East Bridgeport, (Ct.), is a fine apple graft growing from it, which it picked up itself, and which will soon be in blossom.

Mrs. Patty Thomas, who resides at Providence, (R. I.), is now in her one hundred and fourteenth year.

Potatoes are selling in Bangor, Me., at from $1.40 to $1.45 per bushel; butter from 40 to 45 cents per pound; eggs 20 to 21 cents per doz.; loose hay from $14 to $15 per ton for best quality; pressed do., from $16 to $18.

In the year 1816, it is recorded, snow fell in Massachusetts every month in the year.

In making an inventory of the effects of an old lady recently deceased, in Belgium, the heirs found in a box a parcel of soiled gilded lace, which proved to be of a costly description no longer manufactured and worth $3000 as a relic of the past.

Since the assassination of T. D'Arcy McGee, a single establishment in Montreal has issued 50,000 photographic likenesses of him.

The late storm was death on the caterpillars.

New York city pays two millions of dollars per year for ice. Since October over half a million bushels of potatoes have been shipped from Detroit.

The army expenses are now three hundred and fifty thousand dollars daily.

People are sensible about some things. Among the presents received last week by a bride were two pieces of linen, four table-cloths, two dozen towels, and a cooking book.

A youth from Salem was sent to the State Prison for five years for burglary, at the present term of the Essex Superior Court. He is but eighteen years of age and has been sentenced to the House of Correction twenty-one times.

A little boy of Fairhaven, eight years old, had his hand cut off in a straw cutter with which he was playing, on the 19th inst.

An Austrian convict has made out of bread a clock that keeps accurate time. The hands are of wood, and the figures and dial plate are of straw. All the rest is made of rye straws.

Colorado has sent East a silver ingot weighing two hundred and fifty-seven pounds, tray, and worth about five thousand dollars. It is the largest silver brick ever made in the territory.

Brazil has been driven to some extremity by the Paraguayan war. At the headquarters of the army at Tari, $220 has been willingly paid for a ton of coal, and cannon balls are cheap at ten dollars each.

Illinois had a few days since 1119 convicts in the State Prison at Joliet,—the largest number ever confined there at one time.

The North Bridgewater Gazette says, that Mr. Thomas Lucas, of Quincy, has purchased a farm in the North end of that village, of Mr. Willard Howard.

In New Orleans a few days ago an ice cart was struck by lightning. The bolt descended on a block of ice, shivering it into a thousand pieces and scattering it in all directions. Singular to state, the driver, mule and vehicle escaped without injury.

The rents received by the city from the stalls and cellars under Faneuil Hall, and from Quincy Market, amount to $82,951.

In Paris the residents have been almost suffocated by the heat.

The Hudson River at Troy was fourteen feet above the ordinary level on Sunday last, and the ferry boats had to stop running.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT. A meeting of the friends of Charles Francis Adams, desirous of having him placed on the Democratic platform for the Vice Presidency of the United States, by the National Democratic Convention, was held at 814 Broadway, (N. Y.) on Saturday last. The meeting, which was fully attended, was addressed by several gentlemen, who were most enthusiastic in their laudations of the ex-Minister to St. James, deeming him the best candidate that could be named.

FOURTH OF JULY. The prominent features of the celebration of the Fourth of July in Boston, will be as follows:—Fireman's procession at 7 o'clock; morning concert on the Common, under the direction of P. S. Gilmore; parade and review of the battalion of boys belonging to the Latin and English High Schools; parade of the First, Seventh and Ninth regiments; musical and other entertainments for the children of the public schools; oration by Mr. Samuel Eliot, and other exercises in the Music Hall; a rowing regatta on Charles River, and a sailing regatta in the harbor; a submarine race in the harbor; a balloon ascension by Professor King; tight rope performances on the Common; and the usual display of fireworks. Here is certainly variety enough to please all classes of patriotic citizens.

Any one contemplating advertising should read the card in another column of MESSRS. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Advertising Agents, 40 Park Row, New York. This establishment is perhaps the most extensive one of the kind in the United States, and the very large business they control enables them to secure for their customers most important advantages.

HERRING. The quantity taken this season has been somewhat larger than the yield of last year, and Sunday last the river at East Weymouth overran with herring, about 20,000 being taken in the evening.

CHOWDER. An excellent chowder will be served at the Mariposa Saloon, this afternoon in season to supply families and others for supper.

The Nashville Times says that an old gentleman looking over the battle ground near that city the other day, saw some marks on a rock; he dug there and took up four cans of oysters, three boxes of sardines and two flasks of whiskey, all in excellent preservation.

Many suffer rather than take nauseous medicines. All who suffer from coughs, colds, irritation of the bronchial tubes or tendency to consumption will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease. The Balsam is a pleasant remedy; it is a safe remedy; it is a powerful remedy; it is a speedy remedy; it is a remedy that cures.

SPIRITUAL ASSOCIATION. ROGERS' CHAPEL, QUINCY. Mr. H. Melville Fay will speak to-morrow at 2 3/4 o'clock P. M. Quincy, May 30. 1w

WANTED! A YOUNG MAN in Store. E. CLAPP. Quincy, May 30. 1f

NEW GOODS. GENTS' Box Toe Oxford Ties. GENTS' Cap Opera Boots. GENTS' Kip Brogans, Rubber Soles. A lot of the above goods, just received, and offered for sale at BARGAINS.

STRAW HATS, All Grades and Sizes. New and Choice Styles, to which your patronage is solicited. Please call and examine. C. T. REED. Quincy, May 30. 1f

U. S. Internal Revenue Tax. NOTICE is hereby given that the Annual Collection of DUTIES, INCOME and SPECIAL TAXES, for the Second Collection District of Massachusetts, have been received from the Assessor, and that said taxes have become due and payable.

Said Lists are in the hands of the several Deputy Collectors, who will attend to receive payment of said taxes, on SATURDAY the TWENTY-SECOND DAY OF JUNE next, at the following places, between the hours of nine o'clock, A. M., and three, P. M. viz:—

DIVISION No. 1.—Rymham, Taunton, Dighton, Haverhill, and Seaboard.—P. T. BRISTOL, Deputy Collector, at his office in Taunton.

DIVISION No. 2.—Attleboro, Seekonk and Norton.—T. M. GEORGE, Deputy Collector, at his office in Attleboro.

DIVISION No. 3.—Easton, Mansfield and Norton.—T. M. GEORGE, Deputy Collector, at his office in Mansfield.

DIVISION No. 4.—Bridgewater, East, West and North Bridgewater.—JAMES HOWARD, Deputy Collector, at his office in West Bridgewater.

DIVISION No. 5.—Abington, Hanson, Hanover, South Scituate, Scituate and Marshfield.—O. W. SOULE, Deputy Collector, at his office in Abington.

DIVISION No. 6.—Weymouth, Hingham, Cohasset, and Weymouth.—W. WHITE, Jr., Deputy Collector, at his office in Weymouth.

DIVISION No. 7.—Randolph, Braintree, Quincy and Dorchester.—W. HARRIS, Deputy Collector, at the Dorchester Post Office.

DIVISION No. 8.—Canton, Sharon and Milton.—E. C. WOOD, Deputy Collector, at his office in Canton.

DIVISION No. 9.—Stoughton, L. S. LEACH, Deputy Collector, at his dwelling house in Stoughton.

And at such other times and places before that date, as the several Deputy Collectors may give notice of.

All persons who shall neglect to pay the duties and taxes assessed upon them, within the time above named, are liable under the revenue laws to pay 20 cents and mileage for a demand notice, and if they further neglect to pay the same for the space of ten days after the service or mailing of said demand notice, they are still further liable to pay 5 per cent. additional upon the amount thereof.

B. W. HARRIS, Collector. Dorchester, May 20, 1868.

FREEMAN BAKER, 26 Winter street, BOSTON.

Is daily receiving New Goods.

Motto, "Quick Sales, Small Profits."

Dress and Cloak Trimmings,

HOSIERY, GLOVES,

SKIRTS, CORSETS,

and Small Wares.

FRENCH CORSETS, $3 to $4, worth $5.

GERMAN CORSETS, $1, former price $1.25.

HOOP SKIRTS, 25 to 30 cents under price.

LINEN HOSIERY, from 10 cents up to $1.

SPLENDID BARGAINS,

EMBROIDERIES, To close a job lot.

LACES, Of different kinds, Cheap.

All our $2 Kids marked down to $1.75.

ANOTHER CASE OF JOSEPH'S KIDS

Just received.—Spring Colors.—$1.00 a pair.

Best Kid ever sold for the money.

Parasols, Rich Fans, Buttons, Braids,

Nets, &c., &c., CHEAP.

LADIES' TRAVELLING BAGS,

Less than any other store in Boston.

Ladies, call and examine the goods.

FREEMAN BAKER,

26 WINTER STREET,

Boston, May 30. 1m sp

AUCTION.

WILL be sold at Public Auction, on SATURDAY, May 30, at 4 1/2 o'clock, P. M., on the premises, the well known Estate of the late Edmund Marsh, on Hancock street, consisting of about four acres of Land, with a Dwelling house and a large variety of Fruit Trees in bearing order.

Sale positive, as the owner is going to leave town.

No postponement on account of weather.

Terms made known at the Sale.

HENRY H. FAXON, Auc.

Quincy, May 30.

FOR SALE!

A NEW Brownell Wagon.

Two Sets of Light Harnesses.

Enquire of TIRRELL & SONS.

Quincy, May 30.

FOR SALE.

A COTTAGE situated on Brackett's Street, and about half an acre of Land, with a good variety of Fruit Trees in bearing order, and a never failing well of water.

Apply to ROBERT HILL, on the Premises.

Quincy, May 30.

WREATHS, BOUQUETS

AND CUT FLOWERS

FOR FUNERALS and other occasions, on reasonable terms, at short notice, by MRS. JOYCE, Quincy Avenue.

May 30.

TO LET.

HOUSES, Stores, Offices, &c., &c. Apply to HENRY H. FAXON.

Quincy, May 30.

ICE CREAMS.

THE Subscriber would thank his friends and patrons for their liberal patronage heretofore, and inform them that he may be found on and after MONDAY, June 1st, at the Old Stand, on Temple street, where he would be happy to attend to their wants.

FAMILIES supplied with Cream and Cake at short notice.

Quincy, May 30.

Putnam's and Fisher's

CURTAIN FIXTURES.

—ALSO—

CORDS and Tassels; Picture Cords & Frames; Knives for Hanging Pictures and Mirrors; FRAMES made to order.

A Cheap Lot of KNIVES, FORKS, SPOONS, &c.

JOSEPH AREY, JR.

Quincy, May 30.

SILVER

PLATED WARE.

REED & BARTON'S Patent Seamless Lined

ICE PITCHERS,

Best thing of the kind Manufactured.

SALVERS,

BUTTER DISHES,

SPOON HOLDERS,

BREAKFAST CASTERS,

STIRP CUPS,

CAKE BASKETS,

CHILDREN'S CUPS,

SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1868.

LEGAL & CO.

lication to be two days, at least before said Court.
Witness, GEORGE WHITE, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of May in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

Quincy, May 23. J. H. COBB, Register.
Sw

100

Advertising Agents,
10 Park Row, New York.

Agent for the United States.

ainey, April 18. tf

ney, Sept. 2

ney Jan. 13

Poetry.

Song of the Farmer in Seed Time.

We've ploughing, and we're sowing
The gold grain o'er the land,
But the quickening and the growing
Are in a higher hand.
The dew and rain's soft dressing,
The sun-ray cast o'er the crown,
And these, with every blessing,
Come from our Father down.

What near is, and what far in The distance e'er may be—
The grass-plot, and the starshine,
The sand-grain and the sea
Are His—and leaves that quiver,
And snow—earth's shroud and grave—
Spring's balmy air, the rivers,
All corn and fruit He gave.
Sun-moonlight in the valley,
—True cause of all He hath—
The gentle south wind's daily,
The cloud that folds His path.
He lifts from earth the shadow,
Health, life around cloth spread,
For us, our daily bread.

Farmers' Department.

HOW TO RAISE CARROTS.

A large proportion of American farmers fail in their efforts to grow a remunerating crop of carrots, in the majority of instances from not understanding how to manage the seed and the young plants. The usual practice is to sow carrot seed so early in the growing season that noxious weeds, six or eight inches high, cover the ground before the young carrots have attained sufficient size to enable laborers to see the rows. The immense labor required to weed carrots, tends to dishearten farmers from attempting to grow a crop of roots. But if they were accustomed to manage differently, a crop of carrots could be grown at an expense of only a few cents per bushel. We frequently meet with farmers who aver that their crop of carrots costs them not over five or six cents per bushel. As it is not practicable to follow the directions required to produce a heavy crop of roots the present season, we will do the best we can under the circumstances. Do not plant the seed too early. Prepare the ground thoroughly, and manure it heavily. Let the land be ploughed deep, twice or thrice, if it is not sod. Then about the twentieth of May, or the first of June, scarify the surface for the purpose of exterminating the weeds. If the surface is at all lumpy, let the lumps be crushed with a roller. As the seeds are a long time germinating, they should be sown before they are planted. Then the young carrots will vegetate rapidly, and outgrow noxious weeds; and the labor of weeding the rows will be comparatively light.

Sow the seed in warm water for twenty hours. Then mingle it with fine sand in a vessel that will not hold water. Keep the sand and seed moist and warm. As soon as the seeds exhibit signs of germination, let them be planted in soil just stirred with some implement. In four or five days, if the soil be moist and warm, the carrots will appear above ground, and scarcely a weed will be seen among the young plants. Unless the ground is rich and free from weeds do not make the drills nearer than two feet, so that a horse hoe may do almost the entire weeding.

When the young plants are two or three inches high, let the thinning be performed with a sharp, broad hoe, worked across the drills, leaving three or four plants in a cluster. During wet and lowery weather, when laborers cannot work advantageously at other employment, let the smaller carrots be pulled up, leaving one in a place—about six or eight inches apart. Managed in this manner, a crop of carrots may be raised with a small expenditure of labor.

For feeding horses and cows, a bushel of carrots is worth as much as a bushel of oats, when fed in connection with a liberal amount of meal.—N. Y. Independent.

Sowing Seeds of Melons, Cucumbers, etc.

Davis R. Vannatter writes to the Rural American about the best way of sowing the seeds of vines. He says that he has brought up seeds in three days by the following method of preparing the soil and manure: First, dig holes twelve or fifteen inches deep, and about two feet in diameter, into which throw about a bushel of well rotted manure, and a peck of leached ashes, then thoroughly mix with the manure, soil enough to fill the hole with a little rounding. Then level and put on about an inch of fine moist soil, and with the hoe draw the manure, then take some green rubarb, or large leaves of any kind, and spread a layer over the hills and secure them so that the wind cannot blow them away. This will cause condensation of moisture and keep the ground slightly damp and at the same time permit the heat of the sun to reach the seeds. When the plants are beginning to appear, remove the covering.

Anecdotes.

"I am glad," said a missionary to an Indian chief, "that you do not drink whiskey; but it grieves me to find that your people use so much of it."

"Ah yes," said the man, and he fixed an impressive eye upon the preacher, which communicated the reproval before he uttered it, "we Indians use a great deal of whiskey, but we do not make it."

A Scotchman, having hired himself to a farmer, had a cheese set down before him that he might help himself. After some time the master said to him: "Sandy, you take a long time to break-fast."

"In truth, master," said Sandy, "a cheese of this size is na, hoo soon eaten as ye may think."

New Advertisements.

Persons thinking of Advertising to any extent will do well, before making contracts, to apply to

G. P. ROWELL & CO.,

for an estimate. They have facilities for securing the insertion of Advertisements in all newspapers and periodicals at low rates. Address them at 40 Park Row, N. Y.

Send stamp for circular. Complete lists of newspapers published in any State sent for 25 cts.

GRANT & COLFAX.

AGENTS WANTED.—For the best and most reliable and profitable business in the world, send for a circular. No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

Official History of the War

Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.

By HON. ALFRED R. STEPHENS.

Its ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published.

One copy sent free to every subscriber in three days. Another in Boston, 100 subscribers in four days. Send for Circulars and see our Circulars and a full list of the work. Address NATIONAL PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

CHEAP CASH STORE.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.

Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.

AYER'S PILLS, 20 CTS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.

Brown's Troches, 25 cts.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE 88 CTS.

Hoops Skirts 87 cts.

Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY

STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.

DRESS GOODS,

WORKING PANTS CHEAP.

PANT CLOTHS.

German and American Corsets.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 20 cts.

FICS & ORANGES.

Hair Braids, 70 cts.

BEADS, BEADS

Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM

MADE

Pants and Vests

VERY LOW.

HATS & CAPS

Perforated Card Board,

Gilt Paper,

Drawing Paper,

Blotting Paper,

Ribbons and Velvets.

BOOTS AND SHOES

BELOW COST

to close out.

J. A. McLELLAN,

NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.

Quincy, Feb. 22. if

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"

almost questioned when we see

LORING'S PATENT

IRON WATERSTOP

THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.

BAILEY & BAXTER,

SCHOOL STREET,

Quincy, Jan. 11. if

The Quincy Patriot,

(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.

GEO. W. PRESCOTT, Printer.

Also, Advertising and Business Agent.

Job Printing Promptly Executed.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1868.

NUMBER 24.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

CONDITIONS.

No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.

S. M. PATTINGILL & Co., }
S. R. NILES, } Boston.
H. F. DODD, }
A. F. LINCOLN & Co., }
S. M. PATTINGILL & Co., } New York.
Geo. F. BOWELL & Co., }
JOHN HOOVER & Co., }

POST OFFICE.

Mails open at 3 30 A. M., and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M., and 5 15 P. M.

Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
55 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY,
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 15
P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,

Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

Dr. Roundy & Wife,
CLAIRVOYANT, MAGNETIC AND
ELECTRIC PHYSICIANS,
ON QUINCY AVENUE,
Near the corner of School and Elm Sts.
Quincy, March 14.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 29.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln st., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French & American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Congress and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to Measure.
No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6.

FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warehouses, and judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

Dr. W. M. CORNELL,
No. 4 HAYWARD PLACE,
4th door from Washington street at No. 248.
GIVES special attention to Epilepsy; to all Nervous
Affections, to Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Skin, and all Chronic Diseases. After nearly twenty years' practice in Boston, and the last seven spent in the Medical College, Clinics and Military Hospitals of Philadelphia, he has again resumed practice in Boston.
His Books on medical subjects may be had at his office
or will be sent by mail for the following prices:—
"Epilepsy," 50 cents.
"Inebriation," 25 cents.
"Physical and Mental Hygiene," $1.25.
"Ship and Shore Physician and Surgeon," $1.25.
"Clinical Health," 40 cents.
"The Brain," 60 cents.
Many of the best Educators have recommended this last named book.—Rev. President Hopkins of Williams College says, "The Brain" is adapted to its great good, especially on a subject too much neglected." Wm. H.
Allen, M. D., LL.D., late president of Girard College, says, "By the publication of this Book you have done a valuable service to the young, and deserve the thanks of the public."
Rev. Dr. Edgely says, "It should be read by all our young men."
Aug. 37.

PAINTING.
THE Subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has taken the old stand on Codrington street, for many years occupied by his father, E. B. HAN-KIN, and is prepared to execute PAINTING,
GLAZING, GRAINING,
VARNISHING,
&c., in the best manner.
JOHN W. HERSEY,
Quincy, Jan. 18.

TREES.

Wollaston Nursery
The Subscriber has for Sale
ON WOLLASTON AVENUE,
A large variety of Hardy and Ornamental Trees and Shrubs
Both Native and Exotic, among which are
DECIDUOUS TREES:
American, Canada, Purple and Weeping Elm; Norway Spruce; Box, Ash, Laurel and Scarlet Maple;— English and Cherry Currents;—Triumph of Grand Street-berry Platanus;—Coccoloba;—American and English Alder;—Tulip Tree;—English and Purple Beeches;— English Sycamores;—Birch Chestnuts; &c.
EVERGREENS:
Norway, Blue and Hemlock Spruce;—Scottish, Austrian, Mugho, Combs, and Corsican Pines;—Alder Vines, &c.
FLOWERING SHRUBS:
Althaea;—Wigmorea;—Forsythia;—Scarlet Dogwood;—
Mahonia;—Box-leaved Evergreen & Common Privet;— Rhododendron;—Laurus;—Epilobium;—Syringae; &c.
Also, a good assortment of
Fruit Trees, and Small Fruit, viz:
Pear—20 Varieties;—Apples—10 do.—Fishes of the best sorts;—Plums and Cherries;—Hawthorn;—Violet-leaved and Cherry Currants;—Triumph of Grand Street-berry Platanus;—Coccoloba;—Hardy Pines;—Rogers's Platanus;—Japa, Jacaranda, &c. &c.
Amongst the Pines are the Early, and a limited supply of the Golden Dwarf, a comparatively new variety, nearly growing more than five feet high, of beautiful foliage and form, hardy and prolific, fruit excellent.
Many of the above trees have been recently imported,
and being consequently of small size, a good opportunity
is offered to those who wish to plant large numbers, to supply themselves at a moderate expense.
Persons wishing to plant ornamental fruit trees are invited to call at the Nursery before purchasing elsewhere.
All orders given to Mr. M. BECKFORD, will be promptly filled.

GEORGE EATON.
Wollaston April, 4.

GARDEN SEEDS
For the Spring of 1868.
JOS. BRECK & SON
would call attention to their collection of Garden and Flower Seeds,
embracing everything worthy of cultivation.
No seeds but such as we know to be the
FIRST QUALITY, raised by ourselves or imported,
are ever offered for sale at our establishment.
After an experience of forty years, we believe that we can say that we are THOROUGHLY
POSTED AS TO THE WANTS OF THE FARMER AND GARDENER.
We have everything new and all well known and tried varieties of Seeds, which we offer at
the lowest cash prices.
For full particulars send for descriptive catalogues which will be sent gratis.
JOS. BRECK & SON,
51 & 52 North Market St., Boston.
March 28.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood
Agricultural Warehouse,
—AND—
SEED STORE,
49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row, offer a large assortment of the best Agricultural Implements,
MACHINERY & TOOLS,
OF ALL KINDS.
Reckey Mowing Machines, Whitcomb's
Horse Rakes, Palmers' Horse
Pig-forks,
And sold exclusively by us.
Our large and well selected stock of Seeds, grown by Experienced Seasoners in Europe and America, the city of which is not and cannot be surpassed, is offered in quantities to suit.
Grass Seeds, Seed Grain, in all their varieties.
Hempseed, Rape, &c., &c.
Seed Potatoes—Early Goodrich, Early Sebago, Early Blue, &c., &c.
FERTILIZERS.
Guano, Super-phosphate of Lime Pon-drette, Ground Bone, Plaster, Fish
Guano, &c.
GRAFTING WAX, made expressly for our trade—
WALKER & SONS, 150 South Street, Extra Fine BONE
MEAL for feeding.
At wholesale and retail at lowest prices.
All orders will be promptly filled by mail express, with most prompt attention. Tool, vegetable and flower Seed Catalogues furnished upon application to the execution of the public, in the exercise of the public.

Dr. Jackson's Catarrh Snuff.
A POSITIVE and pleasant remedy for all Disorders
of the Head, Throat, Breast and Vocal Organs,
and of the Eye, Ear, Nose, &c., &c.
Prepared by Mrs. E. HAYDEN, Washington Square,
Quincy, Nov. 23.

Weymouth Photograph Rooms.
L. W. COOK,
HAS the pleasure of announcing to his friends and patrons generally that having
still further enlarged and improved his Photograph rooms, is now better prepared than ever
to answer the requirements of the public, in the execution of the public.

EVERY BRANCH
OF THE PHOTOGRAPHIC ART,
in a style of workmanship unsurpassed,
and particularly in the production of those beautiful and much admired Souvenirs, the Cartes de Visite. He is prepared to give Large Photographs from small pictures, finished in India Ink or Water Colors.
35-Proofs and Photographs sent by mail.
Custom from Quincy and vicinity solicited.
Rooms near the Post Office,
WEYMOUTH LANDING.
L. W. COOK, Photographer.
June 4.

TRACY'S
Vegetable Healing Balm.
The great Fennel Ointment. It will cure Felon's, Scalds, Cuts, Erysipelas, Burns, Freezes, Itch, Pain, Blisters, Stings, &c., &c.
For Sale by
Mrs. E. HAYDEN,
Quincy, Nov. 23.

Poetry.

For the Patriot.

MY BABY.

My baby! oh! do not refuse
Most gentle, and inspiring muse,
To do me justice now,
My baby! oh! I faintly tell,
The thoughts of him which rise and swell,
In heart; on lip; o'er brow—
The mother's love, within beats high,
My baby! oh! thy faintest cry,
Is precious to my ear—
Sweet but—sweet blossom—heart's delight,
I ne'er would lose thee from my sight
Within my mortal year.
But sixteen months ago my boy,
Thou wast a newly given joy,
I claimed thee, for mine own,
Though weak my lips and could not tell;
The inner thought—rose and fell,
Responsive to thy tone
Thy father clasped thee to his heart,
Thou precious one—our better part,
And wept the while he pressed,
Oh! baby boy, oh! heart of joy,
Whose love may still know naught to cloy,
Thou'er shall be caressed.
Thy forehead white as lily-breast,
Thy curls of gold that 'bove it rest,
How fair to mortal eye;
Thine ample brow, with shade of thought,
That o'er with mischief is enwrought,
Speaks worth that may not die.
Thine eye, the King of every charm
So happy bright, and so serene—
'Tis like the evening star—
I gaze full oft, and dream a dream,
More real it by and by will seem.
The vision is afar.

THE TATTLER.
In a small country district, where some dozen families formed a neighborhood, there lived, and still lives, two farmers, named Long and Chase. They were both good-hearted, honest men, and had always been good neighbors. One afternoon Farmer Long was in his door-yard, engaged about some trifling affair, and his wife stood near him watching his operations.
"Ah, here comes John Cutler. Now we shall hear the news," said Mrs. Long, as she noticed a youngish-looking, roughly clad man entering the yard.
Said John Cutler was the news-teller of the neighborhood; a sort of meddling busy-body, who never actually premeditated any injury to his neighbors, but who yet had a great fondness for attending to everybody's business but his own—a class of people very often met with, and who are a pest to any society where they take up their quarters.
Mr. Long greeted the newcomer kindly and the usual amount of common-place conversation was gone through with respecting the state of the crops, the weather, &c.
"By the way," observed Cutler, as the conversation began to flag "what do you think Chase says about you?"
"I don't know, I'm sure," returned Mr.
Long, indifferently.
"I wasn't no good, any way" continued
the news-teller.
Mr. Long slightly raised his eyebrows, and discontinued his work.
"Neighbor Chase could have said no evil thing of me," he remarked, but yet with a shade of doubt in his manner.
"I should like to know what he said," spoke Mrs. Long.
"Well," returned Cutler, with a sort of low chuckle, as though he highly prized the information he was about to communicate, "Chase says you are a fool!"
"Says what?"
"That you are a fool."
"Did my neighbor say that of me?"
asked Long, in a voice made tremulous by sudden excitement.
"Yes—and that ain't all he said, either.
He said you were bringing up your children to be fools, too."
"Who did he tell this to?"
"I don't know. He was half a dozen there when he said it. Smith was there, and so was Tom Shute, and Richardson, and young Jim Pool. I shouldn't have thought he would have said so before so many."
"I shouldn't have thought he would have said so at all," uttered Long.
"Mr. Chase had better mind his own business, I should say!" exclaimed Mrs.
Long. My children! I should like to ask him what his children are. My children don't steal and lie. I'd like to have him understand that!"
"Hush, hush!" interrupted the farmer.
"Well, they did steal our apples, and they lied about it. You know they did."
"Yes—I know Chase's children are no better than they should be; and I must say that he is a different man from what I thought him. If this is the way he is going to talk, he had better pack up his things and move off."
"Don't say anything to Chase that I can't hear of," said Cutler; "but I told you of this. You know they did."
"I cannot help taking notice of it," returned Mr. Long. "But I shan't say anything to him about it."
"I wouldn't neither," said Cutler, and shortly afterwards he turned away.
Farmer Long and his wife were left in no enviable state of mind. They did not stop to consider the truth of what they had heard, nor did they think of any extenuating circumstances under which they might be uttered. They laid up the slander which had been uttered against them, and resolved that they would have nothing more to do with Mr. Chase, or any of his family, being fully persuaded that he was a two-faced man.
"I declare, I would prosecute Mr.
Chase for slander," uttered Mrs. Long, as she snapped her apron-strings, by way of emphasis.
"No—I want nothing more to do with him," returned the husband, in a decided tone, and in his heart he firmly resolved to adhere to his resolution.
A few days afterwards, John Cutler happened to be passing Chase's house during a shower, and he stepped in to escape the wet. Chase and his wife were sitting by the fire when he entered, and they at once made room for him.
"Long is a curious man," said Cutler, after he had told of some half-a-dozen items of news that had transpired at the village.
"Some things about him are curious," returned Chase; but he is a good neighbor and an excellent man."
"Ah, you don't know every thing," said
Cutler, in a mysterious manner.
"Don't know every thing? Why, what has happened now?"
"Why, Long told me the other day, that you wasn't any better than you ought to be, and that you had better pack up and move off."
"Long didn't say such a thing as that," said Chase, "he did, though; and what's more, his wife didn't keep her mouth shut neither."
"What did she say?" asked Mrs.
Chase.

INTERESTING SELECTIONS.
OLD-FASHIONED DOUGHNUTS. Make up a batch of dough at night precisely as for bread, only shorten it with about two ounces of clean fat to a pound of flour, and knead with milk and oil of water. Then having kneaded in as much active yeast as for ordinary bread, set by in a warm corner and leave to rise through the night.
After breakfast, put over the fire a kettle of lard, and while it is heating, the sponge being like a sponge—light, roll out about three-quarters of an inch thick; then cut into slips an inch or so wide. When the fat is hissing hot—so hot that the dough will absorb none of the grease, begin to fry and hurry it through, being careful to keep up the temperature of the fat to the cooking of the last doughnut. That's the good, old-fashioned way of making Yankee doughnuts. Nearly two-thirds of all the new, fashionable and expensive doughnuts called "crullers" are sweetened, instead, sticky, greasy, abominations—no more to be compared to an honest, raised, shortened, sensible, old-fashioned doughnut, than a choke cherry is to a rich, ripe damson.

YOUTH and the lark have their song for the morning, while age and the nightingale have theirs for the evening.

That was a shrewd girl, and not devoid of sense, either, who remarked, when other girls were making fun of her short skirts and pants, and affected to be much shocked at the exhibition thereof at a party: "If you'd only pull up your dresses about your necks, where they ought to be, they'd be as short as mine."
She was not troubled any more.

Few ladies are so modest as to refuse to sit in the lap of luxury.

Capital weather, Mr. Jones, capital weather. My wife's got such a cold she can't speak. I like such weather."

SIMPLE HEALING AGENT. The leaves of a geranium are an excellent application for cuts, where the skin is rubbed off, and other wounds of that kind. One or two leaves must be bruised, and applied to the part, and the wound will be cicatrized in a short time.

TRUTH. The study of truth is perpetually joined with the love of virtue; for there is no virtue which derives not its original from truth; as on the contrary, there is no vice which has not its beginning in a falsehood. Truth is the foundation of all knowledge, and the cement of all societies.

To make silk which has been wrinkled and "tumbled" appear exactly like new, sponge it on the surface with a weak solution of gum arabic or white glue and iron it on the wrong side.

Live to be useful. Live to give light.
Live to accomplish the end for which you were made, and quietly and steadily shut out, trying to do your duty. For those who are enabled through grace to shine as lights here, shall shine as suns and stars for ever and ever.

Miscellany.

THE TATTLER.

"She said that you—, But I don't know as I ought to tell of it though."
"Yes, yes—if she said anything about us, we should like to know it."
"Well, if I tell you, you won't say anything about it to them."
"No."
"Because, you see, I don't want to be the means of making a disturbance, between two neighbors. Well, Mrs. Long told me that your children would lie and steal!"
"Well, I do declare!" uttered Mrs.
Chase, dropping her knitting-work, and holding up her hands in indignant astonishment.
"If they said such things as that, then I have been very much deceived in them," said Mr. Chase.
"They did say so."
"Mrs. Long had better look at home,
I should think," rather tartly suggested the offended woman.
"My children did once take some of neighbor Long's fruit without leave, and I punished them for it, but I would not have believed that he could have spoken in that way," said Chase.
"And then to think that he should have spoken so of you, too," added his wife. "I declare, I'd never speak to him again as long as I lived. I'll never speak to Mrs. Long again."
"You mustn't blame me for telling you of it, now, said Cutler; for I thought you'd like to know it."
"I'm glad you did tell me," returned Mr.
Chase, "now I shall know how to treat the man who talks thus behind my back."
The shower at length passed over, and John Cutler took his departure. He had relieved himself of a load that had sat heavily on his mind, and he now felt quite contented. A thing with him under a load he could not bear.
Mr. Chase and his wife talked long and earnestly about the unjustness of their neighbor, and they felt grieved and unhappy. They had no doubt that all they had heard was true, and they allowed themselves to base their opinions and course of action upon it.
On the next Sabbath the two neighbors and their families met at church, but they met and passed each other without a word of greeting or recognition, only looking wrath and angry. The season of worship on that day was not enjoyed by them as was their wont. The words of the sacred text fell upon them without the usual soothing, healing power, for their hearts were rankling with passion and ill-feeling. They both endeavored to feel indifferent, and each thought to treat with contempt what he considered the meanness of the other, but it could not be so. They had been too long neighbors, and too close had been their friendship, to admit of their feeling otherwise than miserable and unhappy. They avoided each other, and the wives hung down their heads to hide their feelings.
The longer this state of things lasted the more unhappy the parties grew. All communication between the two families was cut off, and when either of the two farmers had occasion to pass the dwelling of the other, it was with quick, nervous steps, and without daring to look upon one side or the other. Mr. Long had a piece of land he wished to break up, and it seemed an odd thing for him to go about it without first consulting with his neighbor Chase.
Mr. Chase was in the same predicament. Before he proceeded with his fall work he wished to find out how his neighbor Long intended to do; but that was out of the question now, and so both the farmers suffered on.

"Betsey," said Mr. Long to his wife one evening, "I can't stand this any longer. I must see neighbor Chase and make up this difficulty with him, or else I must move out of the place. I can't live so."
"I am sure I don't want to live so any longer returned," Mrs. Long. "Here is Mrs. Chase, my next door neighbor, and I can't visit her nor speak with her. Lydia and I were always good friends, and I don't see why we mayn't be so again."
"I think we may. Some one has evidently told Mr. Chase what we said about him and his family, and of course it will have been Cutler. You know we spoke rather unguardedly."
"Yes, I know we did,—but then you know we had some occasion for it."
"Perhaps we did, my wife, and mayhap, after all Mr. Chase did not speak as John Cutler represented it. At any rate, we had no right to speak to such a man as Cutler concerning that little affair of Chase's boys taking our apples. But the thing must be settled up one way or the other."
"And how shall we do it?"
"I'll tell you, Betsey. Let's you and I put on our things and go over there. I saw Mr. Chase leaning over his fence this afternoon, and looking around in my field. He looked as unhappy as I felt, and I really believe he was thinking of the same matter that I was."
"I'm sure, husband, I'm willing to go with you."
"Then let's go at once."
It took Mrs. Long but a few moments to prepare, and the couple soon started off. It was but a few steps to the neighbor's house, and just as they reached the garden gate they saw Mr. Chase and his wife coming out of the door.
"They are going away somewhere," whispered Mrs. Long. "Let's go back."
"No, Betsey. We will speak to them, at all events. We may as well break the ice now as ever."
It had not yet grown so dark but that Mr. and Mrs. Chase could see who it was that approached, and they stopped beneath their piazza. Mr. Long's heart fluttered considerably as he entered the garden, but with a bold step he walked up to the house. It required all his power to calm his feelings, but he remembered the object he had in view, and he succeeded.
"Good evening, neighbor Chase," he said, in the same frank tone as of yore.
"Good evening, friend Long," returned Chase, in a tone equally as friendly.
"Betsey and I thought we would come up and have a little chat with you this evening; but if you are going out we will call at some other time."
"Going out—no, no, friend Long. Lydia and I were just coming down to see you and your wife. Come, walk in."
There was a moment of uneasy silence after the neighbors were seated in the sitting room, but it was soon broken by Mr. Long.
"Neighbor Chase," he said, "I am coming right to the point that is now nearest my heart. There has been a disagreeable falling out between us, and I tend to make every body think that he liked his "dose of salts," he called for another cup, and upon receiving it, said to the head snicker: "Young man, will you be kind enough to pass that bowl of salt?" The salt was passed, and amid the most breathless silence, he dipped a couple of spoonfuls into his tea, stirred it up, and tasted it with a look of apparent satisfaction.
"Why, Mr. —," said the young man opposite him, "do you drink salt in your tea?"
"Always," answered the plucky old man, with great emphasis, and in his pleasantest manner.

VALUE OF AMERICAN SILVER COIN.
At an auction sale in New York a short time since of the silver coins of the United States, of the quarter dollars, the one which brought the heaviest price was the quarter dollar of 1823, very rare, there having been not more than a score probably ever put into circulation. It sold for $47.50. Of the half dollars, the choice specimens were sold as follows: A dime of 1842, very fine, $25; 1843, very fine, $25; 1851, and from that time down for the next ten years, the dimes brought only 15 to 20 cents each. Of the half-dimes, that of 1794 brought $10, and others from that date to 1801 brought from $2.25 to $3.50 each. The half dime of 1802, which is said to be more rare than any other coin in the American silver series, there being but three specimens known, was bought for $45. Others sold for prices ranging from $3.75 to $1.25.
Large prices were paid for other coins, of which the largest was for the silver dollar of 1804, which was purchased for $7.50.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF PROVIDENCE.
A little error of the eye, a misguidance of the hand, a slip of the foot, a starting of a horse, a sudden mist, or a great shower, or a word undesignedly cast forth in an army, has turned the stream of victory from one side to another, and thereby disposed of empires and whole nations.
No prince ever returns safe out of a battle but may well remember how many blows and bullets have gone by him, that might easily have gone through him; and by what little, odd, unforeseen chances death has been turned aside, which seemed in a full, ready and direct career to have been posting to him. All which passages, if we do not acknowledge to have been guided to their respective ends and effects by the conduct of a superior and a Divine hand, we do, by the same assertion, cashier all providence, strip the Almighty of His noblest prerogative, and make God, not the governor, but the mere spectator of the world.—Dr. South.

POLITENESS.
It is a graceful habit for children to say to each other, "Will you have the goodness?" and "I thank you." We don't like to see prim, artificial children; there are few things we dislike so much as a miniature bear or belle. But the habit of good manners by no means implies affection or restraint. It is quite as easy to say,
"Please give me a piece of pie," as to say,
"I want a piece of pie." The idea that constant politeness would render social life stiff and restrained, springs from a false estimate of politeness. True politeness is perfect ease and freedom. It simply consists in treating others just as you would like to be treated yourself. A person who acts from this principle will always be said to have "sweet pretty ways with her." It is of some consequence that your daughter should know how to enter and leave a room gracefully, but it is of prodigiously more consequence that she should be in the habit of avoiding whatever is disgusting or offensive to others, and of always considering their pleasure as well as her own.

QUARRELS. Two things well considered would prevent many quarrels: first, to have it well ascertained whether we are not disputing about terms rather than things; and, secondly, to examine whether that on which we differ is worth contending about.

ADVICE TO GIRLS.

Men who are worth having, want women for wives. A bundle of gewgaws worn with a string of flats and quavers, sprinkled with cologne, and set in a carmine sauce—this is no help for a man who expects to raise a family on veritable bread and meat. The piano and lace frame are good in their place, and so are ribbons, frills and tucks; but you cannot make a dinner of the former, nor a bed blanket of the latter. And awful as the latter may seem to you, both dinner and bed blankets are essential to domestic happiness. Life has its realities as well as fancies; but you may make it a matter of decoration, remembering the tassels and curtains, but forgetting the bedstead.
Supposing a man of good sense, and of course, of good prospects, is looking for a wife—what chance have you of being chosen? You may catch him, or you may trap him, but how much better to make it an object for him to catch you. Render yourself an object worth catching, and you will need no shrewd mother or brother to help you find a market

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

WARRANTED
As good as any article of the kind in use.
JOHN H. VEAZIE.
Quincy, March 16.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1868.

"Born to no Master, of no Sect are We."

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

It will be seen by a notice on the next page, that the memorial, which the town voted, one year ago last March, to erect to the memory of the patriot soldiers of Quincy, who lost their lives either on the field, or by disease contracted in the army, has, at last been completed, and is ready for dedication. It was thought at the time the town voted to have the monument, that it would be ready for dedication by the first of September last, and at a cost not to exceed four thousand dollars. The time required it is very evident was too short, and as to price we are not prepared to state.

The time appointed by the Committee for the dedication, is on Thursday afternoon, the twenty-fifth instant. The fire companies, public schools, and other associations and citizens, are expected to form into a procession, which will be escorted through some of the principal streets by several bands of music, to the Mount Wollaston Cemetery, where there will be a short address; then the procession will move to the Stone Temple, where an oration will be delivered by John Q. Adams, Esq.

Gilmore's Band, of Boston of twenty-five pieces has been engaged for the occasion.

Col. Abner B. Packard has been selected as Chief Marshal of the day, and we learn has appointed the following staff:—Capt. Edward A. Spear, Major William G. Sheen, Capt. Chas. H. Porter, Assistant Paymaster Geo. W. Morton. Also the following as Assistant Marshals:—Capt. Franklin Curtis, Lieut. Jonas Shackley, Lieut. William H. H. Follett, Lieut. T. Harris Newcomb.

We would call the attention of our readers to the notices in this issue, in regard to the dedication.

SUMMER ARRANGEMENT. Out-enterprising neighbors at the Point have an eye to pleasure as well as convenience. Being removed from railroad facilities for communication with the city, they have opened one by steam, on the bosom of old ocean,—furnishing an unbroken view of the harbor, and its many objects of interest. On Thursday, the 4th instant the steamer Massasoit, under the command of that experienced officer, Captain C. Foster, commenced the arrangement for the season, of daily trips to and from Boston, touching each way at Long Island. This new mode of transit, embracing novelty, pleasure and comfort, now thrown open, through public spirit, for the benefit of the travelling public and excursion parties, we have no doubt will be appreciated and liberally patronized by the community. See advertisement.

BROKEN LEG. As two men were at work moving a large stone with iron bars, at Mr. Charles Mitchell's ledge, on Friday, of last week, one of the bars slipped, throwing the stone over in such a way as to catch the leg of Mr. Dennis Callahan, breaking it just above the ankle. He has been in the employ of Mr. Mitchell for several years, and was a hard working, industrious man, and has a family depending on him for support. This misfortune comes rather hard on him, as he was quite seriously injured last summer by a stone falling on his head. He was carried to the hospital in Boston.

HYGROMETRIC BAROMETER. This neat little instrument is designed to show the approaching alterations in the weather by marking the various changes of the atmosphere by a contrivance which seems to be very susceptible of atmospheric changes. It is said to possess many advantages over the mercurial barometer, is simple and compact, and sold at so low a price as to place it within the reach of every one. Directions for regulating it accompany the barometer, and a neat thermometer is attached to it. For particulars read advertisement.

SALES OF REAL ESTATE. Henry H. Faxon, Esq., has purchased about one acre of land adjoining the railroad, at the head of Granite street, belonging formerly to the Elisha Marsh estate, for the sum of one thousand dollars.

The estate of Alvin Vinal, Esq., on North street, which was sold at auction this week, was also purchased by Mr. Faxon, for $2,225.

NEW SECRETARY OF WAR. Gen. John M. Schofield, who was nominated by the President, Secretary of War, some weeks since, has been confirmed by the Senate. He arrived in Washington from Richmond on the 6th inst., received his commission, was qualified, and entered upon the duties of his office on the 8th.

STARCH. The counties of Grafton and Coos, N. H., now have at least forty Starch Mills, twenty mills to each county. Each of these mills turn out fifty tons of prime starch annually, worth $150 per ton. Five hundred thousand bushels of potatoes are annually manufactured into 2000 tons of starch, which is sold for the round sum of $300,000.

THE FLOUR TRADE. The Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce have adopted a rule to go into effect July 1, that flour barreled is unmerchantable unless it is head lined; if otherwise sold, the seller or owner must pay the lining.

DEATH. Under the appropriate head will be found the death of Mrs. Martin, better known in this town as Miss Thayer. She was for some time one of the teachers in the Centre District, and was dearly beloved by her associates and scholars.

For the Patriot.
GRANT CLUB.

Pursuant to a call from the Republican Town Committee, a very spirited meeting of those favoring the election of General Ulysses S. Grant and Hon. Schuyler Colfax to the Presidency and Vice Presidency, was held in the Lyceum Room on Wednesday evening last. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Charles Marsh, and Mr. H. B. Brown was appointed temporary Secretary. A Committee of five was then appointed to bring in a list of officers for the permanent organization of a "GRANT CLUB." The following list was reported and unanimously elected:

President. CHARLES A. HOWLAND.
Vice Presidents. Ebenezer Adams, Captain S. Crane, Henry Barker, William S. Morton, George H. Locke, Chas. H. Porter, J. W. Robertson, C. C. Whittemore, H. Farnum Smith, G. Harvey Field, E. G. Pratt, E. P. Nightingale.
Treasurer. James Baxter, Jr.
Secretary. H. B. Brown.

Executive Committee. George L. Gill, Whitecomb Porter, Charles Marsh, William Ditson, G. S. Coffin, Charles A. Foster, Noah A. Glover.

Messrs. Henry Barker and George L. Gill were then appointed a Committee to select the officers to the chair, which they did in their usual happy manner, and the President, in a few well-timed remarks, accepted the honor thus unexpectedly placed upon him.

Three cheers were then given with a will for the Chicago nominees, after which, eloquent and soul-stirring remarks were made by Messrs. C. A. Foster and E. E. Williamson, and having taken measures for a grand ratification meeting at no very distant day, the Club adjourned.

For the Patriot.
LETTER FROM CHELSEA.

JUNE 9, 1868.

Recalling a promise to give your readers a few notes from my present residence, this first leisure is employed to jot down a little in reference to this rural city. A hundred and thirty years ago, Winchelsea, as the Indians called it, or Romney Marsh, as the Colonists termed it, formed a part of Boston. The ferry, the most ancient in the country, was started in 1631, and for about two centuries managed by private individuals. A hundred years ago, there were but four hundred and sixty-two inhabitants, now there are between sixteen and eighteen thousand. Then the vast area, Powder Horn Hill, could be bought for a horn of powder, and now real estate is held at high prices. There are a dozen churches, thirty or more schools, and several literary and benevolent societies. Most of the business men spend the day in Boston, returning at evening by steam, car, ferry or horse cars. Some of the finest estates are on Mount Belknap and the adjacent heights. The great number of ministers who reside in this part of the town has given it the name of "Zion's Hill." The prospect enjoyed here is very extensive. I have just been noting from my window some of the objects,—beginning westward at the tower on Mount Auburn, sweeping the horizon over Charlestown and Boston, the Highlands, Mount Washington, Dorchester, Milton to Quincy, with the islands, forts, public institutions, Navy Yard, and other objects of interest in the nearer foreground. Such a prospect is a great relief to eyes long confined to close, brick walls. The recent floral tribute to our honored soldier dead, was observed here as elsewhere. It was my privilege, however, that day to wander through the beautiful Oak Hill Cemetery, Newburyport, and see the tasteful offerings there made. The site of this Cemetery is a fine one, and the monuments of an attractive style. Rev. Mr. Johnson, (for whose pulpit at Harris street your correspondent was engaged but for two or three Sabbaths only) returned last week in greatly improved health. The Rev. A. H. Plumb, of this city, is expected to be at home in a few days, after several months residence in New Orleans. Of matters at the Marine Hospital and other items of interest another letter may speak. E. P. T.

CORNELL'S GUARDIAN OF HEALTH. For June, has a very spicy article on corporal punishment in schools. The editor thinks the best way to cure those opposed to all such punishment, is to make teachers of them. The Temperance Tale, the Beggars Girl of Philadelphia, is continued; the father dies of apoplexy, caused by drunkenness. There is an article on Coffee, in which it is stated to aid digestion, when taken after a hearty dinner; but causes tremors, headache, dizziness, and other nervous diseases, when taken on an empty stomach, or with but little food at breakfast. "The aromatic oil, diffused in roasting coffee, is one of the best deodorizers we have, for while many things, used as such, only change the smell, roasting coffee destroys the poisonous gases." It is, therefore, much to be preferred to vinegar, chloride of lime, and all other deodorizers, to destroy noxious gases and prevent the spreading of any pestilence." In the chapter of Epilepsy, terror or fright is shown to have been a very common exciting cause of this terrible malady. "The Society for Preventing Cruelty to Animals," is advised to look after the poor horses compelled to drag twice as many passengers up Park street Hill, as ever ought to be in any car. If there is to come a day of retribution for beasts as John Wesley believed, woe to the directors of the Metropolitan Horse Railroad." There is a great amount of reading in this Monthly for one dollar a year.

We have had favorable knowledge of Dr. Cornell's practice, and cordially commend him as a good physician, to our readers. His office is at No. 4, Hayward Place, at 346 Washington street.—Boston Pilot.

Within the past two months two millions of bean poles have been sent to Boston from Maine.

For the Patriot.
VISIT TO MOUNT VERNON.

WASHINGTON, JUNE 2, 1868.

May 28, 1868, find us on the quiet and muddy Potomac, started for Mount Vernon. The associations of this river in the later history of our country, with the destination of our trip, proved a varied chapter of veneration for the memory of that man, who first inaugurated this Republic, and the sacrifices of our soldiers who redeemed it again to its present strength. As we leave the city of Washington, its Capitol seems to be at the head of the river, and with its extensive walls, is a sight of grandeur and of the nation's wealth. The scenery on both sides is a varied landscape of shaded, living green, with now and then a ridge of embankment thrown up during the war for defence.

Alexandria first comes under our observation, (after having passed the Arsenal grounds where Mrs. Surratt was hung, and the Insane Asylum) it has fine wharves, but a depression in business is visible; no activity, and an oblivious death seems fast approaching it. After sailing some distance, Fort Foote, on a high eminence, appears for some miles the trees in this region have been felled to afford better range for the cannon which are planted along its heights. An occasional widening of the river by a beautiful cove and fishermen testing Neptune's depths, gives us a nautical picture on its shores. Fort Washington, with its bold bluffs and grim fort, comes to view. Nature has in herself strong defensive bulwarks here, and we see at once the foresight of this location.

Soon we are in sight of Mount Vernon, and a tack of the boat, with a turn of our heads, presents a part of the house to our view in a dense foliage. The winding path through lofty trees leads to the tomb of Washington, which is very like the pictures so often seen in childhood; being built of brick, and through the iron gate two sarcophagi are seen,—one to the memory of George Washington, the other to his wife. Near the tomb, and on either side, are monuments enclosed by iron railings to different relatives of Washington's family.

Choosing a near path, we come to the house, which is built of wood, in blocks like stone,—with the old Virginia style in its broad piazza and lofty columns, which reach to the roof. The picture in the Rotunda of the Capitol, "Washington at Home," gives one a correct idea of the place and situation.

Time has wrought some changes upon the building, but nature has remained in the silent awe and tranquility, which enhances and absorbs our loftiest ideas in the view of the full dress of summer. The east and west parlors, with the dining room on the ground floor, are shown by the servant, also the room up stairs where Washington died; old and antiquated now, but rich in the historical and affectionate remembrance of the American people. We pass out through avenues of trees into the garden, which now appears in the full dress of summer, with its abundant flowers. The walks are hedged with high box, and thrifty shrubs were shown us, presented to Washington by Thomas Jefferson.

Mount Vernon comprises two hundred acres, and was bought by the Association of that name for $200,000. It is laid out in drives and walks, which gives us an idea of the aristocratic Southern life of former days wholly unknown in the North. A stroll brings us to a shady cluster of large drooping trees, where seats are arranged. Tradition claims this to have been a favorite retreat of Washington. Draughts of delicious milk were brought us to this place, and here we took our lunch. While time was stealing rapidly on us, our ears caught the summons from the boat, bidding us leave what for the day had been enjoyment with no bounding shore.

STRANGE PHENOMENON. The Salem Gazette states that workmen on the new building at Wenham Pond, report that on one day last week the edge of the pond was literally filled with fish of all kinds usually found in the pond, but that they would not take the hook. Numbers were taken by having a hook dropped under them and being suddenly jerked from the water. It was at the time the circle was observed around the sun. Is there any connection between the celestial and terrestrial phenomena.

PARALYSIS. "It is stated that a lady of Fauquier county, Virginia, was paralyzed a few days ago from excessive use of hair dye containing sugar of lead."

Paralysis has been so frequent of late, that we have wondered whether these hair dyes and hair washes were not often accountable for the mischief. Lead and nitrate of silver are the bases of nearly all of the compounds for restoring the color of the hair—the lead and silver, combined with sulphur, or even with the sulphur which is being continually evolved from the hair itself, producing a black dye. Lead, especially, is so subtle a poison, that a man may use it for years without any apparent ill effects, and suddenly find that he is injured for life. Better by far to leave the hair and beard to grow white, than incur the danger of impaired eyesight or hearing, or of a sudden stroke of paralysis.—Phila. Eve. Post.

DEMOREST'S YOUNG AMERICA. This publication improves with every number. It contains double the amount of reading matter which it did at first, and has a succession of the brilliant colored pictures and toy novelties which have done so much to establish its reputation. We recommend it to all who wish to supply their families with a good juvenile periodical. Subscription price, $1.50, with a premium knife or microscope, etc.

Publication office, 473 Broadway, N.Y.

A submarine diver is soon to attempt to remain under water in New York from sunrise until sunset on a wager of five hundred dollars.

BURGLARY AT SOUTH HINGHAM. The house of Alfred Loring, of South Hingham, near what is called Liberty Pole Hill, was entered by thieves on Friday night last. They took keys from a drawer, unlocked a secretary and took therefrom a check on the Suffolk Bank, drawn for $1000 by the cashier of the Hingham Bank; $169 in cash, a valuable article of cutlery and a large silver spoon lined with gold, with which they departed.

PROGRESS OF THE HOOSAC TUNNEL. For the three months ending May 31, 1868, the several sections of the Hoosac Tunnel have advanced 759 feet, or at the rate of 3036 feet per year.

At this rate of progress the tunnel will be opened in five years and six months, very nearly from this date; as but about two-thirds of the original length, or 16,800 feet remain to be perforated.

The amount thus far advanced by the State for the tunnel and fifty miles of railway is a little short of three million nine hundred thousand dollars.

Summary Intelligence

A little flatboat, containing a young man, his wife, a boy and a dog, arrived at Baton Rouge, La., a few days since, all the way from Venango, Pa. They were thirteen weeks on the way.

It is stated that it takes $50,000 worth of gold to gild the china ware made annually in England. The trades using standard gold buy it in clipped sovereigns at the mint.

Six thousand passengers arrived at San Francisco by steamer from New York during the month of May, the largest number ever known in the same time.

A cavern or grout has been discovered some twenty miles north of Ojawa, Canada. It is said to rival the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky.

The largest pew-lot in the country is paid by Stephen Salisbury of Worcester. He worships at the Unitarian church, where the taxes are levied on individual property, and in this way his preaching costs him $1300 a year.

In Chicago the number of males and females born is about equal. Of the 2809 born during the last six months of 1867, 1410 were males and 1399 females, a difference of only 11.

Only twenty years have elapsed since the first newspaper was issued in California, and there are now 214 published in that State.

A young fellow of one hundred and seventeen years is on a journey from Florence to Paris.

Two thousand dollars was paid for the floral decorations at a recent fashionable wedding in New York.

It is said that a young lady in New York has had thirty dresses made for the coming season. It cannot be said that she has "nothing to wear."

Eleven persons were relieved of their pocket-books and money on board one of the crowded Sound steamers last week.

Mr. Colfax is the only person born and bred in New York ever nominated on a presidential ticket.

A man in Norwich was so astonished at gaining a suit in court unexpectedly, that he paid the fine, costs and fees of his opponent's lawyer.

There are seventeen acres of flooring in the Pacific mills in Lawrence, which is claimed to be more than in any other building in the world.

Nine hundred and ninety-eight persons are going through bankruptcy in this State. Helmbold of Buchu fame, returns $22,000 income.

Fifty petitions for divorce have been entered at the present term of Court for Hillsborough county, N. H.

Ice is made by steam in New Orleans. There are thirty-three persons living in Abington who were born in that town during the last century.

It is estimated that there will be 1500 acres of ground planted to sweet corn, in Maine, this season, to supply the packers.

Lands are cheap in South Carolina. A farm containing 380 acres, with a mill on it, was recently sold in Rockingham county for $330. Another farm was sold for $1 per acre.

Besides twenty million bushels of wheat California will raise twelve and a half million bushels of barley and oats this year, but does not know where the ships to bring it to market are coming from.

The trial of Jefferson Davis has been postponed "to October," by agreement of counsel.

A Family Remedy. No family should be without some efficacious remedy for the cure of affections, so universally prevalent, as coughs, colds, sore throat, whooping-cough, and croup—some remedy, too, which can be relied upon as safe, sure and certain. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry combines this desideratum.

BALDNESS, GRAYNESS, AND OTHER IMPERFECTIONS OF THE HAIR will be regarded as inexcusable after a trial of Mrs. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED (new style) HAIR RESTORER OR DRESSING, (in one bottle.) Every Druggist sells it. Price one dollar. June 6—4w

The North Bridgewater Gazette says there are a few old people living on the line of the new Hanover Branch Railroad, who never laid eyes on a locomotive and cars until they saw them on this road.

Wanted.

CROCHETERS and Knitters for Infants Sacks and Shirts.
Inquire of Miss AGLER, at Mrs. KEMP'S, Quincy, June 13.

Excursions Daily to LONG ISLAND
AND QUINCY POINT.

Steamer Massasoit,
CAPT. C. FOSTER.
On and after THURSDAY, June 4, '68,
UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.

Leaves Quincy's Wharf, Boston, for Quincy Point, (Sundays excepted), at 6 o'clock A. M.
Leaves Quincy Point for Long Island and Boston at 7:30 A. M.; leaving Long Island at 8:15 A. M., arriving at Boston at 8:45 P. M.; leaving Long Island at 9:30; leaving Long Island for Boston at 11:30 A. M.
Leaves Boston for Long Island at 2:30 P. M.; returning leaves Long Island at 3 P. M.; arriving at Boston at 3:30 P. M.
Leaves Boston for Long Island and Quincy Point at 4:30 P. M.; arriving at Quincy Point, at 5:30 P. M.; leaves Quincy Point for Long Island and Boston at 5:35 P. M., and arrives at Long Island at 6:15, and Boston at 6:45 P. M.
Fare from Boston to Quincy Point, 25c.
Fare from Boston to Long Island, 20c.
From Long Island to Quincy Point, 20c.

SUNDAYS.

Leaves Boston for Long Island and Quincy Point, at 10:30 A. M., and 2:30 P. M.
Leaves Long Island for Quincy Point, at 11:15 A. M., and 4 P. M.
Leaves Quincy Point for Long Island and Boston, at 12, M., and 4:45, P. M.
Leaves Long Island for Boston, at 12:45, and 5:30, P. M.
Fare from Boston to Long Island, 25c.
From Quincy Point to Long Island, 25c.

EVENING EXCURSIONS!

On and after June 20, until further notice, the above steamer will make an extra trip down the Harbor, (stopping at Long Island,) every evening, (Sundays and Sundays excepted,) leaving Quincy's Wharf, Boston, at 7:30; returning at 9:30 P. M.

Season of Package Tickets sold at a discount. Parties desiring to engage the boat for Excursions, can apply to T. J. DUNBAR, No. 70 Broad Street, or to the Captain on board the boat.

N. B.—The proprietors of Long Island and Quincy Point have recently made extensive preparations for the accommodation of PIC-NIC PARTIES.

GROCERIES.

HAVING leased the Store formerly occupied by G. E. WILSON—I now offer the citizens of Quincy,

First Class Groceries,

CHEAP FOR CASH.

Goods delivered.

H. W. GRAY.

Quincy, June 13.

NOTICE

is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed Assignee of the Estate of

THOMAS SAUNDERS,

of Quincy, Mass., a Bankrupt on his own petition

ALONZO V. LYNDEN.

Boston, June 9, 1868.

Commissioner's Notice.

NORFOLK, ss.

At a Meeting of the County Commissioners, held at Doham, on Friday, June 5th, 1868, it was ordered, that notice be published in the several newspapers, in said County, that the Commissioners will meet at Doham at their office, in the Court House, on THURSDAY, the sixteenth day of June instant, at ten o'clock, A. M. to assign a time and place to hear parties in all cases of application for a license to sell or otherwise dispose of the contents of a still, or previously still have been received for License, under the recent act of the Legislature, entitled "an act to regulate the Sale of Intoxicating Liquors;" and the act passed in addition thereto. Applications for Licenses should be accompanied by a petition or recommendation of the Selectmen of the Town in which the applicants reside, or of other well known persons certifying to the "personal fitness" of the applicant "to exercise the license in question" and that the "public convenience requires that the License be granted."

M. M. FISHER, } County Commissioners.
DAVID H. BATES, }
J. M. CHURCHILL, }
A true copy.
Attest, ERASTUS WORTHINGTON, Clerk.
June 13.

Executrix's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executrix of the last will of

HORATIO G. DEARBORN,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, Blacksmith deceased, has taken upon herself that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the Estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

ELIZABETH DEARBORN, Executrix.

Quincy, June 10, 1868. June 13—3w

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator, of the estate of

CHARLES A. SPEAR,

late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to CHARLES H. SPEAR, Administrator.

Quincy, June 8, 1868.

NEW

Wheelwright Shop.

THE Subscriber having taken the new Shop, NEXT TO J. A. WILD'S Blacksmith Shop, in the "Hollow,"

is now prepared to execute all orders in the Wheelwright line.

Particular attention paid to repairing all kinds of Carriages, with neatness and dispatch. Blocks made to order.

The Subscriber hopes by his long experience and strict attention to the interest of his customers, to merit a portion of your patronage.

Quincy, May 29. DANIEL MCCURDY.

JOHN HARDWICK,

Real Estate and Insurance Agent,

Granite Street, Quincy.

May 4. 1y

Dr. Chas. Alex. Guilmette,
U. S. HOTEL, BOSTON.
Public and Private Lecturer on Physiology Pathology and Hygiene, as pertaining to the Vocal, Respiratory and Reproductive System.

Membre Honoraire de l'Academie de Medecine a Paris—Chevalier de l'Ordre de la Rose—Active Member of the Imperial Academy of Medicine, Rio—former Physician en chef for five years to the South American Opera Company—author of "Guilmette's Diaphonia Clericorum," Guilmette on Vocal Physiology and Respiration," etc., etc., etc.

New York References.
Prof. DOBEMUS M. D. Prof. CARNOCHAN M. D. Prof. FORDYCE BAKER, M. D. The Members of the New York Protestant Episcopal Theological Seminary. The Members of the New York Union Theological Seminary.

Boston References.
Prof. JOEL PARKER, Hon. G. S. HILLARD. Prof. THEOPH. PARSONS, Col. A. C. BRIDGEMAN. Foreign References.
O. SIG. D. PAULI, CAPELLO, Rio. Medico de SS. MM. H. Brazil.
Dr. GAULTY, London.

—AUBER—
Le Directeur du Conservatoire Imperial de Musique et de Declamation, Paris.

Nearly Twenty Years of Successful Practice in the United States, Europe, West Indies, and Empire of the Brazils, resulting in many remarkable Cures by his original System of Treatment enabled Dr. G. to promise the speedy relief of several Diseases of the Organs of the Throat, the Chest, and other most important ORGANS of the human system, heretofore considered incurable.

ICE CREAM.
The best quality of Ice Cream is furnished to Families, Parties, Balls, Etc., at Low Rates, by the Boston Ice Cream Co.,
No. 9 Spring Lane, BOSTON.

Cream delivered to the City by Rail, can order by mail, and Cream will be delivered to Expresses, properly packed for shipment.

WANTED!
IMMEDIATELY—Several Good Coat and Pant Makers.
Apply to
JOSEPH W. LOMBARD.
Quincy, June 6.

MILLINERY, DRESS MAKING

Machine Stitching.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has taken a Room

At the House of J. S. PAINE,
On Quincy Avenue, a few doors South of the Episcopal Church, where she is prepared to make Ladies and Children's Hats, and Trimmings. Machine Stitching done to order. She feels confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.

Miss D. F. JENKINS.
Quincy, June 6.

Proposals for a Tomb.

PROPOSALS will be received by the undersigned, until 2 P. M. Saturday, June 20th for the construction of a Tomb in the Mt. Wollaston Cemetery, for Plan and Specifications. Apply to E. W. Underwood at the Cemetery.

EDMUND B. TAYLOR, Selectman
E. W. UNDERWOOD, Jr., Quincy.
JACOB F. EATON, Quincy.
Quincy, June 6.

For Sale!

ONE Omnibus, one set of Double Harnesses, one Express Wagon, one set of Double Harnesses, one set of Sled Traps, one Box Sled, one Sleigh, one Feed Box, about a 100 feet of Rubber Hose and many other articles, which can be examined at the late residence of C. W. Perry on South Street.

For full particulars apply to

JOSEPH W. LOMBARD.

Quincy, June 6.

Parties Accommodated,

Poetry.

MAKING THE GARDEN.

Now begins
The household's happiest season of the year.
The ground, already broken by the spade—
The beds made level by the passing rake—
The Almanac consulted, and the signs Conspiring favor, forth with apron full
Of choicest seeds, the best the last year gave,
She sallies to the garden, where all day,
Breathing the pleasant odor of the mold,
She bends and plants, while to her eye do hope
Here springs the early pea, and there the bean.
The lettuce and the radish, and what else
Her culinary preferences require.
But chief of all, with careful hands, she sets
The slips, the bulbs, and plants, which round each bed
Shall make a bright embroidery of flowers.

Farmers' Department.

HAY MAKING.

There is annually so much good grass mercilessly slaughtered in making it into hay, that it becomes the duty of every publisher, editor and agricultural writer in the land, happening to have a better practical knowledge of hay making, to begin with the hay season, preaching as cheerfully as they can at every opportunity, better principles, until a radical reform in much of our hay making practice shall have been achieved.

As clover usually comes first in the routine of haying, and the season for putting mowers afield is close at hand, let us hear in mind that the best standing condition of clover is when the plant itself is fully developed and the heads in full, but early bloom, before any considerable proportion of them have assumed the slightest tinge of brown. Then instead of being roasted, broiled and baked in the scorching sun until it is as black as Japan tea, as is too frequently the case with clover hay, the best plan is to cut after the dew is off in the morning, cure, spread or in the sun, as much as can be done in five or six hours of clear, drying weather, then, twenty-four hours more in small cocks, sheltering from dew and rain, and haul in and put away with the leaves still green, wilted but not in the least crisped or blackened by the sun.

The other grasses are best cut when the stalks and foliage have attained full growth and the seeds are entirely developed, but still in a milky state. Like clover, they should be cut after a few hours' sun curing, finished off in the cock, cured but not in the least crisped, and hailed in while still green in color, elastic and possessed of all the inviting aroma of "new mown hay." If the foundation of hay and stacks are made well up clear of the ground, affording full and free ventilation underneath, and then in stacking or stowing away a layer of clean, dry straw, say six inches in depth, is placed every two feet between the courses of hay, there will be no danger of clover or any other kind of grass heating, moulding or rotting, though put away a great deal greater than is the general practice, and infinitely better hay will be the result—Cosmo, in Saturday Evening Post.

To Transplant Cabbages in dry Weather.

Cabbages, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, and other similar plants can be safely transplanted in the hottest weather, by the following plan. Take with you a pail of water, scoop out a hole for each plant large enough to hold a pint, and fill nearly full of water. As it soaks away set your plant in it, drawing in the earth and covering the surface with dry dirt. Shade if you please, as they will do better, but will do well without. This plan is much the best, as they do not require watering, and the earth does not bake on the surface, as it will when watered after setting.

ROSES, as soon as the flowers have opened and bloomed one day, should have the decaying flower cut away; cutting back to a good strong bud, from which will come a new stem and flowers. Attention to this practice of cutting will keep plants blooming almost continuously.

SCRATCHES IN HORSES. For scratches in horses take white pine pitch, rosin, beeswax and honey, one ounce each; fresh lard, one-half pound; melt well together over a slow fire, stir till quite thick, so that the parts may not settle and separate.
This also makes an application for harness galls, cuts and sores of all kinds, on horses and cattle.

Incidents.

An intolerable old lady residing in the vicinity of Cape Cod, desiring to dispose of her cottage, posted upon a placard bearing the words "For Sale." A wag seemed to be passing one day as the dame stood in the door, and thinking to get a laugh upon her, he quizzically asked her "Mrs. H—, when will this house sell?"

"As soon as somebody comes along that can raise the wind," was the prompt reply.

Mr. Soub perceived that the milk he was pouring into his coffee-cup was none of the richest; he said to his hostess:
"Haven't you any milk that is more cheerful than this?"

"What do you mean by that?"

"Why, this milk seems overpowered by the blues."

An Irishman being asked at a dinner table whether he would take some apple pie?

"Is it houlsome?" he asked, looking at it.

"To be sure it is; why do you ask?"

"Because I once had an uncle that was killed with apple plexy; and sure I thought it something of the same sort of dish."

New Advertisements.

Persons thinking of Advertising to any extent will do well, before making contracts, to apply to

Geo. P. Rowell & Co.
for an estimate. They have facilities for securing the insertion of Advertisements in all the newspapers and periodicals at low rates. Address them at

40 PARK ROW, N.Y.
Send stamp for circular. Complete lists of newspapers published in any State sent for 25 cts.

GRANT & COLFAX.
AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE
Official HISTORY OF THE WAR
Its Causes, Character, Conduct & Results.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
This ready sale, combined with an increased demand,
makes it a most desirable investment. One agent in
each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.
One agent in each State, for a term of years, is offered for sale.

"THE GREAT PIN-WORM REMEDY." THORNTON'S Pin-Worm Remedy, is a safe and reliable remedy for the system by the use of Dr. Gould's Pin-Worm Syrup, without injury to the health of the most delicate child or adult. Purely vegetable. Warranted to cure. GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Boston, Mass., and all druggists. Price 75 cents.
For sale by Mus. E. HAYDEN.

"There's Nothing New under the Sun,"
Almost questioned when we see
LORING'S PATENT
IRON WATERSTOP
THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.
BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
SCHOOL STREET,
Quincy, Jan. 11.

Dr. Warren's Bilious Bitters.
THE BLOOD Purifier
AND Regulator.

Is confidently recommended to the Public as a Cure for Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Biliousness, Dyspepsia,
Constipation, Piles, Colic and Fevers, Headache, Nervousness, Eruptions on the Skin, Rheumatism, Blood, Loss of Appetite, Weakness, Debility, and all complaints caused by impure Blood, imperfect or obstructed Circulation, or a Deranged and Diseased Condition of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels.

INVALIDS DON'T GIVE UP IN DESPAIR.
Without trying Dr. Warren's Bilious Bitters. The very first dose will convince you that you have at last found
the right Medicine. Price 50 Cts. and $1.
JOHN A. PERRY, Chemist, Boston, PROPRIETOR.

M. S. BURR & CO.,
26 TREMONT STREET, BOSTON.
For Sale by all Dealers of Medicines—40
April 11.

GRAND MEDICAL OFFICE,
FOR THE Speedy & Permanent Cure
OF ALL
CHRONIC DISEASES.

DR. C. A. HILL,
Office No. 180 Court Street, Boston, Mass.
Does strictly office business, and gives special attention to all diseases of the Sexual System, by his own improved method of treatment. He will guarantee a perfect and speedy cure in all cases of Gonorrhea, Stricture, or other diseases which may come under his care, no matter how long standing. He also treats all cases of Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Humors, Dyspepsia, Cancers, Tumors, Piles, Paralysis, Dropsy, and all diseases of the Internal Organs.

TO FEMALES. Dr. Hill has made the subject of all diseases peculiar to the Female Sex his particular study, and a successful practice he will continue to give special attention, and from his past success he feels confident in warranting effectual cures in the most difficult cases.

Send a card and receive by mail a copy of my book, entitled "Everybody's Friend." 50 Cent. Box, Boston, Mass.

THE LAST CRYING SUCCESS.
MR. S. A. ALLEN'S IMPROVED
HAIR RESTORER
FAVORITE
HAIR DRESSING
New Style in one Bottle

will quickly restore Gray Hair to its natural color and beauty, and produce luxuriant growth. It is perfectly harmless, and is preferred over every other preparation by those who have a fine head of hair,
as well as those who wish to restore
it. The beautiful gloss and perfume imparted to the Hair make it desirable
for old and young.

For Sale at all Druggists.
DEPT. 198 GREENWICH ST., N. Y.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR
For Sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN, Quincy.

SMOLANDER'S EXT. BUCHU
CURES
ALL KIDNEY DISEASES
AND RHEUMATIC DIFFICULTIES
Price $1. Sold everywhere.
J. A. BULLIGH, Wholesale Dealer, Boston,
General Agent. June 16-3m

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH Renewed by
Dr. Fuller's Ext. of Buchu.
A SAFE,
CERTAIN,
AND Speedy Cure
FOR NEURALGIA, AND ALL NERVOUS DISEASES.
Its Effects are Magical.

It is an UNFAILING REMEDY in all cases of Neuralgia Facialis, often effecting a perfect cure in less than twenty four hours, from the use of no more than two or three PILLS.
No other form of Neuralgia or Nervous Disease has failed to yield to this.

WONDERFUL REMEDIAL AGENT.
In the several cases of Chronic Neuralgia and general nervous derangements, of many years standing, affecting the entire system, its use for a few days, or a few weeks at the utmost, always affords the most satisfying relief, and very rarely fails to produce a complete and permanent cure.

It contains no drugs or other materials in the slightest degree injurious, even to the most delicate system, and can ALWAYS be used with PERFECT SAFETY.

It has long been in constant use by many of our MOST EMINENT PHYSICIANS, who give it their unanimous and unqualified approval.
Sent by mail on receipt of price and postage.

One package, $1.00, Postage 6 cents.
Six packages, $5.00, " 27 "
Twelve packages, $9.00, " 45 "

It is sold by all wholesale and retail dealers in drugs and medicines throughout the United States, and by TURNER & CO., Sole Proprietors.
187 Tremont Street, BOSTON, MASS.
April 25.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEALTH
Dr. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7
Edinboro Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system, and other Menstrual Derangements, are all treated on new pathological principles, and speedily relieved guaranteed in a very few days. So invariably cured in this new method of treatment, that most obstinate cases yield under it, and the affected person soon enjoys in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, has acknowledged no superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Boston, Sept. 1, 1867.

E. A. HILL, Proprietor,
No. 7 Union Street, Boston.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

ALE! ALE!
THE Subscriber takes this method to inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he will supply those who wish, with a good article of Stock or XX Ale, manufactured by H. Southern at short notice.
F. SOUTHERN,
Quincy, Dec. 31.

Granular Fuel.
R. L. LEE,
WOULD respectfully inform the people of Quincy and Dorchester, that he is now prepared to furnish them with Granular Fuel.
Also, with Wood Sawed right for the Stove.
ORDER SLATES at the Post Office, E.
Clapp's Store and at Wilson's Market.
Quincy, July 8.

Worsted Goods at Cost
AT McLELLAN'S
A Good Assortment
Kept constantly on hand

YOU will constantly find at the Citizen's Market all kinds of Meats of the best quality,
at the Lowest Cash Prices.
Also, all kinds of Fresh and Smoked Fish,
Turnips, Beets, Squashes, Beans of all kinds;
Eastern and Sweet Potatoes, Cucumbers, Picnics, Sweet Apples for preserves; Peas, Peaches, Nuts, Citron, Jams, Bottle Pickles of all kinds; Lemonade, Etc., &c.

Also, the very best of White Wine Vinegar.
All orders promptly attended to.

S. T. ALLEN.
Quincy, April 25.

Boots and Shoes,
VERY CHEAP.
Now offered, by C. T. REED'S.
Quincy, Feb. 2.

BLACKSMITHING.
Horse-Shoeing, Farrier,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

THE Subscriber takes this method to inform his friends and the public, that he has moved to the Old Stand, on the Saville Estate,
ON HANCOCK STREET.

Where he intends carrying on the business, in all its various branches. Particular attention paid to Horses—those that Over-act, Interfere, Quarter Crack, Speed Cut, and in fact, all the diseases of the feet. By his long experience in this branch of the business, he is confident of being able to give entire satisfaction, and therefore respectfully solicits a share of the public patronage.

HORACE S. FELTIS.
Quincy, Mar. 28.

ons Daily to ISLAND

AND CY POINT.

Massasoit,
C. POSTER,
HURSDAY, June 4, '68.

Further Notice,
Burlington, for Quincy Point, at 6 o'clock A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 8:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 8:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 9:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 10:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 10:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 11:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 12:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 12:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 1:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 2:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 2:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 3:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 4:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 4:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 5:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 6:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 6:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 7:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 8:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 8:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 9:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 10:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 10:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 11:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 12:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 12:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 1:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 2:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 2:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 3:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 4:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 4:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 5:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 6:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 6:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 7:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 8:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 8:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 9:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 10:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 10:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 11:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 12:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 12:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 1:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 2:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 2:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 3:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 4:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 4:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 5:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 6:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 6:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 7:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 8:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 8:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 9:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 10:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 10:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 11:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 12:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 12:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 1:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 2:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 2:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 3:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 4:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 4:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 5:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 6:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 6:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 7:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 8:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 8:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 9:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 10:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 10:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 11:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 12:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 12:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 1:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 2:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 2:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 3:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 4:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 4:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 5:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 6:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 6:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 7:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 8:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 8:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 9:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 10:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 10:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 11:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 12:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 12:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 1:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 2:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 2:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 3:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 4:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 4:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 5:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 6:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 6:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 7:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 8:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 8:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 9:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 10:15
A. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 10:45 A. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 11:15 A. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 12:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 12:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 1:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 2:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 2:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 3:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 4:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 4:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 5:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 6:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 6:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 7:15 P. M.

Long Island and Quincy
Point for Quincy Point, at 8:15
P. M.; leaving for Quincy Point,
at 8:45 P. M.; leaving for Quincy
Point, at 9:15 P. M.

VALUABLE INVENTION. A Mr. Kerr, of Edinburgh, has invented a reflector for a locomotive, by the means of which the engineer is able to see the rear of his train, the conductor and all who are either getting on or off, without moving from his seat. It can be arranged for any length of train by simply changing the angle of reflection. It has been tried and pronounced to be a success in every respect.

The ship building business in Maine is improving. There are six vessels in process of being built in Wadoboro'.

Special Notices.

GRANT CLUB. The Grant Club of Quincy, are hereby notified that there will be a meeting of the Club at the Lyceum Room, FRIDAY, EVENING, June 26th, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is earnestly requested. All persons desiring of joining the Club are cordially invited to be present on that evening.

H. B. BROWN,
Sec. G. & C. Club.
Quincy, June 20, 1w

SPIRITUAL ASSOCIATION.
ROGERS' CHAPEL, QUINCY.
Mrs. E. A. Newcomb, will speak tomorrow, at 2-3 o'clock, P. M.

Quincy, June 20, 1w

A CARD.
The Subscriber takes this method to return to those of his fellow-citizens, the Fire Department in particular, his sincere thanks, who so nobly came up to his aid in the hour of need. But for their timely assistance, the fire, on Sunday evening last, would have destroyed much of his property, and turned his family homeless into the street. Their generous acts will always be held in grateful remembrance.

JOHN RIXO,
Quincy, June 20, 1w

A CARD.
The undersigned respectfully give notice that the Soldiers' Monument, in Quincy, having been completed, will be publicly dedicated, on the 25th day of June inst.

A cordial invitation is extended to the citizens of Quincy, and to all persons to unite in the consecration of the Monument to the honor of the noble dead, whose names its inscription bears.

The Municipal Officers, and the various Associations of the Town of Quincy, with the Teachers and Children of the Public Schools, are expected to join in the procession.

The Officers and Soldiers of Quincy, of the Federal Army, engaged in the late civil war, are invited to participate in the ceremonies of the day.

WM. B. DUGGAN,
DANIEL BAXTER,
ISRAEL W. MUNRO,
W. ABERCROMBIE,
W. M. FRENCH,
Quincy, June 13, 2w

Committee of the Soldiers' Monument, of Quincy.

Freeman Baker,
26 Winter street,
BOSTON.

Is daily receiving New Goods.

MOTTO, "Quick Sales, Small Profits."

Dress and Cloak Trimmings,
HOSIERY, GLOVES,
SKIRTS, CORSETS,
and Small Wares.

FRENCH CORSETS, $3 to $4, worth $5.
GERMAN CORSETS, $1, former price $1.25.
HOOP SKIRTS, 25 to 30 cents under price.
LINEN BODIES, from 10 cents up to $15.

SPLENDID BARGAINS,
- IN -

EMBROIDERIES,
To close a job lot.

LACES, Of different kinds, Cheap.

All our $2 Kids marked down to $1.75.

ANOTHER CASE OF -

JOSEPH'S KIDS
Just received - Spring Colors - $1.60 a pair.
Best Kid ever sold for the money.

Parasols, Rich Fans, Buttons, Braids,
Nets, &c., &c., CHEAP.

LARGE VARIETY
LADIES' TRAVELLING BAGS,
Less than any other store in Boston.

Ladies, call and examine the goods.

Freeman Baker,
26 WINTER STREET,
Boston, May 30, 1m sp

Going! Going!

My Stock of Goods at very low prices.

W. ABERCROMBIE.
Quincy, March 21, 2w

Marrriages.

In this town, on the 14th inst., by the Rev. Herman Bissbee, Mr. Elijah S.
Brown to Miss Clara S. Newcomb.

On the 16th inst., by the Rev. Herman Bissbee, Mr. Israel Beech to Miss Jennie Cook.

In Milton, on the 11th inst., by the Rev. A. K. Steele, Mr. Edward J. Edson, of this town, to Miss Lucy A. Seward, of Milton.

In South Weymouth, on the 11th inst.,
by the Rev. Elmer Hewitt, Mr. M. C. C.
Chubbuck, to Mrs. Frances R. Thayer, of Quincy.

Deaths.

In this town, on the 17th inst., Capt.
John W. Shaw, aged 53 years and 4 mos.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Restore Your Sight.

SPECTACLES AND SURGICAL OPERATIONS REN-DERED USELESS! THE INESTIMABLE BLESS-ING OF SIGHT IS MADE PERPETUAL BY THE
USE OF THE NEW PATENT IMPROVED IVORY
EYE CUPS.

Many of our most eminent Physicians, Oculists, Students and Divines have had their sight restored and permanently cured of -

1. Incurable Vision.
2. Presbyopia, or Far Sightlessness.
3. Asthenopia, or Weak Eyes.
4. Epiphora - Running or Watery Eyes.
5. Weakness of the Retina, or Optic Nerve.
6. Photia, or Falling of the Eye Lids.
7. Ophthalmia, or Inflammation of the Eye and its appendages.
8. Photophobia, or Intolerance of Light.
9. Strabismus, or Squint of the Eye.
10. Myopia, or Nearsightedness, and the Worst Disorders of the Eye.

ANY ONE who has tried the Ivory Cup as a pleasant and beneficial remedy, and never wears spectacles, or if, using them, to lay them aside forever.

Over 5000 certificates of cures where a cure was previously guaranteed, may be seen at our office.

We guarantee a cure in every case where the directions are followed, and the patient is not a case of STASIS, or
For sale by Druggists and Oculists.

To receive our TREATISE ON THE EYE 48 Pages, by return mail, free, send your full address to Dr. J. HALL & CO.,
No. 507 P. O. Box, New York, N. Y.

For the worst cases of MYOPIA, or NEAR-SIGHT-EDNESS, use our PATENT STASIS, or STASIS, or STASIS, or STASIS, or STASIS, or STASIS, or STASIS, easily applied and applied to the Eye Cup.

Send for a Pamphlet, Oct. 20, 17.

TRAVELING AGENTS WANTED
Good Commission Paid.

SELLING of the Ivory Cup as a pleasant and beneficial remedy, and never wears spectacles, or if, using them, to lay them aside forever.

On sale at all seasons of the year. SHUTE &
SON, Importers and Manufacturers, 175 Washington street, Boston. April 25, - 2m

NOTICE. Bills against the Fire Department will not be approved by the Engineers, or paid by the Selectmen, unless ordered by the Engineers.

WASHINGTON M. FRENCH,
Chief Engineer.
Quincy, June 8, 1w

A PERMANENT TONIC.
Every one at times feels the necessity of something to tone up the system depressed by mental or bodily exhaustion. At such times let every one, instead of taking alcoholic or stimulant stimulants, resolutely take the debilitated system by the natural tonic elements of the

PERUVIAN SYRUP, or Protected Solution of the Protocarbonate of Iron, with Lemon Juice, and it will supply it with its vital elements, tonic.

Being free from Alcohol in any form, its ABSORBING EFFECTS are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an IRON CONSTITUTION.

Wm. C. Sterling, Esq., of Poughkeepsie,
N. Y. says:

"Since taking the Peruvian Syrup I feel better, my food is improved, my bowels regular, my appetite first rate."

There is an old Physician in this city, (older than I am) who has been in the drug business for 40 years, who has used the Syrup for three months, and gives it as his decided opinion that it is the best Alternative Tonic Medicine he ever knew.

For DISPEPSIA, DIBETIS, and PAINFUL WEAKNESS, the Peruvian Syrup is a specific. A 22 page pamphlet sent free. The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass.

J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor.
No. 36 Dey St., New York.

Sold by all Druggists.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE.
We are constantly receiving reports from those who have tried this remedy. Any lady, wife of Mark Anthony of this city, and living at No. 6 Locust Street, afflicted with a skin disease, was recently induced to make a trial of the Salve. Almost instantly she experienced relief from the pain, which had been almost unbearable. Every other remedy had been tried without availing. Those who have tried it once are satisfied of its merits, and nothing will induce them to be without a supply. - Fall River News.

FOUR OIL CLOVES - Dealers supplied at reduced prices.
Having purchased the stock of a bankrupt manufacturer,
we offer the same to dealers in lots to suit, at much less than manufacturers' prices. This stock of Oil Cloves comprises over 1000 rolls of assorted widths, are excellent and modern styles. Also, a few sheets, 12, 18 and 24 feet wide. Our retail customers will be supplied at the wholesale prices. NEW ENGLAND CARPET CO., 75
Haver Street, Boston.

TAKERS AND DEALERS CARPETS. Don't pay the High Prices. We are constantly receiving from the authoritative sales in New York, supplies of English Tapestries and Brussels. NEW ENGLAND CARPET CO., 75
Haver Street, Boston.

CARPETS FOR THE MILLION at half value - 50 cents per yard. The only Carpet for so low price, that is made of good style and permanent colors. These Carpets cost nearly a dollar per yard to produce them. The manufacturers having stopped the production, we have bought the entire product on hand - 4000 rolls, and our customers will be supplied at 50 cents per yard. NEW ENGLAND
CARPET CO., 75 Haver Street, Boston.

CARPETS AT REDUCED PRICES. Tapestries, Brussels,
S-Pays, Waterproofs, These Oil Cloves, Cotton Tapestries, test tested by the NEW ENGLAND CARPET CO., 75
Haver Street, Boston, April 11, 2m.

Real Loteria
De la Isla de Cuba.

IN THE DRAWINGS FOR 1868, there will be 20,000 Tickets.

$300,000 in Gold Drawn Every Seventeen Days.

Prices cashed and information given; also highest rates paid for Spanish Louisiana and all kinds of gold and silver, by GEORGE W. UPLAND, July 6 - 1y 60 North Main St. Providence, R. I.

Important to Females.

THE Celebrated Dr. DOW continues to devote his entire time to the treatment of all diseases incident to the female system. An experience of twenty-three years enables him to guarantee speedily and permanent relief in the worst cases of Suppression and all other Menstrual Derangements, from whatever cause. All letters for advice must contain $1.
Office, No. 9 Egleston Street, Boston.

N. B. - Board furnished to those who wish to remain under treatment.

Boston, August 10, 1y

ITCH! ITCH!! ITCH!!!
SCRATCH! SCRATCH!! SCRATCH!!!
In from 10 to 48 hours,
Wheaton's Ointment cures The Itch.

Wheaton's Ointment cures Salt Rheum.
Wheaton's Ointment cures Tetter.
Wheaton's Ointment cures Barber's Itch.
Wheaton's Ointment cures Old Sores.

Wheaton's Ointment cures Every kind of Humor like Magic.

Price, 50 cents a box; by mail, 60 cents. Address, WHEEL & POTTER, No. 375 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

For sale by all druggists.
Boston, August 31, 1867 - sp. notice 1y

WARRANTED
BOOTS & SHOES,

For sale at low prices,
By E. CLAPP.

Quincy, Mar 3

CHEAP CASH STORE.

New Spring Goods!

SHAWLS, SACKS,
Gents' and Boys' Hats,
AND LINEN GOODS

CHEAP.

Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.

Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.

AYER'S PILLS, 20 CTS.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 20 cts.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, 20 cts.

Parson's Purgative Pills, 20 cents.

SANBORN'S PILLS, 20 cts.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.

Brown's Troches, 25 cts.

BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.

Hall's Hair Renewer, 70 cts.

Horric's Kid Strengthening Plaster, 20c.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT,
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POW-
DERS, &C., &C.

Hoops Skirts 87 cts.

Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY
STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.

Prints and Delaines.

DRESS GOODS,
WORKING PANTS, CHEAP.

PANT CLOTHS.

German and American Corsets.

FIGS & ORANCES.

Hair Braids, 70 cts.

BEADS, BEADS

Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM
MADE

Pants and Vests

VERY LOW.

HATS & CAPS

Perforated Card Board,

Gilt Paper,

Drawing Paper,

The Quincy Patriot,
(Established by John A. Green, in 1837.)
Published every Saturday by
M. ELIZABETH GREEN,
Over Mr. E. Clapp's Store, on Hancock St.
TERMS—Two Dollars and Fifty Cents
per annum in advance, and if delayed until
the end of the year, then THREE DOLLARS
will be required.
GEO. W. FRESCOTT, Printer.
Also—Advertising and Business Agent.
Job Printing Promptly Executed.

Quincy Patriot.

A Family Paper, devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

VOLUME XXXII.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, JUNE 27, 1868.

NUMBER 26.

CONDITIONS.

No Subscription nor Advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all
arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously
inserted at the customary prices, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of Annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents
to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., Boston.
S. E. NILES, Boston.
H. H. DODD, Boston.
A. F. LINCOLN & Co., Boston.
S. M. PETTINGILL & Co., Boston.
GEO. P. ROWELL & Co., New York.
JOHN HOOVER & Co., New York.

POST OFFICE.
Mails open 8 30 A. M., and 4 35 P. M.
Mails close at 9 45 A. M. and 5 15 P. M.
Office at Veazie's Drug Store,
55 HANCOCK ST. Open during Business Hours.
JOHN B. BASS, Postmaster.
Quincy, May 18.

E. GRANVILLE PRATT,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
OFFICES:
At his dwelling house, QUINCY.
No. 7 Court Square, BOSTON.
Office hours in Boston from 11 A. M. to 2 1/2
P. M.—other hours in Quincy.
Sept. 14.

EVERETT C. BUMPUS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Weymouth Landing.
Weymouth, Mass. July 13.

JOS. UNDERWOOD, M. D.
Homeopathic Physician,
Opposite E. Clapp's Store,
HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY.
Aug. 25.

Dr. Roundy & Wife,
CLAIRVOYANT, MAGNETIC AND
ELECTRIC PHYSICIANS,
ON QUINCY AVENUE,
Near the corner of School and Elm Sts.
Quincy, March 14.

B. F. MESERVEY,
WATCHMAKER,
2 CITY HALL AVENUE,
BOSTON.
Watches and Jewelry repaired.
April 23.

JAS. WHITE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
FLOUR!
47 & 49 Lincoln St., Boston.
Quincy, June 18.

LEMUEL BAXTER
DEALER IN
SOLE LEATHER,
French and American Calfskins,
AND SHOE FINDINGS.
Patent & Calf Congress Uppers,
Patent and Calf Oxfords and French
Ties, French Calf Boot Legs,
Patent Opera Legs, &c.
ALL KINDS OF GENTS' UPPERS
Got out to Measure.
No. 7 Union St., Boston.
Orders by Express faithfully executed.
July 6.

FURNITURE
—AND—
UPHOLSTERY GOODS!
Our stock is large, and in point of style and
workmanship
CANNOT BE SURPASSED
BY ANY HOUSE IN BOSTON.
Purchasers are respectfully invited to visit our Warehouses, and Judge for themselves.
BUCKLEY & BANCROFT,
511 Washington St., Boston.
July 13.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood
Agricultural Warehouse,
—AND—
SEED STORE,
49 No. Market St. & 46 Merchants Row, off a large assortment of the best Agricultural Implements,
MACHINERY & TOOLS,
OF ALL KINDS.
Buckeye Mowing Machines, Whitcomb's
Horse Rakes, Palmers' Horse
Pitchforks,
Are sold exclusively by us.
Garden, Field and Flower Seeds.
Our large and well selected stock of seeds, grown by Experienced Seedsmen in Europe and America, the quality of which is not and cannot be surpassed, is offered in quantities to suit.
Grass Seeds, Seed Grain, in all their varieties.
Hungarian Grass, Millet.
Seed Potatoes—Early Goodrich, Early Sebey, Early
Blue, Gleason, &c.
FERTILIZERS.
Guano, Super-phosphate of Lime, Poudrette, Grotto, Bone, Plaster, Fish
Guano, &c.
GRATING WAX, made expressly for our trade—
WAX, OIL, SOAP, GUMS, ARTICLES, EXTRA FINE BONE
MEAL, for feeding.
TREES, SHRUBS, PLANTS, &c.
at wholesale and retail at lowest prices.
All orders and inquiries by mail or express, will meet with prompt attention. Tools, vegetable and flower seed Catalogues furnished upon application to Parker, Gannett & Osgood,
BOSTON, Mass.
March 23.—2m.

Ah! My Teeth.
DR. C. S. FRENCH performs painless operations in extracting teeth by a new and improved process of preparing and inhaling in its purity NITROUS OXIDE GAS. Such as prefer this to ether may rely upon its safety and success. Please call and try it. Filling and setting of Artificial Teeth, done in the most satisfactory manner.
Quincy, April 18. C. S. FRENCH.

Drs. BRIGHAM & HOLLACE,
DENTISTS,
36 Winter Street, Boston, (Room 1.)
Having adopted Dr. Folsom's Patent method of constructing plates for Artificial Teeth, whereby the teeth are retained SECURELY IN THEIR PLACE, rendering mastication of the food easier than with teeth mounted in any other way, respectfully invite all desirous of obtaining teeth, and especially those who have tried elsewhere and failed of success, to call and investigate.
Teeth extracted by the use of Nitrous Oxide Gas or Ether. Special attention paid to filling badly decayed teeth. CONSULTATIONS FREE.
D. T. BRIGHAM,
N. E. HOLLACE.
May 9.—6m

MILLINERY, DRESS MAKING
—AND—
Machine Stitching.
THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has taken a Room
At the House of J. S. PAINE,
On Quincy Avenue, a few doors South of the Episcopal Church, where she is prepared to make Ladies and Children's Suits in the latest styles. Machine Stitching done to order. She feels confident of giving satisfaction to all who may favor her with their patronage.
Miss D. F. JENKINS.
Quincy, June 6.

Dress and Cloak Making.
MRS. H. L. PERKINS would respectfully announce to the public that she is prepared to make Dresses and Cloaks at short notice.
Residence, corner of Hancock and Granite Sts.
Quincy, May 9.

MILLINERY!
MISS S. H. HUSSEY
WOULD inform her patrons and the Ladies of Quincy generally—that she has removed to the Old Stand, in GOODNOW'S BUILDING.
Thanking them for past favors, respectfully solicits orders for SPRING and SUMMER
MILLINERY.
A Fresh assortment constantly on hand.
MOURNING & GRAVE CLOTHES made to order.
STRAW GOODS Repaired, Bleached & Dyed.
All orders promptly attended to.
CORNER HANCOCK & GRANITE STS., Up Stairs.
Quincy, April 18.

MRS. M. E. CURTIS
WOULD inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity that she has taken the rooms lately occupied by MISS CURRIER,
Over Mr. C. T. Reed's Store,
Where she is prepared to show them a large and Choice Assortment
—OF—
French Millinery Goods,
suitable for the season.
STRAW GOODS, BLEACHED PRESSED AND DYED.
Mourning and Grave Clothes constantly on hand or made to order.
Orders received for Funeral FLOWERS.
Dress and Cloak Making in all its varieties.
Corsets, Hoop Skirts, and other articles kept constantly for sale.
Also, Agent for the famous WHEEL SEWING MACHINE. These in want of a Good Machine, please call and examine.
Quincy, May 9.

D. B. STETSON
Would give notice that he has a Large Stock of New Goods for SPRING & SUMMER USE, CONSISTING OF
Ladies' Black French Kid Button Boots, $6.00
Ladies' Brown French Kid Button Boots, $6.50
Ladies' Brown French Kid Button Boots, $4.75
Ladies' Cloth Button Boots, $2.75 to $4.00
Ladies' Cloth Button Boots Double and Single
Sole, $1.50 to $2.00
Ladies' Cloth Congress Boots Double and Single
Sole, $1.25 to $2.00
Ladies' Heel Kid Slippers, $1.00 to $2.25
Ladies' Goat Polish Balmoral Sewed, $2.65
Ladies' Goat Polish Balmoral Sewed, $2.25
Ladies' Pebble Grain Congress Double Sole Boots, $1.50
Ladies' Cloth Calf Congress Sewed, $2.00
Ladies' Grain Congress Balmoral, $1.60
Ladies' Pebble Grain Pegged Balmoral,
$1.75 to $2.00
Misses' Pebble Grain Pegged and Goat
Balmoral, $1.50 to $1.62
Men's Canvas Balmoral, $2.00
Men's Calf Tap Sole Boots, $3.50
Men's Calf Box Toe Boots, $3.00
Children's Boots in great variety.
Old Lots of Boots and Shoes at your own prices.
A Good Assortment
—OF—
Bancroft & Purinton's Warranted Boots, constantly on hand.
REPAIRING done at Short Notice.
D. B. STETSON, Washington Street.
Quincy, April 18.

J. A. MCLELLAN,
NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.
Quincy, June 13.

REMOVAL.
JOS. STONE & CO.,
Hat, Cap & Fur Dealers,
HAVE REMOVED FROM
No. 37 COURT STREET,
to the spacious store,
245 Washington street,
Near Winter street, BOSTON.
May 9.

NEW GOODS.
GENTS' Box Toe Oxford Ties.
GENTS' Calf Opera Boots.
GENTS' Kip Brogans, Rubber Soles.
A lot of the above goods, just received, and offered for sale at BARGAINS.
—ALSO—
STRAW HATS,
All Grades and Sizes,
IN New and Choice Styles, to which your attention is invited.
Please call and examine.
C. T. REED.
Quincy, May 30.

CHEAP
CASH STORE.
New Spring Goods!
SHAWLS, SACKS,
Gents' and Boys' Hats,
AND LINEN GOODS
CHEAP.
Ayers' Sarsaparilla, 88 cts.
Ayers' Hair Vigor 88 cts.
AYER'S PILLS, 20 CTS.
Schenck's Mandrake Pills, 20 cts.
Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, 20 cts.
Parson's Purgative Pills, 20 cts.
SANBORN'S PILLS, 20 cts.
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, 25 cts.
Brown's Troches, 25 cts.
BURNETT'S COCAINE 88 CTS.
Hall's Hair Renewer, 70 cts.
Herrick's Kid Strengthening Plaster, 20c.
JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT,
SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POW-
DERS, &c., &c.
Hoops Skirts 87 cts.
Men's Fine White Shirts, $2.00.

STATIONERY
STAMPED IN ALL LETTERS.
Prints and Delaines.
DRESS GOODS,
WORKING PANTS CHEAP.
PANT CLOTHS.
German and American Corsets.
FICS & ORANGES.
Hair Braids, 70 cts.
BEADS, BEADS
Hair Oil and Perfumery.

CUSTOM
MADE
Pants and Vests
VERY LOW.
HATS & CAPS
Perforated Card Board,
Gilt Paper,
Drawing Paper,
Blotting Paper,
Ribbons and Velvets.
BOOTS AND SHOES
BELOW COST
to close out.
J. A. MCLELLAN,
NEAR THE STONE TEMPLE.
Quincy, June 13.

CURE FOR SORE THROAT. Pour one pint of boiling water over twenty-five or thirty leaves of common sage. Let the infusion stand half an hour. Add a little vinegar till moderately acid, and honey to taste.
To preserve cut-flowers, put a pinch of nitrate of soda into the water every day when it is changed. This will preserve flowers for a fortnight. Nitrate of potash in powder has nearly the same effect.
Five Cakes. "I wish to pay you for five cakes," said a traveler to a railway restaurant keeper. "But you only had one—a sponge-cake, a coconut-cake, an almond-cake, and a currant-cake." "And a stomach-ache," added the traveler.

Great applause has been bestowed on Reubens, because, with one stroke of his brush, he turned a laughing child to a crying one, in a picture; but many a parent has turned a child's expression from joy to grief by a single stroke without ever getting any credit for it.
Old age takes from the man of sense only those qualities which are useless to wisdom.
When you hear a man say—"Life is but a dream"—tread on his horns and wake him up. Life is real.
A helping word to one in trouble is often like a switch on a railroad track;
but one inch between wreck and ruin,
and smooth, on-rolling prosperity.

If small streams are not able to bear great ships, or yield great treasures, they may, at least, water some drooping flower; if not by the fireside of home, by the wayside in life's pathway.
A man never has the least difficulty in finding a devoted friend, except when he needs one.
Excess of ceremony shows a want of breeding. That civility is best which excludes all superfluous formality.
He who will not profit by advice is as great a fool as he who cannot.
The most successful progress is that of the man who rolls the wheel-barrow, for he carries all before him.

A little sulphur, which may be confined in a bag, if placed in bird-cages, closets and drawers, it is said will keep away red ants and other insects from these places.
Why is the letter I very unfortunate?—Because it is always in trouble, wretchedness, and misery; it is the beginning of riot and ruin, and is never found in peace, innocence, or love.
There was a man so intensely polite that, as he passed a hen on her nest, he said—"Don't rise, my dear."

Without the Children.
O the weary, solemn silence
Of a house without the children!
O the strange oppressive stillness
Where the children come no more!
Ah! the longing of the sleepers
For the soft arms of the children,
Ah! the longing for the faces
Peeping through the opening door—
Faces gone for evermore!
Strange it is to wake at midnight
And not hear the children breathing,
Nothing but the old clock ticking,
Ticking, ticking, by the door.
Strange to see the little dresses,
Hanging up there all the morning;
And the caresses—ah! their patter,
We will hear it never more
On our hearth-forsaken floor!
What is home without the children?
'Tis the earth without its verdure,
And the sky without the sunshine,
Life is withered to the core!
So we'll leave this dreary desert,
And we'll follow the Good Shepherd
To the greener pastures vernal,
Where the Lambs have "gone before,"
With the Shepherd evermore!

Poetry.
WITHOUT THE CHILDREN.
O the weary, solemn silence
Of a house without the children!
O the strange oppressive stillness
Where the children come no more!
Ah! the longing of the sleepers
For the soft arms of the children,
Ah! the longing for the faces
Peeping through the opening door—
Faces gone for evermore!
Strange it is to wake at midnight
And not hear the children breathing,
Nothing but the old clock ticking,
Ticking, ticking, by the door.
Strange to see the little dresses,
Hanging up there all the morning;
And the caresses—ah! their patter,
We will hear it never more
On our hearth-forsaken floor!
What is home without the children?
'Tis the earth without its verdure,
And the sky without the sunshine,
Life is withered to the core!
So we'll leave this dreary desert,
And we'll follow the Good Shepherd
To the greener pastures vernal,
Where the Lambs have "gone before,"
With the Shepherd evermore!

Interesting Selections.
To MAKE STRAWBERRY JAM. Weigh them after the stalks have been stripped from them, and boil them quickly in a preserving pan for half an hour, stirring them during the whole time with a long wooden spoon, but be careful not to bruise them. If currants are plentiful, one pound of red currant juice to every four pounds of strawberries will be found a great improvement. To every pound of fruit add nine ounces of sifted white sugar; mix this well with the boiled strawberry and currant juice when the pan is off the fire, and then boil up the preserve rapidly for about twenty minutes, or until a skin appears on the surface when it cools. Stir the preserve gently but quickly until it is cooked, and be careful to remove all the scum which the sugar throws up. Pour into clean, dry jars, and cover the tops with brandied papers.
CURE FOR SORE THROAT. Pour one pint of boiling water over twenty-five or thirty leaves of common sage. Let the infusion stand half an hour. Add a little vinegar till moderately acid, and honey to taste.
To preserve cut-flowers, put a pinch of nitrate of soda into the water
every day when it is changed. This will preserve flowers for a fortnight. Nitrate of potash in powder has nearly the same effect.
Five Cakes. "I wish to pay you for five cakes," said a traveler to a railway restaurant keeper. "But you only had one—a sponge-cake, a coconut-cake, an almond-cake, and a currant-cake." "And
a stomach-ache," added the traveler.

COURTING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.
Kate Blake was the only daughter of Jacob Blake, the old miser of —
She was more than commonly pretty,
and her frank, engaging manner enhanced
the charms of golden hair, pearly skin,
and eyes like the blue skies of summer.
At her father's death she would be the heir of the nice little sum of seventy thousand dollars, and though men generally profess not to be influenced by pecuniary matters in affairs of love, it is to be reasonably supposed that this prospective wealth by no means lessened the number of her adorers.
Among the most ardent, and perhaps sincere, was Will Darnmouth, with a heart larger than his purse, and very little thought or care for consequences.
Fortunately old Jacob never suspected
the partiality of his daughter for Will;
he would have put her on bread and water before he would have consented to the slightest intimacy with Will Darnmouth.
Jacob Blake was not in favor of marriage. Those who knew his circumstances were not surprised at this, for, to use
a phrase more expressive than elegant,
Mrs. Blake was a Tartar.
A maiden sister of Mr. Blake's resided in the family, whose principal business seemed to be to act a sort of echo to her brother and his wife. Whatever they thought, she thought.
She regarded it as a primary sin for Kate to associate with the young men, and this doctrine was perseveringly drilled into her niece, with, though she never dis-
sented, had her own ideas on the subject.
One day, Mr. Blake and his wife went to Dedham to attend a fair, and Miss Peggy being absent at a friend's, Kate was left alone. Will Darnmouth, in some way learning the condition of affairs,
early in the afternoon came over to keep Kate company.
As her parents were not expected home until evening, Will felt perfectly secure in stopping a while after tea; and he and Kate were having a jolly time popping
corn in the old-fashioned frying pan, over the huge wood fire, when there was a sound of voices at the door.
"Good gracious!" cried Kate, turning white with alarm, "there's Aunt Peggy!
Oh, Will! what shall we do? She will scold me to death, and father will be furious. Get under the lounge, quick!
Oh, Will, do for my sake."
Will could not withstand the pleading
in Kate's eyes, and he quickly deposited himself in the designated place.
Peggy's voice was heard in the hall.
"Be careful, Mr. Pike. There's a leese board there; I don't want to disturb my niece. Softly, if you may."
"Peggy, dear, where are you?" responded the squeaking voice of Esquire Pike, a widower of a year. "I can't tell which way you have gone."
"There, Daniel! be easy. Good heavens! Daniel Pike. Well, I never!" and a report burst upon the air like the uncorking of a champagne bottle.
"Oh, my!" cried Aunt Peggy, "what would brother Jacob say? I declare I haven't been kissed by a man since!"
"Let Jake mind his own business!"
retorted the Squire. "You and I can take care of ours without his help!" and there followed a report similar to the first,
only a little more so.
"Do be quiet, Daniel; and let me get a light! Sit right down there afore the fire, and make yourself at home."
A light was soon procured, Peggy dis-
vested herself of her wrappings, and blushing like a girl in her teens, sat down opposite the Squire.
"It's a fine evening," said Peggy, by way of opening the conversation.
"Very," replied the Squire, drawing
his arm over her back.
"Oh, good gracious, Daniel! don't set
so high to me. I—that is, I don't consider it strictly proper. Mercy! what's that?"
Both listened attentively.
"It was the wind rattling against the window, I guess," said the Squire. "Don't you go to getting so nervous, Peggy."
"I thought it was Kate waking up,
and if she should, I should never hear
the last of it."
"Hark! there is a noise—I—"
"Gracious aith! it's bells! It's Jake and his wife coming back! What shall
I do? We're done! Oh, Squire, tain't right for us to be nothing one to t'other!
Do help me! What shall I do?"
"Tell me where to go, Peggy! Say
the word—I'll go anywhere for your sake,
if it's up the chimney!"
"Under the lounge—quick! It's like and will hold well. Quick! don't delay
a minute."
The Squire obeyed, but the space was so well filled that it was with difficulty he could squeeze himself in. Just as he succeeded, Mr. Blake and his wife entered the room, floundering along in the dark, for Peggy had deemed it best to extinguish the light. Jake made for the chimney, which still glowed with red coals, stumbling over the cricket, and fell headlong against Peggy, who was standing bolt upright, trying to collect her scattered senses.
"The deuce!" cried Jake. "Look out
there, old woman, or you'll be down over
me. It's dark as pitch here, and I've fell over the rocking chair, or the churn, I can't tell which. Hallo! what's that?"

Miscellany.
COURTING UNDER DIFFICULTIES.
Kate Blake was the only daughter of
Jacob Blake, the old miser of —
She was more than commonly pretty,
and her frank, engaging manner enhanced
the charms of golden hair, pearly skin,
and eyes like the blue skies of summer.
At her father's death she would be the heir of the nice little sum of seventy thousand dollars, and though men generally profess not to be influenced by pecuniary matters in affairs of love, it is to be reasonably supposed that this prospective wealth by no means lessened the number of her adorers.
Among the most ardent, and perhaps sincere, was Will Darnmouth, with a heart larger than his purse, and very little thought or care for consequences.
Fortunately old Jacob never suspected
the partiality of his daughter for Will;
he would have put her on bread and water
before he would have consented to the slightest intimacy with Will Darnmouth.
Jacob Blake was not in favor of marriage. Those who knew his circumstances were not surprised at this, for, to use
a phrase more expressive than elegant,
Mrs. Blake was a Tartar.
A maiden sister of Mr. Blake's resided in the family, whose principal business seemed to be to act a sort of echo to her brother and his wife. Whatever they thought, she thought.
She regarded it as a primary sin for Kate
to associate with the young men, and this doctrine was perseveringly drilled into her niece, with, though she never dis-
sented, had her own ideas on the subject.
One day, Mr. Blake and his wife went to Dedham to attend a fair, and Miss Peggy being absent at a friend's, Kate was left alone. Will Darnmouth, in some way learning the condition of affairs,
early in the afternoon came over to keep Kate company.
As her parents were not expected home
until evening, Will felt perfectly secure
in stopping a while after tea; and he and Kate were having a jolly time popping
corn in the old-fashioned frying pan, over
the huge wood fire, when there was a sound of voices at the door.
"Good gracious!" cried Kate, turning
white with alarm, "there's Aunt Peggy!
Oh, Will! what shall we do? She will scold me to death, and father will be furious. Get under the lounge, quick!
Oh, Will, do for my sake."
Will could not withstand the pleading
in Kate's eyes, and he quickly deposited himself in the designated place.
Peggy's voice was heard in the hall.
"Be careful, Mr. Pike. There's a leese board there; I don't want to disturb
my niece. Softly, if you may."
"Peggy, dear, where are you?" responded the squeaking voice of Esquire Pike, a widower of a year. "I can't tell
which way you have gone."
"There, Daniel! be easy. Good heavens! Daniel Pike. Well, I never!" and a report burst upon the air like the uncorking of a champagne bottle.
"Oh, my!" cried Aunt Peggy, "what would brother Jacob say? I declare I haven't been kissed by a man since!"
"Let Jake mind his own business!"
retorted the Squire. "You and I can take care of ours without his help!" and there followed a report similar to the first,
only a little more so.
"Do be quiet, Daniel; and let me get a light! Sit right down there afore the fire, and make yourself at home."
A light was soon procured, Peggy dis-
vested herself of her wrappings, and blushing
like a girl in her teens, sat down opposite the Squire.
"It's a fine evening," said Peggy, by way of opening the conversation.
"Very," replied the Squire, drawing
his arm over her back.
"Oh, good gracious, Daniel! don't set
so high to me. I—that is, I don't consider it strictly proper. Mercy! what's that?"
Both listened attentively.
"It was the wind rattling against the window, I guess," said the Squire. "Don't you go to getting so nervous, Peggy."
"I thought it was Kate waking up,
and if she should, I should never hear
the last of it."
"Hark! there is a noise—I—"
"Gracious aith! it's bells! It's Jake
and his wife coming back! What shall
I do? We're done! Oh, Squire, tain't
right for us to be nothing one to t'other!
Do help me! What shall I do?"
"Tell me where to go, Peggy! Say
the word—I'll go anywhere for your sake,
if it's up the chimney!"
"Under the lounge—quick! It's like and will hold well. Quick! don't delay
a minute."
The Squire obeyed, but the space was so well filled that it was with difficulty he could squeeze himself in. Just as he succeeded, Mr. Blake and his wife entered the room, floundering along in the dark, for Peggy had deemed it best to extinguish the light. Jake made for the chimney, which still glowed with red coals,
stumbling over the cricket, and fell headlong against Peggy, who was standing bolt upright, trying to collect her scattered senses.
"The deuce!" cried Jake. "Look out
there, old woman, or you'll be down over
me. It's dark as pitch here, and I've fell over the rocking chair, or the churn, I can't tell which. Hallo! what's that?"

reaching out his hand to feel his situation, and coming in contact with the bearded face of the Squire. "By golly, it's whiskers! Peg, Peg! where are you?
where's Kate? and what's this?"
The Squire did not relish this assault upon his hirsute appendages, and by way of retaliation he gave a series of vigorous kicks which hit Will Darnmouth in the region of his stomach, and stirred his bile.
"Look here, old chap!" exclaimed he,
"I'm perfectly willing to share my quarters with you, seen' as we're both in for it; but you'd better not undertake to do that again."
"Oh!" ejaculated Peggy; whose voice it was that?
"That's what I want to know!" cried
Jake, struggling for an upright position.
"Hallo! who's fell over my legs?"
"I'll tell you know who's down and who's up!" said the voice of Mrs. Blake, the old lady scrambling up, only to get gradually down again over a chair. "Jake, where are you? get up this instant."
Jake started to obey, and just then Tiger, the watch-dog, hearing the uproar, rushed upon the scene, and set up his best bow-wow.
The Squire had a mortal horror of dogs, and neither fear nor love was strong enough to keep him quiescent now. He sprang to his feet with a yell! Will followed—Katie, full of alarm for her lover, hopped out of bed, and appeared with a flaming tallow dip. Peggy flung her arms around the Squire's neck with a cry of terror, and Jake was silent with amazement.
Mrs. Blake was the only one who possessed her wits. She seized the corn-paper and laid about her with vigor—
Her aim was not always correct, and in consequence, she smashed the lookingglass into a thousand fragments.
The Squire broke from Peggy's embrace and dashed out of the window. Will followed him, and Mrs. Blake would have pursued by the same outlet, but she was a little too large to get through.
A dreadful council was held; Jake stormed, and Mrs. Blake threatened, and at last Peggy and Katie confessed. Jake and his wife were so rejoiced at the prospect of getting rid of Peggy, that they forgave their daughter, and took Will Darnmouth home at the end of the year.
In due time Peggy and the Squire were made one flesh.

INTERESTING TO TEA-DRINKERS.
If you pour a few drops of strong tea on a piece of iron—a knife blade, for instance—the tannate of iron is formed, which is black. If you mix it with ironfilings, or pulverized iron, you may make it a fair article of ink. If you mix it with fresh human blood, it forms, with the iron of the blood, the tannate of iron.
Now, when we remember that the liquids which enter the stomach are rapidly absorbed by the veins and absorbents of the stomach, and enter into the circulation, and are thrown out of the system by the skin, respiration, and the kidneys, it is probable that a drink so common as tea, and so abundantly used, will have some effect. Can it be possible that tannin introduced with so much warm liquor, producing perspiration, will have no more effect than the skin? Look at the tea-drinkers of Russia, the Chinese, and the old women of America, who have so long continued in the habit of drinking strong teas; are they not dark colored and leather skinned? When young they were of fair complexion.—Herald of Health.

A MARK TWAIN YARN.
Mark Twain tells the following story by a fellow passenger, who being han-dered about his timidity, said he had never been scared but once, whereupon he related the following:
You see the old man was trying to learn me to shoot blackbirds and pests that tore up the young corn and such things, so I went to him and asked him about the farm, because I wasn't big enough to do much. My gun was a little single-barrel shot gun, and the old man carried an old Queen Anne musket, that weighed a ton, and made a report like a thunder-clap, and kicked like a mule. The old man wanted me to shoot the old musket.
One day, though, I got her down, and took her to the hired man and asked him to load her.
"Do you see them marks on the stock, an X and a V on the Queen's crown? Well, that means ten balls and five slugs—that's her load."
So I loaded her up that way, and it was an awful charge. I had sense enough to see that—and started out. I leveled her on a good many blackbirds, but every time I went to pull the trigger I shot my eyes and winked—I was afraid of her kick. Toward sundown I fetched up at the house, and there was the old man resting on the porch.
"Been out hunting, have ye?"
"Yes sir," says I.
"What did you kill?"
"Didn't kill anything, sir—didn't shoot her off—I was afraid she'd kick." (Knew blamed well she would.)
"Gimmas that gun!" the old man says, mad as sin.
And he took aim at a sapling on the other side of the road, and I began to drop back out of danger. And the next minute I heard an earthquake, and saw the Queen Anne whirling end over end in the air, and the old man spinning round on his back, with one leg up and both hands on his jaw and the bark flying from the tree. The old man's shoulder was set back two inches, and his jaw turned black and blue, and he had to lay up for three days. Cholera nor nothing else till ever scare me the way I was scared that time.

Wealth and Poverty of our Statesmen.
JEFFERSON died comparatively poor.
Indeed, if Congress had not purchased his library, and given him five times its value, he would, with difficulty, have kept the wolf from his door.
MADISON saved his money, and was comparatively rich. To add to his fortune, however, or rather that of his widow, Congress purchased his manuscript papers, and paid $30,000 for them.
JAMES MONROE, the sixth President of the United States, died so poor that his remains found a resting place through the charity of his friends. They remain in a cemetery but no monument marks the spot where they repose.
JOHN QUINCY ADAMS left some $50,000, the result of industry, prudence, and inheritance. He was a man of method and economy.
ASTOR JACKSON saved nothing from his salary of eight years, and left office in very reduced circumstances.
MARTIN VAN BUREN died very rich.
Throughout his political life, he studiously looked out for his own interests. It is not believed that he ever spent thirty shillings in politics. His party shook the bush and he caught the bird.
HENRY CLAY left a very handsome estate. It probably exceeded $100,000.
He was a prudent manager and a scrupulously honest man.
JAMES K. POLK left about $150,000, $50,000 of which was saved from his Presidency of four years.
DANIEL WEBSTER squandered some millions in his life time—the product of his professional speculation. He died, leaving his property to his children, and his debts to his friends. The former sold for less than $20,000—the latter exceeding $250,000.
JOHN TYLER left $50,000. Before he was President he was bankrupt. In office he husbanded his means, and then married a rich wife.
ZACHARY TAYLOR left $15,000.
MILLARD FILLMORE is a wealthy man, and keeps his money in a strong box. It will not be squandered in speculation and vice.
FRANKLIN PIERCE saved some $50,000 from his term of office.

THE SORROWS OF OTHERS.
There is no question but habitual cheerfulness is a great blessing. But when cheerful people are landed, let it be remembered as a general thing that they are no more to be commended for it than a person for the possession of a pair of beautiful eyes. Cheerfulness is a matter of health and constitution. An invalid or a nervous person—a very sensitive person, easily affected by atmospheric and other influences, cannot be uniformly cheerful. He may do much toward endeavoring to be so, it is true, but it must be a thing of effort. Many people are cheerful because they are apathetic. The sorrows of others, not being their own, are easy to bear. We do not wish to de-

Poetry.

A PUZZLE FOR A FOREIGNER.

Wife, make me some dumplings of dough,
They're better than meat for my cough;
Tray, let them be boiled till done through,
But not till they're heavy or tough.

Now—I must be off to the plough,
And the boys, when they've had enough,
Must keep the dinner with a bough,
While the old mare drinks at the trough.

Farmers' Department.

FATTENING CATTLE ON GRASS.

Too many of our farmers seem to be of the opinion that if they buy their cattle and turn them out to grass, nothing need be done until they are fat; and that the great point is to have as many as they can possibly keep.

This branch of farming, like all others, needs experience, and will pay for more attention than it generally receives. In most cases as soon as cattle are turned out in the spring, they are allowed to have the whole range of all the pasture fields at their will. This is a mistake; they should not be allowed to roam about in this manner, but should be controlled. They should be changed from field to field every two or three days.

Cattle, like all other animals, like a change of food; nor is this the only advantage; by confining them to one field or portion of ground, they will cut down the grass before it becomes too rank, and that in the other fields may be growing, and when they are ready to go into another field the grass of the one they leave may go on growing, and thus the grass will always be young and tender.

They should have a change of pasture every three or four days, and be changed not only from field to field, but from upland to meadow and from meadow to upland.

It is a great mistake to have too many cattle. Remember that ten well fattened are as good and will bring as much as fifteen or twenty only half fat.

Shade and salt are of great importance; the latter should be supplied at least once a week. The best way which I can find is to mix it with bran, say one quart of salt to a half peck of bran, and place it on the ground in small piles.

If the cattle are not fat when the first heavy frost comes, they should have something more than grass, for that as soon as frost comes a great portion of its power of fattening; pumpkins raised among the corn, mullins or small potatoes, (in small quantities,) will answer the purpose.

I generally feed from ten to fifteen head every summer, and always make it a rule to keep ten bushels of corn and five of oats, to feed (ground and placed on the ground in the fall) after the first heavy frost.

In conclusion, there is more depends upon the care taken of a fattening steer than many suppose. They should be kept quiet and free from excitement of all kinds.—A. GRAZIER, in Germanian Telegraph.

Sure Remedy for the Onion Maggot.

I have noticed lately several inquiries, "How to destroy the maggot in onions?" For two seasons past I have practiced an accidentally discovered expedient, with perfect success. When the plant begins to form the bulb, after first weeding, I draw the earth from it as much as possible, so that the plant will lie low, leaving the small roots below the bulb unharmed; they support the plant, and in a day or two it is erect again, and the bulb growing on the top of the soil. My opinion, the result of experience, is that the sun is the antagonist of the maggot. I have tried lime, lime and soot, ashes &c., without success. Having received no little benefit from the various communications in your journal of this character, I feel under some obligations to do what I can to reciprocate as far as in my power; hence these remarks for what they are worth.—M. LEBLOW WHITLOCK, in Country Gentleman.

REMEDY FOR LICE ON CABBAGE.—A correspondent in The Rural American says, there is a remedy for destroying lice on cabbage, as follows:—When the cabbages are about the size of a dining plate, take a half teaspoonful of fine salt and scatter it over each. Repeat about once in ten days, gradually increasing the dose to a table-spoonful if necessary.

Anecdotes.

A Virginia negro boy who professed to be dreadfully alarmed at the cholera, took to the woods to avoid it, and there was found asleep. Being asked why he went to the woods, he answered:

"To pray."
"But," said the overseer, "how is it that you went to sleep?"
"I don't know, massa," "nearly," responded the negro, "but 'spects I must have overprayed myself."

A gentleman presented a lace collar to the object of his adoration and in a jocular way said, "Do not let any one else rumple it."
"No dear," said the lady, "I will take care of it."

"I meant to have told you of that hole," said an Irishman to his friend who was walking with him in his garden, and stumbled into a pit full of water.

"No matter," says Pat, blowing the mud and water out of his mouth, "I've found it."

Irretrievable Schoolmaster.—"Now, then, stupid, what's the next word? What comes after cheese?"
"Dull Boy. A mouse, sir."

J. W. LOMBARD,

90 & 92 HANCOCK ST.

DEALER IN

CUSTOM

—AND—

Ready Made CLOTHING,

HATS,

CAPS,

GENTS'

FURNISHING

GOODS,

STATIONERY, &c.

Quincy, Jan. 18. if

LOOK! LOOK!

AT THE PRICES FOR

MEN'S AND BOYS

Fine, Medium Low-Priced

CLOTHING!

COATS, { $3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 20, 22, 24, 28 and 30.

PANTS, { $2, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

VESTS, { $1.50, 2, 2.25, 2.50, 3, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6 and 7.

BOYS'

Garibaldi and Grecian Suits.

$3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12.

JACKETS, { $2, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7 and 8.

PANTS, { $1.50, 2, 2.25, 2.50, 3, 3.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50 and 6.

SACKS, { $2.50, 4, 4.50, 5, 5.50, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16.

VESTS, { $1, 1.25, 1.50, 1.75, 2, 2.50, 3, 3.50 and 4.

BENNETT & CO'S

One Price House,

14 & 15 Dock Square,

BOSTON.

April 25. 2m

RICHARD HAILS,

Merchant Tailor!

DEGS Leave to inform the Citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that he has taken the store, at the corner of HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS., and has a large assortment of choice Woolen Goods, which he will be pleased to make to measure, in the

MOST APPROVED STYLES, and warranted satisfactory. Goods sold by the yard, and garments cut and trimmed. All Goods warranted as represented. Quincy, April 25. if

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

Merchant Tailor & Dealer

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, DOESKINS AND VESTINGS,

School St., cor. of Gay St., Quincy.

HAS on hand and is constantly receiving from the best sources, New and Desirable Goods adapted to his trade. All who wish first class Custom Made Garments, for a fair price, are respectfully invited to call.

N. B. It would be well to remember, that Cheapness and Decency are relative attributes; they have a relation to the QUALITY of the article we buy, and that, which does not answer well the purpose for which it was intended, is dear at any price. Quincy, March 30

JOHN HARDWICK,

Real Estate and Insurance Agent,

Granite Street, Quincy.

May 4. 1y

Putnam's and Fisher's

CURTAIN FIXTURES.

—ALSO—

Cords and Tassels; Picture Corns & Frames; Knobs for Hanging Pictures and Mirrors; FRAMES made to order.

A Cheap Lot of KNIVES, FORKS, SPOONS, &c.

JOSEPH AREY, JR. Quincy, May 30. if

GRASS SEED AND SEED BARLEY.

THE Subscribers have just received a choice lot of Northern Herd Grass, Red Top and Clover Seeds. Also, a prime lot of Seed Barley, which will be sold low for Cash. Also, a Lot of Chestnut Posts and Rails. GEORGE L. BAXTER & CO. Quincy, March, 21. if

"There's Nothing New under the Sun," almost questioned when we see

LORING'S PATENT IRON WATERSTOP THRESHOLD!

Call and see it. Every house needs it.

BAILEY & BAXTER, SCHOOL STREET, Quincy, Jan. 11. if

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES!

Whole Stock to be Sold, and STORE TO BE LET.

THE STOCK IS LARGE CONSISTING OF CROCKERY GLASS, CHINA, Plated and Britannia Wares, Ivory and Plated Handle Knives, large variety of Common Knives and Forks, Wafers, Parian, Glass and China Vases, Parian Bricks and Images, Plated Tea sets, Castors, Salvers, Knives, Forks, Tea and Table Spoons, Nap Poles, Cell Bells, Napkin Rings, Butter Knives, Soup Ladles, Goblets, Mugs, &c., &c., Kerosene Lamps, Girandoles, Entry Lamps.

Age and Declining Health the motive for selling.

E. B. MASON,

33 Hanover St., Boston.

C. E. & J. W. PIERCE,

would respectfully inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity that they will keep constantly on hand the

MOST APPROVED PATTERNS

Cook, Parlor and Office

STOVES.

And will Deliver and Set,

Any pattern of Stove in the Market,

As Cheap as they can be Bought

IN BOSTON.

Repair Pieces Guaranteed.

Furnaces and Ranges

SET AND REPAIRED.

A Large Assortment of Custom Made

TIN WARE,

Fire Proof Britannia Tea Pots,

AND JAPANNED WARE.

Blood's and Bon-ton Patent Flour Sifters;

Wire and Hair Sieves; Stoves, Scrubbing;

Shoe and Hand Brushes; Porcelain Kettles and Sauce Pans; French Sauce Pans; French

Roll Pans; Vegetable Boilers; Wire Brooms,

&c., &c.

A good assortment of KEROSENE

LAMP, LANTERNS, Burners, Chimneys,

Shades, Wicks, and Chimney Cleaners.

They are Agents also for

Symond's Patent Lamps and Petroleum

FLUID!

COPPER PUMPS set with Lead or Galvanized Iron Pipe and Repaired.

Also, Cast Iron Sinks, Lead Pipe, Sheet

Lead, Zinc, &c.

Particular attention given to altering

Lamps and Lanterns to burn Kerosene Oil and Fluid.

The highest prices paid for Copper, Brass,

Britannia, Lead, Iron, Rags & Paper Stock.

JOBBER done at short notice.

CHARLES F. PIERCE,

JAMES W. PIERCE, Quincy, March 17. if

A CARD.

THE Subscriber returns thanks to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity for the liberal patronage extended to him the past years, and respectfully solicits a continuance of their favors at the Old Stand, No. 25 Hancock Street.

Collar & Harness Making

—AND—

CARRIAGE TRIMMING

in all its branches

Also, REPAIRING done in the neatest manner at short notice.

RALPH LOWE. Quincy Jan. 13. if

IF YOU ARE TROUBLED WITH COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, OR BRONCHITIS, USE VEAZIE'S Oxy-mel of Wild Cherry & Squills. The Simplest and Most Effective Remedy known. JOHN H. VEAZIE. Quincy, March 16. if

New Store! New Goods!

THE Subscribers having entered into co-partnership under the firm of

A. F. & J. N. BLAKE,

on Hancock Street,

would inform the citizens of Quincy and vicinity that they are prepared to deliver at short notice,

All kinds of Groceries, &c.

the best the market affords,

AT LOWEST CASH PRICES,

Also, MEAT, PROVISIONS, &c., fresh and of the best quality.

A. F. BLAKE, J. N. BLAKE, Quincy, Sept. 2. if

A Large Assortment SATIN PAPER HANGINGS

Slightly imperfect, for sale cheap. Also, a lot of Window Shades and Wire D Covers at Bargains. N. B. FURNALD. Quincy, March 28. if Weymouth Photograph Rooms.

L. W. COOK,

HAS the pleasure of announcing to his friends and patrons generally that having with further enlarged and improved his Photo-graph rooms, is now better prepared than ever to answer the requirements of the public, in the execution of

EVERY BRANCH

OF THE PHOTOGRAPHIC ART.

in a style of workmanship unsurpassed, and particularly in the production of those beautiful and much admired Souvenirs, the Cartes de Visits. He is prepared to get up Large Photographs from small

pictures, finished in India Ink or Water Colors.

Proofs and Photographs sent by mail.

Custom from Quincy and vicinity solicited.

Rooms near the Post Office,

WEYMOUTH LANDING.

L. W. COOK, Photographer.

June 4. if

TRACY'S

Vegetable Healing Balm.

THE great Feline Destroyer. It will cure Felon's,

Scrophs, Cancer, Erysipelas, Burns, Frost-bites, Itch,

Poison, Bites, Stings, &c., &c. Price 50 Cts. and 81.

For Sale by Mrs. R. HAYDEN.

Quincy, Nov. 23. if

Dr. Warren's Bilious Bitters,

THE GREAT AND

Purifier AND

Regulator.

Is confidently recommended to the Public as a Cure for

Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Biliousness, Dyspepsia,

Costiveness, Piles, Colic and Fevers, Headache,

Dizziness, Eruptions on the Skin, Humors of the Blood, Loss of Appetite, Weakness, Debility, and all complaints caused by Impure

Blood, or Deranged or Obstructed Circulation, or a Deranged and Diseased

Condition of the Stomach, Liver,

Kidneys and Bowels.

INVALID DON'T GIVE UP IN DESPAIR,

Without trying Dr. Warren's Bilious Bitters. The very

first dose will convince you that you have at last found

the right Medicine. Price 50 Cts. and 81.

JOHN A. FERRY, Chemist, Boston, PROPRIETOR.

M. S. BURR & CO.,

26 TREMONT STREET, BOSTON.

GENERAL AGENTS.

For Sale by all Dealers of Medicines. 43

April 11. 6m.

GRAND MEDICAL OFFICE,

FOR THE

Speedy & Permanent Cure

OF ALL

CHRONIC DISEASES.

DR. C. A. HILL,

Office No. 486 Court Street, Boston, Mass.

Devotedly office business, and gives special attention to all diseases of the Special System, by his own improved method of treatment. He will guarantee a perfect and speedy cure in all diseases arising from Secret Habits, or other causes which may come under his care, no matter how long standing. Weakness, Nervousness, Nervous

Diseases, Humors, Dyspepsia, Cancer, Tumors,

Piles, &c., &c. DR. HILL has made the subject of all diseases peculiar to his office his particular study, and to this department of practice he will continue to give special attention, and from his personal experience he feels confident in warranting most prompt and effectual cures in all the various branches of his business, viz:

Sent 25 cents, and receive by mail a copy of my book, entitled "Everybody's Friend." 86 Court St., Boston,

Mass.

The Last Successful Success.

N. S. A. ALLEN'S

IMPROVED

HAIR RESTORER

FAVORITE

HAIR DRESSING

New Style in one Bottle

will quickly restore Gray Hair

to its natural color, beauty,

and produce luxuriant growth. It is perfectly harmless, and is preferred

over every other preparation by

those who have a fine head of hair,

as well as those who wish to restore

it. The beautiful gloss and perfume

imparted to the Hair make it desirable

for old and young.

For Sale by all Druggists.

DEPOT, 198 GREENWICH ST., N. Y.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR

For Sale by MRS. E. HAYDEN, Quincy.

WARRANTED

BOOTS & SHOES,

For sale at low prices,

By E. CLAPP.

Quincy, Mar 3

CAUTION

TO FEMALES ON DELICATE HEALTH

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7

East Street, Boston, is constantly daily for all diseases incident to the female system.—

Prolapsus Uteri or Floor Ailment, Suppression, or

Other Menstrual Derangements, are all treated on new physiological principles, and speedy relief

guaranteed in a very few days. So invariably certain is this new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon enjoys perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience

in the cure of diseases of women than any other

physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.